"LITTLE BUSINESS" MEN LEAVE RECOMMENDATIONS

Washington, Feb. 4.—Representing the "little business" conference, a committee today placed before President Roosevelt 23 recommendations to fight the present economic recession.

The recommendations included repeal of the undistributed profits tax, private and federal loans to small business, a campaign to stimulate business, and curtailment of government expenses. They were read to the President at a conference with Fred Roth of Cleveland, chairman of the unruly conference which lasted two days.

According to White House officials, the President thought a large part of the recommendations were constructive and possible of fulfillment.

Another of the suggestions was to set up a permanent advisory council of small businessmen to consult with the government.

DELEGATES SEE LEWIS AS NEXT PRESIDENT

Washington, Feb. 4.—Two thousand enthusiastic delegates to the United Mine Workers convention here closed the meeting yesterday with a demonstration for their president, John L. Lewis.

Unmoved, Lewis heard Frank Hayes, lieutenant governor of Colorado, start the demonstration by declaring, "Some day we may even put one of our members in the White House." He went on, "We have such a man—competent to fill the position. I don't know whether he wants it or not, but we have a man qualified to fill the high position of President of the United States in the person of John L. Lewis."

This statement caused delegates to rise and slap each other on the back, stamp, yell, and whistle for their leader.

SENATORS REFUSE TO LAY ASIDE LYNCH BILL

Washington, Feb. 4.—While talk of early adjournment spread through congress, the senate today refused to pigeonhole the anti-lynching bill, which southern senators have been filibustering against for a month.

Motion to lay aside the bill was made by Senator Glass (D-Va.) of the senate appropriations committee, who is anxious to take up the $1,400,000,000 independent offices expenditures bill.

With primary election dates approaching, members of congress talked of early adjournment as soon as April 1. Many of the legislators wish to get home for the coming election campaigns in April, May, and June.

REPORT ENGLISH SHIP SUNK BY INSURGENTS

London, Feb. 4.—Two Spanish rebel planes were reported to have bombed and sunk today the British freighter Alcira which was attempting to get through the insurgent blockade of government ports.

The bombing took place 20 miles southeast of Barcelona, where the rescued crew was taken. The ship carried an obnoxious server of the non-intervention

COMMITTEES LIST REGULATIONS FOR ALL DANCES HERE

Students Asked To Obey All Rules Set Up For Conduct

For the benefit of University dancers and sponsors of dances, the University dance committee and the faculty committee on dances have asked that the following regulations be published:

The conduct of all dances given in the University shall be completely under the control of the University dance committee.

Permission to hold such dances must be obtained from the faculty committee on dances.

Any organization giving a dance which in the judgment of the University dance committee is not up to University standards, shall not be allowed to give a dance for a period of time to be fixed at the discretion of the University dance committee, in conference with the faculty committee on dances.

The University dance committee shall be empowered to suspend from all dances given under the auspices of the University, for a period at the discretion of the committee, any student, visitor, or alumnus for any misconduct whatever.

The following rules shall govern conduct on the dance floor: (1) No one showing signs of drinking will be permitted to remain on the floor; (2) No girls will be allowed to leave the hall during an evening dance unless accompanied by a chaperon.

For any organization or individual

Harry Davis To Present Reading Of 'Golden Boy'

Dramatics Professor To Read Clifford Odet's Current Hit At 8:30

Tomorrow night at 8:30 Professor Harry Davis will present a reading of Clifford Odet's outstanding Broadway success, "Golden Boy," at the Playmakers theater.

Last year Davis conducted a reading of another New York triumph, "You Can't Take It With You," and the presentation met with considerable popularity.

"Golden Boy" is the play which was so eagerly awaited by the theater world as Odet's return to the legitimate stage. The fiery creator of "Waiting for Lefty" and "Awake and Sing" had been working in Hollywood and many critics feared that he would lose his particular genius for drama.

However "Golden Boy" was considered as worth waiting for

Rho Chi Taps Two New Men Wednesday

Grey Kornegay, Joe Harold Cameron Honored By Group

Rho Chi, the honorary scholastic society of the pharmacy school, tapped two new men, Grey Kornegay and Joe Harold Cameron, at the assembly of the school on Wednesday morning.

