James E. West, Chief BSA Executive, Will Arrive Today

The second Carolina Boy Scout jubilee of region six gets underway today for a four-day period with a color ceremony at the Emerson stadium jubilee headquarters at 2 o'clock. Two thousand scouts representing 195 patrols from the two Carolinas will participate.

Dr. James E. West, chief executive of the Boy Scouts of America, will be present for the entire program, and will be accompanied to Chapel Hill today from his train in Durham by a special delegation of Scouts, Scout leaders and officials and a special University delegation.

Governor Clyde R. Hoey has declined his invitation to attend the jubilee due to previously arranged engagements, according to Dr. Harold D. Meyer, University chairman.

Pre-Jubilee Plans Arranged

Regional Director W. A. Dobson and Assistant Regional Director Herbert Stuckey arrived in Chapel Hill yesterday to complete pre-jubilee plans and to attend a special meeting of the executive staff last night.

"The Scout-o-Rama to be held at Fetzer stadium at 8 o'clock tomorrow night will be truly a colossal spectacle," stated Stuckey, special director for the high-light affair. "All Scouts and troops will take part in the presentation," the director continued.

Special policemen will patrol the Scouts' camping quarters during the entire jubilee.

The Scouts will be guests of the University at Saturday's Tulane-Carolina homecoming football game. During halves they will give a giant demonstration with all taking part.

Woodhouse Tells Freshmen He Favors Roosevelt Regime

Political Science Professor Advises First Year Men To Join Political Party

"I am a New Deal Democrat opposed to those who talk about President Franklin D. Roosevelt spending too much money. I don't care whether you agree with me or not although I would like for you to be on the right side," said Dr. E. J. Woodhouse to freshmen assembly yesterday. "Washington and Madison spoke of political parties as being dangerous. Some kind of political party can be found everywhere and you should get in one of these parties," continued Dr. Woodhouse. "Don't be too certain. Remind yourself, I may be wrong."

Dr. Woodhouse concluded, "Ignorance of government and law is common to the citizens of the United States. Don't let anybody dictate to you."

Harry Comer, secretary of the YMCA, presided and introduced the speaker.

Lunch With Dr. West

Terry Sanford of Alpha Phi Omega, national honorary service fraternity, announced last night that all Eagle or first-class Scouts in the freshman class who desire to have luncheon tomorrow with Dr. James E. West, please register today with Miss Tempe Newsum in the YMCA.

TAR HEEL AND BUC CIRCULATION TO HAVE INCREASE

PU Board President Makes Reply To Phi Assembly Bill

At a meeting of Publications Union board yesterday Tim Elliot, president, made personal reply to the Phi assembly bill resolving that the board publish a report of its transactions. Also provisions were approved for extra copies of both the DAILY TAR HEEL and the "Carolina Buccaneer" to be distributed at the Carolina-Tulane game Saturday.

In reply to the Phi resolution Elliot made the following statements:

1. Such a report would be impractical because of the time and expense required in its preparation.

2. The transactions of the board at its meetings are reported regularly in the DAILY TAR HEEL. Minutes of the board meetings are open to student inspection at all times.

The special issues approved for sale at the Saturday game were: 3,000 copies of a six page edition of the DAILY TAR HEEL, and 750 copies of the "Carolina Buccaneer." The latter will be paid for by additional advertisements, and the board will make a profit on their sale. In addition to the special copies to be sold at the game a 1,000 extra copies of the DAILY TAR HEEL will be published daily for the four days of the Boy Scout jubilee.

Charles A. Jonas, GOP, Will Open His Senatorial Campaign Here Tonight At 8 In Hill Music Hall

Young Republicans, Co-sponsors, To Have Open Forum, Dinner

In conjunction with the speech he will give at the Music hall tonight, Charles A. Jonas, Republican candidate for the United States senate, will be the guest of the Young Republican club at an open forum to be held at 4:30 this afternoon and a dinner at 6:30 this evening.

Graham Memorial lounge will be the scene of the forum, at which Jonas and J. Bennett Riddle, his campaign manager, will discuss briefly the national Republican platform and outline the plans for the activities of the local organization. After their speeches have been concluded, both men will answer questions from the floor. President Billy Gilliam urges all young Republicans and other political-minded students to turn out for the forum discussion. Refreshments will be served.

Dinner At The Inn

The dinner will be held at Carolina inn. Although neither Jonas nor Riddle will speak at this time, Billy Gilliam will tell of future activities for the organization, and discuss plans for the founding of Young Republican clubs at Duke, Wake Forest, and State.

At present, the GOP organization on the campus is the only one of its kind at any university in the state. The officers for the coming year are Billy Gilliam, president; Ed Hart, vice-president; and Elizabeth Spencer, secretary-treasurer.

