

Andy Bershak Receives Patterson Medal

FOX MOVIE TONE TO TAKE MASS BOXING PICTURES

Cameraman To 'Shoot' Boxers At Kenan Today

By SHELLEY ROLFE

M. D. Cooke, Fox Movietone cameraman who has been grinding away at celebrities for 20 years was in Chapel Hill yesterday.

Cooke will be on the Hill today ready to go to work. This afternoon at 2 o'clock in Kenan stadium, Cooke will be on hand to point his camera at a mass boxing drill put on by Coach Mike Ronman and his fistie pupils.

Rained Out

"Rain or shine, we'll snap your boxers," said Cook. His journey here yesterday was to make the pictures, but rain washed out the filming. A special weather observation from the Raleigh weather bureau indicated that it would be clear and sunny this afternoon.

Cooke has been in North Carolina a week in the tow of J. C. Baskerville of the State department of Advertising of the Department of Conservation. Fast talking and chockful of information, Baskerville took command of the situation at an interview in a local ice cream establishment, and did most of Cooke's talking.

Covers Southeast

Cooke is from Virginia, he covers the Southeast for Fox. During his 20 years as a news cameraman he has worked with most of the big companies, covering all types of events, sports and news.

He has been in North Carolina a week. Last Friday he took pictures of the girl's kite-flying contest at Lee-McRae college in Banner Elk. Today's shots will be the only one's he will make at any big college in the state.

His plans for the afternoon will include having a mass display of boxing put on by as many boys as can be rounded up, some bag punching, shadow boxing, and close up shots of varsity

(Continued on page two)

To Tie Knot

Miss Mary Taylor Hinnant, Carolina coed, and David W. Mosier, Carolina student, who will march down the aisle early in September, according to a recent announcement. The marriage will take place in Beaufort.

Miss Hinnant To Marry David Mosier

Popular Couple To Wed In September At Episcopal Church Of Beaufort

Miss Mary Taylor Hinnant, one of the loveliest Carolina coeds, will be married early in September to David W. Mosier, graduate student, it was announced recently.

The wedding ceremony will take place in the Episcopal church of Beaufort, the bride-to-be's home town. No definite date has been set, but the pair intend to honeymoon in the South Seas. Miss Hinnant announced that she is not certain whether or not she will return to school next year, since her future plans are indefinite.

Miss Hinnant attended St. Mary's school in Raleigh for two years and entered the University this year as a junior. She is a member of Pi Beta Phi sorority, served as an attendant in the May Day court, and was elected recently by the campus to be

(Continued on last page)

KENAN AWARDS GIVEN TO KUHN AND MICHAELIS

Fellowships Are Also Announced In Many Fields

Anna Liese Michaelis and Helmut Kuhn, both holding Ph.D. degrees from European universities, have received the Graham Kenan fellowships in philosophy, it was announced yesterday by W. W. Pierson, dean of the graduate school.

Twenty-eight other fellowships in 17 departments were also announced. In botany, Hiden Toy Cox, Furman University, was named. For chemistry: Warren Frederick Bartz, Iowa State college; Harvey Adolphus Bernhardt, Catawba college; and Samuel Friend Clark, West Virginia university.

Classics, Economics

James Collier Stewart, University of Mississippi, received the fellowship in the classics. In economics and commerce: Carey Carter Thompson, University of Texas, and John Sears Pierson Canterbury, Ohio Northern university. For education: William T. Gruhn, South Dakota Northern Normal school and the University of Minnesota.

English fellowships were awarded to: Nathaniel Harding Henry, University of North Carolina; Frederick Sheetz, Brown university; and William Bryce Sallis Wilburn, University of Mississippi. For geology: William Ray Johnson, University of North Carolina.

