Fervent Campaign Ends At Polls Today

"ROOM SERVICE" CURTAIN GOES UP TOMORROW NIGHT

Production Will Be Presented In Memorial Hall

"A brutal assault on the funny bone," Time magazine said of "Room Service," when it played on Broadway. Other critics called it "An almost uninterrupted laugh; a glib uproarious and delightfully crackbrained show—guaranteed to throw any playgoer into the aisle with laughter—a rich comic delight." The Playmakers will present this play by Allan Boretz and John Murray tomorrow and Saturday nights at Memorial hall.

The story, for which, Hollywood paid a cool $250,000 to use for the Marx brothers, concerns a vital conflict between a financially embarrassed theatrical producer, and an apoplectic hotel executive who insists that the producer either pay his bill (for 22 people plus) or get out.

Experienced Cast

The part of the producer Gordon Miller, played on Broadway by Sam Levene, is portrayed by Joe Brown, whose career was outlined Tuesday in Carroll McGaughey's column. Gregory Wagner, the ambitious and profane hotel executive, is a part the Playmakers consider especially well-suited to the talents of Bob Finch, remembered for his performance last year in "Boy Meets Girl."

A native of Dillon, Montana, Bob Finch attended school in the East, but returned to his home town to attend the State University. With a scholarship in the Elizabeth Grimball studio, Bob studied acting for two years in New York city. Following a sojourn at Yale, studying playwriting, Bob returned to join the professional ranks, appearing on Broadway in several hits. Later, he joined the March

Deadline On CPU Blanks Saturday

Meeting yesterday afternoon, the Carolina Political union decided that the opportunity for securing application blanks for membership to the organization would be extended through the remainder of the week until Saturday noon.

It was pointed out by Chairman Voit Gilmore that freshman applications would not be considered at this time. The union plans to admit four new members, two coeds and two men students. Freshmen will be taken into the organization later this year, during the winter quarter.

Those upperclassmen who indicate their desire to join the union will be called upon to present their application at some near date, to be announced through the DAILY TAR HEEL and through the mails.

National Academy Meeting To Use 12 Frosh As Guides

Autumn Sessions Will Begin Here First Of Week

By BOB BARBER

Twelve members of the Freshman Friendship council were appointed yesterday to serve as guides next week for the visiting members of the National Academy of Sciences, to hold its regular autumn meeting here Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday.

The following members of the council will act as guides: Charles D. Cunningham, Herbert McNairy, Fred Broad, Charles A. S. Phillips, Marvin P. Anthony, John Diffendal, St. Clair Pugh, Walter Love, J. Thomas Rogers, and Franklin Williams.

The second day of the meeting of the National Academy of Sciences will be a continuation in the reading of scientific papers. The general session on Tuesday morning will be in Venable hall auditorium from 10 to 12:30.

First on the program for the day will be Dr. S. A. Mitchell and Dr.

Typical Of One Of Three Voting Machines To Be Used Today

Shown above is a typical automatic voting machine corresponding to the three that will be used at freshmen elections at the YMCA today. Poll tenders, seated at the desk on the left, are registering a young man who is observing a model of the large machine in which another voter is preparing to vote. This will mark the third time these machines have been used on the campus and the only place they have been tried out in this state.

MAGAZINE TO BE READY TOMORROW

Issue To Feature Articles On Wolfe

The Thomas Wolfe Commemorative issue of the Carolina Magazine will be off the press and available to the student body tomorrow, Editor John Creedy announced yesterday. Distribution will be made over the week-end.

Editor Creedy stated that many noted writers will have various commentaries on the noted novelist. Permission has been received from Charles Scribner and Sons to use a selection from "Of Time and the River," his best known work. Maxwell Perkins, of this same publishing house will write a personal account of the editing of all of Wolfe's works. The editor of Harper Brothers, Edward C. Aswell, has an article on the noted Asheville writer's unpublished works.

Other Articles

An appreciation will be written by Paul Green, outstanding playwright from the University, while William Polk, Wolfe's roommate at Harvard, will write a commentary on his works. George Stinney will tell about Wolfe's stay at Chapel Hill two years ago. A literary criticism covering most of the novelist's works will be given by Thomas Meder, an English honor student.

Completing the magazine will be

Appeal Made To Commission For Appropriation

Plan To Restore Normal Salaries And Construct New Buildings On Campus

A million dollar addition to the budget for the Greater University was asked of the State Advisory Budget commission Tuesday by Dr. Frank Graham. This request sets the appropriation at $3,847,978, but it was pointed out that with the addition of 2,038 students to the schools the increase is actually $271,820 less than ten years ago.

