Tar Heels Leave To Battle Rams

(Continued from page three) who missed the first two games of the season, has seen 16 of his 33 tosses ring true for 206-yards and a 48 percent average. Lalanne's completion average is 42 percent with 22 good throws in 52 attempts for 326-yards gained.

Carolina will have plenty to cut loose with Saturday. Those who have watched the Tar Heels perform in secret practice will attest to the fact that Ray Wolf has many a trick up his sleeve that has never seen the light of a game. He was already to unload some of them against Duke, but rain ruined trick play hopes. But if the skies are clear, Fordham will glance at plenty of old Southwestern razzle-dazzle including such niceties as laterals tacked on the end of forwards, fake punt plays, short flat trick passes, and devious other black magic aerial plots.

RAMS PASS, TOO

While Carolina's passing attack will be the most publicized it would never do to overlook the Fordham aerial game. The Rams, with a crushing line, have been able to get most of their distance on running plays. But if the need ever arises for a throwing game, Fordham has the men that can fire 'em away. Len Eshmont, (fill in your own adjective) sophomore of the Ram forces is one of their best passers with four completions in 13 attempts. Pete Kazlo, who also does the punting, has gained 106-yards for the Crowley men with eight shots good and true in 21 tries. Mike Hearn, a left-handed tosser, hasn't done much throwing, but he will be dangerous.

Anyway you look at it—from the Fordham or the Carolina side—there's likely to be more footballs floating through the air than the Gallup poll would care to count.

Both Fordham and North Carolina took light drills today. The Rams worked behind locked gates on Rose Hill, while down in Chapel Hill Bear Wolf ran his lads through a last light work-out before departing for New York. The team leaves tonight from Durham. It will arrive in New York Saturday morning. Team headquarters before and after the game will be the Hotel Croydon.

Wolf reported everybody on his squad was in good shape raring to go into battle. Prospects were not as bright here at Fordham. Jim Crowley counted noses and sadly reported his first line center Mike De Fillipo might miss most of the game. Eshmont, who had his knee twisted in the St. Mary's game last Saturday, is in top shape again and will play most of the game.

After playing 26 innings May 1, 1920, the Boston Braves and Brooklyn Dodgers called their game, the longest on record, at 1-1.

two touchdowns, and is the only team to beat Detroit by more than seven points. In the ten seasons from 1928 through 1937 only Fordham, Duquesne and the Oklahoma Aggies were able to prove the exception to the rule that two touchdowns is the Detroit allowance to any foe, however strong.

DURHAM, Nov. 10.—Duke university's mighty Blue Devils entrained for Syracuse this afternoon where they risk their perfect six game record against the Syracuse Orange.

In Syracuse, Coach Ossie Solem's men, eager after their upset win over Colgate last Saturday awaited the arrival of the Wallace Wade Blue Devil crew, who was said to consider this game one of their toughest of the year.

Accompanying head coach Wade were line coach Dumpy Hagler and 32 squadmen. Only two first stringers—Leonard Darnell and Willard "Easy" Eaves—were doubtful starters. Darnell, the brilliant sophomore end, was suffering from a touch of influenza, while Eaves has not participated in any hard practice work since he was injured in the Carolina game two weeks ago. Eaves made the trip and probably will play. If Darnell does not start his right flank position will be taken by Bill Bailey.

DUKE TAKES 32

The 32 men making Duke's northern trip are Bill Bailey, Bob Baskerville, Jack Berry, Ken Bragg, Gordon Burns, Leonard Darnell, Jasper "Jap" Davis, Carl Deane, Easy Eaves, Wade Eldridge, John Gross, Bob Haas, co-captain Dan Hill, Allen Johnson, Jack Lange, Frank Killian, Tom Maloney, Wesley McAfee, George McAfee, Jim Marion, Bob O'Mara, Bolo Perdue, Frank Ribar, Spencer Robb, Roger Robinson, Tony Ruffa, Jimmy Senter, Bob Spangler, co-captain Eric Tipton, Harry Welch, Alex Winterson and Fred Yorke.

The Devils went by bus to Henderson, where they boarded their train for Syracuse.

Football's origin dates back to the natives of the Polynesian Islands, who played with a ball made of bamboo pines, and to the Eskimos, who used leather bags filled with stones.

