of the game. It was pointed out that even though a man did not have previous experience in the sport he could become quite adept in a short while if he would show willingness to learn, good spirit and competitive fight.

The team's present plans call for informal practice sessions for the remainder of this winter quarter and for the first intensive formal practice of the year on March 22, the first day of the spring quarter. This will allow seventeen or eighteen days of concentrated training before the first conference game of the year against Duke on April 9.

DRIVE BEGUN FOR MORE NYA FUNDS

Students Here Petition Government

Petitions are being passed around on the campus under joint sponsorship of the YMCA and YWCA, urging that NYA funds for self-help jobs be increased by the federal government this year or at least amount to the sum allotted this school in 1936-37.

They will be sent to C. E. McIntosh, director of the National Youth administration for North Carolina, YMCA President Scott Hunter said yesterday.

The petitions are being circulated in connection with the Youth's Pilgrimage for Jobs and Education at Washington March 10, 11, and 12. The conference will urge passage of a number of bills affecting American youth, among them extension of the NYA.

Non-Conference

Seven schools, Navy, Catholic University, Georgetown, Georgia, Virginia, and Presbyterian, are entered in the non-conference division. Navy, Virginia, and Presbyterian seem to be the top ranking outfits in the division. Outstanding non-conference hoofers are: Billy Hopkins, who tied the 60-yard world's record in last year's meet, and Fuller of Virginia, Healey and Bogan of Georgetown, and Friedrichs, Gillespie, and Arnold of Georgia.

Insurance, Adding Machine Companies To Interview Men

Representatives Will Hold Conferences With Students In South Building Tuesday

Next Tuesday a representative of the Burroughs Adding Machine company will meet as a group any men interested in getting employment in this company in 301 South building.

Students further interested may arrange private interviews after the group interview. Accounting is necessary.

The following day, March 2, representatives of the Jefferson Standard Life Insurance company will interview seniors who are interested in insurance work at 10:30 in 106 Bingham hall.

Seniors interested either in office work or sales are urged to attend. Personal conferences may be arranged following the group interview.

He also said that a group over at Duke university had recently shown considerable interest in the union. Members of this group have written for information about the local organization and have evinced a hope that a political union might be started in the neighboring institution.

"The union has adopted the policy of giving all information requested and of assisting organizations on other campuses," Heard said, "but it will not take the initiative in the forming of such organizations."

WHAT M. C. COBEN SAID TO HAROLD SNEAD,
CHIEF PILOT OF TWA

"Do you find Camels really different from other cigarettes?"

Harold Snead gives his own answer—"Camels agree with me!" he says. And millions of other smokers agree with Pilot Snead, making Camels the largest-selling cigarette in America

ON HIS SECOND MILLION MILES!
Snead has been flying since the "night mail" days. He knows what he's talking about when he says: "You've got to take care of yourself in this line of work. Ragged nerves are out. I smoke—all I want. Camels don't get on my nerves."

A FEW of the instruments that Pilot Snead has to watch. After a trip, Hal likes a Camel. "When I feel tired, I smoke a Camel," he says. "Yes, I get a 'lift' with a Camel. You may think I am enthusiastic about them. I am! All in all, here is a cigarette that agrees with me!"

"Some people say all cigarettes are alike, Mr. Snead... Can Camels really be so different?"

"There's a big difference, sir. I know most of the American fliers with records of several thousand hours in the air. The majority are steady smokers and prefer Camels, as I do. Experience has taught them that Camel is a really different cigarette!"

AFTER THE BIG TWA SKYSLEEPER, above, was set down in Newark Airport, M. C. Coben was chatting with Hal Snead, chief pilot of the Eastern region, and Isabelle Judkins, air hostess. Hal pulled out his Camels and offered them around. And so they got to talking cigarettes!