One of the main objects of this plan is to restore salaries, which are comparatively low, to normalcy. Increments, promotions, replacements, and new positions required to meet the needs of the rapidly growing institutions will also be provided for in the plan. All is needed to keep the schools on the standard set by them previously, and of the $497,640 allotted for this purpose, $210,690 will go to the University, $121,405 to the Woman's college, and $165,545 to State college.

Use Of Money

Improvements at Chapel Hill will include additions to the library, $282,000; new instruction building and equipment, $175,000; departmental equipment, $115,000; hot and cold water and heating range $90,000; sanitary sewers, $15,000; power cable, $20,000; religious center building, $175,000; instruction building for dramatic arts and theater, $350,000; storage warehouse and service ships, $50,000; campus extension and improvement, $35,000; additional building and equipment, $85,000; additions and betterments, $72,076; brick walks (conjunction with WPA), $55,924. The dramatic arts building, in addition to being a valuable addition to the University, will serve the whole state through such projects as the Roanoke Island Lost Colony.

Among permanent improvements needed by the Woman's college and emphasized especially by Dr. Graham are a new laundry, repair shop and storage building, departmental equipment, renovation of the heating sys-

AKG TO BE HOST TO CONFERENCE

Strong Chapters To Be Emphasized

This week-end the local chapter of Alpha Kappa Gamma, women's national fraternity, will act as hostess for the eleventh national conference of the organization.

The main objective of the conference, according to Chapter President Katherine Fleming, is to strengthen the chapters now enrolled in the fraternity with a view toward early expansion.

Beginning tomorrow afternoon with registration of delegates and various business conferences, the convention is to last through Saturday evening. The Saturday morning discussions will center around the theme "Counseling As It Relates to School Life." Saturday afternoon, Dr. Ernest Groves of the University and Mrs. Groves will lead discussions on "The Psychological and Emotional Aspects of Marriage."

At the closing banquet Saturday night, Dr. English Bagby will make a talk on some phase of personality development.

Officers for the local Alpha Kappa Gamma chapter are: Katherine Fleming, president; Bill Malone, vice president; Rachael McLean, secretary; Claire Whitmore, treasurer.

Ellen Deppe, Carolina alumna, is vice president for the national executive body, and will probably be back for the convention this week-end.

Freshman, Please Meet Your Adviser!

All freshmen will meet with their advisers this morning at 10:30 in the following places:

Mr. Spruill, Bingham 208; Mr. Phillips with Mr. Spruill, Bingham 208; Dr. Edmister, Venable 305; Mr. Emory, Venable 304; Mr. Hill, Phillips 206; Dr. Huddle, New East 112; Mr. Husbands, Bingham 103; Dr. Johnson, Saunders 213; Dr. Perry, Peabody 201; Mr. Sanders, Murphey 111; and Dr. Wells, New West 101.

It's 8-Point Type--PU Board

This morning the DAILY TAR HEEL has a new "dress." In place of the usual 10-point type, copy is set-up in the smaller 8-point as a result of action taken by the Publications Union board in session yesterday afternoon. President Tim Elliott said the board ruled the new type should be used for a one-month trial.

Yesterday's action ends a long struggle by the staff of the paper to secure smaller type to add approximately four columns to the past space and to allow a more thorough news coverage.

Other measures passed by the board were: a $30 appropriation for the mat service of the DAILY TAR HEEL business office, a $10 increase per month in the business office's drawing account, and changes in salaries of business managers of the respective publications as follows: two reduced, one increased, and one unchanged.

Freshmen To Vote At YMCA From 9 Until 5 O'clock And Will Elect Four Class Officers

Phi Gam, Chi Phi, President Joyner "Strickly Dormant"

Holland Publicly Withdraws; Favors Candidate Ward

The cross-currents of freshman politics arrived at their approximate denouement—unraveling—yesterday on the eve of voting by the neophytes today.

For two days the DAILY TAR HEEL had told the story of upperclassmen and fraternity participation in the campaign—at least as many fragments of evidence as could be garnered from the political winds.

Developments

Yesterday's developments followed this course:

In answer to a statement in the paper's expose of the existence of a Chi Psi-Chi Phi-ZBT-non-fraternity alliance, the boys from Chi Phi expostulated that they will be strictly dormant today so far as politics goes. Likewise the Phi Gams reiterated it's absolutely "hands off" for them.

