FDR Will Receive Honorary Degree Today

UNION RECEPTION TO BE BROADCAST OVER STATE CHAIN

Guests, Sponsors Invited To Affair In Graham Memorial

A reception given by the Carolina Political union with the joint purpose of honoring the men who have helped the union in obtaining speakers and celebrating the third anniversary of the organization will be broadcast from Graham Memorial lounge where the reception will be held from 5:30 to around 7:30 today.

President Roosevelt and his immediate party will not be able to attend as they must catch a special train from Durham for Washington. Among the 250 prominent men from North Carolina expected to attend are Governor Clyde R. Hoey, President Frank Graham, Attorney-General A. A. F. Seawell, and Secretary of State Thad Eure.

RECEIVING LINE

Receiving at the affair will be Union Chairman Voit Gilmore, and faculty advisors of the union. Attendance, it has been announced, is by invitation only.

A large three-tiered cake done in blue and white and topped with three candles will be cut to celebrate the union's third birthday. Coffee will be served the guests.

The radio program will be conducted in a very informal manner. Notables will be called to the microphone to say a few words but there will be no regular speeches delivered. Arrangements were not certain Sunday night but the union hopes to obtain Carl Goerch to conduct an adaptation of his "Man on the Street" program.

The CPU faculty advisors are F. F. Bradshaw, M. S. Breckenridge, L. M. Brooks, W. E. Caldwell, D. D. Carroll, H. F. Comer, E. E. Ericson, F. P. Graham, L. O. Katsoff, G. M. McKie, W. A. Olsen, and J. M. Saunders. Other prominent men expected to attend are Hon. Josiah Bailey, State WPA Administrator G. W. Coan, Jr., author Jonathan Daniels, Carl Goerch, head of the Utilities commission W. Winborne, and member of the North Carolina Supreme court Judge H. Clark Su.

Dan Hill of Duke was placed at second string center. Paul Shu of VMI, high scorer in the Southern conference, was named in the third team backfield. No other conference players made any of the first three teams.

Chuck Kline, Jim Woodson, George Strinweiss, and George Watson of Carolina all rated honorable mention. Eric the Red Tipton, Bob O'Mara, Bolo Perdue, Leonard Darnell, Fred Yorke, Ribar, Haas, and Johnson, all placed from Duke.

To Take Important Part In CPU Third Anniversary Program This Afternoon

Well-known figures who will speak at the Carolina Political union's anniversary celebration in Kenan stadium today are: upper left, Governor Clyde R. Hoey, who will welcome visitors to the state; lower left, University President Frank P. Graham, who will introduce the main speaker—Franklin D. Roosevelt, center; Voit Gilmore, above, Chairman of the Carolina Political union, will open the program.

CHIEF EXECUTIVE TO SPEAK ON CPU PROGRAM AT 4:30

President Will Be Made Doctor Of Law By University

After a citation for the degree of Doctor of Laws by President Frank P. Graham for University faculty and trustees, Franklin Delano Roosevelt will address the student body of the University at 4:30 this afternoon in Kenan stadium in what is expected to be one of his most vital addresses of the current year.

Arriving in Chapel Hill from Sanford at approximately four o'clock, the President and his party will make a short tour of the campus along Pittsboro road, Cameron avenue, Raleigh street and South road before going to the stadium. The trip from Sanford is expected to take about one and one-half hours, with the 20 cars and one newsreel truck leaving as soon as the President's special train arrives in Sanford.

SUBJECT OF SPEECH

President Roosevelt has yet to announce the subject of his speech, which is sponsored by the Carolina Political union, but will more than likely talk on one of four topics: American foreign relations; the administration's legislative plans for the 1939 Congress; the economic situation of the South; and his opinion of the results of the national election in September. Foreign relations are pertinent since recent international developments and the withdrawal of Ambassador Hugh Wilson from Germany and the resulting withdrawal of the German ambassador to the United States, Hans Dieckhoff.

In case of severe weather conditions, the locale of the address will be removed to Woollen gymnasium, but on questioning the United States weather bureau in Raleigh last night, the DAILY TAR HEEL learned that fair and warmer weather was in prospect today.

It is not usually the custom of the University to announce the conferring of an honorary degree, but this was set aside in the case of Roosevelt. Governor Clyde R. Hoey, after welcoming visitors to the state and the University, will present Dr. Frank Graham, who in turn will confer the honor on Roosevelt.

CPU members were busy yesterday arranging final plans for the day's program, which will begin with the University band playing several numbers and a concert by the WPA Negro choir of Greensboro and Durham. (Continued on page two)

Hamlin, Klutz Chosen For Alabama Debate

Lewis Hamlin of Brevard and Clarence Klutz of Salisbury have been selected by the Debate council to represent the University against the University of Alabama Wednesday night on the question: Resolved, That the United States should cease using public funds for the stimulation of business.

Sam Hobbs will preside at the non-decision debate which will begin in Graham Memorial lounge at 8:30.

PUBLICITY AGENTS TO COVER CAMPUS IN FULL FORCE

Newspapers, Radio Systems, Newsreels Will Be Included

When the presidential spotlight illuminates the University and the CPU today, few will realize what a deluge of publicity has been and will be thrust into the public eye.

