

Yackety-Yack Hands Next Year's Reins To Jack Lynch

EDITORIALS:
 • Overemphasis On Expansion

The Daily Tar Heel

WEATHER:
 From looks of sky:
 Fair

THE ONLY COLLEGE DAILY IN THE SOUTHEAST

VOLUME XLVII

EDITORIAL PHONE 4151

CHAPEL HILL, N. C. THURSDAY, APRIL 6, 1939

BUSINESS PHONE 4356

NUMBER 189

UP Nominates Barnett For Tar Heel Editor

Committee's Slate Voted In By Coed Assembly

RISING SENIOR CHOSEN OVER
 STAFF NOMINEE

CORBETT, KELLY,
 RANKIN, McLEAN
 ARE VICTORIOUS

President Malone
 Urges Coeds To Support Warren

Headed by Miss Melville Corbett the entire slate of officers presented by the nominating committee for the Woman's association and the Athletic council was voted into their positions yesterday afternoon unopposed.

The officers elected for the Woman's association were Miss Corbett, president; Miss Martha Kelly, vice-president; Miss Gene Rankin, secretary; and Miss Sarah McLean, treasurer. Miss Terrell Everett was chosen president of the Athletic council and with her will serve Miss Mary Lewis, secretary and Miss Ann Moore, treasurer.

As no petitions for further nominations were presented the motion was made and passed to accept unanimously the nominations of the committee appointed by Bill Malone, president of the association. On this committee were: Miss Olive Cruikshank, Miss Kathryn Fleming, Miss Margaret Evans, Miss Betty Norcross, Miss Lillian Howell, Miss Edna Hines Bynum.

(Continued on page two)

DAWSON GIVES HIS OBJECTIVES

SP Man Plans To Aid Debating

Without attempting to formulate a campaign "platform," Joe Dawson, Student party candidate for the Debate council, announced yesterday that, if elected, his chief object will be to stimulate campus interest in debating by giving the student body a greater opportunity to take a part in the selection of the topics for discussion.

"In the past, student debates have suffered a lack of interest as far as the average student is concerned," Dawson said. "This situation is deplorable in view of the fact that every student pays a share to the support of the Debate council. It is an injustice to the student to have the workings of this organization a strictly closed affair. The way to inject student interest in the debates is to have subjects of timely interest to the students."

Dawson, a junior, is a transfer student from Emory university where he was a member of the debating team and the Emory Round Table of the Air, a weekly forum of international and national events. He also won a varsity award in football. The nominee is speaker pro tempore of the Phi assembly, member of the International Relations club, a member of the University Photographic society. He took a prominent part in the recent student lobby protesting an increase in tuition.

Nominations For Student-Faculty Queen To Be Soon

Polls Will Open
 Tuesday; Day Is To Be April 25

Polls will open Tuesday for the nominations for the King and Queen of Student-Faculty day, scheduled for April 25. The final election will take place next Wednesday.

The three faculty members receiving the highest number of votes in the Tuesday primary will be taken as nominees for king, and the nominees for queen will be the ten girls receiving the most votes in the primary. The polls at the YMCA will open at 10 o'clock and close at 5 on both Tuesday and Wednesday. All students

(Continued on page two)

HRI Moves Into Final Full Day Of Activity As Theme Of Education Rises For Discussion; Davenport Asks Government Aid To Business

Fortune Editor,
 Economist Talks
 On State of Nation

Analyzing the state of the nation as that primarily favoring the interests of an "economic man," Russell Davenport, editor of Fortune magazine, last night urged government support of business once more, in a Human Relations institute talk on "Business and Government Relationships" in Memorial hall. John Lee Coulter, noted economic and business consultant, also favored the reinstatement of public faith in business, in his speech on "The Farmer and the Manufacturer."

Davenport defined the great mass of people as being divided into three basic groups, the behavioristic, the spiritualistic, and the economic. He was careful to point out, however, that there was a certain amount of intermingling of the three characteristics in every man, but that primarily each man was dominantly one of the trio.

In defining what his divisions meant, Davenport stated that the behaviorist man was just an ordinary man with routine responsibilities, and with only motives of sheer existence, taking the least risk and the least responsibility. The spiritual man is the man with a soul. He is guided by that which science has not as yet fulfilled, placing much moral faith in the spiritualistic.

ECONOMIC MAN
 The economic man, as the editor of Fortune magazine pointed out, is the product of relations with man. He is controlled by a free will and is the most complex unit yet evolved in the history of the world.