Consideration for membership in the society is based primarily on high scholastic achievement in the pharmaceutical school.

The society's local chapter, which was founded in 1929, is one of 29 similar groups in the United States.

Dr. W. Jacocks Was Delegate At India Fete

University Of Allahabad Greeted By UNC Alumnus

Students and university convocations of India appreciate the quality of brevity in public speakers as much as American audiences do, if the report of Dr. W. P. Jacocks, alumnus of the University who represented the University at the golden jubilee celebration of the University of Allahabad in India last December, is typical.

Dr. Jacocks was a varsity football player here before he graduated in 1904, and is now representative in India for the Rockefeller Foundation's International Health board. He was asked by the University Alumni office to represent the school at the academic celebration at Allahabad on December 13.

The celebration was held in a gaily decorated tent into which 7,000 people were crowded. Dr. Jacocks attended in academic costume which bore the University colors. Each delegate to the convention shook hands with the governor of the province and then presented the greetings of the institution which he represented.

When Dr. Jacocks' turn came, he advanced to the microphone and gave the following short and simple greeting: "The president and faculty of the University of North Carolina have much pleasure in sending greetings and good wishes to the University of Allahabad on the occasion of the fiftieth anniversary."

As most of the other delegates had prepared much longer messages, and insisted upon reading their entire documents, Dr. Jacocks' greeting was received with rounds of hearty applause in appreciation of its completeness and brevity.

REPUBLICAN CLUB PREPARES REPORT FOR CONVENTION

Paper On Future Policy Of Party Will Be Read At Greensboro Meeting Soon

Members of the Young Republicans' club yesterday selected Miss Frances Johnson, Bill Cole, and Walt Kleeman as a committee to assemble ideas expressed at yesterday's meeting on the future policy of the Republican party.

The paper drawn up by this committee will be read before the North Carolina Young Republicans' convention in Greensboro February 12.

Anyone interested in the future policy of the party, either locally or nationally, is urged to discuss their ideas with a member of the committee.

Reading of the paper will be the second state-wide recognition given the local club since its reorganization at the beginning of the year. An address by James F. Barrett, the first major speaker brought here by a Republican organization, was the first big step in rehabilitating the group on the campus.

Dozen Confined . . .

Those confined to the infirmary yesterday were: E. B. Garder, R. M. Bragdon, H. R. Taylor, W. C. Malleson, Andrew Jones, H. M. Durham, Julia Bell, Aubrey McPhail, H. Jaquett, C. R. Council, H. A. Jonas and H. T. Hatch.

UNION CHOOSES NEW SECRETARY

CPU Planning Banquet For Troyanovsky

Miss Margaret Henderson was elected secretary of the Carolina Political union at a special meeting yesterday afternoon. Miss Henderson, who has been an active member of the union since last year, replaces former secretary Leighton Dudley, who was forced to resign because of heavy scholastic work.

Nominations

Other union members nominated for the secretarial post were Miss Frances Johnson, Sam Hobbs, and Jim Gray.

The union also voted to hold an informal dinner Tuesday evening for Soviet Ambassador Alexander Troyanovsky. It was decided that a limited number of persons not affiliated with the union should be allowed to attend the dinner, which will be held in the Carolina inn at 6:30.

Any students, faculty members, or townspeople who would like to attend the dinner are asked to contact Alex Heard before Monday morning.

Students Petition To Form National German Fraternity

Professor Richard Jente Calls Group To Discuss Plans For Delta Phi Alpha

A meeting of students eligible for membership in the national honorary German fraternity, Delta Phi Alpha, was called Monday afternoon by Professor Richard Jente of the German department to discuss plans for the establishment of a chapter at the University.

The group which assembled voted to petition for the forming of a chapter here.

Although this national fraternity was established but nine years ago, there are now 40

German Film To Be Presented Tuesday

"The Beggar Student" Is Popular Musical Comedy

"The Beggar Prince," a three and one-half star German film, will be presented Tuesday night at the Carolina theater.

