CONGRESS MAY ENACT HOUSING MEASURE

Washington, Nov. 30—With an eagerness to help business in mind, members of congress began work immediately today on President Roosevelt's program to encourage home construction. Committees in the house and senate started consideration of Roosevelt's recommendations for liberalizing the housing act. Members in both chambers argued leisurely over crop control legislation, but it is believed that the housing bill will be enacted during the session.

Democratic leader Barkley of the senate predicted the committee would be through with the bill in a week, and he and other members of congress indicated that it was entirely possible for the measure to be passed at the special session.

Barkley stated, "I can't imagine any real controversy. No government money is involved. The bill might go through the senate in a single day."

Senator Glass (D., Va.), senior member of the banking committee, announced his opposition, however.

"I am utterly opposed to the government going into business," Glass said. "The government has no more right to build private houses than I have to build public houses."

Although some legislators advised against expecting too much from the program, most comment on the President's housing message was favorable.

ANGLO-FRENCH FINISH WORLD DANGER REVIEW

London, Nov. 30—A two-day review of Anglo-French problems in world danger spots from Africa and the Mediterranean to the China Sea was completed today by heads of the British and French governments.

A message was being drawn up to announce their interests on questions of Germany's demand for colonies to Mussolini's plans in the Mediterranean, and Japan's action in China.

Mr. Roosevelt And A Mackerel

By Stuart Rabb

Yesterday's newspapers devoted considerable front page space to an account of how President Roosevelt, cruising off the Florida coast, caught "a large mackerel." Fishing is one of those recreations that affords complete diversion of mind to more pleasant thoughts.

This diversion of Mr. Roosevelt's thoughts is timely, because there are, no doubt, many recent events that he would like to forget.

His plan to put more men on the Supreme Court, for instance, failed to catch the fancy of the Senate. Likewise the appointment of Hugo Black to the Highest Bench didn't add to Mr. Roosevelt's popularity. But both of these incidents are dwarfed by Mr. Roosevelt's big worry. After five years of unparalleled government spending, after de-

DUKE PROFESSOR TO MAKE TALK TO LEAGUE TONIGHT

Dr. C. B. Hoover To Also Address Economics Seminar On Soviet Union Tonight

Dr. Calvin Bryce Hoover will address the Foreign Policy league and the economics seminar tonight at 8 o'clock in Room 103, Bingham hall, on the subject: "The Soviet Union Twenty Years After the Revolution."

John Kendrick, president of the league, announced that Dr. Hoover, professor of economics at Duke university, will speak for about forty minutes. After his talk, Hoover will answer any questions from the audience and the floor will be open for discussion of the subject. Kendrick also stated that everyone interested was invited to attend the meeting and take part in the discussion.

ASSEMBLY HOLDS HOT DEBATE ON ANTI-LYNCH BILL

Final Vote Postponed Indefinitely; $10 Voted To CPU

Heated discussion on the question of the recently proposed anti-lynching bill, caused the Phi assembly to postpone further debate as well as the final vote on the question, until some indefinite time in the future.

Members Tom Long, Frank McDonald, Ed Maner, Ben Dixon, and Tom Royster opposed the bill, while Henry Roth and Hyman Phillips spoke for it.

Long, the first person to take the floor, used as his main argument against the bill his belief that it would bring about a recurrence of the friction between whites and Negroes, which has only recently been disappearing.

Frank McDonald, the second speaker, declared that it would be unconstitutional, and backed (Continued on last page)

Present Athletic Offices May Be Used As Studios

Plan For Acquisition, Financing And Organization Still To Be Approved

Providing scheduled plans for the erection of a University radio broadcasting studio are completed and approved by the administration, the office space now occupied in Graham Memorial by the athletic department will probably be used by the proposed organization as the studio.

Although the administration is in favor of the idea, a plan for acquisition, financing, and organization will have to be approved by them before such a studio can be put into operation.

Plans are now under way for student financing of the studio through the Publications Union.

MEN NAMED TO LEAGUE COUNCIL'S COMMITTEE POSTS

Nigrelli Announces The Appointment of Large, Myers, and Crawley As Chairmen

Chairman Henry Nigrelli of the League of Nations council announced the following committees last night.

Lee Large was named chairman of extension committee; Tommy Myers, chairman of membership committee; and Oliver Crawley, director of publicity.

Plans have been completed for extension programs before the Di, Phi, and Foreign Policy league to be held in the near future. John Creedy, William Belgrade and Chairman Nigrelli will appear before the F. P. L. on December 9, according to the announcement.

The complete executive committee will be named at the League meeting tonight.

JEWISH LEADER TO SPEAK HERE ON FRIDAY NIGHT

Rabbi J. G. Heller Will Address Hillel Society

Rabbi James G. Heller, an outstanding Jewish leader, will speak to the Hillel society on Friday evening at 7:30 in the ballroom of the Carolina Inn.

The subject of his talk will be "The Proposed Partition of Palestine." According to Rabbi Zeizer, Heller is more familiar with this subject than anyone in America—and everyone is invited to hear the address.

Organization

Heller has taken an active part in many local and national organizations. He was for a time chairman of the executive committee of the Zionist Organization of America. At the present time he is a member of the board of governors of the Hebrew (Continued on last page)

RECITAL TO BE GIVEN TONIGHT

Holmes To Be Featured In Concert At 8:30

A recital of vocal and instrumental music tonight at 8:30 in the Hill Music hall will feature the voice of Dr. Urban T. Holmes, professor of romance philology at the University, and other students in the music department.