Newspapermen, telegraphers, broadcasters, and newsreelmen will be here in full force. The Columbia Broadcasting System and National Broadcasting company will have their best men on the spot: Bob Trout, presidential announcer for CBS, and Hugh Wilson, announcer of presidential news for NBS. Possibly the Mutual Broadcasting System will join the hook-ups, marking the first time three national radio networks have been used from Chapel Hill. Other broadcasting men for the occasion are: C. D. Smith, A. E. Johnson, and John C. Daly.

All newspaper services will have a large representation here. Some have been on the campus since last week completing their arrangements. The newspapermen to be present are: Hon. M. H. McIntyre, the President's publicity director for this trip; Frederick A. Stern; George Durne; Harold Oliver; Felix Belair, Jr.; Walter Trohan; Coleman B. Jones; W. C. Murphy; John O. Donnell; Miss Elsie Roberts; and Miss Bourke-White.

Five of the prominent newsreel companies will cover the President's address: Paramount, Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer, Pathe, Hearst Metrotone News, and Fox Movietone. Other (Continued on last page)

CPU Performance Hits New High On Third Anniversary

A question which has been asked frequently during the last few weeks on this campus is: "How can a small group of students independent of the University bring to Chapel Hill such speakers as Franklin D. Roosevelt, James Farley, Frances Perkins, Norman Thomas, Earl Browder, Frank Knox and Tom Girdler?"

Made up of 25 students of the University, the Carolina Political union has achieved a remarkable record in its work, carried on without any official administration assistance, of bringing important men and women to Chapel Hill without paying either their expenses or an honorarium, and then, following their addresses, submitting them to a cross-examination of the type that only a college audience can give.

Depending upon campus donations and members' dues for its support, the union has drawn for itself a nation-wide reputation for presenting on a non-partisan basis so many well-known speakers of nearly as many contrasting beliefs and viewpoints.

UNIQUE GROUP

Only group of its kind in the United States, the CPU embodies an attempt on the part of at least one segment of the nation's youth to study intelligently the processes of government—an element which is considered essential in any well-working democracy. It was with this theme in mind that a group of students under Dr. E. J. Woodhouse got together in the spring quarter of 1936, led by Floyd Fletcher, a senior from Raleigh, and formed the Carolina Political union.

Frank C. McGlenn, of Philadelphia, on being chosen the first chairman, spent the rest of that year solidifying the organization and objectives of the union. After a study of the Oxford, Cambridge, Harvard, and Dublin unions was made, a constitution was adopted providing for a membership of 25 students with Professor Wood- (Continued on last page)

UNIVERSITY BAND TO PLAY TODAY

WPA Negroes Sing On Music Program

Music will play its part today when President Roosevelt arrives to deliver his address in Kenan stadium. The University band will assemble on the field in front of the platform at 3:45 this afternoon and play until the arrival of the presidential party. As the party reaches the gate, the band will swing into "Hail to the Chief" and will continue to play until the President is seated. This will be followed by a cheer from the student section of the stands and "Hark the Sound." After the President has finished speaking, "The Star Spangled Banner" will be played.

WPA SINGERS
 Also on the program will be a chorus of 85 WPA Negro singers, factory workers from Winston-Salem and Durham. They will be seated on the field near the concrete stands and will sing two Negro spirituals.

The University Glee club has been asked to sit down toward the front of the student section and lead in the singing of "Hark the Sound."

TENTATIVE LIST OF FUTURE CPU SPEAKERS GIVEN

Perkins, Carter, Allen On Schedule For Winter Quarter

Continuing its traditional policy in maintaining a balance of opinion, the Carolina Political union has issued a list of tentative and definite speakers lined up to speak to the students. January will be a banner month, with four national figures giving varied views on the political status of the nation both at home and abroad. During the following months, the union will attempt to maintain the number of speakers per month at that level.

Miss Frances Perkins, secretary of labor in President Roosevelt's cabinet, will address the student body on the labor differences evident in America today on January 11. The difficulties of the Congress of Industrial Organizations and the American Federation of Labor will be explained by the only woman member of the cabinet.

CARTER COMING

Boake Carter, national network commentator, will throw light on the current international situation in his talk. In contrast to the more conservative Carter is Robert S. Allen, whose column "Washington Merry-Go-Round", written jointly with Drew Pearson, is read by millions daily.

The other January speaker is Glenn Frank, noted journalist and political authority, who has turned his energies to lecturing in behalf of the Republican cause. It is expected (Continued on last page)

University Convocation

From the time of the arrival of President Roosevelt, approximately 4 p. m., through the duration of his visit is considered a University convocation. The faculty are asked to attend but academic costume will not be used.

University offices will close at 3 p. m. to allow all member of the staff opportunity to attend the convocation.

The majority of University exercises will have closed by 4 p. m. but instructors in charge of exercises near that time are asked to excuse classes in time for students to get to the stadium. A number of students, as for instance in the band and on the several committees should be excused according to their needs. Such students are requested to refer their circumstances to their individual instructors and instructors are requested to excuse them.

(Signed:) R. B. House, Dean of Administration.

Ushers Requested To Arrive By 3:30

George Nethercutt last night requested all Monogram club members to arrive at Kenan stadium by 3:30 this afternoon. Members of the organization are to act as ushers.

Sophomore YMCA cabinet members, the Freshman Friendship council, other groups who have been requested by the CPU to usher today, and all students who have volunteered are also asked to reach the stadium by 3:30.