Just as vehement was the assertion of Student Body President Jim Joyner that he was in no way espousing any candidate or in any other way taking sides in the frosh conflict. (It all started when a DAILY TAR HEEL reporter saw Joyner and Presidential Candidates Bill Shore and Bill Ward in conference.) President Joyner wishes to explain that the meeting was a coincidence as he was making his routine check-up as an Graham dormitory advisor.

And the drama had its finale yesterday afternoon. One of the leaders of an alleged "frame-up" dropped around to question just why the DAILY TAR HEEL doesn't "keep its nose out of freshman elections."

At least, the frosh have had the spotlight this week.

Football Clinic Will Meet Again

Coach Ray Wolf's football clinic will meet tonight for its second meeting, featuring moving pictures of the Tulane game (guaranteed this time) and possibly of the NYU game.

The coach will continue his explanations of plays and formations, but will dwell tonight on rules, referee signals, and such technical points.

The clinic, as last week, will meet at 7:30 in the lounge of Graham Memorial, and accommodations will be made to take care of the crowd indicated by the success of last week's clinic.

If the clinics continue to be successful, Coach Wolf hopes to make them a weekly Thursday night feature on the campus.

Singing Out Its Song Titles—

Blue Barron's Orchestra Will Play Here Next Week

German Fraternity Meets Tonight At 8

Delta Phi Alpha, German fraternity, will meet tonight from 8 to 9 o'clock in room 301 Venable for its first meeting of the year. Dr. Werner P. Friederich, member of the German department who spent some time in Germany and Switzerland during the past year will speak on "Student Life in Nazi Germany." Following the talk a short social program will be held.

All members and all new eligibles have been invited to attend and plans for the coming year will be discussed. Officers are Charles Vilbrandt, president; Charles Putzel, vice president; Leah Robinson, secretary.

This chapter of Delta Phi Alpha was organized here last year under the leadership and guidance of Dr. Richard Jente, head of the German department. The purpose of the fraternity is to foster and recognize excellence in German study.

Polls will be open today from 9 to 5 o'clock in front of the YMCA for the election of four Freshman class officers. The Carolina Political union automatic voting machines will be used with members of the Student council taking charge. Chairman Voit Gilmore yesterday made frantic calls over the eastern part of the United States to obtain permission to operate the machines.

At freshman assembly yesterday Bill Hendrix, vice president of the student body, presided and introduced the four presidential candidates who made one-minute speeches. After the brief talks, Hendrix introduced those men running for vice president, secretary and treasurer.

Shore's Plans

The first speaker, Bill Shore, gave four objectives that he would try to reach when elected, "To secure cooperation and support for the freshman football squad, to occasionally have swing sessions in assembly, to cooperate with the Freshmen Friendship council in having at least one dance each quarter for freshmen only, and to create a feeling of friendship and cooperation among the freshmen."

"I am not a fraternity pledge; I am not backed by a political party; I have made no promises of appointments; and I am not making any rash promises of any kind," said Bill Ward.

When Jack Holland was called upon, he made public his withdrawal favoring Bill Ward. This leaves only three men in the race for president.

Pete Wallenborn of Reidsville, who was nominated for the presidency on Tuesday, has since resigned, also favoring Bill Ward.

What?

"Muck" Dunn said, "Hadn't you rather hear Freddy Johnson and his band than Dean Francis Bradshaw and his speeches? I will better the dull assembly programs and cooperate with the Freshman class in all other ways."

The two men in the running for vice president are Bill Schwartz and Dudley Coker. John Diffindal and Fletcher Mann are out for secretary and Ned Edwards, Ralph Bowman and Fairfax Mackerman remain in the election for treasurer.

Reporters, Heelers Must Attend Meeting

There will be an important meeting of all DAILY TAR HEEL reporters and heelers in the office at 1:30 this afternoon. It is imperative that all be present in mind and body.

Fall German Clubbers Will Change Partners At Annual Dance Set

"The music of yesterday and today played the Blue Barron way" will be featured at the Fall German dance series here next week.

The artists who appear nightly over NBC broadcasts will come from an engagement in the Green room of Hotel Edison, New York, to play for the dance set, which is planned to be one of the most enjoyable ever given on the campus.

Sweet And Hot

It should be some time "if music be the food of love," for the orchestra revels in both sweet and hot rhythms.

It is probably best known for its singing titles.

The boys have developed a different technique, that of announcing an old favorite, which suggests the theme of the song to be played; For example, "Can I Forget You" will be announced with the familiar "Remember Me."
