

Kyser To Play For May Frolics

"Evenin' Folks . . .

"How y'all?" and with those words Carolina's own Kay Kyser will open another dance set on the Hill—May Frolics, April 22, 23.

World News

Edited by Jim McAden

HOOVER WARNS AGAINST ANY ALLIANCE

New York, April 1.—Herbert Hoover, just back from a trip to Europe, today declared that the United States should avoid any pact with Democratic nations or Fascist powers. The former president said that he found that most nations in Europe were convinced that the United States would be drawn into the next great war as it was in the last.

Hoover also warned that Fascism may take root in this country through "planned economy," as he spoke before the council on foreign relations.

REORGANIZATION SUPPORTERS FIGHT OPPONENTS' TACTICS

Washington, April 1.—Supporters of the administration's reorganization bill battled through vigorous opposition delay tactics today to force the Speaker Bankhead announced the controversial measure.

Speaker Bankhead announced the vote was 206 to 139 on a motion to proceed with debate. Opposition members had tried in vain to block nomination of the discussion begun yesterday.

SPANISH REFUGEES FLEE TO FRANCE

Bagneres De Luchon, France, April 1.—This French mountain resort was packed today with thousands of Spanish military and civilian refugees fleeing before the powerful insurgent drive in northwestern Spain.

Many of the refugees had dropped dead from exhaustion and cold, and hundreds were in desperate need of food and shelter.

TORNADO-STRIKEN AREA THREATENED BY FLOOD

Following the tornadoes of the past week which left 36 dead and caused property damage estimated at nearly $2,000,000, construction crews in southeastern Missouri and other parts of the mid-west sector were threatened with the possibility of floods as water lines rose in the St. Francis and Black rivers yesterday. It was indicated, though, that the crest would probably not arrive until next week.

INSURGENTS PREPARE FOR ATTACK ON LERIDA

Zaragoza, April 1.—The fall of Lerida, key city of northeastern Spain, appeared imminent today as rebel armies captured strategic positions dominating the city.

General Juan Yague's troops continued their encircling movement of the ancient citadel and it was expected that that last major barrier to Barcelona would soon fall.

EIGHTH VICTIM DIES FROM CANCER SERUM

Orlando, Fla., April 1.—The number of fatalities among patients given (Continued on last page)

Former Student To Come Here April 22, 23

This year the annual May Frolics dance set, to be given April 22, 23, will feature Carolina's own Kay Kyser and his orchestra with Virginia Simms.

Kyser, who has just finished a successful season in the Black-Hawk restaurant in Chicago, has recently moved to New York to go on the Lucky Strike program each Wednesday night.

Reports state that Kyser's orchestra has improved much in the past year, with performances which surpass even the examples shown last June at Finals.

Record-Breaker

While in Chicago, Kyser broke all existing records at the famous Trianon ballroom. Other engagements at which he has built up a national reputation which places him in the first five most popular orchestras in the country include the Hotel New Yorker, New York; the William Penn, Pittsburgh; the Hotel Lowry, St. Paul; the Hotel Gibson, Cincinnati; and the Black-Hawk, Chicago.

Beside winning a high place among the nation's favorite orchestras by virtue of dance engagements, Kyser and his group have been featured on one of the most important commercial radio programs—the Elgin Revue. The orchestra has also been heard on all of the major radio networks.

Best-Sellers

The Brunswick record company recently reported that Kyser and his orchestra are one of the best sellers; their records having an appeal to all types of music lovers.

Kyser is also noted for being the originator of the idea of singing the song titles as an introduction to each number, a plan which eliminates announcements for each tune.

In addition to songstress Virginia Sims, Kyser will again feature Harry Babbitt, "Ish Kabibble," Sully Mason and the Kay Kyser Glee Club.

Dr. Herzog Will Speak On Folksongs Today At Inn

Dr. George Herzog of Columbia university will speak on "The Study of Folksong in America" this morning at 10 o'clock at the Carolina inn, as part of the third annual meeting of the Southeastern Folklore society which began yesterday.

"Progress in the Study of Spiritual Folk Songs" will be the subject of Dr. George Pullen's speech of Vanderbilt university, which will follow Dr. Herzog's talk.

Following the annual folklore society luncheon at 1 o'clock, the closing address will be given by Dr. Frederick H. Koch of the University on "The Making of Southern Folklore Drama."

Local Government Prof Makes Good In Magic

Magician-Prof

Professor C. F. Chute of the political science department who has proved that his talents are not only confined to the field of government, but that he is quite competent in the realm of Black Arts.

145 STUDENTS FLUNKED OUT LAST QUARTER

Figure Is Less Than Half That Of Fall Quarter

One hundred and forty-five undergraduate students flunked out of school during the winter quarter, University administration officials have announced.

The figure shows a marked decrease in flunk-outs over the fall quarter, since more than twice that number, 313, were declared ineligible at that time.

Readmissions

Of the 145 total 75 students were readmitted and are attending school again this quarter.

