

12 Dorms Elect Officers For Next Year

International Relations Conference Speakers

Here are some of the principal speakers who are to appear on the program of the first International Relations Conference, sponsored by the Carolina League for International Cooperation and the Foreign Policy League, which opens at the University this afternoon and continues through Saturday evening.

Josephus Daniels, United States Ambassador to Mexico, will be the first to address the group of specialists on foreign affairs and students from 100 institutions who have been invited to attend. He will speak on the Mexican situation in Memorial Hall at 8:30 o'clock tonight.

International Relations Conference Opens Today; Ambassador Daniels Speaks At 8:30

Discussions Will Continue Through Program Saturday

Opening today at 2 p. m. for registration for all students and delegates, the first International Relations Conference has Josephus Daniels, Ambassador to Mexico, as its main speaker tonight in Memorial Hall at 8:30.

Sponsored by the Carolina League for International Cooperation and the Foreign Policy League, this conference is to last until Saturday with such outstanding speakers present as Francis B. Sayre, Assistant Secretary of State, Dr. Otto Nathan, German economist, Dr. Erich W. Zimmermann, Dr. Herbert von Beckerath, Dr. Rex Winslow, Dr. D. H. Buchanan, all of the University faculty, and Dr. R. Taylor Cole and Dr. Paul Lineberger of Duke University.

Seniors

There are to be class room seminars and round table discussions directed by these various leaders. Dr. Beckerath will lead one discussion on "Italo-German Policies in European Affairs," and Dr. Lineberger will ad-

GOLDEN FLEECE TO TAP SUNDAY

Event To Climax Senior Week

Headlining senior week this year will be the annual tapping by the Order of Golden Fleece of several junior and senior campus leaders.

Sunday night at eight o'clock in Memorial Hall, students and townspeople will gather to watch the impressive ceremonies as the various leaders who are tapped rise in the glare of spotlights and are received into the order.

The ceremony will be followed by a banquet at the Carolina Inn in honor of the new members. The banquet will be in the nature of a reunion since all alumni of the order are expected to attend. Invitations have been sent to the 306 living alumni.

Requirements

The Golden Fleece taps each year the men who in its opinion have done the most for the campus in their three or four years at the University. Character and achievement in more than one field are the bases for selection. Every active campus citizen is a potential member of the Fleece.

Founded in 1904, the Fleece has now a membership of 314. The active order is composed of Mac Smith, Bob Magill, Andy Bershak, Albert Ellis, Stuart Rabb, Ramsay Potts, and Bob duFour.

Pope's Speech

Copies of the Carolina Political Union speech delivered in Memorial Hall last week by Senator James P. Pope of Idaho can be secured free of charge in the YMCA office.

Reporters Meet

There will be an important meeting of all DAILY TAR HEEL reporters and the sports staff this afternoon at 1:30 in the office. It is essential that these men be present.

STATE COUNCIL REMOVES BAN ON FINALS DANCE

Student Body Strike Averted By New Action

State College's Faculty council Tuesday night removed its ban on the final Monday commencement dance and thereby avert what certain students claimed would have been a strike of practically the entire student body.

The issue as to student government powers was not discussed at the meeting.

Following the student demonstration of over a week ago sentiment had been bitter against the control exercised by the faculty council over student activities. The meeting Tuesday resulted from the Faculty council's offer to open the dance issue for further consideration upon the return of E. L. Cloyd, dean of students, to the campus.

Committee

A committee of eight students was chosen to present the views of the student body to the Faculty council. The session lasted from 3 o'clock until 5:30 at which time the council told the students they would announce their decision at 10 o'clock that night.

Although the Faculty council's decision was in favor of the dance for this year, it stated that in the future the post-commencement dance would not be permitted. The students were reported to have accepted this decision as they believed the commencement exercises in the future would close on Sunday night.

Condemns Demonstration

Although it condemned the demonstration of the students last week in burning in effigy Dean Cloyd on the steps of the State Capitol, the Faculty council said, in reversing its former decision, that their action was to be considered "as an expression of faith and confidence in the State College student body."

When the council announced its removal of the dance ban shortly after 10:15 p. m. Tuesday, committee members quickly spread the news over the campus to jubilant students.

Coed Dance Bids

Bids for the Woman's association dance to be held Friday night in the Tin Can are on sale in the women's dormitories and sorority houses. Men may buy bids through coeds for 50 cents.

HOEY, GRAHAM TO SPEAK IN WILSON

Will Attend Meet This Week

Governor Clyde R. Hoey and President Frank Graham are among the principal speakers to address the annual meeting of the North Carolina Commission on Interracial Cooperation in Wilson today and tomorrow.

Governor Hoey will speak this evening, and President Graham will talk on "Equalizing Educational Opportunities" tomorrow morning. The general theme is "a program to improve human relations."

Work

The commission has received praise for its work from many people, among

Faculty Discusses Comprehensives At General Meeting

Large Vote Favors Exams; Student-Faculty Day Not Mentioned

Comprehensives were the main topic of discussion at the faculty meeting yesterday afternoon.

At this meeting there was an overwhelming vote that the students continue taking comprehensives, and a committee was appointed to investigate the matter.

Student-Faculty day did not come up for discussion, but will probably come up at the next meeting.

Two Presidents

Above is seen University President Frank Graham shaking hands with Former Governor J. C. B. Ehringhaus who has just been elected president of the University General Alumni association.

EHRINGHAUS IS ELECTED HEAD OF ALUMNI GROUP

Former Governor Succeeds Stephens; Gray Re-elected

Former Governor J. C. B. Ehringhaus has just been elected president of the University General Alumni association, it was announced here by J. Maryon Saunders, general secretary, yesterday, who made known the results of balloting for officers.

