

Baritone

Pictured above is James Dees, Carolina alumnus, who will present a joint concert with Willi Soyez, German instructor of piano at the University.

DEES, SOYEZ TO PRESENT CONCERT TODAY AT UNION

Singer, Pianist To Give Recital At Graham Memorial

A joint concert will be given by James Dees, baritone, and Willi Hans Soyez, pianist, in the lounge of Graham memorial at 5 o'clock this afternoon. Dees is a Carolina alumnus and resident of Chapel Hill, while Soyez, formerly of Germany, is an instructor of piano at the University.

Dees and Soyez gave a series of joint programs over WDNC last winter, and appeared together on a student union program this summer. Dees has also given a series of programs over WPTF, and was for two years soloist with the University glee club.

Soyez is a pupil of Adolphe Schmidt of the University of Heidelberg. While in Germany, he was active in radio work at Stuttgart, and did much work in southwestern Germany. PROGRAM TODAY

The program will include works by many noted composers and arrangers such as Handel, Purcell, Schumann, Massenet, and two arrangements of negro spirituals by Fisher. Soyez will play numbers by Bach, Mozart, and Verdi-Listz.

Dees is a pupil of Frank Hufty, of Norfolk, Va., and has been since 1934 baritone soloist for the Chapel of the Cross, Episcopalian church, an addition to his work with the glee club.

During the school year of 1936-37 Soyez was exchange student and instructor in piano at the University of Rochester, and during the school year of 1937-38 he held the same position at the University of North Carolina.

IRC ROUND TABLE WILL FEATURE HUSE AND ADAMS

Political Influence On Literary Trends Will Be Discussed

The University of North Carolina round table will feature a new aspect in the treatment of international problems this afternoon from 3:00 to 3:30 p. m. when the participants of the weekly round table discuss "Trends in Literature As Influenced by Varying Political Climates."

The round table is presented weekly over station WPTF in Raleigh and has been made possible by the International Relations club. This Sunday's broadcast marks the sixth of a series of successful broadcasts. The presentations will continue until December 10 and will be temporarily suspended until the winter quarter begins.

Those participating on the round table will be Dr. H. R. Huse of the comparative literature department, and Dr. N. B. Adams of the Spanish department. Henry Nigrelli will preside. The relation between contemporary governments and the literary scene will be the principle theme and the faculty members will discuss the suppression of free thought under political climates, the influence of such upon the literary artist and they will also consider an discuss the attempts of the totalitarian governments to direct literature from its proper channels to those of propagandistic means. A topic of this nature has been given very little discussion hitherto, and the round table should prove particularly interesting this Sunday.

The program will be broadcast as usual in the Graham Memorial lounge and those who do not have radios are invited to listen in at Graham Memorial. The possibility of the program's being extended upon a southern net (Continued on page two)

Noted Woman Lecturer Will Speak At Local Church Today

Dr. Mary Markley Will Appear At Methodist Church

Dr. Mary E. Harkley, secretary of the board of education of the United Lutheran church, and a well-known lecturer on both Lutheran and non-Lutheran campuses, will be the speaker at the Lutheran services to be held in the student room of the Chapel Hill Methodist church at 5 o'clock this afternoon.

Miss Markley member of the executive committee of the Student Volunteer movement, is chairman of the University Commission of the Council of Church Boards of Education. She had traveled extensively in continental Europe and Great Britain, and also has circled the globe, visiting mission fields.

Miss Markley was for seven years a member of the faculty of Agnes Scott college.

During the World War she served as organizer and supervisor of service houses for the National Lutheran Commission for Soldiers and Sailors Welfare.

Woman Lecturer

Dr. Mary E. Markley, noted Lutheran speaker, who will make a talk at the Methodist church this afternoon.

In This, One Carolina Student Was Killed, Two Injured

University Senior Charles C. Spell of Godwin was fatally injured after the automobile pictured above, driven by John C. Finch, crashed into a telephone pole on East Franklin street Friday night. —Staff Photo by Jimmy Dumbell

FINCH TO BE HELD ON CHARGE OF MANSLAUGHTER

Funeral For Spell To Be Conducted This Afternoon

By BILL RHODES WEAVER
John C. Finch, of Lexington, University junior, driver of the sedan in which Charles C. Spell, University senior, was killed Friday night, will be charged with manslaughter, Chapel Hill Chief of Police W. T. Sloan said last night.

Chief Sloan said charges against Finch will not be preferred until he is released from medical observation. Finch, who received lacerations about the chin in the accident, has been ordered to bed and is suffering from shock.

Spell, whose home is in Godwin, was killed when the Buick automobile crashed into a telephone pole and turned over, throwing his body into

Billy Hines and Taylor Brooks, University students, were involved in an accident near Oxford about 7:30 yesterday morning when Hines' convertible coupe overturned. The car caught fire, but the flames were extinguished before much damage was done.

A garageman of Durham, who had been passed by Hines a few minutes before the accident, remarked on how slowly Hines was driving. Hines' coupe, driven downhill, skidded on the wet pavement and turned over. Neither Hines nor Brooks were injured.

