Student Party Men To Complete Slate

Student party members will reopen fire with their political big guns when convention delegates meet tomorrow night at 8:30 in the Phi hall to complete the party slate of nominees with the exception of candidates for publications offices.

Nominations of the latter group will not be made until after the staff selections are announced.

As the convention will be one of the last before the coming spring elections, Party Chairman Britt urged all delegates to be present.

Delegates to the convention are representatives elected from each floor of the dormitories, from town groups, and from fraternities affiliated with the party organization.

Graduate Students !!!

Graduate students who have not registered for the spring language examinations must do so today. The German examination will be held this Saturday; the French examination, next Saturday, April 1.

Graduate students who expect to receive the master's degree in August must make formal application for the degree by Monday.

CLASS PRESIDENT INVOLVED IN FUND DEFICIENCY CASE

Joyner Appoints Freshman Committee For Investigation

By JIMMY DUMBELL

A statement issued by Bill Shore, defending himself against charges made by a number of members of the freshman class; a counter-statement by Ned Edwards, class treasurer; the appointment of a committee of six freshmen to investigate the financial activities of the class during the past several months; and the release of a report by the student funds auditor, Clyde Shaw, all constitute the latest developments in the case involving a deficiency in the funds of the freshman class, which was raised two weeks ago when Shore announced that a small assessment must be levied upon all those attending the class dance.

Announcement of this fact caused several class members to begin an investigation into the doings of the class, and they reported that some 50 to 90 dollars of the class' money was missing. It was reported that rumors have been circulating in the freshman dormitory to the effect that Shore gave the recent freshman smoker without the approval of the Finance committee and that a petition was being circulated advocating the impeachment of the class president.

SHORE DEFENSE

In his own defense Shore read yesterday a complete account of the financial doings of the class during the past quarter, announcing that the statement had just been issued by Clyde Shaw, student fund auditor, and that the class books are open to the public. The statement showed that all projects sponsored by the class during that period were backed by checks signed

UNC GROUPS AID GERMAN REFUGEES

Funds Sought For Enrollment Of Jews

Concentrated efforts to provide educational facilities at the University for at least six refugee German Jews next year are being made here by five University organizations, it was learned yesterday.

Participating in the drive to aid the exiled people are the YMCA, YWCA, Hillel Foundation, Alpha Kappa Gamma, and the Friends group. Dean D. D. Carroll heads the organization committee of students and faculty members representing the participating agencies.

The Hillel Foundation has already raised enough money for one student and has secured a promise of free room and board for two students from two campus Jewish fraternities, TEP and ZBT. It is hoped that financial arrangements for at least six can be made by the end of April.

TO PETITION

The University administration will be petitioned to charge only the in-state tuition fee for the refugees.

Similar movements are being carried on in colleges all over the country under sponsorship of the International Student service. However, the drive here, as well as elsewhere, is being localized and has no direct connection with any outside agency.

Alonzo Squires Announces Wedding

Announcement was made yesterday of the marriage of Alonzo G. Squires, blind student here, and Miss Agnes Wainwright of Farmville, on December 27, 1938.

Squires, whose home is at Kelly, is well known here for his impersonations on amateur programs and other entertainments. He is a member of the freshman class executive committee.

Mrs. Squires is residing in Greenville while her husband continues his studies. Upon completion of his undergraduate work he will enter law school.

Issues Statement

Defending himself against charges made by a number of members of the freshman class of which he is president, Bill Shore, above, yesterday issued a statement giving a complete report of the financial doings of the class during the past quarter.

Woodhouse Class Hears Will Irwin

"One principal function of journalism is to mould public opinion," Will Irwin, author of "Herbert Hoover" and "Propaganda," told approximately 150 students in Professor E. J. Woodhouse's contemporary problems class yesterday morning.

Irwin, visiting while here Louis Graves, editor of the Chapel Hill Weekly, whom he knew in New York when Graves was a reporter for the New York Times and Irwin held a similar job on the New York Sun, was chief of American Foreign propaganda during the World war.

DEFINITION

Defining propaganda as "a dignified word for explaining what we mean," Irwin declared further that public opinion is no longer moulded by editorials but by news stories. "But we need two words to describe propaganda," he said, "fair and unfair."

