

World News

Edited by Jim McAden

CHAMBERLAIN SUGGESTS ANGLIO-ITALIAN TREATY

London, Feb. 21—Following the resignation of Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden from his cabinet yesterday, Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain stated to a noisy house of commons today that Britain had agreed to begin negotiations for a new Anglo-Italian understanding in Rome immediately.

Chamberlain declared that a refusal to negotiate would bring relations to such a point "at which ultimately war between us might become inevitable."

Very often interrupted by jeers, the prime minister, speaking for a solid hour, attempted to explain the resignation of Eden yesterday, whom critics say Chamberlain sacrificed in the face of German and Italian threats.

Eden, defending himself before Chamberlain's speech, declared that settlement of the Spanish issue was more important at this moment than any Italian settlement.

The prime minister conferred with Count Dino Grandi, Italian minister to Great Britain, before making his speech to the commons.

Chamberlain stated that: "What we are seeking to do is to get general appeasement throughout Europe which will give us peace."

ANTI-LYNCHING BILL SHELVED BY SENATE

Washington, Feb. 21—Clearing the way for the $250,000,000 emergency relief appropriation, the senate today laid aside the anti-lynching bill, which southern senators have filibustered against for 29 days.

The action was taken on a motion by Democratic Leader Barkley of Kentucky.

The Southerners who had fought the bill said they took the action to mean that the lynch bill would not be brought up again this session.

Senator Barkley stated that he had done all he could to get a vote on the measure, but could see no hope of obtaining unanimous consent to limit the debate.

The relief measure, previously passed by the house, is designed to increase work relief rolls to a total of 2,500,000 persons.

EUROPE UNEASY OVER HITLER'S NEXT MOVE

Berlin, Feb. 21—No hint of his next move regarding Germany's right of equality was given today by Chancellor Adolf Hitler after his speech yesterday which was the cause of much worry in Europe.

Hitler's speech yesterday, which demanded return of colonies Germany held before the World War and threatening armed force if German minorities were not protected on the reich's border, gave no hint as to future actions.

In his speech, the fuhrer welcomed the new cooperation with Austria, but made no promise to preserve the former Hapsburg country's independence.

He announced German recognition of Manchoukuo, the Japanese puppet state, and sided with the insurgents in the Spanish civil war.

FIRE DEMOLISHES ODUM RESIDENCE SUNDAY MORNING

Blaze Probably Begun By Stray Spark On Roof

Despite a city ordinance which prohibits the Chapel Hill fire department from going to fires outside of the city-limits, the local flame-fighters played an important part in saving part of the north wing of the $20,000 residence of Dr. Howard W. Odum from the fire that completely destroyed the rest of his beautiful home Sunday morning.

Some reports say that the firemen waited until they were given official permission to go to the fire, while others say that they went of their own accord and with no official orders to do so. At any rate they were largely responsible for preventing the blazing inferno from spreading, as well as for saving the north wing.

The fire started, according to Dr. Odum, soon after the family had finished breakfast. A neighbor reported a small blaze near the chimney which apparently had started from a stray spark. In a short time the flames had spread over the shingle roof and were engulfing the entire upstairs.

For three hours firemen and volunteers fought the conflagration, while students, townspeople and faculty members salvaged some of the smaller portable things from the downstairs part of the house. Nothing was saved from the rooms in the

(Continued on page two)

Flutist

Professor Earl Slocum, who appears as guest soloist in the Women's Glee club concert Friday night in Hill Music hall.

Slocum, Skilled Flutist, To Be Concert Soloist

University Band Leader Has Had Many Years Of Experience As Musician, Director

Besides being director of the University marching and concert bands, Professor Earl Slocum of the music department, is also a recognized flutist.

His appearance as guest soloist in the Women's Glee club concert next Friday night at Hill Music hall will mark the end of a four year period during which he has not played for a University audience.

Before Professor Slocum joined the University's music faculty, he taught in the public schools of Detroit and also seven years in the Greensboro schools.

During this time he played as professional flutist with concert

(Continued on last page)

Students To Design Sets For Drama

Settings For Howard's "Share Croppers" To Be Of Typical Southern Nature

Four graduate students will be the designers of the sets for the forthcoming Playmaker production, "Share-Cropper," which is to be produced in three performances on the evenings of Thursday, Friday, and Saturday.

All four, Vivian Veach, Lynn Gault, Lynette Heldman, and Fred Howard, the author of the play, are working for their master of arts degrees in the dramatics department.

Tickets for the Saturday matinee performance of "Sharecropper" are being sold by the YWCA. Members may obtain them from Miss Bill Malone in Spencer hall. They will be sold at 50 cents each. The person selling the most tickets will receive two free ones.

The settings, which have been designed in a realistic fashion, (Continued on page two)

IVEY PRESENTS AMATEUR SHOW TOMORROW NIGHT

Features Duet By Mac Smith, Charley Gilmore

Entertainment from a baseball game to piano duets will be featured by campus stars tomorrow night in Graham Memorial lounge as Pete Ivey presents his second amateur show of the winter quarter.

Applications from hopeful entertainers have flowed into Ivey's office to such an extent that no guest stars will be needed to make tomorrow's show the best yet, Ivey said.

Diamond

Henry Hudson and J. Franklin Jones are the players who will turn the lounge into a baseball diamond. It was not known how they will be divided into sides.

