Tar Heel Spirit Flames As Zero Hour Nears Blue Barron Opens Fall German Set With Concert

TEA DANCE WILL FOLLOW CONCERT, SOPH HOP AT 9:30

Noted Orchestra Is Making First Tour Of Southern States

By BILL RHODES WEAVER
"The music of yesterday and today played the Blue Barron way" will be presented at the opening concert of the German club fall dance set this afternoon in the tin can.

The concert, for which the noted band leader has selected a program similar to his broadcasting style, will be given from 4:30 to 5:30. Admission will be 35 cents. The practice of giving name band concerts was begun last year by the German club to enable students and townspeople to attend.

Following the concert, a tea dance will be held until 6:30. Dress for the dance will be informal.

FIRST TIME DOWN SOUTH

On his first trip south, Blue Barron will present the distinctive music which has made him nationally famous. From the Hotel Edison in New York City, he has been performing over the National Broadcasting Company for the past year. Also he has become a favorite Victor recording artist.

Songs are announced by "singing titles." A new popular tune is not presented directly, but is announced by the rendition of an old favorite; such as, in playing the modern "Can I Forget You?" the number is preceded by the singing of "Remember Me." Most of the titles are sung by Russ Carlisle.

Tonight the sophomore hop will be held from 9:30 to one o'clock. A waltz contest, for which a fee of three dollars will be charged, will be held in connection with the first evening formal.

THEY GET AN EYEFUL

Yesterday afternoon Billy Worth, secretary-treasurer of the German club, announced judges of the contest to be Mr. and Mrs. Roland McClamroch, Mrs. J. Penrose Harland, Dr. English Bagby and E. Carrington Smith.

Participants in the contest will be judged twenty per cent on each of the following points: grace, rhythm, personality, dance deportment and general appearance. Winners will be announced after the dance.

After the Carolina-Duke game tomorrow afternoon, an informal tea dance will be held from 4:30 to 6:30. The series will be concluded with the senior prom from 9 to 12 o'clock tomorrow night.

Leaders and their escorts for tonight's dance are as follows: leader, Lucian Lentz, with Miss Lucy Grey Smithers of Winston-Salem; first assistant leader, Noel Woodhouse, with Miss Jean Grahame of Stovall, Miss.; second assistant, Bunk Gardner, with Miss Roberta Casey of Winston-Salem; Bill Bruner with Miss Adele Swain of Salisbury; Jack

CAMPUS UPHOLDS NO FLOWER RULE OF GERMAN CLUB

Organizations And Coeds Say Nice But Too Much Expense

The subject of flowers for girls at University dances has again been brought up, and again flowers will not be sent. The German club, University dance committee, and the Grail have voted against the flowers this year, and last year's student body voted almost unanimously against them.

Several fraternities on the Hill this year have voted on the action of the different clubs, and a few reports have already been received by the DAILY TAR HEEL. Sigma Nu, Phi Gamma Delta, Zeta Psi, and ATO have voted unanimously to uphold the German club's decision, and it is thought that several others have had similar votes.

COED OPINION

Yesterday girl leaders on the campus were confronted with the question, "What do you think of the German club's action on flowers at the dances?"

The most ardent devotee of flowers of the girls was Olive Cruikshank, who said she thinks "flowers are fine, and girls sure do appreciate them, but we do realize they're expensive."

Bill Malone thinks "it's too bad that the grand old custom of corsages has to be the expense that is cut out of big dance week-ends, because it's a big thrill for a girl to get flowers." However, she thinks that girls should be satisfied without them.

Katherine Fleming would "just as soon have a daisy as a corsage," and Mary Crockett Evans, back on the campus for a visit, says about flowers, "I'm ag'in 'em."

At this afternoon's tea dance dates will be informed that the boys are not sending flowers, and if received, the girls are requested not to wear them.

ARTHUR COMPTON WILL PRESENT McNAIR LECTURES

Addresses On "Man's Approach To God" On November 14-16

Dr. Arthur H. Compton will present the McNair lectures at the University this year it was learned yesterday. He will base his addresses on the main topic of Man's Approach to God. On November 14 he will begin the series speaking on the subject of Science, Religion and the Growth of Man. He will speak on Human Freedom and Physical Law November 15. On November 16 he will complete the series with Man's Relation to God.