Ninety-four of the flunkouts were sophomores, 14 were freshmen, and the remaining 37 were upperclassmen. Of these groups 45 sophomores, seven freshmen, and 23 upperclassmen were readmitted.

Twenty-one sophomores and one freshman were refused readmission, and 10 sophomores and one freshman removed incompletes and made themselves eligible.

Eighteen sophomores and five freshmen did not apply for readmission.

Of the 14 upperclassmen who were not readmitted two, who had already registered, naturally were forced to cancel their registrations. The other 12 did not register.

Grail Dance To Be Held Tonight In Tin Can

Earl Mellon And Orchestra From Richmond, Va., To Furnish Music

Climaxing a gala week-end of entertainment the Grail will present its first dance of the spring quarter tonight from 9 to 12 o'clock at the Tin Can.

Joe Patterson of the Grail emphasized yesterday the fact that tonight's affair is a regular Grail dance and is in no way connected with the series of freshman hops also in progress this week-end.

Earl Mellon and his orchestra from Richmond, Va., will be on hand to furnish music and the regular admission of one dollar will be charged.

Symphony Rehearsal

A special rehearsal of the University Symphony orchestra will be held this afternoon at 2 o'clock in Hill Music hall. All members are urged to be present.

Sunrise Service

A sunrise service sponsored by all student church organizations and the YM and YWCA will be held Easter Sunday morning at the Bell Tower, it was announced yesterday.

Chute Rises From PWA Adviser To Magician To Political Science Professor

Carolina has a unique personality in the guise of political science Professor Charlton F. Chute, who practices the art of magic in his spare time.

When Dr. Chute first came here several years ago as financial adviser to the PWA headquarters, word soon got around that Chapel Hill had a resident magician in its midst.

Popularity Grew

He was immediately swamped with demands for performances at civic clubs, private parties, and student and faculty groups, of which he accepted as many as his time would permit.

The PWA disbanded here about a year ago, and Dr. Chute found a teaching position with the political science department. He had previously taught at the University of Chicago, where he took his Ph.D. in Political Science.

Began When Youth

He says that he first became interested in the black art when he was a small boy in Los Angeles, studied (Continued on page two)

Complete Program Given For Student-Faculty Day

Rich Tells Of Counties In Latest Paper

Research Work Discusses Origin of Districts; Early Government of State

Memories of the old North Carolina of lost colonies and Indian trails came wandering back when J. Hampton Rich of the Boone Trail association paused a few moments yesterday in Graham Memorial to discuss his latest historical research work, "The Origin of the Counties of North Carolina," which he has just published in his organization's news organ, The Boone Trail Herald.

Mr. Rich has compiled most of his research work here at Chapel Hill during the past few months. He said he was quick to realize the value of the University's rich store of material available for such an undertaking.

"Origin of Counties"

In "The Origin of Counties" Mr. Rich traces the division of the various counties from the earliest colonization of North Carolina. Also included is the origin of the county names and a brief sketch of the early government of the state.

Founded 25 years ago by a group of men interested in pioneer lore, the Boone Trail association has been prominent in preserving many of the historical landmarks of the United States. Chartered first in North Carolina which at present has 7,000 members, the association is now nationwide and includes in its ranks many of the nation's distinguished citizens.

At the present time Mr. Rich said that he was on his way to visit various sections of North Carolina in order to study old Indian trails for his organization.

Comer Reveals Plans For Big Blue Ridge Meet

YMCA Executive Secretary Sets Goal For 50 University Delegates

Setting his goal at over 50 University delegates, Harry F. Comer, executive secretary of the YMCA, recently revealed plans for a bigger and better Blue Ridge conference.

"Many more prominent speakers and leaders will be on hand at this year's assembly," he pointed out. "More emphasis will also be placed on forums and seminars."

Campaign

The campaign for Carolina representatives will be initiated Monday night with the annual Blue Ridge rally. Members of the three YMCA cabinets, all those who have attended previous conferences and those interested in this year's meeting will gather in Battle Park for a combined social, with weiners and other attractions, and business meeting.

Several students have already signed up for this year's conference. Over 600 students from 100 southeastern states are expected to convene at the mountain resort for the program.

Give Plans Soon

Unusual opportunities for recreation, social life, and personal improvement are offered at the conference. Mr. Comer will announce complete plans after a meeting of the planning committee, of which he is a member, within several weeks.

Dr. Kirby Page, Dr. Arthur Raper, and Dr. Howard Kester are among the speakers already signed up for the program.

Harry To Talk At Lutheran Seminar

Speaker Is Secretary Of Lutheran Education Board

Dr. C. P. Harry, secretary of the Lutheran board of education, with headquarters in Washington, D. C., will speak tomorrow at the Lutheran seminar of the Methodist church, according to H. A. Schrader, pastor of the St. Paul's church in Durham and pastor to the Lutheran group here.

Harry has spoken to Lutheran groups at state universities all over the country. His subject has not been announced as yet.

