

OXFORD BOY WINS H. W. JACKSON SCHOLARSHIP

Nelson F. Taylor Wins $2,000 Four- Year Award Here

Nelson Ferebee Taylor of the Oxford high school was yesterday announced as the winner of the Herbert Worth Jackson scholarship by the Committee of Final Selection.

The scholarship carries an annual stipend of $500 for a period of four years, making a total of $2,000 as the value of the award.

Nominations were made from 173 schools. The credentials of each nominee, his written application, and other factual data were considered by a large committee and from this number 20 were selected to be personally interviewed by the final selection committee at Chapel Hill on May 14.

The committee consisted of D. D. Carroll, chairman of the University faculty committee on scholarships, Mr. Charles G. Rose, Fayetteville, N. C., president of the North Carolina Bar, Inc., and Mr. Samuel S. Jackson and Mr. Herbert W. Jackson, Jr., sons of the late Herbert Worth Jackson in whose memory the scholarship was established.

Advisees

E. C. Markham requests that his freshman and sophomore advisees come to him before the examination period for the purpose of discussing the program of study for next year.

Students Given Chance To Go On Expedition

Two From University To Be Chosen For Trip This Summer To Navajo Country

Two men from the University who may be students or instructors interested in engineering, archaeology, geology, biology or management of a scientific expedition, may participate in an expedition to the northern Navajo country of Arizona and Utah this summer, it was announced recently by Dr. Charles Del Norte Winning, Field Director of the Rainbow Bridge-Monument Valley expedition.

The expedition is to explore, map, and study an area of some 2000 square miles accessible only by pack train. A base camp will be established from which scouting parties will go on afoot.

Operating under a board of trustees, the expedition is a cooperative project, each man sharing in the work and field expenses. Dr. Winning will

May 25 Deadline For Room Reservations

Students residing in dormitories who wish to reserve for next year the rooms they are now occupying must notify Cashier T. H. Evans in South building before May 25, it has been announced.

According to an announcement issued by the business office, all dormitory rooms not reserved by present occupants by May 25 will be thrown open after that date.

Residents Of Mangum Become Unwilling Owners Of Kittens

Dormitory Cat Gives Birth To Four Small Cats Over Week-End

Sunday morning, as Jick Garland and Wiley Mackie, Mangum dormitory residents, were hanging up their tuxedos, they were greeted by rancorous "meow" from a dark corner of the closet.

Pussy, the Mangum cat, had given birth to four kittens. While the boys were frolicking to Red Norvo's music, some bright reveler had put the cat in the closet.

On Saturday evening, the cat was last seen on the third floor about 10 o'clock, having been brought up by two practical jokers.

The ad on the Mangum bulletin board reads "Kittens (4) for sale cheap. Call at 103."

NATIONAL SCIENCE GROUP WILL CONVENE OCT. 23

Several Functions Planned For Guests By Local Committee

The National Academy of Sciences will hold its regular fall meeting October 23 to 26 in Chapel Hill.

The National Academy has a limited membership, made up of the most distinguished American scientists among its 300 leaders in all divisions of the physical and natural sciences. Headquarters of the meeting will be the Carolina inn.

The University will entertain members of the Academy at a dinner. The Elisha Mitchell Scientific society will give a luncheon during the meeting. Duke university will cooperate by giving a complimentary luncheon on Tuesday, October 25.

The local committee on arrangements includes: H. V. Wilson, honorary chairman, R. E. Coker, chairman; W. E. Coker, J. F. Dashiell, R. M. Grumman, Archibald Henderson, W. deB. MacNider, Edward Mack, W. F. Prouty, Arthur Ruark, and F. E. Wright, home secretary of the Academy.

Professor H. V. Wilson of the University zoology department became a member of the Academy in 1927. Dr. W. deB. MacNider of the University medical school was made a member at the recent annual meeting.

Sam Selden Is Fifth Local Prof To Win Coveted Prize

Gugenheim Foundation Makes From 30 to 80 Grants Each Year For Outstanding Work

Professor Sam Selden of the Drama department, recently awarded a Gugenheim fellowship, was the fifth member of the University's present faculty to receive one of the coveted awards since the Foundation's inception 13 years ago.

