

There'll Be 12 Pretty Girls At Our School

These are the sponsors for the junior prom tonight. The list, with their escorts is Miss Boykin with John Moore, Miss Putney with Bill Cole, Miss McCachren with Bill McCachren, Miss Harrison with Henry Hudson, Miss Terry with Pete Williams, Miss Grubbs with Jim Joyner, Miss Burnt with John Larsen, Miss Jackson with Jim Balding, Miss Starr with Chuck Kline, Miss McClelland with Alan Truex, Miss Spencer with Voit Gilmore, and Miss McIntire with Billy Campbell.

Junior-Senior Dance Set Will Start Today In New Gym, Picnic To Be Held In Stadium

Norvo And Bailey Also To Play For Picnic at 6:30

Following the tea-dance this afternoon, Red Norvo, Mildred Bailey and their orchestra will furnish music for the junior-senior picnic in the west end of Student Body President Jim Joyner last night announced that all University faculty members are invited to attend this week-end's dances and today's lawn party. Pass books will not be necessary for admission. In case of rain, Joyner said, the lawn party will not be held. Junior dance bids will be issued for the last time in the YMCA at assembly period this morning, he added.

Kenan stadium from 6:30 to 8:30.

Senior dance committeeman, Bob Ray, announced last night that 400 lunches containing pick-

(Continued on last page)

Cooperation Urged For Dance Rules

Since the new gym is being used for dances for the first time this week-end, students are especially urged by the committee on use of the gym for dances to cooperate by abiding by the rules set up recently:

The rules are as follows:

1. Rules of the University Dance committee as previously published will continue to be effective.
2. Smoking in any part of the building except the cloak rooms and on the promenade around the roof of the pool will be prohibited.
3. The bringing of any alcoholic beverages into any University building is absolutely prohibited.
4. No food or soft drink concessions shall be allowed inside the gymnasium.

Festivities Will Start At 4 O'clock With Tea Dance

The tea dance this afternoon at 4 o'clock in the new gymnasium will be the beginning of the junior-senior festivities which will continue, with attendant house parties, hay rides, fraternity parties and other festivities, through the senior ball tomorrow night.

Red Norvo and Mildred Bailey and their orchestra are playing for the dances, which are the first to be held on the white maple floor of the new gymnasium.

Girls acting as sponsors for the Junior dance leaders in the figure tonight at the Junior prom will be: Miss Laura Boykin, Wilson with John Moore, Edenton; Miss Gertrude Putney, Guilford, Conn., with Bill Cole, Elk Hart, Ind., chairman of the Junior dance committee; Miss Betty McCachren, Charlotte; Miss Mary Ellen Harrison, Asheville, with Henry Hudson, Asheville, Junior student council representative; Miss Norma Terry, Columbia, S. C., with Pete Williams, Elizabeth City, secretary of the Junior class; Miss Frances Grubbs, Greensboro, with Jim Joyner, Goldsboro, president of the Junior class; Miss Bobby Burnt, Baltimore, with John Larsen, Charlotte; Miss Rachel Jackson, Tryon, with Jim

(Continued on last page)

Sick And Sorrowful

The following were confined to the infirmary yesterday: B. Watson, S. Blum, S. Alcabes, Rietta Bailey, L. Genell, B. Hunter, F. P. Smith, W. Seawell, Mary Mathews, M. Barringer. 8

Voit Gilmore Is Chosen Next Chairman Of Political Union

MARONIC'S HOMERS WIN FOR JUNIORS BY SCORE OF 6-3

Jitterbugs Are Victorious In Annual Classic

Steve Maronic slammed two home runs yesterday afternoon, batting in all the Junior tallies, as the Jitterbugs licked the Senior Sadists 6-3 in their annual senior week classic.

Maronic's big bat broke up an otherwise tight pitching battle between Pete Mullis and Fran Gordon. The Juniors out hit the Sadists 8 to 6.

The Juniors struck in the first inning. After Jimmy Peacock had grounded out to first baseman Woody Bass, third-baseman Lester got the first of his three singles. Brame followed with another and Maronic slammed a long drive to deep center to send the Jitterbugs ahead 3-0.

Lester Singles

Again in the seventh, Lester led off with a single. Brame got an infield hit, and this time Maronic drove one out the left field foul line.

The Seniors scored first in the sixth. Andy Bershak was safe on a fielder's choice, stole second, and scored on a clean double by F. J. Blythe.

In the sixth, the Seniors tied it up. Singles by Katz and Eh-ringhaus, who had replaced Bass, and Joe Murnick's sacrifice scored two runs as Catcher Brame failed to catch Peacock's throw from first.

After the game, the Jitterbugs voted to give the gold baseball watch charm to Steve Maronic, and the Sadists selected F. J. Blythe, who led the hitting for the Seniors, gathering two for three, one a double.

