ning and was greeted with three more runs. The chief Tar Heel protagonist in the six run first two inning uprising was Captain Tom Burnette, who unloaded a single in each inning to knock in four runs.

Just as the Hearn crew was getting away in fine fashion, in came some rain to delay proceedings for a half hour, just long enough to cool the club down. For when play started in the third, State, helped along by a home run and a double by Bob Wicker and a triple by Doc Smith, Jr., started picking up enough runs to tie the count in the seventh, while the Carolina sluggers could not tally again until the ninth when a run meant the ball game.
