F. D. R. ASKS CONGRESS TO AID HOME-MAKERS

Washington, Nov. 29.—In a move to aid business, President Roosevelt asked Congress today to make it easier for families to build new homes.

The President proposed that the laws through which the government participates in private financing in the building of houses and apartments be liberalized.

Mr. Roosevelt expressed hope that such an action would lift to some extent "a drag on all industry and trade," but warned that this goal could not be assured by government action alone.

He indicated "it will depend mainly on the willingness of industry and labor to co-operate in producing housing at costs that are within the reach of the mass of our people."

A bill to carry out part of the President's program was introduced immediately in the senate, while both branches of Congress debated farm measures.

It is doubtful that the housing legislation can be passed during the special session because farm legislation, government reorganization—and in the senate, the anti-lynching bill—are ahead of this measure.

Should the banking committee work speedily, however, Con-

New Life For China

By Stuart Rabb

In every Chinese University each Monday morning, classes are suspended and students go to a general convocation. Standing, the students sing the hymn of Kuomintang—party of the New Life. Then a speaker recounts the three elements in the will of Sun-Yat-Sen, founder of Kuomintang—(1) Revolution against oppression; (2) Construction of a strong, united, nationalistic China; (3) Confirmation of a desire to follow the principles of the highest morality.

The speaker has finished and for three minutes there is silence while each student concentrates on the application of these principles to his own individual personality. The president of the university then reviews the progress made during the week past. Thus, after pausing to see where they are going and after renewing their faith, the students go back to classes—with the benefit of a definite objective.

This is the description of Miss Elizabeth Wang who came to Chapel Hill from her home in Nanking last week to study for her Masters' degree as an exchange student.

Kuomintang, Miss Wang tells me, is founded on a simple principle: To retain all the beneficial elements of the Chinese tradition and to bring into China

Nancy Smith and M. E. Hogan Announce Results Of Work

Initial Cost $4,000

Plans for the erection of a University radio station, to be owned and operated by students, were revealed yesterday by Milton Hogan and Miss Nancy Smith, who have been working on the project for the past two months.

Assistant Controller I. B. Rogerson said last night that the University administration "was very much in favor of the plans" and told Hogan to take the required steps to raise $4,000 necessary for the establishment of the station.

Approval

The Student Advisory committee, headed by Bob duFour, already has given its approval and has submitted a favorable report to administration officials.

Funds for the construction of the station will be sought from the Publications Union board's $18,000 surplus. Before the surplus can be tapped for a radio station, student approval must be given through a campus-wide vote.

If the station is financed by the board it will be given the status of a fifth publication.

It was pointed out that cost of maintenance would be less than 10 cents per student each quarter.

Programs from the University studio would be sent by telephone to nearby commercial stations. Durham and Greensboro radio officials have agreed to devote on hour per day or more to the local enterprise.

Local events and University activities would be released over the broadcasting circuit.

Hogan believes if the project

Strangely enough, young Browder, at the age of 15, became an active member of the Socialist Party. For seven years he carried on his labor activities in Kansas City.
