BOAKE CARTER UNABLE TO FILL CPU ENGAGEMENT

Commentator Sure To Offer Address Here In January

Radio News Commentator Boake Carter, unable to fulfill his Carolina Political Union speaking engagement, scheduled for September, yesterday notified union chairman Voit Gilmore that he will definitely appear here for an address in January.

Carter found it impossible to come to the campus last month because of business entanglements in California. He will however, speak here in Memorial hall as soon as he returns from the west coast in 1939.

In a telegram to Gilmore, Carter repeated that he was still looking forward enthusiastically to his appearance here. He added that developments in Europe and this country between now and January would give him material from which he could make a more interesting address.

Jonas Tomorrow Night
Meanwhile, the CPU, with the cooperation of the campus Young Republican club, went ahead with plans for the appearance here tomorrow night of Charles A. Jonas, Republican candidate for the United States Senate from North Carolina.

Jonas, who makes his initial campaign speech here, will appear at an open forum sponsored by the Young Republicans at 4:30 tomorrow afternoon in Graham Memorial lounge. Before his address in Hill hall the club will give a banquet in his honor at the Carolina inn.

The automatic voting machines which the union obtained for taking test polls on the campus will be ready for use tomorrow. Students, faculty members, and townspeople will be asked

WHITE SPEAKS TO LAW LIBRARIANS

Meeting Is Held In Manning Hall

William R. Roalfe, law librarian of Duke university, and Carl M. White, newly elected University librarian, were the principal speakers at the fourth meeting of the North Carolina Law Library association held yesterday afternoon in Manning hall.

Discussing the connection of the state organization to the American Law Library association, White discussed the methods of bringing the two closer together. He stressed the point that North Carolina Law librarians should become more intimate with the activities and benefits derived from the national association. Roalfe also spoke about the American Law Library association, describing the work of the organization.

The North Carolina association was organized last year and has held three previous meetings at Raleigh, Duke and Wake Forest.

After the meeting was concluded, Dillard Gardner, North Carolina Supreme Court librarian, entertained the members of the association at his home.

"Let's Go, Carolina"

An answer is expected today to the following invitation wired to Kay Kyser, famed University alumnus and former cheerleader, yesterday: "We are rounding up all old Monogram men for the Tulane-Carolina Homecoming game and we would like to have you lead cheering. Expenses by plane will be paid. We are counting on you. Signed, Wally G. Dunham, for the Monogram club, the Order of the Grail, and the University club."

Now On Their Third Concert Tour—

Luboshutz, Nemenoff First On Student Entertainment

SILENCE PERIOD BEGINS TONIGHT, ENDING RUSHING

Fraternities To Decide On Frosh Pledges

Tonight at 9 o'clock the last silence period in the rushing rules of the Interfraternity council will begin, ending ten days of freshman rushing by fraternities on the campus.

Regular silence rules will be in effect until the freshmen have pledged. Freshmen in particular are reminded that this means no discussion with anyone on the subject of fraternities.

Relaxation of the present rule that no coeds may go into fraternity houses was announced yesterday by John Moore, president of the Interfraternity council. This decision was made by Mrs. M. H. Stacy, adviser of women, with the following conditions:

Fraternity men may invite coeds to a particular function, naming the occasion. Mrs. Stacy will be notified of the function by the fraternity and the women may then get permission to attend from Mrs. Stacy.

By the end of next week it is expected to have contracts sent to each fraternity which having been agreed to unanimously by the members will permit coeds to pay special calls at houses without special permission. These contracts will be distributed by the In-

Classical Records On Union Program

The first in a series of weekly programs of classical recordings will be held today from five to six o'clock in the lounge of Graham Memorial under the supervision of Gibson Stonewall Jackson and Niles Bond.

The recordings, borrowed from the Hill Music hall library, will be played on a new amplifying machine.

The program will be as follows: 1. "Overture to Romeo and Juliet" by Tchaikovsky. 2. "The Nutcracker Suite" also by Tchaikovsky. 3. "Passacaglia" in C minor by Bach.

