NAZI COUP SMOTHERED BY AUSTRIAN TROOPS

Graz, Austria, Feb. 28.—A government determined to maintain peace and order sent troops to the Nazi hotbed of Graz to put down an uprising which threatened a march on Vienna. The Graz garrison was quickly reinforced by the Austrian army in time to smother a Nazi scheme to seize control of the city and march on Vienna.

The government sent additional troops to Graz, located artillery at strategic points, and saw that squadrons of war planes were ready for instant takeoff to the city.

When plans to march 50,000 Nazis on Vienna were revealed police tightened their grip to such an extent that no two people were allowed to stand together on the streets.

Swastika flags were hauled down and schools were closed. All disorder was prevented but the situation remained dangerous.

PERSHING NOW ABLE TO TAKE NOURISHMENT

Tucson, Ariz., Feb. 28.—Doctors today expressed hope for the life of Gen. John J. Pershing, saying that his condition was much stronger and had taken a definite turn for the better.

The World War leader was described by his physician, Dr. Roland Davidson, as "definitely stronger" and "conscious most of the time." This report was a direct reversal of one issued early in the morning which said the soldier was sinking rapidly from his numerous complications.

General Pershing was able to take nourishment for the first time today since complications developed. Fluids were given him after a very restless night.

HEAVY LOSSES FORCE CLOSURE OF ENTERPRISE

J. M. Lear Appointed Receiver By Court Yesterday

By BOB PERKINS
Due to losses incurred in the past two months the Student Cooperative Clothing store went into the hands of the receivers yesterday, writing finis on the last chapter of student cooperative enterprises in Chapel Hill. Last December the Co-op Cleaners was sold to a private individual in spite of the efforts of interested parties to keep it a cooperative.

PU Board

Heavy losses and the fact that the student body, through the Publications union, had an investment of $3,500 secured by mortgage on property, caused the PU board to deem it advisable to declare the store bankrupt.

Professor J. M. Lear of the commerce school was appointed receiver by court order yesterday.

$3,000 Estimated Value

According to information received yesterday the store has an inventory with the estimated value of $3,000. A complete inventory will be taken today. Indebtedness includes sales tax, rent, and water and lights. The Publications Union's mortgage has prior claim over everything but taxes. The loan was made by the PU board of a year ago. The Co-operative clothing store represented a private cooperative business trust, in which the members, mostly stu-

Cole Calls Mass Meeting Tonight

Announcements Of Registration For Spring Are Given

All General College Students Will Begin Registering Tomorrow Afternoon

Students are asked to take special notice of the following announcements governing registration.

All general college students will begin registration tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock.

A list of places where freshmen are to meet their advisers will be printed in the DAILY TAR HEEL tomorrow morning.

Upperclassmen

No upperclassmen will be allowed to register until Friday. They will have from then until March 12 to complete their registration.

Graduate students will not begin registration until next Monday, March 7. They also will have until March 12 to finish their registration.

Sophomore Advisees

Mr. Wells and Mr. Johnson invite their sophomore advisees to come to 301 South today and sign for registration conferences. They need hardly be reminded that early registrants will have a minimum of registration difficulties.

University Party Announces Entire Slate Of Nominees; Hendrix Picked For Vice-President Of Student Body

YMCA TO ARRANGE STUDENT-FACULTY LUNCHEON DATES

Committee Is Serving As "Clearing House" For Invitations

Students and professors who wish to lunch together Student-Faculty day, must make arrangements for the dates through the luncheon committee, according to an announcement yesterday from Fred Rippey, chairman of the committee.

In order to avoid embarrassment and confusion to both groups, the committee has worked out an arrangement by which the YMCA will be made the central "clearing house" for all invitations for the occasion. Students desiring dates with faculty members should leave their names at Tempe Newsome's desk in the front of the building as soon as possible. At the same time they should indicate the member they wish to invite.

Method Of Selection

The committee, while it cannot promise to put the student with the professor he chooses, will endeavor to respect the choices as far as it is practicable.

To facilitate the arrangements, the committee will post

Student Party Men To Make Nominations For Offices

Gather In Phi Hall

All Student party men and all students sympathetic with the party are requested by Chairman Bill Cole to meet in the Phi hall, third floor of New East, at 8 o'clock this evening to make general nominations for campus offices.