Branding journalism as a "rough art" because the readers can never know whether the writer writes for pay or belief, Irwin praised the United States as the only country with a "free press."

In this country, he said, it is possible to publish anything as long as it is

DRAMATIC GROUPS WILL HOLD FINALS IN CONTESTS HERE

Playmaker Profs To Conduct Class For Guests Today

The final contest in city high school play production to be held this afternoon at 2 o'clock and tonight at 7 o'clock in the Playmaker theater will be the second featured event in the sixteenth annual dramatic festival being held at the University this week. About 500 directors, players, and playwrights will be here for the event.

Last night the festival was opened with the presentation of the winning play in the full-length original play contest, "Oh Golden Weed," by Jameson Bunn Dowdy of Rocky Mount.

INVITATION

During the morning session today an invitation is extended to all visitors to attend the classes conducted by Professors Ed Wynn, F. H. Koch, and Harry Davis in the theater. The theater museum, at 112 and 113 Murphey, is open throughout the festival to visiting delegates.

Four schools will participate in the final contest to be presented during the afternoon. "Sugar and Spice" will be presented by Lenoir high school; "St. Agnes Eve" by Rocky Mount high school; "New School of Wives" by Gastonia high school; and "Tooth or Shave" by Southern Pines high school.

TONIGHT

At 7 o'clock tonight the final contest in Junior Community and WPA groups' play production will take place. Three groups will participate: "Playgoers" presented by Durham Junior Community Players, Durham; "Wash Carver's Mouse Trap" by the Cunning-

JONES ATTEMPTS SPENCER THEFT

Negro's Trial Set For Superior Court

Eddie Jones, Negro, employed at Spencer hall for a number of years, terminated his services with the University during the spring vacation when he made an unsuccessful attempt to rifle the desk of Mrs. Irene F. Lee, hostess at the women's dormitory, and was subsequently apprehended by Chief of Police W. T. Sloan.

Jones confessed the attempted burglary Thursday and was jailed in Hillsboro in default of $500 bond, to await trial in Superior court.

WEDNESDAY NIGHT

He entered Mrs. Lee's office on Wednesday night by breaking a window pane and unlatching the window. He sustained two cuts on his right hand in making his entry and these later led to his apprehension.

The Negro, who had been employed in various capacities at the dormitory, knew of the usual location of Mrs. Lee's cash box, it was said, but she had moved around $30 elsewhere during the holiday and left nothing in the box. Nothing else was missing from the office.

Investigating the attempted robbery, Chief Sloan learned that Jones had not reported to work Thursday so he went to his home, extracted a confession from him, and placed him under arrest. Discovery of blood on the office window led Chief Sloan to suspect Jones when he observed that Jones' hand was cut.

Frosh Committee To Discuss Chapel Bill

Bill Shore, president of the freshman class, yesterday announced his intention of presenting to the chapel committee this afternoon a bill which would provide for the abolition of freshman chapel, effective after the program next Monday.

There will be a meeting of the committee in the small lounge of Graham memorial this afternoon at 2:30 for the purpose of discussing this bill and it is expected that action will be taken immediately on the subject.

Heads Sophomores

Hargrove "Skipper" Bowles, president of the Sophomore class, which will give its annual set of dances this week-end in conjunction with the Order of the Grail. Bids can be secured from the YMCA beginning today.

FACULTY TO USE ARCHER FOR NEW CLUB QUARTERS

Members Plan For Monday Luncheons In Carolina Inn

At a meeting on March 6 members of the faculty voted to form a faculty club and accepted from the University for club use the lower floor of Archer house including the end room for luncheon quarters.

By this decision the faculty declined the alternative offer of the University that the faculty accept the whole Archer house and rent the upstairs rooms. At present the upper floor is held by the University which, however, will cooperate with the faculty in renting rooms only to those who are acceptable to the club.

LUNCHEONS

Preliminary to faculty club activity, plans were made at the meeting to organize Monday luncheons in the small dining room off the main dining room at the Carolina inn for any of the faculty caring to come in. Dr. W. A. Olsen, chairman of the committee planning for the club, announced, as an alteration of the former bi-weekly plan, that there will be no formalities or speeches.

