Mr. Horace Reninger is in town with his sample case. It would never do to refer to Mr. Reninger as a traveling salesman, even though he did carry a sample case into Chapel Hill, and even though he is here to sell Tulane to the sports editors of North Carolina before Saturday when Carolina meets the Green Wave at Kenan stadium in a homecoming day battle. Mr. Reninger is merely the publicity man for the Tulane football team.

So far this year the Green Wave has had an unhappy time of it. They opened the season by losing to Clemson, and last Saturday the team battled sixty minutes with Auburn for no profit on either side.

How did Reninger dope his Tulane team this fall?

"We're improving. Clemson had a great ball club, we were inexperienced. We had a 10-0 lead at the half. The Clemson line and backfield were strong and fast, they were just too good. We played a hard game with Auburn Saturday, it was a rough game and both teams were satisfied to come out with ties: As it was, our team got down to the two-yard line, but we couldn't get the ball across.

"Right now, Brunner is our best back. Buddy Banker hasn't played enough to do much, but he shows plenty of promise of developing into an All-American. Jitterbug Kellog, he's the boy from Monroe Louisiana Junior college, hasn't played much either, but he sure can pass.

"You fellows ought to have the edge in this ball game—

"How do I go around publicizing the game? Well, I intend to go around the state with Colonel Madry. We'll visit Charlotte, Greensboro, Winston-Salem, and the other towns in the state, and see all the sports editors.

"The job will be easier this year than it was last year. We were favorites then, and most people didn't care to see the game. They were afraid the home team might get beat. But now they'll come in the hopes of seeing Carolina knock us over. Yes, you should be favorites this time. This will be the rubber game. We won down in New Orleans, and Carolina came right back to take us here last year."

In 1458 Parliament forbade the playing of golf and football because they interfered with the more war-like sport of archery.

Varsity Gridders Are Hard At Work—

PHI GAMMA OPENS WITH 12-6 WIN

Phi Gamma Delta opened its intramural touch football season yesterday afternoon by triumphing over Phi Kappa Sigma, 12-6. In contrast to this game was Zeta Psi's amazing 32-0 setback of ATO. In the other games of the day DKE defeated Pi Kappa Alpha, 6-0, and Med school defeated Strowd-Sutton-Wettach, 7-0.

By scoring, in the extra period, on Sewell's pass interception and 55-yard run, Phi Gamma Delta gained a hard fought victory over Phi Kappa Sigma. The victors were also led by Dickerson and Harrington, while the losers were paced by Lyerly and Jones.

Clark Passes, Runs

Paced by the brilliant passing and running of Clark in the backfield and the work of Wilson and Carr in the line, Zeta Psi moved into first place in the fraternity league by defeating ATO.

Under the leadership of Don Gilliam, Royal and Hobbs, DKE tallied late in the final half to down Pi Kappa Alpha. Royal scored the winning touchdown on a long pass from Don Gilliam.

Med school evened its season's record yesterday at 1-1 when it gained a victory over Strowd-Sutton-Wettach. The winning team scored its lone touchdown in the fourth quarter when Spicer caught a pass and crossed the goal standing up. Cloninger added the extra point.

Harriers Workout

Members of the varsity cross-country team took slow workouts over the five-mile course while the freshmen covered the three-mile course.

Frank Wakely went five miles for the first time this season. Johnny Vawter, Henry Branch, Mike Wise and John Eddy appear as the best of the freshman squad.

Scouts Lange And Skidmore—

Observe Green Wave, NYU

By SHELLEY ROLFE

Coach Bill Lange, who has commuted between Chapel Hill and New Orleans the past two weeks getting the facts on Tulane, came back to Chapel Hill yesterday with a padful of Green Wave plays and the statement that "Carolina will have to be at its best to win Saturday."

While Lange was completing his observations on Tulane last Saturday, Coach Walter Skidmore was in New York observing NYU roll over Maine 19-0. The Tar Heels meet the Violets October 15 in the Yankee stadium. Skidmore said, "NYU looks mighty good this year, and they have something they haven't had before, reserves.

Lange, who helped beat Tulane last year with his careful scouting, said the Green Wave looked a lot better Saturday in a scoreless tie with Auburn than it did two weeks ago losing to Clemson.

Tulane Strong

"The team looked improved in every quarter. They were inexperienced against Clemson, but they showed plenty Saturday. They got to the two-yard line without scoring, while Auburn couldn't get by the 20-yard line against the 200-pound Tulane line. The team will be as strong as any in the South by November. It may reach its peak earlier than that, maybe Saturday.

Tar Heels Prepare For Big Homecoming Day Skirmish

Completely satisfied and two games to the good, Ray Wolf's varsity football men—a little battered in spots—made ready yesterday afternoon to prepare a welcome for the Green Wave of Tulane on Homecoming Day this Saturday.

As a result of the cyclonic blasting of the State Wolfpack, four players came back to Chapel Hill Saturday night and went straight to the infirmary for treatment of minor injuries. Bob Adam, Jim Lalanne, George Radman and Chuck Kline all were put to bed for observation and rest. Kline was released Sunday morning, but Lalanne and Radman did not leave until yesterday. Adam most seriously hurt of the foursome, is still in the infirmary but is walking around. He will likely be discharged sometime this afternoon.

Review Plays

In the practice session yesterday Wolf discussed the mistakes made in the State game and ran a brief review of plays. With reserves taking position as Tulane defense, Wally Winborne and George Stirnweiss alternated as quarterbacks and handled the aerial offense in a capable manner. Working on the receiving end were Charley Idol, Paul Severin, Chuck Kline, Tony Cernugel, Mike Bobbitt, Jim Mallory, Leo Slotnick, Bob Hermson, Don Baker and Frank Doty.

Later a freshman team under Coach Erickson came down to a scrimmage with the reserves. Bill Lange, who scouted Tulane in both the Clemson and Auburn games, has drilled one group of frosh in Tulane plays in order that they may be tried against the varsity.

Green Wave

Tulane comes to Chapel Hill Saturday, and with the Green Wave will come Buddy Banker. Brother of Bobby Banker, former Tulane All-American, Buddy has been boomed as a future All-American himself. So far he has been held out this season, but he should be ready to go against Carolina.

Fall Tennis

Five lettermen reported to Coach John Kenfield yesterday as Carolina's varsity and freshman tennis teams started their annual fall practice.

The five monogram men, Carl Rood, Bill Rood, Eddie Fuller, Charley Rider and Bill Rawlings, resumed practice along with other returning varsity men.

Babe Ruth is not the strike-out king; Gus Williams of the St. Louis Browns was fanned 120 times in 1914.
