Varsity Entrains Tonight For NYU Tilt Tomorrow; Tar Babies Meet Virginia Techlets Here At 3 O'clock

Unless the best laid plans of the Carolina football team go awry, the varsity men will be off to New York tonight ready for their third game with NYU in the past three years. Having won the first two battles, the Tar Heels will find Dr. Mal Stevens, the genial and erudite coach of the Violets, lying in wait with good fellowship, a few machine guns, and, by the by, a football team that is reputed to have reserves four deep and a first team averaging 200 pounds.

In case the man on the street should pop the question, the Violets are plenty strong this year. They tore through Maine with greater ease than a Republican candidate for president, then followed that with a 25-6 drubbing of Rutgers by the banks of the Old Raritan. This caused much groaning and hair pulling among the "I'd die for dear old Rutgers" set who envisioned a great team this fall under Harvey Harmon. It also made the future Violet grid foes turn uneasily at their practice sessions, for such power cannot be denied—or words to that effect.

NYU will start a team tomorrow that has three backfield men and scads of line-men going over the 200-pound mark. It is potent, well versed in the fundamentals of the game, and adept at digging up bewildering plays.

Up in New York, they expect NYU to beat the Tar Heels. Dr. Stevens, himself, thinks his ball club is equal to the task of taking Carolina. Maybe so, but Stevens hasn't beaten a Southern team yet. He tried for four years while at Yale against Georgia, and each time he lost. He transferred his master-minding duties to NYU, but the jinx followed him as the Violets fell before Carolina twice.

Leo Collins, who has been scouting Carolina for NYU, says this year's Tar Heel team is better than the '37 outfit, but he still thinks the Violets will win. Collins also added to beware of Stirnweiss and Lalanne. Another thought he dropped around the NYU campus was that Bronco Brunner was a better football player than Whizzer White, who at the moment is getting $15,000 a year for parading before the curious at professional football games.

This corner with great trepidation picks Carolina by a touchdown. NYU has bigger reserves, but remember this: Any time a Southern team plays one from the North, it fights the

MENTORS RUN SQUAD THROUGH FINAL DRILL

The Carolina frosh football tutors put the final touches on their squad yesterday, and today they send them before the public eye in their initial home appearance. The Tar Baby eleven plays host to the swashbuckling Virginia Techlets this afternoon at 3 o'clock in Kenan stadium.

The yearlings held a light drill yesterday afternoon, polishing up on their punting, passing, signals and kickoff tactics. Harry Dunkle, the backfield flash, performed in the punting and place-kicking posts. He booted some beautiful punts and kickoffs, most of them carrying 50 or 60 yards.

Opponents Work Out

While the Carolina freshmen went through their final paces, their opponents were making last minute preparations before their encounter here today. Information from the Techlet camp yesterday disclosed that the Tech first-year men may be without the services of one of their best backs, Buddy Henderson. This stocky youngster from Cumberland, Md., injured his knee in scrimmage last week and will most likely be out of the lineup for the rest of the season.

In their first game of the season, in which they trounced Bluefield College, 19-0, the Tech yearlings showed a potentially capable line led by Brad Montgomery and Bob Lawson, hard-hitting ends, Bill Tate and Johnny Wycoff, scrappy guards, Frank Debord and Ralph Unterzuber, vicious tackles, and Bill Zydiak, promising center. The Tech backfield will probably consist of Bill James at quarterback, Paul Butts and Gerald

Frosh Harriers Open Season At Fetzer

The Tar Heel freshman cross country team opens Carolina's harrier season at Fetzer field this afternoon with Jefferson high school, of Roanoke, furnishing the opposition. The meet is scheduled to start at 4:30, the finish being less than 15 minutes later.

The eight man who will represent Carolina will be chosen from Henry Branch, Ed Carraway, Stanley Diamond, James Earle, John Eddy, Dave Ricks, Jerry Schack, Jim Vawter and Mike Wise, who have done the best work in practice. The visitors are expected to arrive before noon today. After stopping at the Kenan stadium field house, they will be driven over the course in automobiles so that they may become familiar with it.

As soon as the frosh and high school runners finish, the varsity will go out for a five mile run. For the varsity it will be the most complete group workout of this season, 28 1-2 minutes being the time goal. The workouts today and early next week will be the basis for determining who will run at Davidson Oct. 22.

Grimes, Chi Psi Score Mural Wins

Grimes continued to demonstrate its superiority in the dormitory touch football league yesterday afternoon as it downed a previously undefeated Manly eleven, 13-0. Co-starring with this game was Chi Psi's 24-0 victory over Phi Phi. In the other two battles of the afternoon Everett gained a 5-4 first down margin over Old West and DKE trampled Phi Alpha, 44-0.

Led by the brilliant play of Nethercutt and Shell, Grimes gained its fourth straight triumph and moved into a tie for first place in the dormitory league. In completing the first half of its season, Grimes demonstrated much power both offensively and defensively and appeared to be the team to beat in its league.

