First 'Greater University Day' To Be In Conjunction With Carolina-State Game Saturday

All Raleigh To Be Decorated In Honor Of Gala Celebration

On Saturday in celebration of first annual "Greater University Day," State college and all Raleigh will be decorated as hosts to the three units of University of North Carolina on the occasion of State homecoming game with Carolina.

Fraternalities and dormitories will compete for prizes given for best and most original decorations. They will carry out themes suggested by the game and the particular celebration of the union of the University.

Letter Of Invitation

In particular the DAILY TAR HEEL received a letter from Arnold Krochmal, first floor president of Watauga Hall, inviting Chapel Hill students to attend an open-house given by the residents of the floor for visitors on the campus. The dormitory will be open from 11 o'clock in the morning until game time and for an hour after the game.

In his letter, Krochmal said, "Our dormitory is the oldest on the campus and the richest in tradition. We are among the leaders in the number of campus celebrities living here at the present, and in the number who have lived here formerly."

Streets and downtown shops of Raleigh, through the cooperation of the Junior Chamber of Commerce and the Raleigh merchants association, will be decked out with Red and White colors of State and Blue and White of Carolina.

Twelve sponsors and their escorts are being chosen at each school as well as the sponsors selected by the football teams. A special train will bring the Greensboro students to Raleigh, and Carolina men are expected to go en masse.

A recommendation by the council to the administration is to the effect that dormitory telephone facilities be improved including the placing of private booths.

Although the council sympathizes with the present three-in-a-room dormitory situation they will on the contrary be opposed to the arrangement when the situation is relieved.

Memorial Board Of Directors Holds Meeting

Group Appoints Committees To Study Problems Confronting Union

The Board of Directors of Graham Memorial, composed of leaders of the various student organizations on the campus, appointed committees to conduct the problems now confronting the board, at a meeting Monday.

John Moore and H. F. Comer were appointed as a committee to dispose of room space. Rooms 219 and 210 have been vacated by the removal of the Athletic association to Woollen gym. Bob Magill, in his capacity as director of Graham Memorial, is a member of this as well as other committees.

There has as yet been no budget arranged. Marion Saunders and Puddin' Wales have been assigned to draw one up and, in the meantime, it has been agreed to work on last year's. The salary of the manager of the grill has been decided upon.

Grail Room

No rooms will be available for non-university purposes. The Grail room will be used this quarter for Philipps Russell's class in creative writing. No class will be permitted to use the room for class work after the fall quarter.

A committee, including Skipper Bowles and Charlie Wood, was delegated to choose a hostess for Graham Memorial, an office held last year by Nancy Nesbit. A motion that the bowling alleys be soundproofed was tabled. It was agreed that the Woman's Athletic association be permitted the use of the game room one night a week.

Last year, Pete Ivey arranged the Sunday afternoon concerts. This year, it has been decided that the musicales should be arranged by the Student Entertainment committee and the matter will be referred to that group.

Ernest King Is Named Business Manager Of Buc

Appointment Made By PU Board To Fill Place Of Alex Fonvielle, Resigned

Ernest King, University junior, was appointed business manager of the Buccaneer by the Publications Union board yesterday. He was one of seven candidates.

He will take the place of Alex Fonvielle, forced to resign the position because of his studies in Law school.

King formerly worked on the business staff of the student newspaper at VPI and on his home town newspaper in Troy. His outstanding achievement, however, has been as advertising salesman on the Buccaneer. He has increased the publication's Durham sales from $14 last February to $100 this coming issue. Also King has been fashion editor of the Buccaneer for the past two years.

The PU board approved the proposal to completely renovate the publication's typewriters. Managing editor of the DAILY TAR HEEL was empowered to appoint a staff member to keep the paper's files in order, and an appropriation was made for this purpose.

European Crisis Is Cause Of Hurried Call - Interfrat Council Suspends Rushing In Favor Of Mass Action

By ED RANKIN

Jim Joyner, student body president, early this morning called an emergency mass meeting concerning the European crisis to be held in Memorial hall tonight from 7 to 8 o'clock. Eight campus leaders worked far into the night discussing plans and approaches.

"It is particularly encouraging to see a spontaneous expression on the part of a number of campus leaders in behalf of our government's active proceeding to keep the Czech crisis in a negotiable stage. For this to come to a head in an emergency mass meeting is the students' chance to have an important part in this sentiment and (Continued on last page)

"Dr. Frank" Accused Of "Rule Of Fear" As

Charlottean Editor David Clark Advocates President Graham For Puerto Rico Post

Says Appointment Would Be For Good Of University

By LAWRENCE FERLING
Governor Hoey, David Clark, Dean W. H. Wanamaker, Dr. Frank Graham, and Puerto Rica, and thereby, to use a cliché, hangs a tale.

Among the prominent figures, including those above, who were quizzed by the DAILY TAR HEEL as to recently-rumored consideration of Dr. Frank Graham for the governorship of Puerto Rica, there is only one man who hopes for its fulfillment.

He is David Clark, Charlotte editor and textile man. As to the appointment of Dr. Graham by President Roosevelt and his transfer to Puerto Rica, Clark states, "It is my honest opinion that it would be of more benefit to the Greater University of North Carolina than anything else which could happen."

Other Opinions

There are other opinions, to interrupt the euphony for a moment, as that of Dean Wanamaker of Duke university who says: "Speaking personally, I should be very sorry indeed to see Dr. Graham leave the University of North Carolina. His devotion is so deep, I hardly believe he would accept the office."

"Under his leadership the University has made remarkable progress . . . and I am sure the University would not give him up without great sorrow and disappointment."

Governor Hoey hastens to quiet the storm of rumor by saying, "It does not seem probable that the appointment will be tendered, and hence I should not like to speculate about it." Dr. Graham himself, it should

Back To Clark

Returning to Clark, we find him elucidating at some length, as follows:

"President Frank Graham is a man of fine character, habits and a pleasing personality. He, however, lacks executive ability and as a substitute is attempting to control members of the faculty of the three branches of the University upon the basis of fear, that is, fear of being unable to secure promotion or of losing their positions if they are not subservient to him."

Socialistic Ideas

"Under the present system the member of the faculty who (Continued on page two)
