

"Greater University Day" Is Inaugurated

Education Professors Honored

Dr. H. R. Douglass, left, and Dr. Edgar W. Knight have been asked by the American Education Research Association to serve on an editorial board preparing an Encyclopedia of Educational Research.

Professor Knight will assist in connection with his work in the history of education and comparative education. Dr. Douglass is an authority on secondary education and will write on this subject.

Fraternity Rushing Suspended Today; To Be Resumed Sunday

Regular Silence Rules Go Into Effect

Regular silence rules are in effect today as announced by the Interfraternity council last week. Beginning last night at 10 o'clock, this quiet period continues until tomorrow evening at 7 o'clock.

This was explained by the council to remove any possibility of rushing at the State-Carolina game today as forbidden by by-law 5 of the Rushing Rules which states "There shall be no rushing of freshmen away from Chapel Hill. There shall be no rushing on the way to, at, or returning from athletic events."

By-law 7 states "During the periods of silence every freshman is considered on his honor not to discuss the subject of fraternities or fraternity matters with anyone else. . ."

Rushing hours tomorrow through Wednesday will be from 7 to 9 o'clock. Then another period of silence will ensue from 9 o'clock Wednesday night until 2 o'clock Friday afternoon.

On Friday, October 7, at 2 o'clock, the Faculty Adviser on fraternities will summon every man who receives a bid to some convenient place selected by him, at which time each man shall appear before the Adviser and any assistants whom the council may select to aid him and state in writing his first, second and third choice of fraternities he would like to join or may have reason to expect bids from.

After the payment of $1.00 pledging fee, the Adviser, after consulting the list of bids, shall then direct him to the house or fraternity of his highest choice among those bidding him, but not informing him of any other bids he may have received, and putting him on his honor not to disclose to anyone his choice before arriving at the proper fraternity house and putting on the pledge button. The freshman's choice as stated to the adviser shall be considered as final.

MONOGRAM CLUB RIDES AGAIN

Head Cheerleader Offers Explanation

By TOM DEKKER

While radios in Old West dormitory boomed forth with a planned and well-organized pep rally from the State college campus last night, approximately 400 Carolina students gathered at Memorial hall to hold a last minute pre-Greater University Day pep meeting of their own. The sudden rally, which came as a surprise to the student body, was called late yesterday afternoon by members of the Monogram club, who took the initiative after no other plans had been made.

Pat Patterson, head cheerleader, wishes to give the following explanation to the student body for failure to call a State game pep rally last night:

"Pep rallies are planned in collaboration with the University club. At a joint meeting of the club and myself this week, it was decided that it is a bad policy to hold too many rallies at the beginning of the season. The reason for this decision was, that interest declines if the rallies are over-done so early in the year. Reports that the rally was not to be held because of fraternity rushing are erroneous, since rushing was not even considered in making the decision."

Bill McCahren, president of the Monogram club, presided over the pep session and presented Speakers Roy Armstrong, George Stirnweiss, and Coach "Wally" Dunham.

Following Coach Dunham's suggestion that the student gathering "go after" the other 3,000 members of the student body, the group, led by the University band, paraded out of Memorial hall down by the Carolina inn, paused at fraternity court, and continued to march

CELEBRATION HELD TO CREATE BETTER SPIRIT

Open-Houses, Dance, Parades To Be Held

By FRED CAZEL

This morning streets of Raleigh and buildings of State college are decorated with the Blue and White of Carolina and the Red and White of State in celebration of the first annual Greater University Day to bring about a better spirit between the three branches of the University.

Centered around the State-Carolina game at 3 o'clock this afternoon, plans include parades, judging of original decorations of dormitories and fraternities, and as a grand finale—a dance in the evening.

Open-House

From 11 until 1 o'clock Watauga hall, oldest dormitory on the State campus, is extending a special invitation to visitors to attend an open-house. Other dormitories and fraternities are inviting inspection of their Homecoming Day decorations.

Dr. A. C. McIntosh Resting Comfortably

Attendants of Dr. A. C. McIntosh, who has been confined to a Durham hospital for 10 days, late last night reported that the Kenan professor emeritus in the University Law school was "resting comfortably."

Dr. McIntosh is confined to the hospital as a result of a digestive disturbance, an illness from which he has suffered for several months. His condition is reported to have shown much improvement during the past two days.

When Other Communications Fail—

Woodward And Lyon Reach Charleston During Storm

University Short-Wave Radio Amateurs Relay Messages To City Stricken By Tornado

By JESSE REESE

Two University students, Robinson Woodward, from Red Bank, N. J., and John Lyon, from Columbia, S. C., used their hobby, sending and receiving messages by short wave radio, Thursday night when they broadcast to all Chapel Hill listeners that messages would be sent to Charleston, S. C., after all other communication with that city had been blocked by a tornado.

