HUGE RELIEF AMOUNT REQUESTED OF HOUSE

Washington, Feb. 15.—An emergency relief expenditure of $250,000,000 was asked today by the house appropriations committee to provide for needs during the next four months.

The committee, in presenting its bill, suggested that it be passed immediately "because of the drastic change which has taken place in private employment."

The appropriation, according to administration leaders, will be used to keep at least 2,000,000 persons on relief rolls the next few months.

As a result of the passage of the crop control bill late yesterday afternoon, agriculture department officials were arranging today to begin the half-billion dollar program as soon as it receives presidential approval.

The bill, which will provide employment for 15,000 workers, was passed by a 56 to 31 vote. In general, it involves adjustment of production according to estimates of supply and demand. When supplies are considered too high, two-thirds of the farmers voting in a referendum can impose marketing restrictions on all farmers, with penalties provided for non-observance.

FRED BEAL DECIDES TO SERVE SENTENCE

Boston, Feb. 15.—Fred Beal, former labor leader, who was convicted in Gastonia, N. C., of conspiring to murder nine years ago, decided to surrender himself and was on his way today to the state from which he has been a fugitive.

Beal's decision came as a surprise on the eve of a state house hearing scheduled for tomorrow, at which Massachusetts authorities were to hear requests of Attorney General A. A. F. Seawell of North Carolina for his return.

After being convicted with six

STUDENT FACULTY DAY HEADS NAME DATE AS APRIL 5

Program Plans Outlined By Committeemen Yesterday

Chairmen of the special arrangements committees for the Student-Faculty Day program met yesterday afternoon in Dean House's office and formulated a definite outline for the day's program in addition to changing the date for the event from April 6 to Tuesday, April 5, because of a conflict with a track meet with Princeton university on the former date.

Election of the King and Queen of the day will be held during the first week of the Spring quarter. The king will come from the members of the faculty and the queen from the coed group. Both will be selected primarily because of popularity on the campus.

Day's Program

The day will begin by the coronation ceremony of the royal pair at 10 o'clock, after which the dormitories will hold open house. At 1 o'clock the students will meet members of the faculty for luncheon, and from 4 to 6 o'clock the fraternities will hold open house for the faculty.

First feature of the evening will be a Jamboree Stunt program in Memorial hall at 7:30 which will be followed at 9 o'clock by the dance which will climax the day. The theme of the dance is still a secret, but will be announced soon by the committee in charge.

Co-chairmen of the coronation ceremonies are Nancy Schallert and Dr. William Dye. Billy Robertson, Drs. Mackie and Kattsoff, and Bob Magill are in charge of the dormitory open house, and Fred Rippey and Dr. Harry Russell will make the arrangements for the student-faculty luncheons.

Chairman of the fraternity open houses is Bob Ray, while Bob duFour and Tim Elliott, assisted by Pete Ivey, will arrange the Memorial Hall Jamboree.

Hill To Receive Moral Influence

Patrolman To Be Stationed Here For 'Effect'

State Highway Patrolman T. H. Griffis, who has been working out of Durham, will be transferred to Chapel Hill March 1, Sergeant R. S. Harris, commanding this division of the highway patrol, stated yesterday.

Sergeant Harris said that the transfer was being made for the "moral effect" upon Carolina students of knowing that a state trooper was stationed in the community regularly, although there have been no serious accidents involving students recently.

Griffis' territory will include all of Orange county.

SENATORS FAVOR WAGNER ACT WITH UNANIMOUS VOTE

Di Discusses Only One Bill At Meeting Last Night

Forced to meet in room 101 of New West last night because of the renovation in progress on their meeting hall, a small group of Dialectic senators roused themselves from an unexplained lethargy long enough to hold a short discussion of the Wagner labor relations act, and to approve the bill by a unanimous vote.

Because of a conflicting athletic schedule, attendance at the meeting was much lower than usual, a bare handful of the senators being present.

Misunderstanding

A misunderstanding between the Di and the Phi assembly over the ball sponsored by the Phi next Friday night at Carolina Inn was straightened out when it was learned that a blanket invitation to the dance has been extended to all members of the senate by the assembly.

Senator Busby made a motion

PLAYMAKERS TO PRESENT FOURTH PRODUCTION SOON

"Sharecropper" To Be Title Of New Drama

The Carolina Playmakers will present their fourth public production on February 24, 25, and 26 at 8:30, and on Saturday, February 26, at 3:30. This play, "Sharecropper," is the work of Fred Howard, a graduate student in the department of Dramatic Art.