Mr. Ehringhaus was the only nominee submitted for the office of president at the annual meeting of the association here March 25. He succeeds George Stephens, of Asheville.

Council Member

Similarly, Bowman Gray, Jr., of Winston-Salem, was the sole nominee to succeed himself as one of the three members of the Athletic council. His election for a three-year term became automatic.

Thomas C. Boushall of Richmond, Va., and Dr. Roy B. McKnight of Charlotte, were elected vice-presidents, winning their places over A. L. M. Wiggins, Hartsville, S. C., banker, and T. J. Pearsall, Rocky Mount attorney and business man. Mr. Boushall, a native of Raleigh, is president of the Morris Plan Bank of Virginia, and is regarded as a national figure in personal loan banking circles.

EVERETT POLLS MOST BALLOTS IN ELECTIONS

Manly Second In Number Of Votes Cast Yesterday

In yesterday's elections of president and vice president of 12 campus dormitories, Everett residents registered the heaviest balloting with a total of 94.

Bill Pearson defeated Bill Stauber and Tom McQuade for the presidency of Everett, while Alexander Ziady was chosen vice president over Mitchell Britt and Norman Genslen.

Manly was second in the number of votes polled with 85. Terry Stanford was elected president over Harvey Jonas. The vice presidency was won by Paul Kuklish, defeating Julius Hilfman and Winford Norman.

Steele

With 65 ballots cast, Steele elected C. J. Peacock president over Foyall Smith, Paul Blue and Ben Gunn. Tom Heath defeated Hassel Thigpen, Ed Megson and Herb Smith for vice president.

In Old East 64 votes were cast, tying the presidency between Claude Armfield and Wingate Upton and necessitating a run-off election. Also there was a very close run between Platt Davis and Kenneth Davis with a probable second ballot.

Grimes dormitory polled 60 votes, electing John Vincent president, over Hank Pessar and Albert Rosen. Clifford Pace received the vice presidency, defeating Ed Williamson and Howard Kiss.

Mangum

Frank Cox was elected president of Mangum, over Earnest Forest with a total vote of 56. Martin Harmon won over Frank Holeman and Mac Johnson for the vice presidency.

Joe Derrickson received the presidency of Old West, defeating Jack Hughes, Charles Putzel and Walter Bunch. John Morris won the vice presidency from Jenness Owen. The total vote was 42.

Sam Broadhurst won the presidency of Battle-Vance-Pettigrew over Nick DeFronzo with 39 votes cast. Beverly Faison defeated Walter Kleeman, Duke Conduff and Eugene Maynard for vice president. Also in this dormitory the question of wearing corsages was voted upon with a result of 20-0 against the custom.

Aycock

In Aycock, although figures were unavailable, it was learned that Clifton Craig was chosen president and Bob Conderman vice president, defeating, respectively, Victor Stearn and Bob Doty.

Preston Nesbitt was unanimously elected president of Ruffin dormitory Monday. Figures for the vice presidency could not be gotten last night.

Election results from Graham were also incomplete last night with the

Aycock Will Be Reserved Only For Frosh Next Year

Republican Club To Elect Heads

A business session of the Young Republican's club to elect officers for the coming year will be held this afternoon at 5 o'clock in the Grail room. All members and interested students are requested to be present.

Miss Frances Johnson, president of the club for the past year, says it is of vital importance that all interested in the club attend as its future on the campus is dependent on the officers chosen at today's meeting.

Drs. Wilson, Coker Spend Week At Meet

Drs. H. V. Wilson and R. E. Coker spent last week in Washington, D. C., in attendance of meetings of the National Research Council. Dr. Coker is chairman of the Division of Biology and Agriculture of the council and a member of its executive board.

Bradshaw, Spruill Originate New Rooming Plan

Next year Aycock dormitory will be occupied exclusively by freshmen, it was announced by T. H. Evans, general cashier of the University, yesterday.

"Every effort possible will be made to reserve this dormitory for first year men absolutely," said Evans. "However, there will probably be senior advisers as there are this year in Everett."

Tried This Year

This plan of collecting the freshmen together was tried this year in Everett, but due to a misunderstanding with Roy Armstrong of Pre-College Guidance, most freshmen wished to room elsewhere and the experiment was not a success.

However, the project as originated by Deans F. H. Bradshaw and C. P. Spruill and approved by the Student Welfare board will be followed again next year and, if found sufficiently worthwhile, will be carried out on a

Campus Candid Cameraman Catches Coeds, Celebrities

Frank Bowne Photographs Speakers, Students For School Publications

The famous opera singer, was heaving up and down an aria in Memorial Hall. She was the feature attraction of the Student Entertainment series and the audience was sitting in hushed attention. Suddenly from out of the wings darted a figure. He crept along the stage a few feet, then pointed a large object directly at the star. A blinding flash of light appeared. The audience, surprised, started in its seats, but after a moment relaxed. It was only Frank Bowne taking another picture.

Frank Bowne has been photographing students, celebrities, athletic events, and still-life for the various campus publications for a little over a year. He's already taken 5,000 pictures and used over a dozen different kinds of cameras.

Obliging

"Most people are very obliging about having their pictures taken. Tamara and Fowler practically begged me to photograph them and made me promise to send them the negatives in New York. I usually ask visiting speakers beforehand if they mind having the light flashed in their faces while they're on the platform. Tom Girdler is the only one that said yes. The only real gripe I've had, though, was from a foreman who wouldn't