All Quiet On Kyser Front

Late last night no word had been received from band-leading alumnus Kay Kyser in answer to a telegram Tuesday inviting him to resume his old post and lead cheers for the homecoming game with Tulane.

During his program last night, on which he was silent concerning his plans for the week-end, Kyser was given the monthly award for the best program on the network.

The invitation was sent by Wally G. Dunham on behalf of the Monogram club, Order of the Grail and University club.

New Automatic Vote Counters To Be Used In Poll Of Opinion

University students today will see for the first time in North Carolina, use of automatic voting machines. The machines will be used in the Carolina Political union's poll on national and foreign affairs conducted in the YMCA.

John J. McCormack of Jamestown, N. Y., arrived here last night to supervise the use of the machines for the Automatic Voting Machine corporation, which lent the recorders to the union. Voit Gilmore, chairman of the union, arranged for their use here. The three machines, which are about four feet high, six feet long, and two feet wide, will be ready for use this morning at 10:30 in the reading lounge of the YMCA.

These Are The Questions

Students, faculty members, and townspeople who wish to take part in the poll will be asked to record their sentiments on the following questions: Do you favor Charles A. Jonas or Robert R. Reynolds for election to the U. S. Senate? (This question is asked in conjunction with the speech of Jonas here tonight). Should Great Britain and France have allowed Germany to take the Sudetanland of Czechoslovakia? Do you approve of "party purge" philosophy and tactics? A year ago did you favor Franklin D. Roosevelt for a third presidential term? Do you approve of a third term for Roosevelt at the present time?

Other questions are: Could the Republican party win the next presidential election by running a conservative Democrat like Josiah Bailey? Should

Speech Begins CPU Program; Reynolds To Answer Soon

Charles A. Jonas, Republican candidate in this year's general election for the United States senate, will open his campaign tonight at 8 o'clock in Hill Music hall. This is the first of the fall series of Carolina Political union speeches.

His opponent, the incumbent Robert Rice Reynolds, has notified CPU Chairman Voit Gilmore that he plans to answer Jonas with his initial campaign appearance here in the near future.

Worth Henderson, Greensboro attorney known throughout the state in Republican circles, will introduce the speaker. Appearing on the platform with Jonas will be Voit Gilmore, Henderson, Billy Gilliam, president of the campus Young Republican club, and Sam Hobbs, vice chairman of the union. The address will follow an open forum reception for Jonas this afternoon in Graham Memorial and a banquet in his honor at the Carolina inn tonight, both sponsored by the Young Republican club.

Jonas, born in 1877 near Lincoln where he now lives, during reconstruction days following the Civil war has made an enviable record in North Carolina politics. After working his way through the University and graduating with honors, Jonas spent some time teaching in state schools, finally returning to Chapel Hill to receive his law degree. After practicing law, editing a weekly newspaper, and serving as postmaster, he was sent to the state senate, where he steered the first woman's suffrage bill ever passed

Homecoming Celebration Starts With Broadcast; Bonfire Friday

15-Minute Program Over WPTF Features Gridiron Review

Featuring as principal speaker Tom Bost, Jr., the man who beats Carolina's sports ballyhoo tom-toms, the 1938 homecoming day celebration officially began last night with a 15-minute broadcast over station WPTF in Raleigh.

In his talk Bost gave a short preview of Saturday's game stressing the fact that Red Dawson and his Green Wave will be out to roll over the fighting Tar Heels to avenge last year's 13-0 defeat. He also commented on ticket sales stating that pre-game sales this year have been heavier than sales for any previous football season.

Dick Worley, master of ceremonies, extended a warm welcome to all visitors, especially alumni, to attend homecoming day and all attractions that the University club is planning.

Music for the program was furnished by Freddy Johnson and his orchestra, playing the alma mater songs of both Carolina and Tulane and also two popular selections including a vocal by Jimmy Applewhite.

Pep Rally Planned Tomorrow Night On Fetzer Field

Plans for the greatest homecoming celebration in University history were furthered yesterday afternoon when the University club met to complete details for the giant pep rally tomorrow night, and to plan activities in connection with the decoration contests and game.

Fetzer field will be the scene for the big pep rally which will begin promptly at 9:30 following the Scout-o-Rama at 8 o'clock. Pat Patterson, head cheerleader, plans for a band to be on hand at Old East dormitory at 9:15 to lead a torch light parade down through the quadrangles to the field.

Heap Big Smoke
 A gigantic bonfire at the field will add color to the rally, and lights and amplifiers have been installed so that all may see and hear the proceedings.

The club already has one speaker, Joe Murnick, for the rally and tentative plans include President Frank Graham, Gene Brickelmyer, Jim McCathren, two of Carolina's stellar athletes