Several years ago Howard wrote a one-act play entitled "New Nigger" which was presented successfully at Chapel Hill and on several tours. Depicting a dramatic episode in the lives of tobacco tenant-farmers of Eastern North Carolina, the play aroused considerable controversy and was awarded much critical acclaim.

Original Theme

In "Sharecropper," Howard set down more clearly his original theme, accenting the tragic misunderstanding between share-crop Negro tenants and their domineering white overseer. The drama culminates in the lynching of Big John, the boastful Negro of the play.

This lynching is set forth as the result of a misunderstanding and is not the emphatic theme. Howard attempted to take no sides or to draw his audiences toward either the black or white characters. The author himself belongs to Carolina tobacco country similar to the setting of his presentation, and he is familiar with both the sharecropper and the ceaseless misunderstandings between sharecropper and landlord. This play is the first full length Playmaker production to deal with tobacco as a main theme in portraying the problem of the Negro sharecropper in North Carolina.

Davis Is Director

The production is under the direction of Harry Davis, technical director of the Carolina Playmakers. The costumes are by Ora Mae Davis, and the settings by advanced students in the department under the supervision of Samuel Selden and Davis.

The lead role of Bunk Barnes, a young Negro who rebels against prevailing conditions, will be played by John Roughton—formerly "Johnny Johnson." Fred Koch, Jr., assumes the part of Dave Deans, Bunk's white friend. Robert Nachtmann, who played "Big John" in "New Nigger," will play it once more.

Cast

Other characters in the play are as follows: Henry Barnes, father of Bunk, Robert Linker; Auntie Barnes, mother of Bunk, Marguerite Lipscomb; Bella Smith, young aunt of Bunk, Frances Roughton; Ray Daniel, the white overseer, Donald Rosenberg; Clif Daniel, Ray's younger brother, Clifton White; Lawrence Dean, father of Dave, Frederic Meyer. The white landowners are: Mercer, Gilbert Pearson; Fate, Eugene Langston; Bess, Bill Morgan; Hooks, Daniel Nachtmann; Hayes, Tom Fearing.

German Foreign Policy To Be Discussed By Speaker

To Begin At 8:30

Dr. Frank Porter Graham will introduce German Ambassador Hans Dieckhoff when he speaks in Memorial hall at 8:30 tonight, according to an announcement made yesterday by Carolina Political union chairman Alex Heard.

The CPU speaker, whose subject for tonight's address will be "The Aims of German Foreign Policy," is scheduled to arrive in Chapel Hill by automobile sometime this forenoon accompanied by Mr. Blankenhorn, secretary of the German embassy in Washington.

Reception

Graham Memorial will honor the German ambassador at a special reception following his speech. The reception will be similar to the student-faculty teas that Graham Memorial has been putting on at intervals this year.

Dieckhoff has a fine command of the English language, which came about not as the result of luck, but rather because of hard work. He carried on extensive studies in English, not only during the five years that he served as counselor of the embassy in Washington, but also while he was in Germany and at Oxford.

Informal Dinner

The ambassador will attend an informal dinner with a small group of union members in the Carolina inn before his speech

ASSEMBLY FAVORS CONSTRUCTION OF NEW YMCA HOME

Phi Men Defeat League Of Nations Issue By Two Votes

Definite plans for construction of a new YMCA building on the campus were revealed last night as the Phi assembly voted 22 to 6 in favor of the new structure.

After a heated discussion on American foreign policy, the assembly defeated by two votes a bill favoring the League of Nations council.

Plans Given

Representative Fairley presented plans for the new YMCA home as told to him by Harry F. Comer, executive secretary. To be located opposite Steele, in back of Gerrard hall, the building would contain dining and assembly halls, the Book Exchange, and several other features which the present YMCA does not have.

It would be financed through a legislative appropriation. Approximately $150,000 would be needed, $50,000 of which the General Assembly has already agreed to provide. This fund would be a refund of subscriptions given by students and citizens when the present structure was built.

Representative Dixon attacked the bill, stating that the present building seemed stable and adequate enough, and that the money could be used better by building a new dormitory.

By CHARLES BARRETT

The announcement came as a complete surprise to those familiar with the inner intrigue of the memorial.

Burns was jubilant when informed that he would be behind the five 8-balls.

It was learned that the motive behind the appointment is concerned with Burns' connection with the discovery of the "five watermelon seeds."