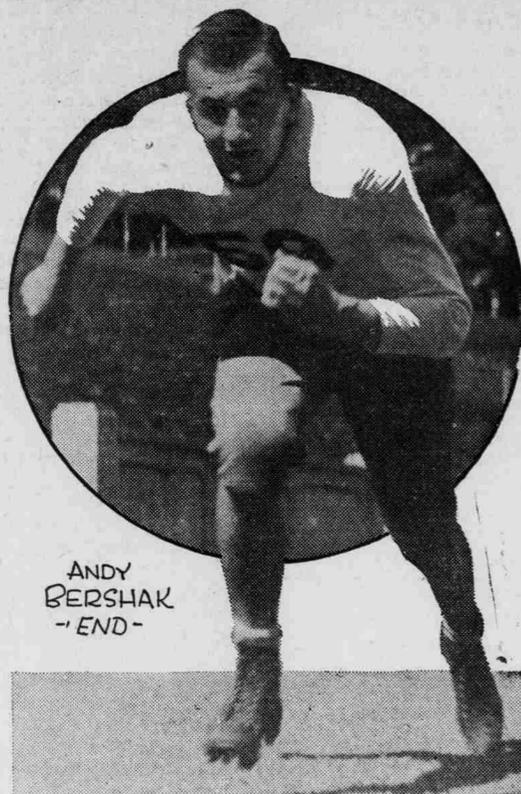

German, History

John Ellis Craps, Universities of South Carolina and Vermont, received the fellowship in German. Fellowships in European history were given to Alexander Hamilton McLeod, Jr., University of North Carolina, and in American history to James Warren Rabun, Mercer University and University of North Carolina; and Sidney Walter Martin, Furman University and the University of Georgia.

Fellowships in mathematics were awarded to Charles Louis Seebeck, Jr., College of Charles-

(Continued on last page)

Outstanding Leader Honored

Andrew A. Bershak of Clairton, Pa., who last night was presented with the Patterson medal for outstanding achievement at Carolina. The recipient of the award is judged on five points: athletic ability, morale, leadership, sportsmanship, and general excellence.

Mackie Opposes Resolution To Abolish Celebration Of Student-Faculty Day

Thomas To Speak At Phi Beta Induction

Dr. George F. Thomas of the University sociology department will be the principal speaker at the initiation ceremonies of Phi Beta Kappa, national honorary fraternity, tonight in the student union.

All members of the fraternity are asked to attend the meeting as copies of the new by-laws will be distributed, according to president Lawrence Hinkle. 10

Blames Faculty Primarily For Failure Of Fete

"Most of the faculty think it's a waste of time," Math Professor E. L. Mackie, member of the faculty committee on Student-Faculty day, stated yesterday while discussing the possibility that the holiday might be abolished.

"Not a great number of the faculty have cooperated," Dr.

(Continued on last page)

GRAIL AWARDS PRESENTED TO BEST ATHLETES

Interfraternity Council Gives Yearly Prizes

By BILL SNIDER

Andrew A. Bershak, Carolina's All-American senior, was awarded the annual Patterson medal for excellence in athletics last night when the yearly awards night ceremonies were conducted at Hill Music hall.

The medal, which is donated by Dr. Joseph Patterson in memory of his brother, is presented to the University senior ranking highest with regard to the following 5 points: athletic ability, morale, leadership, sportsmanship, and general excellence. Bershak, who comes from Clairton, Pa., has shown himself more than qualified to receive the annual award during the four years he has attended Carolina. In addition to winning several freshman numerals, he has received three monograms in both football and basketball. Maintaining throughout his college career an average of C plus, Bershak is a member of the Grail and the Golden Fleece and also served as vice-president of the Athletic association.

