HOUSE PASSES CROP CONTROL MEASURE

Washington, Dec. 11.—The legislative jam which has blocked the special session of Congress thus far was weakened today by the house passage of the crop control measure.

According to Senator Barkley, Democratic leader, the senate would approve early next week a farm bill differing from the house legislation in only two respects: The degree of compulsion and the methods of aiding farmers financially when prices are depressed.

Meanwhile the house will begin to consider the wage hour bill on Monday. This program has been a subject of greater controversy than the farm bill. Hope that there will be time to act on the President's bill to stimulate residential building was expressed by wage hour leaders who are expecting both houses of congress to push it through before the session closes.

Senate leaders also want to take up that legislation next week after completing the farm debate.

One member of the house said privately that Secretary Wallace, who criticized the senate farm measure as too restrictive, told him he would "much rather go along with the house bill."

It authorizes an elaborate system of farmer-approved compulsory controls on marketing of wheat, corn, cotton, rice and tobacco, erected on a foundation of the present soil conservation practices and benefit payments.

Following the most riotous meeting since the beginning of the special session, a 2 to 1 majority was rolled up to pass the measure. The vote was 267 and 130.

This was the first vote on any item of the four-point program which President Roosevelt designed to be acted upon by his special congress.

Five Men On Board

Carolina's Andy Bershak, Cornell's Brud Holland, Pitt's Frank Souchak and other prominent ends of the nation were left out in the cold last night with the announcement that Sweeney of Notre Dame and Schwartz of California were selected as flankmen for the honor team selected by Christy Walsh and his blanket-giving All-America Board.

But close on the heels of the announcement came three more reports that Bershak had made first string berths on Eddie Dooley's New York Sun team, on the Central Press team, selected by football captains throughout the nation, and on the team selected by Collyer's (Continued on page five)

Balconic Tragedy Only Shakespearean Drama Ever Condensed Over Radio

The first in a series of monthly broadcasts over station WPTF in Raleigh, known as the Elizabethan Radio Guild, was inaugurated Friday night when an adaptation of "Romeo and Juliet," condensed by Robert Nachtmann and Howard Baily, was presented.

It was the first time, as far as known, that a streamlined production of a Shakespearean drama has been given over the air. The entire plot and story was presented in the condensed version, transitions between acts being formulated by musical interludes.

The series of broadcasts will be continued after the holidays.

"Take A Chinese To Dinner"

These homeless and penniless Chinese war refugees are typical of those who will receive food as a result of the YMCA drive which began on the campus Friday and is to continue through this week. The goal of the campaign has been set at $250, an amount that would feed 1,100 victims of the war for one week.

Coeds To Serenade With Carols Tonight

At midnight tonight the Pi Phi and Chi Omegas will assemble at the Pi Phi house, and leave from there to serenade cramming students and sleepy villagers with Christmas carols.

The group will visit various dorms over the campus, nearby fraternity houses, and various parts of the residential section of the town.

The Chi Omega house will be the last stopping point for the carolers, where they will disband. Any other coeds are invited to go with the group.

CHORAL CLUB TO PRESENT CONCERT

"Saint Cecilia Mass" To Be Sung Tonight

The first Christmas appearance of the Chapel Hill Choral club, an organization of 80 voices, will be tonight at 8:30 in Hill Music hall.

The Mass to Saint Cecilia, by Charles Gounod, will be sung under the direction of John Toms. An orchestra of 25 pieces will accompany the presentation, which will require an hour.

Visitors

Soloists for the evening are Mrs. L. C. MacKinney and Sherman Smith of Chapel Hill and Furman McLarty of Duke University. A number of singers from Durham are assisting the group.

The "St. Cecilia Mass" was written by Gounod while he was a young man and after his renunciation of the priesthood as a profession. The music arises from the form of the Catholic mass and contains melodies that will probably be familiar to the audience.

Carolina Theater To Show German Film Wednesday

New York Papers Give Favorable Comments On "Love Tales Of Boccaccio"

Those not having examinations Thursday will be interested in Mr. E. C. Smith's showing of "Love Tales of Boccaccio," at the Carolina theater Wednesday, December 15, at 9 p. m.

This is a German film with accompanying sub-titles in English.

Rated three and one-half stars, it has received many favorable comments from New York papers.

According to the New York Post, it is a film that "handles Boccaccio's hot stuff with delicacy and charm." Other papers say of it:

New York World Telegram: "... a jolly, tuneful, expertly played and lavish costume film."

Attitude University To Take Undetermined Last Night

VPI Started Move

(Special to the Daily Tar Heel)

Richmond, Va., Dec. 11.—The Southern Conference session closed today and delegates went home, the scalp of the Graham Plan hanging on their belts.

Stricken from the records was Section A of Rule 13 requiring athletes to testify concerning outside financial aid given by sources other than those upon whom they are naturally dependent.

Non-Athletes

The only portion of the Graham Plan phase of the conference by-laws which was retained was that concerning the dispensing of University scholarships by special faculty committees, and requiring that such aid be open to non-athletes as well as athletes.

The anti-Graham Plan movement was launched by Virginia Tech whose delegates first moved that all restrictions on subsidization be abolished and the problem left to the individual institutions. This was rejected.

The Citadel then successfully inaugurated a drive to modify Rule 13 to such an extent that outside aid to athletes could not be restricted.

The attitude of the local administration could not be determined by last night. It is unknown whether or not the University athletic policy will be to continue under the spirit of Rule 13, or whether athletes here will be free to accept outside aid without reporting it.

Miss Nesbit To Go To NSFA Convention

Women's President Will Attend Meeting In New Mexico

Miss Nancy Nesbit will represent the two student councils of the University at the annual convention of the National Student Federation of America which meets at Albuquerque, New Mexico, from December 28 through January 7. Miss Nesbit will go by plane from her home in Charleston, S. C., to Albuquerque.

The University of New Mexico will be host to the student council representatives who will come from member and non-member colleges and universities over the nation. The University of North Carolina is a member of the NSFA.