Both students were on their way to attend the Woodberry Forest - Episcopal High game which was played at Orange, Va., yesterday afternoon.

He died in the ambulance on the way to Watts hospital. The accident occurred near the intersection of East Franklin and Boundary streets in front of the home of Mrs. Frank Miller about 10:45.

FUNERAL TODAY

The body was brought to Walker's funeral home here. Relatives of Spell arrived here early yesterday morning, and the body was taken to Dunn to be prepared for burial.

Funeral services will be conducted at the home of Spell's parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Spell, in Godwin this afternoon at 2:30. Students will be honorary pallbearers. Those who expect to attend have been asked to (Continued on page two)

YMCA WILL HEAR WOODHOUSE ON NAZI SITUATION

Program For Rest Of Quarter Is Announced Today

The schedule for YMCA and joint YM-YWCA meetings for the remainder of the quarter will include a meeting tomorrow night of sophomores, juniors and seniors in the YMCA lounge to discuss with Dr. E. G. Woodhouse the Christian approach to the German present situation with special emphasis on recent Jewish persecutions.

Immediately after Thanksgiving holidays, November 28, there will be an informal fireside discussion on men-women relations in the Episcopal parish house. This meeting will be conducted by Harry Comer and will serve as a follow-up discussion of Dr. Mildred Morgan's talks here last week.

On December 2 there will be an inter-faith panel discussion with speakers of different faiths who will endeavor to present a broad and unbiased view of religion from a universal viewpoint. Chairman of the meeting will be Dr. G. F. Thomas of the University. R. B. Douglas, Catholic lawyer from Greensboro, will present the Catholic point of view, Professor Albert Russell of Duke University will speak from the Protestant angle, and Rabbi Greenberg of Greensboro will give the Jewish view.

The YMCA will sponsor on December 3 a negro benefit football game, played by negro teams from Greensboro and Chapel Hill, to be played on Fetzer field.

Senate To Discuss Federal Education

At the Di Senate session Tuesday night the bill, Resolved: That since the educational system of the South is so far below the average for the forty eight states, the Di Senate should favor federal aid to education in the South will be discussed.

This bill was on the calendar last week, but due to the interest shown in the bill concerning President Roosevelt and a third term, the bill was tabled until this week so that there would be enough time to hold a thorough discussion.

Much interest has been shown in the bill since the recent reference to the South as an economic problem. An invitation has been extended by President Sam Hobbs to all students who are interested in the bill to attend the meeting Tuesday night.

Dean House To Preach

Dean R. B. House of the University administration will deliver the weekly sermon on "New Churches for Old," at the Chapel Hill Methodist church this morning at 11:00 o'clock.

Free Exhibition

The Buccaneer deadline is today. Editor Pugh declares, "I will be in the office all day."

Come Down, Look Out For Yourself

There will be an important meeting of the DAILY TAR HEEL staff at 1:30 sharp tomorrow afternoon. This session does not include members of the business staff.

All members of the staff are asked to notice changes in the masthead on page two and act accordingly.

Dr. Hart To Speak To Community Club

Dr. Hornell Hart of Duke university, noted sociologist, writer and lecturer, will speak under the auspices of the International Relations department of the Community club on Tuesday evening, December 6, at 8 o'clock in Bingham hall.

The speaker will lead a forum on the topic "Reconciliation in Action." A printed questionnaire on national defense, neutrality, collective security will form the basis for the discussion. The department invites to the meeting all those who are interested in the subjects to be discussed.

Together With Critics—

Roanoke Audiences Accord Performance Of Opera "Faust" Enthusiastic Reception

"Faust" Singer Appearing Tuesday

Franco Perulli, who has sung at La Scala in Milan, San Carlo Opera in Naples, and with the Saltzburg Opera, sings the title role in "Faust" with the Opera-on-Tour company. His "brilliant tenor" voice was praised highly in the recent performance of the opera, at Roanoke, Va.

Opera Production To Be Presented Tuesday Night As Student Entertainment

By JESSE REESE

The Opera-on-tour production of "Faust," which will be presented in Memorial hall, Tuesday evening at 8:30, as the second of this quarter's student entertainments, was "greeted with genuine enthusiasm" in Roanoke recently.

The Roanoke World-News stated that "an excellent cast of principals, well-nigh perfect synchronization with the recorded instrumentation of the London Philharmonic orchestra (which caused many members of the audience to forget, after the first few moments of curiosity, that a flesh-and-blood orchestra was not in the pit), dramatic staging and spectacular costuming and lighting all served to make this production a memorable one."

The Roanoke Times wrote, "A part of the plan for 'bringing opera alive' which Mr. Chavitch has conceived depends upon the costuming, lighting and staging of his presentation. It was apparent that effort and expense were not spared in these branches. Mr. Felix Brentano had done wonders with the general scheme of arches which formed the background of all the scenes. The costumes were colorful and exceedingly beautiful, far surpassing what might have been expected."

Both publications lauded the performances of Arthur Anderson, as Mephistopheles; Miss Nannette Guilford, as Marguerite; Franco Perulli, as (Continued on page two)