After reviewing the birth of the economic man in the Renaissance, Davenport explained that the revolution which took place and is commonly called the Industrial Revolution was in reality a revolution of the concept of the state. He added that the emancipation which has taken place in the last two hundred years is the greatest that the world had even seen.

Laying claim to the lack of production (Continued on last page)

All Arts, Sciences
 Seniors: Attention!

All seniors in the College of Arts and Sciences who have not applied for a degree must do so today if they wish to have their names on the commencement invitations and if they expect to graduate. It is imperative that this clearance through the Arts and Sciences office in South building be made today.

Would-Be Marines
 Must Apply Today

Major George W. McHenry of the United States Marine Corps will be in the small lounge of Graham Memorial this afternoon and tonight for the purpose of interviewing and receiving applications from any sophomores interested in becoming Platoon Leaders in the Marine corps.

All sophomores are eligible and those juniors who will not graduate until 1941 are also eligible. The course consists of two summer training courses at camps in Quantico where the applicants will receive about six weeks training for the posts they will occupy.

(Continued on page two)

Favors Classics

Dean Scott Buchanan of St. John's college, Annapolis, Maryland, who will debate on systems of education with Dr. John A. Rice, president of Black Mountain college, tonight at 8 o'clock as the feature attraction of today's HRI program.

STAFF SUPPORTS
 JUNIOR SECTION
 ANNUAL MANAGER

Lynch Says He Will Work For More Pictures

Jack Lynch, at present one of the two associate editors of the Yackety-Yack, was the staff's choice for editor of the yearbook for the year 1939-40 when they elected him over the only other candidate, Wiley Smith, by a large majority vote yesterday afternoon.

Lynch announced that his plans for the yearbook, if he is elected by the student body, will center around the idea of running individual pictures of all freshmen and sophomores next year. According to Rutherford Yeates, present editor of the Yackety Yack, the yearbook is five years behind all other colleges in this respect.

The newly elected editor was one of the few section editors in his freshman class (Continued on last page)

HRI Public Meetings For Today
 (In Memorial Hall)

- 10 A.M.—T. L. Tsui, first secretary to the Chinese Embassy in Washington. Subject: "Significance to the World of the Sino-Japanese Conflict"
- 1 P.M.—Luncheon conference with Dean I. L. Kandel of Columbia University, for Deans, Department Heads, Education faculty, advanced students in Graham Memorial Banquet hall. Subject: "Educational Trends in Totalitarian States" Discussion following Dr. Kandel's address
- 8 P.M.—A Debate on Education: Speakers: Dr. John A. Rice, president of Black Mountain College "The Totalitarian Man." Dean Scott Buchanan, St. John's College, Annapolis, Md. "Essential Liberal Education."

HRI Classroom Seminars For Today

- 9 A.M.—Dr. John A. Rice
 - 11 A.M.—Russell Davenport
 - 11 A.M.—Haberler
 - 12 noon—T. L. Tsui
 - 2 P.M.—Haberler
- (All those wishing to attend the seminars are welcome to fill the vacant seats)
 (Any professor wishing to engage speakers communicate with Henry Nigrelli in the YMCA)

Tsui, Kandel
 Will Handle
 Morning Part

As the Human Relations Institute moves into the final full day of activity, education for democratic participation holds forth as the outstanding issue of the program. The schedule will get underway this morning at 10 when T. L. Tsui will deal with the Chinese situation, a luncheon talk by Dr. I. L. Kandel, and culminated this evening by a debate on systems of education between Dr. John A. Rice, president of Black Mountain college, and Dean Scott Buchanan, of St. John's college, Annapolis, Maryland.

This morning at 10 o'clock T. L. Tsui, first secretary of the Chinese embassy in Washington, will speak on "Significance to the World of the Sino-Japanese Conflict." The Chinese representative is expected to give his nation's viewpoint of the present situation in the Far East. He is a graduate of the University of Shanghai and was a secretary to the League of Nations for several years.

A luncheon will be held this afternoon at 1 o'clock in the Graham Memorial banquet hall for all deans, de-

(Continued on last page)

DELTA SIGMA PI HOLDS BANQUET

Benny Hunter
 Guides Program

Over 60 active members, prospective pledges, and alumni of the local chapter of Delta Sigma Pi attended the Commerce Fraternity's pledge banquet on the second floor of Graham Memorial last night.

Talks by Dr. M. D. Taylor of the Commerce department, Warren Haddaway, former headmaster of the fraternity, and H. A. Binehart, regional director of Delta Sigma Pi were featured on the evenings program.