Numbers by Bach and Schumann are included in the program, and the "Fantasy on Duke Street" will be played on the organ by M. H. Waynick. The familiar "Moonlight Sonata" by Beethoven will be played by Harold Cone, former Harvard student of piano who has appeared in several recitals on the campus.

Duke To Battle Local Shysters

Law School Teams To Clash Here Friday Afternoon At 3:30

The Carolina-Duke gridiron tradition will be elaborated Friday afternoon at 3:30 when the law schools of the two universities meet on intramural field 6 for a touch football game.

The local shysters are the challengers.

Jimmy Queen, playing manager of the University contingent, was gloomy when interviewed yesterday. Several of his best men sustained injuries over the holidays and will be kept on the bench. (No pun.)

"I doubt if we beat them more than two touchdowns," he said.

Geology Head Acts As T. V. A. Witness

W. F. Prouty Goes To Knoxville To Testify As Expert

Dr. W. F. Prouty, head of the University geology department, left today for Knoxville, Tennessee.

He will act as an expert marble witness in suit against the T. V. A. by certain marble interests holding mineral lands in the flooded areas of Norris lake.

Dr. Prouty is expected to return to Chapel Hill next Monday.

SENATORS HEAR DETAILED REPORT ON AMENDMENTS

Defeat Motion To Have Council's Actions Published

Senator Hobbs, of the Dialectic senate constitutional committee, made a detailed report last night of the actions of the committee on the ten amendments to the constitution proposed several weeks ago by Senator Howard. The senate also discussed briefly the bill—Resolved: that all actions of the Student Honor Council should be made public by publishing in the DAILY TAR HEEL.

At the meeting of the senate last week only one of the proposed amendments had been referred to the senate for discussion, and Senator Howard, author of the ten proposals, protested that, under the constitution of the senate, all proposed amendments should be read to the senate for discussion. President Ramsay instructed the constitutional committee to make (Continued on last page)

Money From Sale Of Seals To Buy X-Ray Equipment

Special Trailer To Be Purchased For The Use Of Dr. W. P. Richardson, Health Officer

Funds received from sales of "Prevent Tuberculosis" Christmas seals will be used toward purchasing a trailer with a special X-ray machine to be used by Dr. W. P. Richardson next year, it was revealed from the Y. M. C. A. office yesterday.

Dr. Richardson, Orange county health officer, will tour the county with the machine, giving tuberculin tests and making X-rays of advanced cases.

Health officials have been working on the plan for some time, but it is believed this year will be the first time it can ac- (Continued on last page)

PROFESSOR MEYER TO STUDY FOREIGN YOUTH MOVEMENTS

Sociologist Sails To Europe For Observations In Germany, Italy And England

Harold D. Meyer, professor of sociology in the University, has just sailed for Europe where during the next ten months he will make an extensive study of youth movements and recreational activities in Germany, Italy and England.

He was to have begun his tour last September, but the trip was postponed because of the serious illness of Mrs. Meyer who is accompanying him.

Professor Meyer's study was made possible by a Kenan traveling professorship awarded him by the University and a supplementary grant from other sources.

Plans

Professor Meyer will be located in Germany for six months under official direction.

From there he will go to Italy to study the Balila, the youth movement there, for six to seven weeks, and will then spend several weeks in England under the direction of the Boy Scouts of (Continued on last page)

Communist Head Offers To Send Hathaway In His Place

Proposal Refused

It was learned last night that Earl Browder, national communist leader who was scheduled to speak in Chapel Hill tomorrow night, may not be able to make the trip here as planned.

In a telegram to Alex Heard, chairman of the Carolina Political union, Browder said:

"Due to severe attack of grippe I am proposing to send Clarence Hathaway to replace me Thursday meeting. Extremely sorry to miss this meeting but simply unavoidable. Wire if this is acceptance."

Hathaway?

LETTERMEN SET BANQUET DATE

Monogram Club To Hold Dinner December 9

At a special meeting of the Monogram club last night, the date for the annual banquet for letter-men of the football squad and the cross country team was set for the night of Thursday, December 9, at 8 o'clock.

President Pete Mullis announced that all of the Monogram club members were invited, and that all members of the Athletic Council and all of the coaching staff members will be sent invitations to attend.

The council voted that Jake Wade, sports editor of the Charlotte Observer, be sent an invitation to appear as speaker for the program. One of the local orchestras will be obtained to furnish music for the banquet, which will be held in Swain hall.

Winners Chosen In Lamp Contest

Mrs. Sloan, Herman Schnell Are Best Guessers

The Electric Construction Company of Chapel Hill has announced the resident and student winners of its lamp-guessing contest.

Resident winners were: Mrs. Sloan, wife of the Chapel Hill police chief, first; and Mr. Herman Schnell, runner-up.

Two students, Glen Humphries and A. C. Crawford, tied in the guess.

While no contestant guessed the correct number of lamps in the window, 719, the winners came very close. Mrs. Sloan estimated 710 lamps; Mr. Schnell, 730; Humphreys and Crawford, 750 each.

Eight hundred and twenty persons were entered in the contest.

Rights Committee Will Meet Tonight

The Southern Committee for People's Rights will meet tonight at 8 o'clock in the social rooms of the Presbyterian church. All interested are urged to come. This will be the last meeting before Christmas. Several matters of importance are to be taken up.