This lectureship was founded through a bequest made by Rev. John C. McNair of the class of 1849 which became available to the University in 1906. The series was inaugurated by Francis H. Smith of the University of Virginia.

The will states that the University shall obtain some prominent man of science to deliver before all students a course of lectures showing the mutual bearing of science and theology on each other. The fund provides for an honorarium of $1,000 to the author of the lectures, the remainder being used for publication of the work.

COMMITTEE IN CHARGE

A committee has been selected to take charge of these lectures with Dr. Gustave A. Harter, head of the Latin department, as chairman. The four other members are Dean William deB. MacNider, Dr. Archibald Henderson, Dean F. F. Bradshaw, and Dr. Howard K. Beale. This committee has decided to have the lectures every two years.

The last series was presented in May, 1937, by Professor Thomas which have recently been published.

Dr. Compton, this year's speaker, is well qualified for the work. He received his Ph.D. at the age of 24 and since has spent almost all his time in scientific work. He holds honorary degrees from eight universities and in 1927 received the Nobel prize in Physics for his work with X-rays. He is also actively interested in religion, being elected as chairman of the Layman's Missionary Movement in 1937.

Persistent Fellow-But Still No Soap

Mr. R. Dentfan was a very persistent person. The other day the athletic association received a letter from him asking for a few tickets to the game Saturday. But, the athletic association had sold out. So they wired him no soap.

Mr. R. Dentfan was a little disgusted with the world in general, but he still had a recourse. He wired President Frank Graham. President Frank was sorry he couldn't pull any strings for Mr. R. Dentfan.

Now would have been the time for all good folks to give up in discouragement, but not our public. He wired the governor. His excellency stroked his chin for a moment eyed the little yellow slip and sent his regrets. They had given him the last seat in the stadium and he was not going to give it up for anyone, not even for a vote in the next election.

Mr. R. Dentfan was very discouraged, but, he is a pretty smart guy so you might see him peeking through the branches of the trees back of the stadium tomorrow . . . at least that's how the story goes.

Dr. Frank Makes Talk

President Frank Graham was in Charlotte yesterday to speak to a state-wide teachers meeting on "Federal Aid to Education." He made a similar talk last week in Columbia, South Carolina.

"Tobacco Road" Comes Here November 9 With Road Cast

Georgia Crackers To Struc Stuff For Playmaker Sponsors

"Tobacco Road," drama of Georgia share-croppers now finishing its fifth year on Broadway, will be brought to Chapel Hill under the sponsorship of the Playmakers on Wednesday evening, November 9, according to an announcement made yesterday by Frederick H. Koch, director.

The play, written by Jack Kirkland and based on the novel of the same name by Erskine Caldwell, will be the first New York stage success to visit the University since "Green Pastures." The single performance in Memorial hall will be the only engagement played in North Carolina this season by the only company on tour.

In New York, where "Tobacco Road" has been presented 2,075 times since December 4, 1932, its record has been surpassed by only one other stage play in 205 years of the American theatre. Outside New York, 190 states have seen this play. It has played 16 weeks in Los Angeles, 14 weeks in Philadelphia, 7 each in San Francisco and Chicago, 6 each in Pittsburgh and St. Louis, and 5 each in Boston, Washington, Cincinnati, Cleveland, and Baltimore.

Date And Pass Are Rewards For Contest

Winners of this week's DAILY TAR HEEL advertising contest will receive a Sunday night pass to the Carolina theater and a blind date to go with same.

The questions to be answered and turned in to the business office by 10:30 tomorrow morning are:

1. What is the slogan of the Franklin shop?
2. P. Hal Sims is a master of what game with a French name?
3. Who was Laddie?
4. When did Robert Varley graduate?
5. Whose phone number is 5541?

Card Practice

Tom Myers, sponsor of the card system used at the Tulane game, asks that all those interested in working the cards be in Memorial hall this afternoon at 4 o'clock to work out any defects in the system.