Pianists To Give Concert Here On Monday Evening

Pierre Luboshutz and Genia Nemenoff, duo-pianists who are making their third concert tour this year, will open the fall quarter student entertainment series Monday night at 8:30.

The names of both of these artists are well known to the concert world through their activities as solo pianists. Pierre Luboshutz studied in Paris under Edouard Risler and Professor Blumenfeld. He toured that city with Nina Koshetz, Russian soprano, and then, twelve years ago, came to the United States. He has toured annually through this country in collaboration with such artists as Eide Norena and Piatigorsky. He was selected by Toscanini as solo pianist with the New York Philharmonic symphony in his last performance of the Brahms' cycle.

Genia Nemenoff, who in private life is Mrs. Pierre Luboshutz, was born in Paris where

SATURDAY IS MONOGRAM DAY

Lettermen To Be Admitted Free

According to George Nethercutt, president of the Monogram club, among the features of Homecoming here Saturday, there will be a special celebration of "Monogram Day." About 600 ex-Carolina athletes who have earned a letter in a major sport at the University will be admitted free at the Carolina-Tulane football game.

"Each letter man desiring to attend the game must write me so by Thursday," states George. "A special section will be reserved for you near the student's seats. You may obtain your tickets at the Monogram room of Woolen gymnasium anytime Saturday morning."

White To Speak

Dr. Carl White, new librarian, will speak at the first regular Bull's Head tea of the year this afternoon at 4:15 in the staff room next to the bookshop. His topic will be Lin Yutang's book, "The Importance of Living."

HOME COMING DAY PLANNED TO BE GREATEST EVER

Organizations To Cooperate With Magill's Office

Plans for the biggest and best homecoming day celebration in Carolina's history are going forward steadily, and Jimmy Davis, chairman of the general homecoming committee, gives the following rules for homecoming decorations contests:

1. There shall be separate and distinct contests between (a) social fraternities, (b) men's dormitories, (c) women's dormitories and sorority houses, (d) merchants decorating windows, and (e) merchants decorating the interiors of stores.
2. Prizes, to be definitely announced later, will be awarded the winner of each contest.
3. Due to the large number of Boy Scouts who will be in Chapel Hill this week-end, the Boy Scout motif may be used entirely

Chapel Hill To Give Exhibition For Boy Scouts

Businessmen To Cooperate With Campus In Extending Guests Welcome

Chapel Hill will give an exhibition for visitors attending the Boy Scout Jubilee and the Homecoming game this week-end, E. Carrington Smith, president of the Merchants association, announced yesterday.

The business men will cooperate with campus groups in extending the guests a hearty welcome. Streets will be bedecked with vari-colored flags and welcome pennants, and windows and store fronts will be arrayed with colors of the Jubilee and Homecoming themes.

Contests

Tickets to the Carolina-Tulane game will be given merchants winning store and window decoration competition. Most of the firms plan to enter.

At a meeting last week the Merchants association unanimously voted to aid campus groups in welcoming the visitors.

Changer

Miss Bernice Brantley, recently elected president of the Town Girls' association, who promises to change the association from an erstwhile "retiring" organization to one of the liveliest functions on the campus.

BERNICE BRANTLEY DISCUSSES PLANS FOR TOWN GIRLS

Association To Be Made Lively Organization

"This year we're going to make the Town Girls' association a lively function on the University campus," said Miss Bernice Brantley, recently elected president of the Town Girls. "I know it has been sort of a retiring organization in the past, but we're going to change all that this year. More town girls are going out for extra curricula activities, and there will be a definite schedule for them to participate against the dormitory girls in athletics.

"We're also giving a social every quarter, and I think I can say that the Town Girls' dance will be one of the best given on the campus. It's going to be something new, but we are not telling about it just yet."

From Brevard

A senior at the University, Miss Brantley came to Chapel Hill in 1937 from Brevard college, where she was assistant Dean of Women and also secretary of the Student Council. She was also head of her dormitory.

As an outstanding member of the dramatic club, she took part in all of their best productions. She was also a member of the Booster's Club, an organization of select members for carrying