Dr. W. E. Caldwell wished to learn if two of his friends had been injured in the storm and had the amateur radio operators attempt to obtain the information. Due to the emergency conditions caused by the tornado, it was impossible for them, as amateurs, to establish contacts with Charleston. However, they talked with operators in Columbia, S. C., learned that no list of the injured had been received there, and had their message relayed from Columbia to Charleston.

Both Lyon and Woodward are

Alice (The Goon-Gal?) Says—

It Pays To Advertise

For the benefit of interested University students here and for the aid of a student at our sister school in Greensboro, the following item was published in Tuesday morning's issue: "WANTED—Two boys to take to the Senior prom at the Woman's college on Saturday, October 15, preferably 5 feet 9 inches—good dancers—pleasing personalities and no complexes or mustaches. Send replies to Alice, Box 134, WCUNC."

"Alice" kindly offered the following information yesterday, but refused to release names: "Up to date we have received seven answers, none of them, I might add, from fraternity members. To quote from one letter, 'we have no complexes, are inclined to be slightly neurotic, couldn't raise mustaches if we tried, and God knows we've tried.' Another featured the fact that his teeth were in good condition, as are his room-mate's. This, of course, was a great relief. Others asked how we compare to the original goon-gals, promised to be too 'lit' to mind if we proved too bad, and still another asked if we could lend him a tux. One sent a picture."

LAW LIBRARIANS TO MEET HERE

Roalfe And White To Address Group

A meeting of the North Carolina Law Library association will be held Tuesday, at 2 o'clock in the Law building of the University.

William R. Roalfe, law librarian of the Duke University Law school will explain the work of the Association of American Law Libraries. Dr. Carl M. White, who has recently taken over the duties of librarian at the University, will speak to the group on the best method of bringing the members of the association into closer touch with the activities of the American Law Library association.

"University Off To Good Start With 29 Frosh"

University officials yesterday announced that the fall quarter registration, which ended last Thursday, totaled 3,480, representing an increase of 240 students over the fall quarter registration of 1937-38, and an increase over the base year of 1933-34 of 44.03 per cent.

This is the fifth straight year that the registration record has been broken, and numbered in

This year's record-breaking registration, only 20 short of 3,500, emphasizes further the changes wrought in the past century. Below is printed an excerpt from this week's edition of the State magazine, giving a summary of the University's registration in 1839:

"Our University at Chapel Hill is off to a good start. For the fall term there are registered 31 Seniors, 47 Juniors, 40 Sophomores, and 29 Freshmen."

the 3,480 are 1,003 out-of-state students from 33 states, the District of Columbia, and eight foreign countries.

New York leads with 259 representatives, followed by New Jersey with 121, and Pennsylvania with 78, while China and Canada have sent four students each.

Freshmen Lead

The freshman class again leads the other classes with 822, while there are 762 sophomores, 575 juniors, and 566 seniors.

The woman's registration also breaks all previous records, three hundred and ninety having registered for undergraduate and professional work.

Commerce Group Discusses Rushing

Rushing was the main topic of discussion at a meeting of Delta Sigma Pi, commerce fraternity, held this week.

The interest of the fraternity is to make contact between the college students and the business world, and this quarter the fraternity is hoping to take in a limited number of boys who are outstanding in the Commerce school.

STATE-CAROLINA TILT PROMISES TO BE CLOSE

Tar Heels Will Have To Put Out To Check Wolves

By SHELLEY ROLFE

Carolina's 1938 football machine rolls against State, the biggest obstacle next to Duke in the campaign for retention of the Southern conference crown, this afternoon in Riddick stadium, Raleigh, in the climax of Greater University Day activities. Almost 20,000 fans are expected to be on hand at 3 o'clock for the kick-off.

With a well-seasoned line and a three-quarters veteran backfield the Chapel Hillers apparently have plenty of power, but there is a feeling in well-informed circles that it will take everything the Tar Heels have to hold the Wolfpack in check. Both teams opened their '38 warfare with wins last week, Carolina taking Wake Forest 14-6 and the

Mystery Play

Doc Newton, the quiet and bespectacled coach at State, has been hard at work all fall developing a potent ball club and a new boot-leg play. The boot-leg play has proved to be so big a mystery that it failed to see the light of day against Davidson last week.

Coach Ray Wolf in a mood of great gloom said yesterday, "We're expecting a mighty tough game. State has a good team this year. They must have for the schedule they're undertaking this year."

Line-up Changes

Wolf also announced two starting line-up changes. Paul Severin, husky sophomore, will replace Horace Palmer at left end and Jumping Jim Lalanne, who stole the show last week with his passing and running, will be-

Students To Get Free Movies On Birthday

Joining with E. Carrington Smith, manager of the Carolina theater, the DAILY TAR HEEL invites University students to attend the movie on their birthday.

Beginning this morning, and following daily thereafter, the names of the students having birthdays today will be listed on the editorial page. When your name appears, you may receive a pass to the current movie by calling at the ticket office of the Carolina theater.

After long hours of tedious work, these names have been compiled from student registration cards by Misses Louise Jordan, Dorothy Coble, and Doris Goerch.