"Der Bettelstudent," according to Dr. W. P. Friederich of the German department, is a musical comedy of eighteenth century court life. The picture will have English subtitles.

LAW GROUP WILL HEAR McLENDON

Greensboro Attorney To Speak Here Monday

Major L. P. McLendon, recently announced candidate for congress and prominent Greensboro lawyer, will speak on "A Department of Justice for North Carolina" Monday night at 8 o'clock in Manning hall.

Prior to the talk, he will be the guest of honor at a banquet given by the local chapter of Phi Delta Phi, international legal fraternity.

Major McLendon is at present serving as chairman of a state committee studying the department of justice question which has aroused much interest lately.

After the address, the attorney, who is a past president of the North Carolina elections board, will discuss this state's election laws with the audience.

STUDENTS FAIL TO RECLAIM ARTICLES, BUREAU DISCOVERS

List Of Property At University Lost And Found Department In YMCA Office Given

The University Lost and Found bureau, located in the YMCA office, recently reported a tendency in too many students to not recover lost articles.

A variety of students' property from pocketbooks and overcoats to handkerchiefs and cigarette cases have been turned into the office as lost, but no one has bothered to reclaim them.

Articles now on hand are over a dozen gloves, in pairs and single, of practically every possible color; a brown ladies' pocketbook with valuables, a black wallet, spectacle cases, a cigarette case, an assortment of broken pens, pencils, keys, eye glasses, and several raincoats and overcoats.

Also in the office are the following books: "Contes et Recit," "Health Facts for College Students," "Literary Studies for Rhetoric Classes," "Fundamentals of Objective Psychology," "Nelson's Caravan," "Commercial French," and "Visages de la France."

Correction

The name of Carlton Gunter Watkins of Wilmington was misspelled in the honor roll list that was printed in the DAILY TAR HEEL several weeks ago.

W. P. HORTON WILL INTRODUCE CPU'S NEXT SPEAKER

Russian Ambassador Speaks In Memorial Hall Tuesday

Lieutenant Governor Wilkins P. Horton will introduce Soviet Ambassador Alexander Troyanovsky when he speaks in Memorial hall at 8:30 Tuesday night, according to an announcement made recently by Carolina Political union chairman Alex Heard.

The son of a colonel in the Imperial army, Troyanovsky was born in Tula, a town about 120 miles from Moscow, which is known chiefly for the manufacture of samovars and rifles. When he came of age he naturally enough was sent to military academy.

Stories

The ambassador has told many stories of the years he spent in the academy at St. Petersburg (Leningrad), one of the most interesting of which was about his being assigned to guard the Tsar, whose regime he was plotting to overthrow even then.

While he was enrolled in the academy he became very interested in chemistry and received the Feodory prize for his work in that subject. But it seems that his superiors at that time felt that chemistry was too revolutionary, so, while still retaining his military status, he transferred

Local Theater To Show Talked-Of Film On Germany

"Inside Nazi Germany" Causes Much Pro And Con Discussion; Uncensored Version Here

There has been considerable pro and con comment concerning the current issue of March of Time, "Inside Nazi Germany," which is billed for the Carolina theater tomorrow and Monday.

Some have labeled the film as "dangerous" propaganda and in certain jurisdictions it has received the "taming" influence of censors.

However, Manager E. C. Smith has stated that his theater is showing the uncensored version.

Says Louis de Rochemont, of Time, Inc.: "The March of Time has endeavored to present a documentary journalistic account of facts and conditions in Germany today in an objective

Old West Boys Put On Spot By Laundry

Dormitoryites Chagrined By Receipt Of Slips For Coeds

Residents of Old West dormitory are going to have a little trouble sending out their laundry this week, if the little pink slips, marked for Old West, are not replaced in a few days.

The articles on the slip include such items as dresses, plain; dresses, fancy; Princess slips, undershirts, panties, and other items silk and pinky.

A thorough investigation of Old West rooms did not uncover any such articles of clothing.
