Pardon Me, BUT . . . « »

By
William L. Beerman

Peeking through a raincoat: Rain, blessed rain, ended the one-day drought in Chapel Hill yesterday. Tennis players scurried for cover when the first deluge hit the campus, freshmen baseball players hung around hesitantly for a cessation.

Out in the center of it all, an intramural soft ball team practiced on the coed field. One of the outfielders, obviously a thoughtful soul, bravely stood his ground—an umbrella over his head. Whack! A batter sent the oversized ball flying out toward the reticent player. The lad turned the umbrella upside down, started running to the spot the ball was destined to land.

At the same instant two other big-league aspirants decided they would look good making a spectacular catch, so off they went in pursuit of the fast-descending sphere. Well, three bodies collided on top of one yielding waterproof-parasol and one ball went bounding harmlessly away. Result: an umbrella with handle and ribs entwined in every direction. And three soft ball players in the same condition.

Spring football training was also rudely interrupted by the shower, and several of the candidates hung around the front of the gym to see whether they would go practice or build a boat to get back to the dorms in.

Coach Wolf drove up, joined Coaches Lange and Vaughn on the steps. Pretty soon three or four football players in short pants and cleated shoes trotted in, smiling pleasantly at the dark clouds.

Steve Maronic exhibited a head slightly the worse for wear on the back side. He fell off the top of a double-deck bed.

"Well," said the coach finally, "no practice. Go on swimming or do what you want." They went.

Wolf and Lange went to the shower room in Emerson stadium. "We will play some golf," they announced simultaneously. And they then proceeded to dress for the game. Boxing tutor

First Round Of High School Net Tourney Begins At 9:30

Kenfield, Rankin Seed Eight Men In Singles

Draws and seedings for the annual interscholastic tennis tournament for North Carolina high schools were completed last night by Coach John Kenfield and the coaches of the competing teams at the YMCA last night.

Twenty-one schools, the largest number of entries in the memory of Coach Kenfield and the records of E. R. Rankin, secretary of the North Carolina High School Athletic association, will start the first round singles matches of the tournament this morning at 9:30 o'clock. The doubles tourney, in which 20 schools will compete, also will start at the same time.

Seeded Players

Eight singles and doubles players were seeded in each group. In the singles the seedings are: first, Sloan of Wilmington; second, Hendrix of Winston-Salem; third, Spurrier of Charlotte; fourth, Rawlings of Greensboro; fifth, Freeman of Rocky Mount; sixth, Markham of Durham; seventh, Archer of Shelby; and eighth, John Kenfield, Jr., of Chapel Hill.

In the doubles Winston-Salem, Greensboro, Fayetteville, Chapel Hill, Durham, Charlotte, Wilmington, and Shelby were seeded in that order.

Coach Kenfield announced the interscholastic invitation tennis tournament which will be held in Chapel Hill next week. This tournament will be open to both high and prep school students in North and South Carolina, Virginia, Georgia, and Tennessee.

MANLY DEFEATS MANGUM OUTFIT

Three Ball Clubs Get Victories

Six playground ball teams ventured forth into the wet weather yesterday afternoon to play scheduled games and three emerged victorious. Seven games were scheduled but four of these were postponed because of wet grounds. The results of the contests were Manly defeated Mangum 11-3; Ruffin defeated Aycock, 6-4; and Zeta Psi defeated Chi Phi, 7-3.

Manly

In the only game played at 4 o'clock Manly beat its next door neighbor, Mangum, 11 to 3. This game was the scene of more slips and falls than any other of the tourney. Both teams committed many errors that would not have been made under ordinary conditions. The Manly team seemed better adapted to the conditions and had an easy time in achieving its victory. The victorious team scored 3 runs in the second in-

Golfers Lose

(Special To The Daily Tar Heel) Athens, Ga., April 20.—Carolina's golfers lost their first match of the 1938 season here this afternoon to the Georgia Bull-Dog shotmaker, 10-8. On a par course of 73, Captain DuPont Kirven was the low Carolina man with a 75. Bower of Georgia was low man with a 74.

Lacrosse Team Holds Practice Despite Rain

Carolina Stickmen Will Play Washington and Lee Tomorrow There

Rain and thunder dampened but did not stop a fast lacrosse scrimmage yesterday afternoon as the team all but completed its training for the Washington and Lee tilt at Lexington tomorrow.

The newly formed front line of Finkel, Shryock, Broadfoot, Budden, and Kornfeld finally showed up as a smooth-working unit. Their brisk bullet-like passing and swift, sharp-breaking thrusts at the net availed them many scores and gave the defense quite a workout.

Notwithstanding the tallies that were racked up against them, Ditt, O'Heron, MacPhee, Beers, Pearlman, Ray, Karol, Topping, Adler, and Manager Katsenberg.

The team will leave for Lexington at 4 p. m. this afternoon, and the following men are to make the trip: Coxetter, Desich, Finkel, Shryock, Broadfoot, Budden, Kornfeld, O'Heron, Ditt, MacPhee, Beers, Pearlman, Ray, Karol, Topping, Adler, and Manager Katsenberg.

Buck McCarn Will Play Pro Ball This Summer

Ex-Carolina Athlete Will Work For Thomasville Baseball Team

Lester W. "Buck" McCarn, three-year varsity baseball and football man now doing special work here, has signed a contract with Thomasville of the North Carolina State league to play professional baseball this summer.

