

Sadistic Seniors Swab Fumbling Faculty

The Queen

Miss Elizabeth Keeler of Clarksdale, Miss., prettiest senior coed, who will reign as May Queen over the third annual May Day program in the Arboretum Saturday.

THIRD ANNUAL MAY DAY FETE HERE SATURDAY

Begins At 3:30 In South Section Of Arboretum

Carolina's third annual May Day festival will be presented Saturday afternoon at 3:30 in the south section of the Arboretum, where there is room for several hundred people to watch the pageant.

Miss Elizabeth Keeler of Clarksdale, Miss., also recently chosen prettiest coed from the senior class, will reign over the festivities. Miss Virginia Lee of Lockport, N. Y., will be maid of honor, attending the queen with 10 other members of the court.

The pageant, which includes many colorful dances by coeds and the traditional maypole dance by town children, will be heralded by page boys Libby Spencer and Perdita Arnett. The whole program is being planned as an Elizabethan dance festival, this theme being carried out in the costuming and the pageantry.

Immediately following the coronation, there will be an informal reception in the arboretum for all attending the pageant. The reception is being arranged by Alpha Kappa Gamma, women's honorary fraternity.

J. M. Booker Elected President Of Local Philological Club

Professor Jente, Dr. Suskin, Dr. Weaver Also To Hold Offices

Professor J. M. Booker was elected president of the Philological club Tuesday night when the club met for the last time this year.

Other officers elected at the meeting were Professor R. Jente, vice-president; Dr. A. I. Suskin, secretary; and Dr. W. R. Weaver, treasurer.

G. A. Harrer presided over the meeting, and Professor George McKie presented a paper on "Some Notes on Acting."

The Philological club was founded in 1893 under Dr. Eben Alexander, professor of Greek and Latin here, and later United States minister to Greece.

SENIOR SADISTS MEET JUNIOR JITTERBUGS TODAY

Senior Midge Mullis is expected to pitch against Fran Gordon on the co-ed field this afternoon as the rampaging Senior Sadists take on the Junior Jitterbugs in their annual softball game at 4 o'clock as another feature of the senior week program.

Fresh from an overwhelming victory over the Faculty Red Sox, the Sadists expect to lick the Jitterbugs for their third intra-class athletic victory of the year.

According to Manager "Bull" James, "Our boys just couldn't error yesterday, and we should win easily today. If necessary, Andy Bershak will follow Pete Mullis on the mound."

Jittersbug Manager Jim Joyner could not be contacted last night.

The seniors will gather this evening in Hill Music hall at 9:30 for a gala songfest to be followed by a free movie.

McKee Returns For Visit To Tar Heel

Donald Kennedy McKee, Mac Smith's predecessor as editor of the DAILY TAR HEEL, has just returned from the last of his first year at Union Theological Seminary in New York City.

Don will leave Monday to spend the summer working in Tennessee, then return to New York for a year of graduate study in economics.

As an undergraduate here, McKee was noted as a "Buck Benny" style violinist, a nasal whistler of some notes, and a vigorous campaigner for student rights in education.

A Little Handful Of Swing

Red Norvo and Mildred Bailey, "Mr. and Mrs. Swing," who will play for the annual Junior-Seniors to get under way here tomorrow afternoon with a tea dance in the new gym. Dancers are reminded to observe the following rules of the University Dance committee: 1. Smoking in any part of the building except the cloak rooms and on the promenade around the roof of the pool will be prohibited; 2. The bringing of any alcoholic beverages into any University building is absolutely prohibited; 3. No food or soft drink concessions will be allowed inside the gym.

Male Students Disapprove Of Corsages; Women In Favor

If the 698 votes cast in yesterday's corsage poll conducted on the campus has any significance, few girls will be wearing flowers at the Junior-Senior set of dances tomorrow and Saturday.

Men students, 592 strong, voted against sending corsages to their dates at University dances while 106 males favored the flower custom.

Out of 89 coed ballots, 50 asserted they were in favor of their dates sending them flowers to wear at Carolina proms; 39 stated they were against their dates' sending them corsages.

In the Junior-Senior poll, arranged to determine interest in the Junior-Senior Lawn party to be held tomorrow evening in Kenan stadium from 6:30 to 8:30, 158 signified they plan to attend. Fifty said they wouldn't be there, three handed in "indefinite" votes, and one said "No, but I would like to."