Chi Psi returned to the winning ranks yesterday with an easy victory over Chi Phi. The team was led by the classy play of Watson and Dilworth. The losing team was unable to penetrate Chi Psi's defense for a first down.

DKE showed its power in the fraternity league for the first time yesterday as it rolled to victory over Phi Alpha. Moore tallied three touchdowns to lead the winners offensive play.

Everett's over-rated ball club was forced to fight to the last ditch yesterday afternoon in gaining its victory over Old West. The Everett team appeared over confident and were easy victims for Old West's brilliant pass attack. Kimery, Collis and Dixon were the outstanding players for the Everett team while Tankersly starred for the losers.

Due to the VPI-Carolina freshman game, there will be no intramural contests this afternoon.

Going Up

Anybody leaving for the NYU game today with room for one passenger is asked to stop by the sports department of the DAILY TAR HEEL, or phone 4351 between 10:30 and 11 o'clock this morning.

DEACON STAR TO PLAY TOMORROW AGAINST STATE

By SHELLEY ROLFE
The Southern conference executive committee ruled last night that Allen Powers of Wake Forest, charged with having played freshman football at the University of Tennessee in 1934, was eligible for conference play.

In a telegram to Wake Forest college officials, Dean Wannamaker of Duke, president of the conference, said that the evidence available was not sufficient basis to declare Powers ineligible, and he could play unless further evidence was uncovered.

A Wake Forest spokesman told the DAILY TAR HEEL in a telephone conversation last night that the case was closed as far as the college was concerned. He also stated that Powers would be in the starting line-up when the Deacons play State college at Raleigh.

Powers had been declared ineligible by the Wake Forest

INQUIRING RE-SPORTER

For the third time this week the Inquiring Re-Sporter gave Carolina football enthusiasts the chance to pick the winners and scores of four of the week-end's biggest and closest gridiron battles, yesterday afternoon.

Joe Hatem was the first man to try his luck. He saw them this way: Carolina 13, NYU 7; State 14, Wake Forest 0; Fordham 20, Purdue 7; and Rice 6, Tulane 0.

Fletcher Mann was interrupted in the midst of a geology lab quiz and picked the following: Carolina 14, NYU 7; Wake Forest 7, State 6; Fordham 14, Purdue 7; and Tulane 14, Rice 6.

Bob Weinberger was the last victim and he selected these: Carolina 20, NYU 7; State 7, Wake Forest 6; Tulane 14, Rice 0; and Fordham 7, Purdue 6.

Sports Staff Picks Winners

Here back for another week's stand is that great success, "The Sport Staff Picks the Winners." Noel Woodhouse with nine correct was top man last week.

Farrell Wins Net Title In Singles

(Special to the Daily Tar Heel)
White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., Oct. 13—Frank Farrell, of the University of North Carolina, turned in the most brilliant performance of the Middle Atlantic Intercollegiate tennis tournament here this afternoon as he won the singles championship by defeating the University of Virginia's Thompson in straight sets 6-1, 6-2, and 8-6.

Thompson fought the steady and clever Tar Heel net ace throughout the entire match, putting up a superb battle for every point, but the fine polish of Farrell showed up in the end, resulting in his splendid victory.

The singles tournament brought very few hazards for the Carolina star as he ran through all opposition with little difficulty. Farrell was never forced to go beyond the required sets in turning back his adversaries and met no one throughout the tourney who even gave him a battle. Thompson's hard fought game and excellent back-court drives gave the first sign of a real and tense match but still couldn't force Farrell to go the limit.

Tennis Tournament

The campus tennis tournament will begin Monday. Separate tournaments will be held for freshmen and for upperclassmen. Entrants should see the manager of the courts, or call either Roy Clark at 7061 or Lynch Murphy at 4071.

Freshmen interested in going out for manager of the tennis team should contact either Clark or Murphy immediately.

PEP RALLY AT INN PLANNED AS BIG SEND-OFF

Taking a final thorough workout, the varsity footballers yesterday wound up a week of preparation for the game with NYU tomorrow afternoon in Yankee stadium, New York. Thirty-four members of the squad, together with Coach Wolf, assistants, and managers, will leave tonight from Carolina inn, immediately following a pep rally scheduled for 6 o'clock.

Today, while the freshmen play the VPI Baby Gobblers on Fetzer field, the varsity men will warm-up lightly with perfunctory drills at Kenan stadium. Then, after eating supper and submitting to the rigors of a student send-off, the gridgers embark by bus for Durham, from which point they go by train to New York.

The Authorities Speak
The game with the Yankee Violets, according to those in a position to speak authoritatively, will be of the same caliber as the Tulane encounter here last Saturday. With a fast, capable backfield, outweighing even the hefty line, NYU seriously threatens to cut short the theo-