LUNCH

Lunch will be served from 1 to 2 o'clock and Leigh Skinner, manager of the inn, has said that the luncheons will be continued as long as 20 faculty members are present.

On the faculty club committee which will function until the organized club elects a board of governors are:

Miss Smith Is Contest Winner

A Corona typewriter has been awarded to Miss Betty Smith of Chapel Hill as first prize for her play, "Three Comments on a Martyr," in the 1938 One-Act Playwriting Contest conducted by the Berkeley Playmakers of Berkeley, Calif.

Miss Smith is a previous prize-winner in this playwriting contest, her "So Gracious is the Time" having been presented by the Berkeley Playmakers last year. This production ranked as Northern California's outstanding achievement of the season.

Having been recently awarded a Rockefeller fellowship she went to Berkeley from the Federal theater in New York to work under the supervision of F. H. Koch when he was conducting a summer course on the west coast.

Judges in the contest included Irving Pichel, well known Hollywood director and little theater authority, and George Warren, former drama editor of the San Francisco Chronicle.

UNION SPEECH SET FOR 8:30 AT MEMORIAL HALL

Republican Leader Will Conduct Open Forum Discussion

By JIM McADEN

For the first time in a long while a prominent Republican politician will face a Southern Democrat audience at a public meeting with John D. Hamilton, red-haired chairman of the Republican National committee speaking on a Carolina Political union program at 8:30 tonight in Memorial hall. The speech will be followed by an open-forum discussion between Hamilton and the audience.

Hamilton, 47 year-old ringmaster of a political party which has been underdog for six years, has not as yet announced the subject of his address, but the speech is expected to deal in general with a discussion of Republican chances and candidates in the 1940 presidential election.

The Kansas lawyer and former legislator from that state has been touring the South during the past few weeks in an attempt to sound out politics in this section. His appearance tonight will be his only official public address while on the tour.

Hamilton will leave his train at Selma at approximately 6:30 tonight and be brought to Chapel Hill by CPU members. In Memorial hall he will join a party of prominent state Republicans on the platform, beginning his speech at half past eight. Besides CPU members among the 25 persons who will be on the stage are Judge I. M. Meekins, Gilliam Grissom, Mr. and Mrs. Worth D. Henderson, E. M. Stanley, North Carolina Young Republicans chairman, and Jake Newell, chairman of the state Republican committee.

Hamilton has been leader of his party since 1936 when presidential aspirant Alfred M. Landon chose him as his campaign manager. When his nominee was defeated by Roosevelt, he began leading a fight to alter and rejuvenate his party and some of its policies.

He is a graduate of Northwestern university law school. His political career began with service in the Kansas House of Representatives, in which he was later speaker. He became a member of the Republican National committee in 1932.

Following the open-forum session, a reception for Hamilton will be given in the main lounge of Graham memorial, to which the entire audience has been invited.

Handbook Editor

Editor for next year's Freshman Handbook will be selected some time this week. H. F. Comer, secretary of the YMCA, said yesterday. On the handbook committee are Dr. E. L. Mackie, chairman, Dean F. F. Bradshaw, Roy Armstrong, and J. M. Saunders. Four persons have applied.

Douglas To Speak

Dr. Carl R. Douglas of the Education department will this week address the South Carolina Education association in Columbia, S. C.

Yackety-Yack Needs Snapshots Now !!!

Editor Rutherford Yeates of the Yackety-Yack was waxing vehement yesterday afternoon. He was in a quandary because he needs 40 pages of snapshots by Saturday in order to get out this year's annual by the time old man School 1938-39 breathes its last around June 1.

"And if the other 25 members of this staff don't show up tomorrow," Yeates moaned as he tore through his well-placed locks, "well, we'll be mailing out annuals next November."

After deploring the situation, Yeates repeated his "generous" offer for snapshots—15 cents—and admitted his willingness to throw in the price of flash bulbs for shots taken at night.

Yeates requests unanimous attendance at a staff meeting this afternoon at 2 o'clock, and he does want photos.