GREEN, VANCE ARE FAIR SPEAKERS

Russell, Spearman, Ackers Also Attend

Paul Green of the department of dramatic art and Dr. Rupert Vance of the sociology department were among the principal speakers at the four-day Charlotte Carolinas Book Fair last week. The fair was the first of its type ever held in the South.

All authors of the Carolinas were the honor guests and were especially invited. Other authors of national reputation were present. Eugene Armfield, native of North Carolina and at present a member of the staff of the Publisher's Weekly of New York, attended the fair in its entirety. Phillip Russell and Walter Spearman of the department of journalism along with Miss Susan G. Akers of the school of library science were among those attending from the University.

The program director for the fair was W. T. Couch, director of the University press.

Approximately 40 booths displaying the works of nationally known publishers, local authors, rare books and manuscripts, and various displays in the general field of printing and bookmaking, were open for public inspection.

New CPU Head

Voit Gilmore, University Junior and two-year member of the CPU who was elected chairman of that group yesterday.

ROMANTIC PLAY BY DUMAS TO BE GIVEN MONDAY

Production To Be Under Direction Of W. D. Creech

Flashing swords will recall the shades of Alexandre Dumas to the Playmaker theater Monday evening when the French club presents La Tour de Nesle, one of the most romantic and action-filled of all French plays.

To be directed by W. D. Creech, Jr. of the French department, the cast is headed by Margaret Holmes, well known here for her dramatic readings, who plays the role of the voluptuous Queen Marguerite de Bourgogne opposite Dr. Urban T. Holmes as the daring soldier of fortune, Buridan, who defied her. This is the first time Dr. and Mrs. Holmes have appeared together since 1924 at the University of Missouri.

Scenery

Very elaborate scenery has been designed by Mr. Creech and executed by Fred Meyer in traditional Gothic style. Special costumes and music will add to

(Continued on last page)

VOTE YESTERDAY PICKS HEAD FOR COMING YEAR

University Junior Defeats Hobbs, To Succeed Heard

Voit Gilmore, University junior from Winston-Salem, yesterday was elected chairman of the Carolina Political union for next year.

Gilmore, who defeated Sam Hobbs of Selma, Alabama, succeeds Alex Heard who has held the position since last spring.

The other Political union officers, vice-chairman, secretary, and treasurer will be elected at a special meeting Monday afternoon.

Heard Says

Following the election yesterday afternoon Heard made the following statement: "I have complete confidence in Voit's ability to work with the union toward a much more successful and valuable program next year. This has been clearly shown by his past record. I am sure the whole Political union feels as I do in this matter."

Gilmore has been a member of the union for two years. In the spring of last year he was nominated for chairman, but lost

(Continued on page two)

BID IS APPROVED FOR MED BUILDING

Loftis Company To Construct Plant

The University Trustees' building committee has approved the general contract of V. P. Loftis company of Charlotte, for $232,203 for the construction of the new medical building to be begun here soon.

The new $400,000 building is a joint project of the state and the PWA, and is scheduled for completion in early March.

Other contracts approved for the modern four-story structure are:

Electrical contract: Mill and Marine Electric Co., Durham, (Continued on last page)

Here Today, Gone Tomorrow, That's Ellis, Modern Ulysses

Curio Man

Joseph Ellis, Bagdad-born American who has been exhibiting his treasures and curios in Graham Memorial this week.

Duke Graduate Has Spent Week Here Exhibiting Curios From The East

By DEWITT BARNETT

Today he is down in the lounge of Graham Memorial exhibiting and selling a few of his treasures collected from Java, Bali, Singapore and other far corners of the world. Tomorrow he'll be gone.

Joseph Ellis is a swarthy American, a modern Ulysses, who "cannot rest from travel," has already "drunk life to the lees," but is thirsty for more.

He was born, a Persian, in Bagdad. When knee-high to a horse, he rode his father's Arabian steeds and has been globe-trotting ever since.

Citizen

When his father went to Java to raise rubber trees, sell spices and make a lot of money, young

(Continued on page two)

Worry, Worry, It's Friday 13, Even The Moon Will Hide

Eclipse Threatens Festivity Of Dance But Time Is Set For 2 A. M.

By ROBERT BERBERT

A despondent figure was seen walking across the campus yesterday. Joe Patterson is chairman of the junior-senior dance committee, and he had just heard that there is to be a total eclipse of the moon tonight, the first night of the dances, when a moon is particularly desirable.

Tearing his hair, the genial

(Continued on page two)

Cooperation, Please!

The junior-senior dance committee urges all juniors and seniors to cooperate with the movement started by the University dance committee and endorsed by the Grail, the junior-senior committee, and various other organizations, and not send corsages this week-end. Cooperation of all concerned is necessary to insure success of the movement.