J. Mac Smith and Charley Gilmore will tickle the piano keys for a while to the tune of "The Fight of the Laughing Bulls," an original composition.

Duet

The duet will bring the editor and managing editor of the DAILY TAR HEEL together for the first time. Smith will hit

(Continued on page two)

Executive Session Replaces Regular Di Senate Meeting

Treasurer Bill Cochrane Says No Funds To Be Advanced For Dance Without Vote

As tonight's meeting of the Dialectic senate in New East is the next to the last during the current quarter, President David Kerley has called an Executive session to take the place of the regular discussion meeting.

Kerley is authorized in his move by the senate constitution which reads in part: "The Executive sessions shall be held on the regular meeting night preceding the last meeting of the quarter, and all members shall be required to attend. At these

(Continued on page two)

Interdorm Council Acts To Curb Heavy Gambling Here

Asks Postponement

Frank McNinch, chairman of the Federal Communications commission, who has asked the CPU to postpone the date of his address here, originally scheduled for Friday night.

Sophs To Consider Budget Today????

President Tom Pitts Will Be Waiting At 10:30!

Tom Pitts, president of the sophomore class, and his cohorts will be waiting expectantly in Memorial hall this morning at 10:30 in hopes that their fellow class members as former freshmen will instinctively join them there at the chapel period.

Passing a class budget will be the business of the meeting which is guaranteed not to consume the entire period. President Tom Pitts wishes to reiterate the fact that the budget must be passed before the sophomore class dance can be held. That affair is set for March 25 in the Tin Can.

Action Comes As Result Of Letter From Bob Magill

Many Complaints

By CARROLL MCGAUGHEY

The Interdormitory council last night resolved to open a concerted drive to curb the spread of gambling for high stakes in the dormitories.

(Gambling on University property is in violation of the Campus Code and falls under the jurisdiction of the Interdormitory council as a delegated power from the student council.)

The action resulted from a letter received several days ago by Bill Robertson, president of the Interdormitory council, from Bob Magill, head of the Student council. Magill, in the letter to the council, said that through various channels he has received a number of complaints concerning the practice.

According to Magill, who made an address before the dormitory heads at the meeting last night, infractions of University rules by dormitory men, with the exception of violations of the Honor system, are under the jurisdiction of the Interdormitory council, and it is that council's responsibility to see that the rules are complied with. In the case of infractions, it is within the power of the Inter-

(Continued on last page)

REYNOLDS WILL TALK TOMORROW

AED Speaker To Discuss Syphilis Program

Sponsored by the local chapter of Alpha Epsilon Delta, honorary pre-med fraternity, State Health Officer Dr. Carl V. Reynolds will speak tomorrow night in Hill Music hall at 8:30 on the state program for the control of syphilis.

Dr. Reynolds will discuss the plans for the use of the $7,000,000 fund left by the late Zachary Smith Reynolds for use in combatting the menace of syphilis in North Carolina. Although this benefaction in itself is not sufficient to carry out a statewide campaign against the disease, it is hoped that it will provide a stimulus to other agencies to provide additional amounts for a fight to bring the disease under control.

Reynolds will explain the work already done in conquering the disease, and tell how he and his advisers expect to spend the donation so that it will accomplish as much as possible in the fight.

Politics!

The University party steering committee met last night in another session to discuss the coming spring elections and potential candidates. It was the first meeting in the recent history of the party to have a DAILY TAR HEEL reporter in attendance in his official capacity.

Frank Rogers presided in the absence of Chairman Joe Murnick, and a large attendance was on hand.

PHI TO DISCUSS CAMPUS POLITICS

Action Of Congress To Be Debated

Discussion at the Phi assembly meeting on the top floor of New East tonight will be centered about a bill which states "That the Phi assembly should petition the student council to bar political parties from participating in campus elections."

John Rankin will give a brief explanation of the bill before it is presented to the house for open discussion.

The other bill on tonight's program, is resolved, "That the Phi assembly approve the action of congress in increasing the strength of the army and navy."

The meeting, according to Phi Speaker Drew Martin, is scheduled to begin at 7 o'clock.

J. P. Schinhan Will Give Organ Recital

University Musician To Play At 8:30 Tonight

Three selections of Bach, "Arioso in A," "Adorn Thyself, Dear Soul," and "Fugue in G Major," will be featured in the organ recital presented by Dr. Jan Philip Schinhan of the University music department at

(Continued on page two)

DEBATERS MEET WCUNC TONIGHT

Will Argue Anti-Lynch Bill In Union

A couple of young ladies from Greensboro will come over to Chapel Hill tonight and try to convince the persons assembled in Graham Memorial lounge that the pending anti-lynching bill will be passed by Congress.

Miss Mary Middleton and Miss Jane Dupuy, representing the Woman's College of the University of North Carolina, will take the affirmative side in a debate on the above subject, which is scheduled to begin at 8 o'clock.

Opposing the Misses Middleton and Dupuy will be University varsity debaters Sam Hobbs and I. D. Karesh, who will support the negative side of the question.

The general public will be admitted to the debate which marks the year's first meeting

(Continued on page two)

Ten Pinned

Those confined to the infirmary yesterday were: L. W. McCarn, L. V. Giles, H. W. Hinkle, W. K. Lewis, Ralph Casey, E. C. Richardson, James Pickard, J. H. Murrell, H. T. Hatch, and J. L. Godfrey.