LABOR FORCES ATTACK CHAMBERLAIN POLICIES

London, Feb. 23—In spite of continued efforts of labor forces to prevent the change of foreign policy, Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain today prepared to start British-Italian friendship talks.

Late yesterday, in the house of commons, Chamberlain was reassured in his policy of practical dealings by a 330 to 168 vote of confidence.

The British Labor party and trades union council issued a manifesto today demanding that the government submit its foreign policy to an immediate general election.

Meanwhile, opposition to the new policy of the government gathered strength for continued attacks. Organizations representing the opposition labor party, the League of Nations peace associations, and trade unions arranged for further demonstrations like that held in the house of commons yesterday.

The opposition is back of Anthony Eden, foreign secretary who resigned rather than carry on Italian friendship talks under circumstances which he considered would mean that Britain had succumbed to pressure from Italian Premier Mussolini.

'Sharecropper' Presents Tobacco Farmers' Problems Unbiased Outlook

Tonight at 8:30 the Playmakers will present Fred Howard's "Sharecropper," a tense social drama of the South. The frankness and realism of this play in dealing with the sharecropping conditions of Carolina tobacco farmers succeed in lifting a controversial subject into a prominent display.

Because "Sharecropper" deals essentially with the struggle between black and white, tonight's opening has been awaited with an unusual interest. Harry Da- (Continued on page two)

MAJORITY OF 800 FAVORABLE VOTES NEEDED FOR PLAN

Ballot Boxes Will Be In YMCA From 9 To 5 O'clock

By CHARLES BARRETT
University students will file to the polls in the YMCA from 9 to 5 o'clock today to provide a cross-section of campus opinion on one of the most controversial issues of the winter quarter—the campus radio studio.

The ballot slip will read: "Do you favor the establishment of a student owned and operated radio studio to be administered by the Publications Union on the same basis as the other four publications (it is understood that this will mean the allotment to the studio of a portion of the $6.90 publications fee now authorized by the Publications Union)? Answer yes or no."

800 Votes Necessary
PU board members stated yesterday that a favorable majority of 800 votes would be necessary in order for them to consider the project.

Milton Hogan, University junior whose two-year effort to establish the studio will be climaxed today, has emphasized importance of the election and urged all students to vote.

"The referendum, though not a formal election, will make a tremendous difference in the outcome of the move for a studio," he said.

If the board decides to establish the studio, the question may be brought up if it has the authority to do so without a formal mandate of half the fee-paying students of the University.

A joint meeting with the student council next Tuesday night will be held in order to discuss this point.

Hogan revealed his plans for the project during the fall quarter. He secured approval from the administration before asking the PU board to administer the studio.

Since then constant controversy has existed concerning the board's power to set up the studio, and regulation of an election in the event that one was necessary.

Jim Joyner Is Nominated For Vice-President's Office; Murnick Says Men Picked On Basis Of Merit

For Vice-President

By DONALD BISHOP
Henry "Bud" Hudson and Jim Joyner were announced yesterday as the candidates of the University party for president and vice-president, respectively, of the student body.

Selection of the two non-fraternity men to act as standard bearers for the recently-reorganized University party in the forthcoming elections, to be staged sometime in the spring quarter, was the first definite rumble of political thunder.

Selected On Merit
"We selected them purely on the basis of merit," was the only comment of the party's chairman, Joe Murnick, in speaking of the choice of the steering committee of 13 non-fraternity and 12 fraternity men.

Both men will stand on their respective records, in each case a long list of activities and class service. At present they hold the major junior class offices—Hudson is student council representative and Joyner is class president.

High School Records
Coincidentally, they held the same offices in their high schools that their hats are in the ring for now. Hudson was president of the Asheville high school student body and Joyner, who now hails from Goldsboro, was student body vice-president at Roanoke Rapids.

Hudson's record includes: president of sophomore class, member of freshman executive committee, vice-president of Freshman Friendship council, member of the Order of the Grail, football two years, baseball three years, Sophomore Y cabinet, member of the Graham Memorial board of directors as president of his class last year, and ex-officio member of the sophomore and junior class honor councils. Throughout his college career he has been a self- (Continued on last page)

Cochrane Says Di Head's Charges About Ballot Tabulation False

Martin Accused

David Kerley, president of the Dialectic senate, last night stated emphatically that under no conditions will he resign his office even though at the last meeting the senate voted in favor of a motion requesting him to do so.

Kerley said that the chief reason for his decision is the fact that the vote was tabulated incorrectly, and according to a recheck the vote should have been 15 to 14 in favor of the measure instead of 16 to 12. In such a case, Kerley would have been (Continued on last page)
