INCREASE IN RELIEF ALLOTMENT CONSIDERED

Washington, Feb. 17.—That an attempt to double the $250,000,000 emergency relief appropriation recently approved by the house would be made in a senate sub-committee was expected today after Aubrey Williams, acting works progress administration director, was called before the group.

The committee called Williams before it to explain the need for the requested increase in WPA funds voted yesterday by the house.

The house meanwhile discussed a $130,071,105 appropriation to run the senate, justice, commerce, and labor departments for the fiscal year beginning July 1.

On the senate floor, southerners leading the anti-lynching filibuster, indicated that they would oppose a temporary interruption to debate relief questions.

While sponsors of the bill appeared disheartened by defeat of a motion to limit debate, they declared that they would continue efforts to bring the measure to vote.

The southern bloc stated today that it would be willing to consider other matters as soon as the lynch bill was disposed of by a senate majority vote.

AUSTRIANS REQUEST NAZI COOPERATION

Vienna, Feb. 17.—In the wake of the naming of Austrian cabinet ministers acceptable to Germany yesterday, Austria today made it clear that she expected Germany to fulfill promises made on her part in the Hitler-Schuschnigg agreement.

The new Austrian minister of the interior, Arthur Seys-Inquart, who is considered favorable to Germany, took the ideas of Chancellor Schuschnigg on the subject to Berlin.

Among the gestures of co-

Work Of "Sessions" Will Be Made Public By Local Reporter

Breaks Precedent

For probably the first time in the history of the famous "Carolina politics," a representative of the DAILY TAR HEEL will attend the meeting of the University party steering committee in order to report its proceedings for publication when the party holds its next conclave of leaders.

Joe Murnick, president of the party, revealed yesterday that Donald Bishop, DAILY TAR HEEL freshman reporter, had been selected by the steering committee of 25 to cover all future meetings.

Never Before

Murnick said that so far as he knew, no press representative had ever attended such a meeting in that capacity.

The steering committee's action followed another recent liberal move in the party which saw non-fraternity men gain a numerical advantage in the traditional "fraternity party."

Reorganization

Under the reorganization set-up, non-fraternity men hold 13 of the steering committee jobs and 12 fraternities have representatives.

Last year the party periodically released news stories for the DAILY TAR HEEL, but in previous years most of its proceedings had been a dark secret until the stories had lost their news value.

PLAYMAKERS TO CAST NEW PLAYS THIS AFTERNOON

Tryouts For Original Dramas To Be Held At 4 O'clock

Tryouts for the four original plays to be presented as the Playmakers' 54th Experimental bill will be held this afternoon at 4 o'clock in the Playmakers theater.

Those plays selected from a list of submitted manuscripts prepared for Professor Koch's playwriting course are: "Hidden Heart," by Howard Richardson; "Where the Wind Blows Free," by Emily Polk Crow; "Still Stands the House," by Gwen Pharis; "Two Wings to Fly Away," by Rietta Winn Bailey.

Directors

The direction of these plays will be in the hands of graduate students in the department of dramatic art. "Where the Wind Blows Free" is to be directed by the author, Emily Crow. Cordelia Poss will handle "Hidden Heart." Lynn Gault will direct "Still Stands the House," and Rietta Bailey will direct her own play, "Two Wings to Fly Away."

Parts

As there are some 27 parts to be cast everyone is cordially invited to the tryouts. The entire production will be under the supervision of Professor Samuel Selden.

DI-PHI DANCE IS SET FOR TONIGHT

Art Baroody Will Play For Ball At Inn

All invitations already issued to either Dialectic senate or Philanthropic assembly members will be honored at the Di-Phi ball tonight at the Carolina inn, according to a statement yesterday by Speaker Drew Martin of the Phi assembly. The dance will begin at 9 o'clock.

Bids

Because of a misunderstanding when the invitations were printed, the bids bear only the name of the Phi, but the two societies are sponsoring the dance jointly. Members of either group who have not received invitations will be admitted at the door if their name is on the membership list which will be checked there.

Stag Line

Expressing a wish for a smaller stag line at the ball, Martin urged that members of both societies bring dates if possible. Art Baroody's orchestra will play for the dance.

Honorary Godfather Busy With Elaborate Plans For Visit Of Dusky Godchildren

By CHARLES BARRETT Gordon Burns, University junior, was busy yesterday making elaborate plans for his reception of the Cabin Kids, nationally famous group of Negro piccaninnies who will appear in Hill hall here Sunday afternoon.

Council Makes New Rule Concerning Student Fees

Defines Nature Of Vote Required To Raise Student Fees

Rule Badly Needed

By BOB PERKINS

Last night the student council passed a rule defining the nature of the vote necessary to raise student fees.

"No organization collecting compulsory fees shall increase its fee without the favorable vote of a majority of 50 per cent of its membership," the rule reads.

Recommendation

Although the Student Welfare board, acting on the suggestion of a faculty fee committee, recommended such a ruling last year, it had never been passed by any legislative body on the campus.

However it had been generally discussed and adopted as a theoretical policy by the council.

Explanation

In explaining the council's action, President Bob Magill said: "The council feels that this ruling is called for because student taxes should not be increased under any circumstances, in view of their present level, without the positive sanction of a large per cent of the student body.

"If the new function that a proposed increase calls for is

SOPHS TO DECIDE BUDGET TUESDAY

Class Will Vote During Chapel Period

Next Tuesday morning was set as the time for sophomores to vote on their class budget, it was decided in a joint meeting of the sophomore dance and executive committees last night at Graham Memorial.

Tom Pitts, president of the class, urges all sophomores to turn out on that day at 10:30 since there will be no dances if the budget is not passed.

Although the dance committee voted in favor of having the dance formal, they decided to leave the final decision in the hands of the sophomores at the class meeting Tuesday.

Grail Sets Limit To Sale Of Bids For Next Affair

Lack Of Space Necessitates Move Of Dance To Be Given Tomorrow Night

No stags will be admitted to tomorrow night's Grail dance after 250 bids are sold, according to announcement made by Grail officers yesterday.

The ruling, which has been made because of the small amount of space on the Bynum gym dance floor, will not affect the sale of tickets to couples, the announcement said.

Informal

The dance, which is a regular Grail informal, dollar script affair, will begin at 9 and last until 12 o'clock. Jere King's popular campus orchestra will provide the music.

As a special inducement to get dancers there early the Grail is giving two boxes of candy as