Grail Awards

Numerous other awards were presented last night including the Grail awards for merit in extra-curricula activities. These went to: Pete Mullis for bas-

(Continued on last page)

Soph Philosophy Courses To Be Combined In Fall

21-22-23 and 24-25-26 Will Become 21-22-23, New Courses To Be Offered

The sophomore philosophy courses, 21-22-23 and 24-25-26, will be telescoped next fall into one course to be known simply as 21-22-23, Dr. Stephen Emory of the Philosophy department recently announced. 21 will deal with logic, 22 with metaphysics, and 23 with ethics. Students may enter the course any quarter and take it in any sequence. 21 and 22 will each be given in the fall and winter quarters, 23 only in

(Continued on page two)

'Revenooers' After Pete Mullis For Back Income Tax

"Little Poison" Has 10 Days To Cough Up Or Appear In Court And Explain Why

"Little Poison" Pete Mullis, he of the basketball fame, is about to be poisoned—and his friends are plenty worried.

It seems that the state department of revenue has Pete charged up with an unpaid income tax, and Commissioner A. J. Maxwell, in a notice of delinquency, has given him 10 days in which to pay up or appear in court and explain why the state should not have its pound of flesh.

The notice was signed by Thomas W. Alexander, Jr., former University athlete, for Commissioner Maxwell.

Sloan Issues Report Of Chapel Hill's 3-Man Squad

226 Arrests Made By Police Force Since Beginning Of Year

By D. J. JACOBSON

In spite of the fact that Chapel Hill is a small town and its populace is composed mostly of students, it is in possession of a well equipped and vigilant police force.

So far this year the Hill's three policemen have tracked down 226 law breakers, according to a report recently issued by Chief Sloan.

During the month of April there were 84 arrests, which comprises 37% of the total apprehensions for the year.

Drunks

The Month of April also saw a new peak for drunks arrested. Twenty-eight people were charged with intoxication. Of these, seven were found to be operating automobiles while drunk.

(Continued on last page)

Caps And Gowns

For the following events in the commencement program the senior class will appear as a unit. Every member of the class is expected to be present and in cap and gown: Baccalaureate sermon: Sunday, June 5, Memorial hall, 11 o'clock.

Graduating exercises: Tuesday, June 7, Kenan stadium, 6:30.

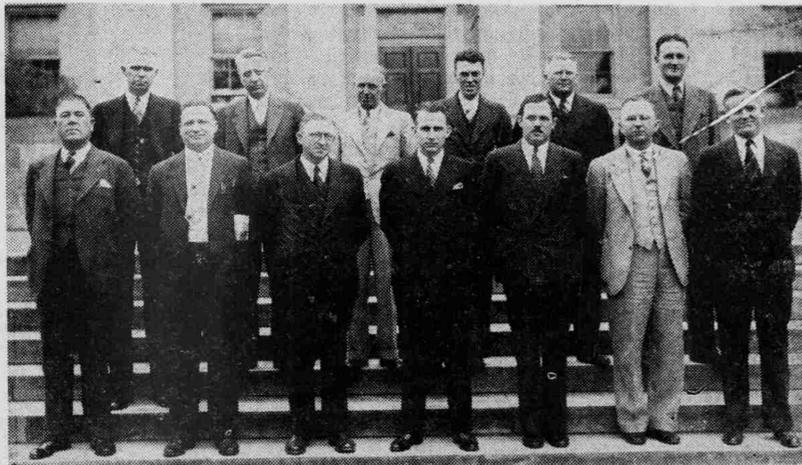

Invitations

Today is the last day to get commencement invitations.

There are at present 11 extra cardboard and 60 Dutch fold invitations which will be available in the YMCA lobby from 10:30 to 11 o'clock.

Calling cards may also be obtained at the same time.

Plan Real Estate Institute Here In June

Here is a group of North Carolina real estate men who gathered here recently to complete plans for a Real Estate Institute to be held on the campus July 26, 27, 28, under the auspices of the Extension Division in cooperation with the North Carolina Association of Real Estate Boards and the North Carolina Real Estate Commission.

Back row, left to right: F. L. Terry, R. P. Booth, P. M. Sherrill, Meldon Holjes, H. V. Koonts, and H. K. Ogburn.

Front row: Dan W. Terry, O. A. Johnson, C. E. Phillips, Ed Mendenhall, W. F. Shaffner, Jr., Herman H. Davis, and Tommie Howard.