PHI DELTA CHI PLEDGES NEW MEN

Pharmaceutical Frat Gets Nine More

Phi Delta Chi national pharmaceutical fraternity pledged nine University students Wednesday night at their house, 226 McCauley street.

The pledged men are as follows: William R. Nowell, Wendell; Austin T. Swain, Thomasville; J. C. Fox, Jr., Randleman; Harry C. Tee, Jr., Harrington, Delaware; Herbert P. Schoggins, Louisburg; Joseph R. Short, Greensboro; Sherrill Hodges, Fuquay Springs; John McAdams, Burlington; and Thaxter Sain, Lawndale.

Fraternity officers for the year are: president, L. A. Warren; vice president, Jimmy Fox; secretary, E. D. Gaddy and treasurer, John Walker Small Biggs.

The local Alpha Gamma chapter was organized at the University May 30, 1923; this chapter is one of 23 of the outstanding pharmaceutical schools in the country.

The purpose of the fraternity is to promote and advance pharmacy as a profession among the members and to aid the students of pharmacy in a collective way.

Phi Delta Chi's program for the year will include special talks by leading North Carolina pharmacists. Various phases of practical pharmacy—wholesale, retail and hospital—will be the topic for discussions by visiting speakers of the quarter.

Faculty adviser for the professional fraternity is Dr. J. E. Adams, professor of botany and an alumnus of Phi Delta Chi.

Local Boy Head Of VPI Graduate Club

News has been received that Robert S. Dicks was recently elected president of the Virginia Tech post-graduate club. Dicks is the son of Mrs. R. S. Dicks of Chapel Hill.

The club was recently organized at VPI and is composed of graduate students at the school. There are 185 graduates this year, and the club was formed to bring the graduates together and to enable them to enter into intramural activities.

Fordham has a big enough loyal alumni body and there are Carolina rooters in town already to insure a big crowd.

Coeds Give Gymnasts Badly Needed Umph

By BILL LINDAU

The gym team is all for coeds. Coeds are an inspiration toward the attainment of the impossible, more or less.

Some of the boys were trying some stunts on one or more of the apparatuses. Some failed, their efforts being concluded in a melodious plop, as gluteus maximus struck the mat.

During the first part of the experiments, the scene was distinguished by the lack of femles of the guinea pig species. When females of different species were placed within the immediate environment, there was no evident change, except for one performer, whose efforts were redoubled in the presence of a female caninis familiaris. However, the subject had previously had the status of his immediate parentage placed in a dubious position by an acquaintance.

But, at a later stage of the research when some females of the homo sapiens—a couple of coeds—happened to wander into the field, there was immediate, if not cataclysmic transition from the dormant to the highly activated in the subjects. Ed Winstead miraculously held a handstand on the horizontal bar. Another, who had never done a front flip before, on becoming aware of the presence of the females, executed this figure with marvelous efficiency.

Winstead further confirmed the conclusions of the experiment in another situation. The other day, the aforementioned animal was attempting to surmount a bar by propelling himself at the end of a pole. He was trying to polevault.

With the field quite barren, he failed to clear the bar at 9 feet. However, three females appeared within his perception. He proceeded to clear the bar at 11 feet. When the stimulus was withdrawn, however, he resumed his original state of inertia.

player from last year's frays, Williford, Council, Collis, and Pearson were outstanding for the winners, while Batchler led the losers.

Law School produced the most outstanding upset of the week by handing Mangum a 7-0 beating in an unofficial game. The loss was Mangum's first of the season, and it brought to an end a winning streak of 8 victories. The winners were decidedly outplayed on the ground, but capitalized on the only break of the game to score. Clark, Avery, and Walker were outstanding throughout the game.

AND SO IS HE

ARE these busy, trying days for you? Do you find yourself, at day's end, irritable, nerve-weary? Take a moment—study the dog above. He's resting his nerves. Even in the midst of strenuous action he will stop, relax. The dog does that instinctively, though his nerves are complex, high-keyed like our own. We, trained for the intense contest of modern life, are likely to ignore the distress signals of our nerves—the instinctive urge to rest. So often, we let our will-power drive us on at a task, hour after hour, heedless of nerve tension. You don't want your nervous system to be a drag. See what a difference it makes when you rest your nerves regularly—when you LET UP—LIGHT UP A CAMEL. Enjoy the matchless mildness of Camel's rich, ripe tobaccos.
