Duke Beats Gobblers

In the second period, encouraged by De Muro's booming punts, the Gobbler line stiffened and held solidly while gaining ground to the Duke 15-yard line. The scoring threat ended with the half time whistle.

O'Mara was again the spearhead of the Duke attack as in the third quarter, he raced 54 yards for a score. Duke failed to convert. Threatening, VPI on Duke's 10 after Oliver blocked and recovered an attempted punt by Tipton. etc. . . .

Sun-Tan Weather Marks Opener

Whether the Governor is on hand or not, his entire State Highway patrol seems to be . . . And the Carrboro colored section has turned out en masse, cheering like any loyal Tar Heels . . .

'()Jndu kmdpe hfj . . . the breaks are against us today . . . A luck game for the Deacs in some respects . . . And so on into the afternoon . . .

Half-time formalities come and go, the fight goes on . . .

Shadows lengthen, the crowd lines the field and top of the stadium, and Wake Forest faces also lengthen and line . . . After scares galore, we settle back, satisfied . . . Y' know, this pre-game prediction stuff is the bunk . . .

Bell tower marks time to the tune of 14-6 . . . It's 4:30 . . . Aw, let's go home.

Print To Fit

(Continued from page three) sophomores now helped to rectify the error some yesterday. They will continue doing more of the same as the year rolls on.

Everywhere you went last night, you heard people asking how the Carolina team would finally turn out this year. It's too early in the year to go around making predictions on the final outcome. But as far as this observer can see things, the team yesterday looked much better than it did last year in the first game which was that 13-13 South Carolina tie. And last year the boys ended up as Southern conference champions.

Perhaps it would be best to wait on the matter until the returns are in from State college next Saturday. The Wolfpack have an experienced, able ball club.

Most amazing, but not a drunk was noted during the entire game. It can't be that everybody has decided to reform all at once . . . Tony Cernugel's knee, which has become more famous than those of a chorus girl, seemed to bear up yesterday . . . Tony butted the Wake Forest line and in turn was butted . . . But he managed to get up every time . . . And carry on . . . Something a lot of folks said he never would do again after he was hurt a second time in winter practice two years ago.

Wolfpack Wins

Old Sol, Sophs Shine

Deacon Stars

The game was close all the way through. Carolina held the statistical edge, making 14 first downs to six for the Deacons, and gaining 220 yards to 47. But those sophomores on Wake Forest were in there fighting every minute of the way not giving quarter. Time and time again, the educated toe of Red Mayberry kept the Tar Heels away from the goal line when they seemed on their way to scoring. He had an average of 41.5 yards a kick, and was hard to stop when he ran with the ball. Gallovich and Wirtz were hard to stop. Gallovich twisted and turned his way up and down the field, whenever he carried the ball and gave promise of developing into as fine a running back as you will find in the conference this year.

A Carolina scoring march was wiped away in the first half when two successive 15 yard penalties set the Blue and White back when they seemed on their way. Early in the third quarter runs by Lalanne and Kraynick moved the ball to the Deacon 34 yard line. Sweet Jim passed down to George Radman on the 17. Jim made three yards off left tackle. A pass into the end zone aimed squarely at Jim Mallory was too long, and two throws for George Watson fell short, and Wake Forest took the ball over on its own 13.

Community Chorus To Hold Rehearsal Tomorrow Night

University-Sponsored Singing Group To Begin Fall Practices in Hill Hall

The University-sponsored community chorus begins its fall practices tomorrow evening in Hill music hall, according to an announcement made yesterday by Dr. Sherman E. Smith, chairman of the chorus' executive committee.

"The chorus is made up of students, townspeople, faculty, and anyone who wishes to sing," Dr. Smith announced. "There are no dues, and members are furnished music and a director, Mr. John E. Toms, by the University."

This fall the chorus will sing parts three and four of "The Seasons," by Hadyn, and the first public performance will be December 4.

The chorus numbers from 75 to 80 members, and rehearsals are held each Monday evening.

Last spring, the chorus sang Verdi's "Requiem" as a part of the commencement program.

Rushing Season Opens Today

Rushees are reminded that they must visit today each fraternity from which they receive bids.

"No fraternity man will be allowed to pay for any entertainment of freshmen in or out of Chapel Hill. There shall be no rushing on the way to, at, or returning from athletic events, are by-laws 5 and 6 of the official rushing rules of the Interfraternity council.

Cooperation Necessary

By-law 12 states that, "In order that this system may prove a success, the cooperation of every fraternity man and freshman is essential. It shall be the duty of every member of the Interfraternity council to see that all members of his chapter are properly informed concerning this system, and that they obey in spirit as well as in letter."

The code of ethics adopted by the council in its meeting Thursday is printed elsewhere in this paper. This is a voluntary obligation of the fraternities and they should be considered all the more despicable for disobeying its spirit.