Committee Head

Randy Berg, chairman of the Student-Faculty day committee, who announced yesterday the complete program for the annual event Tuesday.

Campus To Pick May Queen For First Time

AKG Has Selected Court For Spring Fete In The Two Previous Selections

When the campus votes for the May queen and her court next Friday, it will be the first time that students and faculty have had such a privilege.

In the two previous selections of the court for the annual spring fete, the local chapter of Alpha Kappa Gamma, women's national honorary sorority, has appointed the queen and her attendants.

List

This year AKG is sponsoring the May Day festival as usual, but it is presenting to the faculty and student body a list of 21 nominees from which will be chosen the queen, her maid of honor and ten attendants. The list will be published in the DAILY TAR HEEL tomorrow.

There are the names of eight seniors and 13 juniors on the list. On the day of elections each voter will select the name of one senior for queen and then from the complete list will choose 10 names for the court. The senior receiving the second highest number of votes for queen will be maid of honor.

Pictures

Pictures of each of the 21 contestants will be posted in the YMCA Thursday of next week, the day preceding elections.

The original nominations for the court were made by a committee composed of representatives from the women's dormitories and sororities, and were submitted to AKG, which made a few additions to the number.

Work On Plans

Although May Day is scheduled to take place six weeks from now, on May 14, elaborate plans for all features of the program are already nearly completed. A large committee, headed by Miss Nancy Schallert, president of AKG, is working on the various details of the colorful coronation pageant which will take place in the arboretum on the afternoon of May 14, immediately preceding the final tea dance of Junior-Seniors.

Full Holiday Is Set For Big Event Tuesday

Randy Berg, chairman of the Student-Faculty day committee, yesterday announced the complete program for the celebration which will be held Tuesday on a full holiday set aside for the fete.

Opening event of the day will be the coronation of Miss Jane Hunter and Professor E. J. Woodhouse as queen and king of the affair. The ceremony will take place in Memorial hall at 10 o'clock and is to be followed immediately by a comedy-pageant in which several of the most prominent members of the faculty will be featured.

Ivey and duFour

Pete Ivey will perform as the official Court Jester, who, with the aid of Court Poet Bob duFour, promises to make the pageant one of the most enjoyable of the day.

Following the coronation, the dormitories will hold open house in honor of the faculty from 11 until 1 o'clock. The time of the open house has been extended to provide the faculty members, who must hurry to get around to all of the buildings, enough time to make new acquaintances in each of them.

Dormitory Prizes

Each dormitory store will be open for inspection and a prize will be offered for the best model room on display.

Before the open house, each dormitory council will make the rounds of the rooms in its building and select what they consider to be the five prettiest girls' pictures owned by the boys. These will be placed on display in the model room, and faculty members will vote to decide the winner of each dormitory. Each of the winning girls will receive boxes of candy as a prize.

At 1 o'clock students will meet the faculty members with whom they have arranged for luncheon. Where students take their "dates" has of course, been left for them to decide. Many of them are entertaining them at their fraternity houses, at Swain hall, or at their regular eating places.

"Bull Sessions"

Ample time has been left for "bull sessioning" with the faculty members after lunch, for the fraternity open houses do not begin until 4:30.

At these open houses individual entertainment features have been planned, and hostesses from the sororities will help in serving refreshments.

Jamboree

Memorial hall will be the scene of the colossal Jamboree at 7:30. Skits, stunts, dances, and music will be combined to round out a complete but brief entertainment program.

As a fitting climax to the day's celebration, the Grail is sponsoring a "Variety Ball" in the Tin Can which begins at 9 o'clock. Jimmy Fuller and Freddy Johnson will both have their popular campus orchestras there to provide uninterrupted dance music for the full evening.

Costume Prizes

No limits have been placed on the (Continued on last page)

Dance Committee Has No Cinch Picking Best Title

Professors Attend Biology Convention

Meeting of Federation Being Held In Baltimore

Dr. William deB. MacNider, dean of the medical school; Professor James C. Andrews, head of the department of biological chemistry; and Professor H. Ward Ferrill of the department of physiology are spending part of the present week in Baltimore attending the Federation of Societies for Experimental Biology.

The Federation, which is composed of the American Physiological society, the American Pharmacological society, the American Society for Experimental Pathology, and the American Society of Biological Chemists, constitutes the main outlet for scientific thought of a medical character in this country.

Student-Faculty Day Group Meets With Problem To Decide Winner

By CARROLL MCGAUGHEY

The Student-Faculty dance committee found itself with a problem this year in finding a name for the costume ball which is to climax next Tuesday's celebration.

To make their task easier they hit upon the idea of sponsoring a contest and awarding a prize to the person who suggested the most appropriate title. Accordingly they set up a box in the YMCA just before the spring holidays and invited the campus to help them out.

Task

Having passed the buck along to the students, the committee felt completely self-satisfied in having settled the matter so easily, but they hadn't reckoned with the contest lovers on (Continued on page two)