

Student Council Ratifies Proposed Campus Legislature Plan

WEATHER:
Mostly cloudy,
possibly showers

The Daily Tar Heel

THE ONLY
COLLEGE DAILY
IN THE SOUTH

VOLUME XLVI EDITORIAL PHONE 4351 CHAPEL HILL, N. C., THURSDAY, APRIL 7, 1938 BUSINESS PHONE 4156 NUMBER 138

Coed Elections Scheduled Today

Has Talents ...

Virginia Simms, blue-eyed California charmer and only feminine vocalist with Kay Kyser's orchestra, who will appear here with Kyser for May Frolics, April 22, 23. She is now singing with his orchestra on the Lucky Strike program each Wednesday night.

World News

Edited by Jim McAden

LOYALISTS LOSE ARMY CHIEF WHILE REBELS ARE REPULSED

Madrid, April 6.—Socialist Premier Juan Negrin today assumed control of loyalist armies defending Catalonia after he dropped his war minister, the "strong man" Indalecio Prieto.

Meanwhile, loyalist forces surprised rebels with their strong resistance to an attack on Tortosa. A furious battle for possession of the city increased in intensity today as heavily reinforced troops of both contingents pounded each other in continuing the three-day fight for the Lebro river delta town.

Along with the army change, Negrin completed almost a complete reshuffle of his cabinet to drop out one of the two communist ministers and give it a more moderate makeup.

U. S. ACCEPTS GERMAN CONQUEST OF AUSTRIA

Washington, April 6.—Formal acceptance by the United States of the German conquest of Austria became known today in notes presented to the German government in Berlin by Ambassador Hugh Wilson.

In the same note, the United States notified Germany that she would be held liable for Austrian debts due this country.

The American legation in Vienna has been closed and a consulate general set up in its place.

Total debts of Austria which are due to the United States amount to $64,493,480. Of this over half are private debts which were contracted between citizens of both countries.

REVISED WAGE-HOUR BILL RECOMMENDED BY GROUP

Washington, April 6.—A thoroughly revised wage-hour measure was recommended today by a house labor sub-committee, which had argued the bill for weeks.

The new bill would provide for a graduated minimum wage and a work week ranging from 40 to 48 hours.

Reporters were told that the new bill provided for creation of an independent five-member board to administer its provisions. To meet charges that the board would have too much power, the committee stipulated the President would have power to require the board to report through the head of any executive department designated by him.

In the government relief offices today, officials stated that rising relief demands have revived the need of

(Continued on last page)

Women Will Only Vote For One Office This Year

(Sketches of candidates Elizabeth Maloné and Anne Perry appear on page two.)

In the campus elections to be held today in the YMCA the only position on the women's list of offices for which it will be necessary to cast a vote will be that of presidency of the Woman's association. The two candidates advanced for this position are Miss Elizabeth Maloné and Miss Anne Perry.

On the wheels of the new nominating machinery inaugurated this year by President Nancy Nesbit, five nominees will automatically go into office, since there were no nominations proposed from the floor in opposition. These five nominees are the choice of a nominating board of nine members, equally representing the three women's groups on the campus, appointed by Miss Nesbit, who herself held no vote.

Officers

Those officers on the Woman's Council, which is the governing organization of all the women students on the campus, who will automatically receive their elections are Miss Claire Whitmore as secretary and Miss Eleanor Jackson as treasurer. The one of the two contestants for the major office who receives the second highest number of votes will be vice-president of the organization.

These four executive officers and three others will make up the Woman's council for the coming year. The house president of Spencer Hall, who is to be elected at a meeting of the dormitory residents Monday night and who is considered representative of the three women's dormitories, will automatically become a member of the council on election. Miss Mary

(Continued on page two)

OTHER COUNCILS TO CONSIDER PLAN TONIGHT

Final Decision Remains In Hands Of Student Body

By BOB PERKINS

After changing one clause under representation, the Student Council last night ratified the proposed legislature plan, which, if passed on by the Interdormitory and Interfraternity councils tonight, will be presented to the student body next Tuesday for final ratification.

In addition to the regular campus offices, nominations will be in order this morning in Memorial hall for a secretary-treasurer of the student body.

The Student council in answer to a signed petition of over 300 students agreed to the proposal that the campus should vote on a man to fill the proposed office at the same time it votes on the advisability of creating that office.

President Bob Magill has called a joint meeting of the two councils tonight at 9:30, second floor of Graham Memorial, to discuss and take a vote on the plan.

In order to avoid a political block from forming in the legislature, the council proposed that there be specification for members at large. This clause at first read: Ten members-at-large selected by the legislature in its first meeting with a view to including those students not otherwise represented.

