Jimmy is rounding out his third quarter at Carolina, which explains why he won't be eligible until January. He entered William and Mary last fall, but long about Christmas saw the light and pulled out to come to North Carolina. And January 2 when the Tar Heels open their campaign against Atlantic Christian, Howard will be out there wearing his Carolina jersey.
His first team mates yesterday in the long drill were Al Mathes at the other guard spot, Ben Dilworth at center, and Fish Worley and Bill McCachren at forwards. The five scrimmaged against a second group made up of Dave Bowman and Frank Cuneo at forwards, Hank Pessar at center, and Lester Branson and Woody Holland at guards. Ball handling was none too sharp, and was interrupted time and time again so Skidmore could point out mistakes.
A third and fourth team scrimmaged against each other before the end of work. Paul Severin and Watts Carr were at forwards, George Glammack at center, and Foy Roberson and Bill Watson at guards for the third group while the fourth lines up with Cooper and Al Carr at forwards, Joe Hilton at forward, and Felix Markham and Frank Cox at guards. —S. outweighed, Jones was not outclassed and the two fought on practically even terms.
Flyweights mixed it up when Larry Bass and Boyst Swan, 118-pounders, breezed through a couple of short-time rounds. Bass, experienced as a freshman last season, had much the finer technique, whereas Swan was in the ring for the first time—"He's got plenty of promise," marveled Ronman.
In a 125-pound fight, Gennett and Wilson were a little reticent to sling leather, but when they did it was a slugfest, with Gennett possibly gaining the edge.
All candidates took a turn at the light and heavy bags, chest weights and jump-rope, finishing up with a round of shadow boxing.

Legislature Favors "Letter" Method

the case of the band the letters NC should be placed over a harp or some such musical instrument.
For some while there was much controversy and arguments both pro and con were presented by members of the legislature. Among these arose again the subject of awarding letters to intramural managers and to cheerleaders.
In place of the monograms McCachren suggested that watch charms could be presented to members of these and other organizations. He also said it was believed that other groups would soon approach the council asking for permission to award letters to certain members of their organizations and that if this kept up, the value of a letter would become greatly diminished and would lose much of its significance to those athletes who have really earned them.

Representative Broadfoot, when given the floor, moved that this "bull session" be stopped and stricken from the record. McCachren retaliated with a repetition of his remark that the athletic groups had asked the legislature to discuss and pass on the measure and requested that they do so.

Jim Joyner arose at this point and declared that the Athletic council had already passed on the plan of awarding letters to the managers of intramural teams.

Jimmy Davis made a motion that the legislature go on record as being "in favor of giving letters to all those who give their time and services to the athletic department with the exception of the cheerleaders who shall get a letter with a megaphone." This motion was voted on and passed by a majority vote.

Chairman Hendrix continued the meeting with the request for nominations for chairmanship of the Ways and Means committee. Jim Davis was elected to this office and also appointed to the committee were Sam Hobbs and Grady Stephens.

A committee headed by Allen Merrill and including Voit Gilmore and Walter Kleeman was appointed to look into the plan of powers and procedure with a view to supplementing and amending the brief plan on which the legislature now operates.

The last officer to be elected was Richard "Fish" Worley as sergeant-at-arms.
The bill concerning the possibilities of a night club at Graham memorial was referred to the Ways and Means committee to be brought up at the next meeting to be held soon after the Christmas holidays.

terial into a representative team.

The idea seeped to Wake Forest, and last fall with Jim Weaver and Peahead Walker doing the lading, the Deacons started building a team. They brought mine and mill boys down, just three or four seasons behind Carolina and Duke. Wake Forest had a great sophomore team this fall, and promises to do better in the future. Even pure Davidson sees the handwriting on the wall, and has started to reach out for players.

Wade goes to the Rose Bowl. Big-time football in North Carolina has come of age. How long will it stay there—well 52,000 saw Duke and Pitt—40,000 viewed Carlina and Duke—there's your answer. It will stay as long as it pays.

And that, like the fires of hell, is eternally.

Call a halt on needless NERVE STRAIN

HE'S RESTING HIS NERVES.

AND SO IS HE

IT'S THRILLING to watch the flashing greyhound in full flight. But it's important to note that when the race is over he rests—as the greyhound above is doing now. Though the dog's highly keyed nervous system closely resembles our own, the dog relaxes instinctively! Life as it is today leads us to ignore fatigued nerves. We carry on despite increasing tension, strain. Be kind to your nerves if you want them to be kind to you. Pause a while, now and then. LET UP—LIGHT UP A CAMEL! Let the frequent enjoyment of Camel's mild, ripe tobaccos help you take life more calmly, pleasantly, profitably!