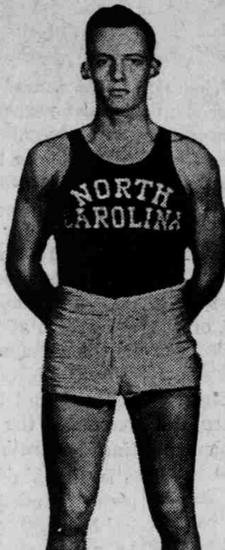

The Student party's policy in regard to nominations is to have all students not affiliated with any party participate in its nominations. This is in line, according to Cole, with the idea which was behind the formation of the party—"to select the man best fitted for the office regardless of party affiliations."

Sympathizers Invited

"If you are known to have been sympathetic with the party in the past or have a friend in the party who can vouch for your sympathetic interest you are invited to attend," stated Cole.

As yet the Student party has selected only two of its candidates, Jim Joyner for president of the student body and Voit Gilmore for editor of the DAILY TAR HEEL. Last year the party nominated Bob Magill for the presidency and supported Mac Smith for the editorship.

New Candidate

Bill Hendrix, vice-president of the junior class, who was last night nominated by the University party for vice-president of the student body.

Prof Gets Hot At 'Hurricane'

Spearman's Fidgety Actions During Movie Explained

Usually Dramatic Criticism Professor Walter S. Spearman gets hot around the collar over a four-star movie, but he got a new sensation yesterday when he saw "Hurricane."

In his coat pocket were half a dozen matches with which fidgety, nervous Professor Spearman fiddled during the thrilling sequence of the hurricane.

One of the matches ignited.

Now patrons of E. C. Smith know why one man in the rear of the audience apparently went crazy.

FELIX MARKHAM IS CHOSEN FOR SENIOR LEADER

Billy Campbell Named As Senior Class Council Member

By DONALD BISHOP

Action on publications candidates was deferred by the steering committee. A committee will investigate the field of prospects for the Publications Union board and a motion was passed that the University party wait for publications staff nominations and accept these choices providing the committee thinks the selected men are the best qualified for the positions.

In unprecedented action, the University party steering committee last night selected its entire slate of nominees for the coming student elections.

Bill Hendrix, cross-country team captain and class officer, was nominated for the vice-presidency of the student body, replacing the name of Jim Joyner, who resigned from the steering committee last week to accept the Student party nomination for student body presidency.

Hudson For President

Holding its session long after midnight, the party chieftains completed the slate already headed by Bud Hudson, student president-nominee.

Felix Markham received the senior class presidency nomination; Billy Campbell was placed on the ticket for the senior class

Di, Phi Resume Discussions Of Crises Tonight At 7:15

Members Of Assembly Will Discuss Conflict

Revoking his announcement that the Phi assembly would not meet this week, Drew Martin, speaker of the Phi, announced yesterday that the organization will meet for an executive session at 7:15 tonight in New East.

The purpose of the session is two-fold. First, for a discussion of an appropriation for the painting of the assembly hall, and secondly, to discuss the situation caused by Representative Rankin's explanation of the recent Di-Phi conflict.

Martin Censured

In his statement entitled "The True Story of the Di-Phi Fight and the Jealousy It Aroused," Rankin, who is secretary and treasurer of the assembly, censured Speaker Martin for his actions regarding the handling of the Di-Phi ball over a week ago. Rankin concluded his state-

Senators Will Decide On Resignation Issue

The crisis which confronts the Di senate will be passed tonight when the group meets at 7:15 in New West, although there are no indications as to what the conclusion will be.

President David Kerley, who refused to resign from his office when the senate requested him to do so last week, still maintains his stand, and alleges that the balloting was fraudulent, thus invalidating the vote.

Unauthorized Arrangements

The request came after the senate felt that the president had made arrangements with the Phi assembly for the Di-Phi ball which he was not authorized to make.

Whether or not the senate will accept his decision is just a matter of conjecture, but members of the faction opposing the president say that if he still refuses to resign the forecast is

Hugh Hatch Dies Sunday Morning Following Illness

Graduate Student In Chemistry Passes Away In Infirmary; Body Sent Home

Hugh Temple Hatch, graduate student in chemistry, died in the University infirmary Sunday morning following a lingering illness of several months.

As a graduate fellow under the Textile Foundation, Hatch entered the University here last fall from the University of Maine where he had had one year of graduate work.

He registered for the winter quarter in January but was forced nearly a month ago to drop his classes because of illness.

The body was shipped to Quebec from Durham Sunday night.

Hatch, who was 26, is survived by his mother, Mrs. Hugh Hatch; an aunt, Miss Mildred Hatch; and a sister, Enid Hatch, of Quebec.