Change

As changed by the council, the ten members-at-large would be: 5 town students; editor of the Daily Tar Heel; a representative from the Publications Union Board, from the Debate council, from the Student Enter-

(Continued on page two)

Nominations For Campus Posts To Be Made Today

Nominations For Various Offices To Be Held Today

Campus-At-Large Candidates To Be Named At 10:30

Nominations for the various offices will be held as follows, according to Student council regulations:

Campus-at-large — Memorial hall; 10:30 this morning.

Senior class officers—103 Bingham; 7:15 this evening.

Junior class officers—Murphy auditorium; 7:15 this evening.

Sophomore class officers—Memorial hall; 7:15 this evening.

Keith Eustler will preside at the meeting this morning, while Jim Joyner will conduct the nominations for the senior class, Tom Pitts will preside over junior class nominations and Christian Siewers will be in charge of the sophomore nominations.

Calls Meeting

Student Body President Bob Magill, who last night called a joint meeting of the Interdormitory and Interfraternity councils for tonight to discuss the proposed legislature plan.

Candidates To Be Named Officially At 10:30, 7:15

By CHARLES BARRETT

Party slates will become official nominations and a few independent candidates may hop in the political whirlpool today as students assemble to select nominees for 29 campus offices.

Supervised by the student council, nominations for general campus wide offices will take place in Memorial hall at 10:30 with Keith Eustler presiding. Aspirants for next year's senior class offices will do their official hat-tossing at a meeting of the junior class at 7:15 in room 103 Bingham hall, with Jim Joyner presiding; sophomores will nominate their next year's officers in Murphy auditorium at the same time, with Tom Pitts presiding; and freshmen will pick their candidates at the same time in Memorial hall, with Christian Siewers presiding.

"Politics"

The nominations will initiate a four-day period of extensive cigar or chewing gum passing as politicians lock horns in a party struggle that should dim all past political battles. For this year all precedents will be broken as 56 or more students go a'job-hunting.

Last year's political fiesta, heralded as the greatest ever, saw six of its 43 candidates arrive at election day without opposition. This year only three aspirants—Bill Hendrix for student body vice-presidency, Carl Pugh for Buccaneer editorship, and Rutherford Yeates for Yackety-Yack editorship—are so far assured of victory. And these may find their election contested after today's nominations. Last year Earl Ruth entered the battle for senior class presidency on nominations day.

Next Thursday's ballot will stir further interest and bring out a few more lethargic voters as the student legislature proposal is put to the test of campus opinion. An amendment to the Publications Union board constitution, requiring a favorable majority of half the student body before a function may be added or taken away from the board's supervision, will also be voted upon.

Another measure other than decid-

(Continued on last page)

YACKETY-YACK STAFF NAMES YEATES EDITOR

Candidate Also Receives Backing Of Both Parties

Rutherford Yeates was unanimously selected by the Yackety-Yack staff yesterday afternoon as its nominee for the editorship of next year's annual, and also the nomination from both political parties.

He will be unopposed unless an independent candidate for the office appears on the scene today as a dark horse.

For the past three years Yeates has devoted all of his extra-curricula time to the Yackety-Yack. During his freshman year he was editor of the section on honorary organizations. The sophomore year he served as editor of the photography section, and this past year has been its managing editor.

He is a native of Birmingham, Alabama, and an SAE.

"Bud" Again

Copies of the long awaited "Bud" have been received in A. Guy Ivey's office, Graham Memorial, and will be distributed this afternoon between 2 and 5 o'clock.

Winners In Student-Faculty Day Contests Announced

M'NINCH ASKED TO CANCEL HIS SPEECH HERE

Heard Announces Union Spring Program Crowded

Frank R. McNinch, chairman of the Federal Communications commission, has been asked by the Carolina Political union to cancel his scheduled speech here on May 20.

Cause for the request, union chairman Alex Heard said yesterday, was that the CPU has such a crowded spring quarter, and because there are so many other important campus events at about the time of his scheduled appearance. Heard said that Phillip Murray, who will speak next Thursday, McNinch and Honorable James P. Pope, United States senator from Idaho, were all to appear on union programs during a period of two weeks.

Cancellation

McNinch was previously scheduled to speak in Chapel Hill last February 25, but was forced at that time to cancel the engagement.

The FCC chairman has been asked to postpone his speech until next fall, when the union's slate will probably not be so crowded.