The John Simon Gugenheim Memorial foundation, established in 1925, makes from 30 to 80 grants each year to men and women who have done exceptionally outstanding work in their respective fields, and who submit projects on some phase for intensive

GOOD ATTENDANCE REPORTED FOR ALUMNAE REUNION

75 Alumnae, 40 Coeds Attend Second Annual Meeting

Approximately 75 alumnae and 40 coeds attended the second annual reunion of women graduates of the University held here Saturday. The meeting was sponsored by the local chapter of Alpha Kappa Gamma, and consisted of a luncheon, a general meeting, and a tour of the new campus buildings.

Dean Robert House was the main speaker at the luncheon, and Mrs. Ernest Cruikshank, class of 1904 and present principal of Saint Mary's junior college in Raleigh, was toastmistress.

Mr. J. Maryon "Spike" Saunders in a short talk told the assembled graduates that they were officially an integral part of the general Alumni association, according to its by-laws, and that they enjoy the privileges and duties involved in membership.

Mrs. Saunders, as secretary of the group, was elected to serve with Alpha Kappa Gamma and the Woman's association in planning next year's meeting, which will be held again in the spring in connection with May Day, which is also sponsored by Alpha Kappa Gamma.

Among outstanding returning alumnae were Louise Davis, last year's Alpha Kappa Gamma officer, and Mrs. Jane Ross Hammer, 1936 Woman's association head, and Jane Jolley, the association's president in 1934.

27 University Men Accepted By Medical School

15 More Second-Year Men Enrolled In Various Other Universities

Enrollment in the first year medical school class for next year has been completed, and transfer arrangements for 27 second year students have already been made, it was announced from the office of the dean of the Medical school recently.

In accordance with its policy of giving preference to students from this state, the Admissions committee has accepted 27 pre-medical students from this University. Other institutions represented in the new class are:

(Continued on page two)

Senior Sadists To Play Duke Club On Coed Field Today

All American Andy To Pitch For Seniors; Game Begins 4:15

All-American Andy Bershak is expected to pitch for the Senior Sadists this afternoon as they take on the senior class from Duke in a softball game on the co-ed field at 4:15.

Joe Patterson's challenge to Bill Earngey, president of the Duke seniors, was accepted last week, and today's game is a fore-runner to the varsity series, which begins tomorrow.

Intramural director Herman Schnell has charge of details, and Sadist manager Bull James asks the team to report as quickly as possible.

"We'll win," James said terday. 13

'MERRY WIVES' TO BE GIVEN SOON IN FOREST THEATER

Shakespearean Comedy Offered Here Next Week-End

"The Merry Wives of Windsor," a lusty Shakespearean comedy, will be given by the Playmakers Friday, Saturday and Monday nights in the Forest theater as the twentieth annual outdoor production.

As is his usual custom, Dr. Frederick H. Koch, Kenan Professor of Dramatic Literature, will direct this event participated in by the department of Drama, Music, and Art. Professor Howard Bailey assists him and Professor Harry Davis is in charge of scenery and lights with his aide, graduate student Fred Howard.

The leading role of Sir John Falstaff, England's favorite comic character, will be played by Bob Nachtmann, Missouri's contribution to the Playmakers. Nachtmann is well known for his dramatic ability and has appeared in many productions both local and in other circles. Clad in a well padded torso, Nachtmann will follow the amorous adventures of this rowdy soldier-knight as he clumsily woos Mistresses Page and Ford, the merry wives, portrayed by Annetta Burnette and Katherine Moran.

A group of Old English dances directed by Mrs. Ora Mae Davis and Lynn Gault will be featured in the program. A group of 25, from the cast and Mrs. Davis's dancing classes, will perform just before and after the play proper with one appearance in the last act. The dance during the play is an original creation by Mrs. Davis; the other two are authentic Old English folk dances, directed by Mr. Gault, an authority in this field.