Dr. Taylor gave a detailed account of the establishment of a Placement bureau for Delta Sigma Pi graduates. He lauded the work of Milton Hogan and the placement bureau committee which has been gathering material on the subject for some time. He explained that "of the 90 letters that have been sent out to businessmen in this regard, 20 have resulted in leads to definite jobs."

Warren Haddaway, who was largely responsible for the reorganization (Continued on page two)

Luncheon Speaker

At a luncheon to be held today at 1 o'clock in Graham Memorial banquet hall for all deans, department heads, the education faculty, and advanced students, Dr. I. L. Kandel of Columbia University, above, will speak on "Educational Trends in Totalitarian States."

JOHN CREEDY SENDS IN HIS RESIGNATION

Publications
 Board Accepts
 Editor's Action

The resignation of John Creedy as editor of the Carolina Magazine was read before the Publications Union board at its meeting yesterday afternoon and accepted by the board, announced Tim Elliot, president of the board and Student Party candidate for the vice-presidency of the student body.

No reason was given for Creedy's resignation but it is known that he left the campus yesterday afternoon for Indiana where he will join his wife. Also included in his resignation was a suggestion that the staff nominee for editorship next year, Allen Green, serve as acting editor for the next and last issue of the magazine. This suggestion was adopted by the board. It is believed that Creedy may return to the campus within a few weeks and secure a job here.

The only other business contracted by the board was the granting of the sum of 50 dollars to David Stick for expenses in taking care of the visitors at the annual North Carolina Scholastic Press institute which will meet here April 14 and 15.

Campus Cats Will Find Out Whether Swing Is Indecent

Episcopal Choir
 To Sing Tonight

The choir of the Episcopal church will sing a short program of sacred music before the communion service tonight, Maundy Thursday.

The program will include the following selections: "Oh, Sacred Head Now Wounded"—Bach; "Surely He Hath Borne Our Grief"—Lotti; a tenor solo, "Be Still, Be Still" from the Passion according to Sain Matthew—Bach, sung by John E. Toms; and "Rest Here in Peace" from the Passion according to Saint John—Bach.

The choir will be under the direction of John E. Toms. Arthur Dugan is the organist.

Give Support To Green, Stauber,
 And Jack Lynch

The University party completed its slate of officers last night by nominating DeWitt Barnett for editor of the DAILY TAR HEEL and endorsing staff nominees for the other three campus publications, Bill Stauber for the Carolina Buccaneer, Allen Green for the Carolina Magazine, and Jack Lynch for the Yackety-Yack.

Stodie Ficklen, chairman of the party steering committee, declared that the party, in not endorsing the staff nominee, Martin Harmon, who was chosen Tuesday, nominated Barnett for his "undoubted editorial ability."

"We have pledged ourselves to pick the most qualified candidates for all offices," Ficklen asserted. "The party chose Barnett in view of the exceptionally fine work that he has done on the editorial staff of the DAILY TAR HEEL. We are impressed by the fact that he has written 56 editorials in the past year."

"We understand that the efforts of the staff nominee have been exclusively of a technical nature, and, in order to give the campus the opportunity for a choice, we have nominated a man of undoubted editorial ability."

With completion of the publication slate by both the University and Student parties, everything was in readiness for the coming election, a week from today.

"OUR TOWN" HAS UNUSUAL RECORD

Playmakers Work Hard On Production

"Using fibred dialogue and lucid pantomime Thornton Wilder catches the fumbling wonderment of ordinary people, cokes their lives with humor, and charges it with freedom," the reviewer of "Our Town," the Playmaker production to be presented on April 12, 13, 14, and 15, wrote in Time magazine. The presentation of Wilder's play by the Playmakers will be the first production of the drama by non-professional group.

The property list for "Our Town" is as follows: sixteen kitchen chairs, two stepladders, two tables, and one pine board, the latter doubling as a drug store counter in one scene and an ironing board in another.

The playwright has the stage manager, the part to be played by Harry Davis, serve as property man, traffic cop, and a living newspaper and crackler-barrel philosopher. Talking to himself, but actually doing a most difficult piece of creative acting, he tells the audience the tale of daily life, of young love and marriage, and of early death in a small New Hampshire town. As he

(Continued on page two)

Battle of Five
 Bands April 16
 To Solve Much

Is swing indecent? Is "hot" rhythm harmful? Is this thing called swing a healthy experience for our energetic youth?

These questions and many more will be answered Sunday afternoon, April 16, when the much-talked-about Battle of Swing, featuring five campus orchestras and sponsored by the University band, is presented in Memorial hall.

George Simon, associate editor of the Metronome magazine, has been secured to act as judge for the event at which the orchestras of Charlie

(Continued on page two)