When questioned about the union's

(Continued on page two)

Psychologists To Convene Here Today At Inn

Group Includes Directors Of Laboratories Of Many Large Universities

The Society of Experimental Psychologists will hold its annual meeting at the Carolina inn today and tomorrow.

This group includes the directors and other experimentalists of the laboratories at Cornell, Harvard, Yale, Columbia, Princeton, Pennsylvania, Chicago, Michigan, Iowa, California, California at Los Angeles, Stanford, and a few other institutions.

Meetings

Meetings are to be informal, consisting of a report by each member of the society on some phase of research being conducted or directed by that member. These reports will be followed by free and full discussions. No papers are to be read formally.

(Continued on page two)

Jordans Get First Prize For Novel Costumes

Winners in the various Student-Faculty day contests were announced today by Randy Berg, chairman of the committee in charge of the celebration.

Prizes for the most original costumes worn by faculty members to the Variety Ball in the evening were awarded to Dr. and Mrs. A. M. Jordan, who were dressed as a couple of the middle 19th century. Mrs. Jordan, who owns a sizeable collection of dresses worn by former generations of her family, wore a dress that belonged to her great-grandmother's sister with a bonnet of the same period. Dr. Jordan was attired as a gentleman of the era with silk topper and frock coat. As an appropriate accessory he smoked an antique "lady's pipe" dating from the time that fashionable women smoked tiny painted china pipes.

Costumes

Dr. and Mrs. Jordan's costumes had a particular sentimental value because they were the same ones that they wore to another costume ball at the University of Chicago before their marriage nearly 24 years ago.

Elizabeth Keeler, wearing the costume of a southern belle of ante-bellum days, was awarded the prize for the most attractive coed costume, and Vincent Rousseau won the prize in the men students' group.

Aycock dormitory has received 20

(Continued on last page)

Union Directors Seek Tenants For Offices

Committee Is Selected To Investigate Desirability Of Operating Grill

Directors of Graham Memorial in session yesterday asked for petitions from worthy campus organizations for the office space recently vacated by the athletic association when it moved into the new gym.

The request deemed most worthy by the directors will be awarded the three offices without charge.

A committee was selected to investigate desirability of operating the memorial's grill next year, and to pick a manager for the grill if it is decided to operate.

The directors also decided to give two banquets—one in honor of the University club and another for the North Carolina Scholastic Press institute, which will convene here Friday and Saturday, April 29 and 30.

Further Plans Announced For Dormitory Dance Set

Interdorm President

Billy Robertson, president of the Interdormitory council which is sponsoring the annual dormitory dances this week-end.

Physics Society Holds Meeting

Ruark, Shearin, Plyler Speak At Annual Convention

The University was well represented at the annual meeting of the Southeastern section of the American Physical society held at the University of Alabama in Tuscaloosa, Ala., on April 1, 2.

Those attending were Dr. Arthur E. Ruark, Dr. P. E. Shearin, E. K. Plyler, Dr. Otto Stuhlman, Jr.

At the convention Dr. Ruark read a paper on the Cloud Chamber and his work with it in studying the behavior of high speed electrons.

Dr. Stuhlman was elected chairman of the organization for the coming year. He will preside when the society convenes at the University of Georgia located at Athens, Ga., next spring.

Banquet Friday Night Will Start Festivities

The Interdormitory council this week-end introduces a new order in the annual set of Dormitory dances, with bigger, better, and more events filling the Friday-Saturday program in the Tin Can.

First event of the week-end will be an Interdormitory council banquet for members only which will be held at 7:00 o'clock Friday night. Pete Ivey will address the group, while several other speakers may also say a word over the coffee.

Orchestra

Friday evening's 9-1:00 dance will see Jere King and his orchestra on the bandstand.

Of most expectation and curiosity to dorm dwellers is the floor show scheduled for "between the halves" of the Friday dance, and at present clouded with the obscurity of tentative plans. The Dance committee promises to reveal the full nature of this feature entertainment beforehand. At present, Francis Roughton, Wally Dunham, several other campus personalities, and the Tandy School of Dancing are expected to take part in this half-hour show.

Tea Dance

Saturday afternoon from 4-6 o'clock the week-end's tea dance will have Jimmy Fuller furnishing the rhythm.

Fuller and his dancipators will also play for the Saturday evening ball, which is to last from 9-12.

Bids for the set are free to all dorm men bearing dates, while stags will be charged fifty cents each. Each dormitory resident is entitled to one bid which may be obtained from the councilmen on each floor of the dormitories.

Chairman of the Dance Committee Puddin' Wales has announced that after the Saturday night dance Graham Memorial will hold open house for all trippers of the light fantastic. Refreshments will be served in the lounge.