"COLLEGE YEARS" MAKES ITS DEBUT

New Magazine Will Be Clearinghouse

This week appeared the first issue of a new magazine called "College Years." Published four times a year, its purpose is to reflect undergraduate life by articles, short stories, poems, and cartoons written by students or by prominent individuals interested in university problems.

According to the preface, "College Years" is not a humorous or literary publication, but "will serve as a great clearing house for the new and progressive that sprouts in the fertile soil of the student's imagination." Contributions from all undergraduates are welcome, if they deal with some phase of the education world.

The price is 25 cents per issue or 75 cents for a yearly subscription. The issue is now on sale on the newsstands and will probably be sold in the dormitory stores. Jesse Lewis, at the DAILY TAR HEEL office, will head the sales organization of the magazine on the campus while Carroll McGaughey will handle the editorial representation.

Dozen Pledged By Commerce Fraternity

Delta Sigma Pi, professional commerce fraternity, last night pledged students for the first time since reorganization last spring.

Those pledged were Archie Fountain, Roy Apple, Steven Forrest, Ernest Forrest, E. T. Vance, Jim Williams, Henry Akers, Frank Stearns, Tom Crockett, Ben Heath, John Dorsey and Stuart Ficklen.

PEP RALLY STARTS AT 6:30 WITH TORCH PARADE

Students Asked To Wear Pajamas, Meet At Graham Memorial

Torches flaming on a darkened campus will fan the flames of Carolina spirit to a last-minute pitch as pajama-clad students parade tonight in a final pre-game demonstration.

The parade will start from Graham Memorial at 6:30 and lights on the campus will blink to add to the force of the spectacle. Headed by a police escort, University band and cheerleaders the crowd will pour across the campus, through town and back to Fetzer field.

Here fireworks will set off a bonfire and national and campus celebrities will make predictions as to the outcome of the Blue Devil invasion. Mrs. Estelle Lawson Page, former national woman's golf champion, Coach Bob Fetzer, team physician Foy Robertson, Sarge Kelly and George Washington, Davie hall janitor, will be featured.

All Carolina cheerleaders for the past 15 years have been invited to attend.

BROADCAST FAR AND WIDE

Fish Worley and a group of students will do a take-off on the radio programs of distinguished alumnus, Kay Kyser. The University club has made arrangements for WPTF, Raleigh, to broadcast a half hour of the program starting at seven o'clock. Club President Jimmy Davis says that a large quantity of fireworks have been bought to add to the glitter and color of the rally.

Swain hall will open at 4:15 today in order that everyone may eat in time to assemble at Graham Memorial before 6:30. Wood for the bonfire is furnished by David Connor of American Tobacco company. Torches will be furnished by the Book Exchange and University club.

SHEIKS' PURPOSE IS TO UNITE FRATS

Sophomores Make Up Social Clubs

"The Sheiks tend to break down antagonistic spirit among fraternities at certain periods of the school year," President Jimmy Davis, pointed out yesterday when asked to explain the organization.

"The Sheiks, the 13 club and the Order of the Minotaurs (Bulls) bring together sophomore fraternity men in a purely social way and are dedicated to sophomores . . . The three organizations are similar in nature to Gimgoul and Gordon's Head groups which are open to juniors and seniors, not sophomores," Davis further added.

STUDIE AND BILLY AGREE

President Stuart Ficklen of the 13 club and President Billy Hines of the Bulls both agree with Davis, who reports that he is of the opinion that the initiation ceremonies of the three groups are beneficial and that the value received in being a member compensates the membership fees and the unusual campus ceremonies.

The three groups will end their week-long initiations between halves of the Carolina-Duke football game when a mass demonstration will be featured.

"Step-on-It" Brown Is First Arrival

One of the first arrivals for the Carolina-Duke tilt was "Step-on-It" Brown, former waterboy for the Carolina eleven, who pulled in on the bus at noon yesterday.

Four years ago, "Step-on-It" was injured at the Carolina-Virginia game at Charlottesville. He was in bad shape. Returning from the government hospital in Alabama, "Step-on-It" said, "I see come home tuh see our boys beat Duke."