IVEY PLANNING FINAL SPECTACLE

Program To Be Held Thursday, May 19

Graham Memorial's little corporal, Pete Ivey, secretly launched plans last week for the presentation of his last major entertainment spectacle of the year—an amateur program-community sing-guest artist affair to climax his two years as director of the Student Union. The date has been set for Thursday, May 19.

Ivey, in an interview yesterday afternoon, said that he was sending out calls for all discovered and undiscovered talent on the

Junior-Senior Bids

Today is the last chance for students to obtain their bids to the Junior-Senior dances this week-end. Bids will be available today in the YMCA from 9:30 until 2 o'clock.

BUSH TWINS PILE UP 15-8 VICTORY

Drug Stores Report All-Time High In Liniment Sales

The report of a softball game at Emerson field yesterday afternoon is greatly exaggerated.

It was murder, legalized murder and mayhem for the Sadistic Seniors over the Fumbling Faculty ten; the score, roughly figured in round numbers, was 15-8. Any resemblance to the actual count, whether living or dead, is purely accidental—and surprising.

The Bush twins formed the Senior battery and their curves were too much for the Faculty batters. The Profs tried to ape the Seniors by starting Miss Connie Burwell on the mound. She left at the end of the first inning, Floyd Siewert followed her in, and in the fourth in came Economic department's famed Rex Winslow.

The Seniors batted all three Faculty pitchers all around. Last night local drug stores reported that liniment sales had advanced to the highest point this year. The winners opened by scoring five runs in the first two innings. That failed to discourage the Profs, so the Seniors went ahead and tallied six times in the fifth, and four in the eighth.

The trouble with the faculty was that Phantom Phred Weaver, the coach, couldn't find the proper combination. He tried everybody who showed up for the game, but the Great Minds couldn't do any scoring until the Seniors were exhausted from

SOCIAL WORK STUDENTS MEET WITH GOERCH

Discuss Editorial Written Recently In "The State"

A group of graduate students in social work, disagreeing with Editor Carl Goerch of "The State" magazine on his attitude toward Federal relief, met with Goerch Tuesday night to discuss the merits of his April 16 editorial "Purging the Relief Rolls."

The purpose of the meeting was to prove to the editor that the people of this country must be provided for through some type of federal relief due to the inability of local welfare groups to care for their needy with local funds alone.

The social work group con-

Hal Gordon Dedicates Concert To Seniors

Hal Gordon has announced that the final "Music under the Stars" program will be given in Kenan stadium Sunday evening at 8:30.

This closing concert has been dedicated to the seniors and Gordon said today that it would be an "all request" program. He asked that requests be given to Miss Tempe Newsom in the YMCA office today, in order that all favorite numbers may be played.

Maestro

Barney Rapp, who, with his New Englanders, will furnish music for the Thursday night dance, inaugurating the German club's final set of dances for the year, June 2, 3 and 4.

BARNEY RAPP SIGNED TO OPEN FINAL DANCES

Will Play For Evening Dance On Thursday, June 2

Barney Rapp and his New Englanders have been signed by the German club to open the set of final dances presented by that organization on June 2, 3, and 4 in the new gymnasium.

Rapp will make one appearance only when he plays for the evening dance on Thursday, June 2.

Contrary to present rumors, Paul Whiteman and his orchestra will be on hand to present music for the two Friday dances. Arrangements have been made to allow his regular coast-to-coast broadcasts to originate from the floor of the new gymnasium.

Because of the network program which will be aired twice, once at 7:30 and again at 10:30 o'clock, Friday's afternoon dance will begin at 7 and last until 8:30 o'clock. As previously announced, Alumnus Hal Kemp and his orchestra will play for the Saturday dances.

Bids for the entire set are on sale today for $8. However, beginning tomorrow, the regular price of $9 will go into effect. A special initiation fee of $1 for those who are not members of

William Borders Elected Chairman Of ASU Local Chapter

Max Rhyne, Frieda Davis, Daniel Geller Elected To Other Offices

William Borders was elected general chairman of the local chapter of the American Student union when it met in Graham Memorial. The group elected Max Rhyne as vice-chairman, Frieda Davis as secretary and Daniel Geller as treasurer.

The purpose of the organization, as explained by Miss Davis, is: to promote peace, to further the causes of freedom and democracy in colleges, to insure the right of every student to attend college through Federal aid and to prevent discrimination against various minority groups. The union was the instigator of the recent Mann-Smith petition, a bill to prevent the electrocution of a young negro boy for crime.
