Council Makes New Rule

(Continued from first page) necessary enough to be sufficiently desired, it should be possible for those in favor of it to work up the required vote," McGill said. "The argument that fees voted by a small number of students should be allowed to sting a lethargic campus to concern hasn't appeared to hold water in the past. Fees have been added over a number of years by small groups of specially interested students, but the student who couldn't afford to pay them has never had the nerve to oppose them. It may be that a campus legislature is the only institution that would provide opportunity for such protests. But until we get one, it seems wise for the council to require minimum votes."

Spessard Was Mighty But—

(Continued from page three) end of the first quarter the Phantoms were ahead by 11-7, and Spessard had been held scoreless. But at 10:25 in the opening half, Bob sank his first point, a foul, and the Spessard parade was on. By half time he had sunk 12 points to bring the Generals up to a 24-24 tie. For the first part of the second half, while Spessard seemed to be shooting under the basket shots from an easy chair, nothing could break right for the Phantoms. Long shots rolled in and out of the hoops, the Generals were getting the ball off the backboard, and Spessard and his mates were converting almost impossible shots. Then Pete Boone found himself, and Spessard was through. But the Phantoms were not, and after the foul shots of Bershak and Worley, Ruth sent the locals ahead with a breathtaking field goal, and Boone sewed the game up with another two-pointer. It was fitting that Boone should get the last scoring word in, for it was his guarding of Spessard in the last five minutes of the game that made the Carolina victory possible.

Ruffin had very little trouble with their opposition and was able to score almost at will. The other matches were extended to three games and were all well played. Winner in the second match was Chi Psi over Everett No. 1, 16-14, 14-16, and 15-5. In the other match Beta Theta, after being mercilessly defeated by Everett No. 2, 15-2, rallied and won the last two games and the match by 15-10 and 15-7 scores.

REG CARRINGTON ASKS COMMANDER ELLSBERG:

"Can you tell a Real Difference between Camels and other cigarettes?"

REG CARRINGTON: "I see you're a steady Camel smoker, Commander. There really isn't any difference in cigarettes, is there?"

COMMANDER ELLSBERG: "You're dead wrong, Reg. The life of a deep-sea diver is tougher on a man than most work. Most of the divers I know are steady Camel smokers and, believe me, they know there's a difference. Take my own case, for example. I stick to Camels—have smoked them for ten years. They never get on my nerves. Smoking Camels, I feel that I enjoy life more. Camel is the cigarette that agrees with me."

CLUB-ROOM CONVERSATION (above) so often swings around to cigarettes—an interesting topic to smokers generally. "I can tell the difference in Camels," Commander Ellsberg says. "That famous saying, 'I'd walk a mile for a Camel!' expresses how enthusiastic I am about Camels myself."

NEW DOUBLE-FEATURE CAMEL CARAVAN. Two great shows—"Jack Oakie College" and Benny Goodman's "Swing School"—in one fast, fun-filled hour. On the air every Tuesday night at 9:30 pm E.S.T., 8:30 pm C.S.T., 7:30 pm M.S.T., 6:30 pm P.S.T., over WABC-CBS.

HIS FAVORITE sport—small-boat sailing. Camels are right beside him! "Camels fit in with my leisure hours, too," he says. "I've never known them to jangle my nerves. That means a lot—because I smoke a lot!"

"Yes—absolutely!" says Commander Edward Ellsberg. And millions of other steady smokers know there is a distinct difference in Camels. That's why Camels are the largest-selling cigarette in the world.

ELLSBERG is used to fatigue. He says of Camels: "I found that smoking a Camel when I feel tired after an hour under water—or any tour of duty—gives me a quick 'lift' in energy." IN ACTION! Commander Ellsberg shares danger with his men. He says: "The last thing a diver does before going down—and the first thing after coming up—is to smoke a Camel."

PEOPLE DO APPRECIATE THE COSTLIER TOBACCOS IN CAMELS. THEY ARE THE LARGEST-SELLING CIGARETTE IN AMERICA.

Camels are a matchless blend of finer, MORE EXPENSIVE TOBACCOS—Turkish and Domestic.