Music for the "Merry Wives of Windsor" is under the direction of Dr. J. P. Schinhan of the mu-

(Continued on page two)

Council Names Wales To Dance Committee

Charles "Puddin'" Wales was chosen representative of the Interdormitory council to the University Dance committee, it was announced recently by Tom Fry, president of the council. He was chosen by the dance committee over Tom Fry and John Singletary, other nominees of the council. 7

Plans Released For 143rd Commencement Program Here

Actor

Robert Nachtmann, senior, who will take part in his last Playmaker production next week-end when he plays the role of Falstaff in "Merry Wives of Windsor" in the Forest theater.

New Exhibition Of Manuscripts Now On Display

Is Part Of Hanes Collection On The History Of Books, Now In Library

An exhibition of early manuscripts from the Hanes collection on the history of books is now on view in the four display cases in the main hall of the University library. Illuminations and hand printed documents from 1200 to 1500 as well as manuscripts from the sixteenth to the eighteenth century are included.

The most recent addition to the collection is a Persian illuminated Koran dated A. H. 1212, which is displayed in the end case. An early Armenian manuscript, a fifteenth century Horace for English use, Cicero in a vellum wrapper made of a Spanish deed, Saint Gregory Dialogs of the thirteenth century, once chained in a library, and "Liber de Arbore Vitali" which was written in Italy in 1300 and is bound with the original wooden boards are other interesting exhibits in this case.

Among those in the second case are a fifteenth century church music sheet on parchment.

(Continued on last page)

English Classical Play To Be Given In High School Tonight

"She Stoops To Conquer" To Be Presented By Senior Class At 8:30

"She Stoops to Conquer" will be presented tonight at 8:30 by the high school Senior class in the Chapel Hill high school auditorium.

Mr. Preston Farrar, head of the high school English department is the director. Mrs. Farrar is in charge of the costumes.

This is the first time in the history of the school that a classical play has been produced. Admission is 35 cents.

Phi Picnic

Phi members may sign up for the picnic tomorrow morning at 10:30 in the YMCA. Committee members Ed Maner, Billy Broadfoot, and Claire Whitmore will be there to accept tariff of 25 cents.

Dr. W. T. Thompson To Give Baccalaureate Sermon, June 5

The 143rd commencement of the University will be held Sunday, Monday and Tuesday, June 5, 6, 7, according to a tentatively scheduled program recently announced.

The baccalaureate sermon, to be preached by Dr. W. Taliaferro Thompson of Union Theological Seminary, Richmond, Va., will open exercises in Memorial hall on Sunday morning, June 5, at 11 o'clock.

Sunday afternoon there will be a concert under Davie Poplar by the University band under the direction of Prof. Earl A. Sloeum. It will be followed by a student exhibition of paintings in Person Hall Art gallery and a gallery talk by Prof. Russell T. Smith, head of the Art department.

At 6:30 o'clock there will be a concert on the Morehead-Patterson Memorial chimes.

The Chapel Hill Choral club, under the direction of Prof. John E. Toms, will present Verdi's "Requiem" in Hill Music hall at 8:30 o'clock.

Monday, June 6, will be Class Day and Parents' Day and a number of luncheons, alumni gatherings, and entertainments are being arranged.

At 10 o'clock Senior prayers will be held in the Playmakers building, and at 11 o'clock faculty members will give a reception for the graduates and their guests under Davie Poplar.

(Continued on last page)

Profs Will Teach At Other Schools During Summer

Drs. Jocher, Vance, and Johnson Will Instruct Social Science Courses

Dr. Katherine Jocher, Rupert B. Vance and Guy B. Johnson of the University Institute for Research in Social Science will be visiting professors at the State college of Washington, Louisiana State university, Y. M. C. A. college at Blue Ridge and the University during the summer sessions.

Dr. Jocher will be at the State College of Washington for an eight week's term teaching courses in social casework, social work administration and child welfare.

During the first session at the University Dr. Vance will be connected with the department of

(Continued on page two)

May Day Rained Out; To Be Held Saturday

If it doesn't rain, we may have May Day, maybe.

As was predicted by campus gloomers all last week, it fogged up and poured just at the crucial point Saturday and swamped all of AKG's elaborate plans for their "Elizabethan dance festival," which was to be held in the aboretum.

However, Nancy Schallert announced that the program will take place in the appointed spot this Saturday at 4 o'clock, with the same costumes, same dancers, same girls, queen and everything.

If it doesn't rain.