McCarn, who is a student coach—assisting in freshman baseball and physical education—said yesterday that he would report to the "Tomnies" immediately after school is out in June.

Two Letters Three Times

For three years Buck played varsity baseball, captaining last season's team. In his sophomore year he was a first baseman, but was later converted into an outfielder. He also earned a letter in football, finishing up a brilliant career as an end under Coach Ray Wolf in 1936.

Jimmy Maus, former Piedmont league catcher and now manager of the Thomasville outfit, is depending on McCarn to hold down one of the regular outfield positions. The league season opens the 27th of this month, however, and Buck will be unable to participate in any of the early games. He indicated that it was possible he would take time off to see one or two of the night contests played by Thomasville, but he could not say whether he would be in action before June or not.

McCarn also said that he had been

BLUE IMPS WIN OVER FRESHMAN RUNNERS, 74-52

Yearlings Behind With Five Firsts Out Of 14 Events

(Special to the Daily Tar Heel) Durham, April 20.—Opening in their first meet of the season against the Duke Blue Imps, the freshman tracksters from the University of North Carolina lagged behind in track and field events today to lose 74-52. The Tar Babies took five first places out of the 14 events but were unable to gain many of the second and third positions.

Rainy conditions made for an exceptionally slow track, especially in the longer distances. Morrison of Carolina took the mile honors in 4:40, his teammate Allen placing third. In the 440 Hoffman and Groves came in first and second respectively to gain the largest single event score for

Lettermen Hear Dr. Foy Roberson

The University monogram club held its spring-quarter meeting last night at Swain Hall. Dr. Foy Roberson, of Durham, addressed the small group of athletes that were present at the meeting. The basis of his talk was the value of the monogram club to the student and college, and also the organization of an Alumni monogram club.

Pete Mullis, president of the Monogram club, outlined the plans for the first High School Monogram Club conference, which is to be held here on May 6th and 7th.

Sixty-four letter and numeral certificates were awarded to the Winter Quarter athletes.

offered a coaching position with Ahsokie high school, located in the eastern part of the state near the coast.

"I will probably go there as a baseball and football coach after the finish of this summer's pro baseballing," he added. "However, I've recently gotten a similar proposition from Kannapolis." Kannapolis is McCarn's home town.

Asked if he would continue to play baseball after accepting a coaching job, Buck stated that he "would see how he made out this season." If all goes well, he will stick to professional baseball during the summer seasons and spend the rest of his time as a high school coach.

Buck went to Kannapolis high school and prepped at Mount Pleasant Collegiate institute before coming here, starring in baseball and football at both places. He is 23 years old.

Handball

Handball practice will be resumed today at 4 o'clock, weather permitting. Further tryouts for prospective team members will be given at that time.

Fencers Meet Georgia Techs Here Saturday

Match Will Inaugurate Intercollegiate Athletics In Gymnasium

Inaugurating the new gym into active intercollegiate athletics Saturday night, the North Carolina fencing team will take to the strips against Southern Conference champs, Georgia Tech, in the season's finale for the Tar Heels.

With but one blemish on its otherwise spotless record, that coming in the last meet against William and Mary, the Carolina swordsmen have forged to the front ranks of southern intercollegiate fencing circles this past season.

However, Saturday night the story may prove to be much different. The Blue and White fencers will defend their unbeaten home record without the services of two first stringers, Bernie Aleskovsky in epee and Richard Gips in sabre, both valuable assets to the team in previous meets. Meanwhile, the Yellowjackets come to the Hill in full strength raring to avenge the 9-8 defeat handed them by the invading Tar Heels during the spring vacation at Atlanta.

University of Pennsylvania coeds have organized a golf team and written to a number of colleges for matches. Miss Marie Deaser, runner-up for the Philadelphia Girls' Junior title in 1936, is team manager.

HOLSEHOUSER YANKED AFTER FIRST INNING

Pitcher Who Beat Duke Last Week Bows Quickly

By SHELLEY ROLFE

Clinton, April 20.—In a game marked by speeches of dedication for the new high school stadium and long and short bursts of rain, Carolina's Tar Heel nine this afternoon nosed out State 7-6 to advance to a first place tie in the Big Five with Wake Forest, which used the afternoon to beat Duke.

Foy Grubb won the battle with a ninth inning single that tallied Hal Bissett from third base to break a 6-6 deadlock and give Daffy Dave Parker his third pitching win of the season. Bissett opened the ninth with a long fly to left that State's Honeycutt dropped like watered stock, the field was so wet. Hal went to second on the misplay, and to third on a wild pitch by Allan Green of the Red Terror hurling staff, and was all ready to come in when Grubb unloaded a ground hit to right field with a count of two and one.

Second Time

It was the second time this spring that Carolina has downed State in the last inning. Earlier in the season, Skipper Bunn Hearn's crew pulled the fat out of the fire with three runs in the ninth to win 6-5. Today's conquest was the seventh in eight times out for the Tar Heels.

Carolina opened the game after a long period of opening day oratory as if it meant to blast State right out of the ball park. The Red Terrors refused to be blasted, but Mr. Vic Holsehouser, State's bright young man of the mound who beat Duke Saturday, was run out of the battle in the first inning after three Tar Heel scores had trickled across the plate.

Green came in for the second in-
