Regular Open Forum Will Be Conducted In Memorial Hall

Relief from the din of campus elections in the form of Robert S. Allen, Merry-Go-Rounding columnist from Washington, may be found during this morning's chapel period in Memorial hall as the journalist speaks for the Carolina Political union on phases of national politics.

Allen, who with his partner and cowriter, Drew Pearson manage to keep the nation's capital on its toes with frank and downright embarrasing daily columns, begins speaking at 10:30, continuing for approximately 20 minutes. Following the formal address he will lead an open-forum discussion.

UP Candidates Fairley, Wood, Become New Vice-President, Secretary-Treasurer By Defeating Elliot, Vincent

Some 1,819 University students quizically walked up to five automatic voting machines in the annual campus elections vesterday and gave the three-year-old Student party 14 offices as compared to 11 for the University party. Four candidates were swept into their new posts on the endorsement of both campus political factions.

Jimmy Davis (UP, SP) all but annihilated his independent opponent, Bill Pearson, by showing a heavy majority with 1,175 votes as compared to 644. Pearson conceded defeat early in the evening at the DAILY TAR HEEL election party, making the following statement, "Jim Davis has been endorsed by the student body as well as the two parties. I wish to add my endorsement and to pledge my Jack Fairley (UF) won the office of Vice-president of the student body by defeating Tim Elliot (SP) by a vote of 1,022 to 761. Charlie Wood ave the University party another strong office by winning over Jack Vincent (SP), 919 to 816, for secretary-treasurer of the student body, a post established at the polls last year. The Student party captured an overwhelming victory as it elected Martin Harmon, staff nominee, to the Editorship of the DAILY TAR HEEL. Harmon brought in 946 ballots against 596 for Dewitt Barnett (UP) and 258 for Walter Kleeman (Independent).

PRESS INSTITUTE WILL BRING MANY STUDENTS HERE

Third Annual Meet Gets Under Way On Campus Today

Bringing an estimated 130 high school students and many prominent newspapermen in the state to the campus, the third annual Scholastic Press institute will meet here today and tomorrow. The feature speaker of the meeting will be Lenoir Chambers, graduate of the University, former editor of the DAILY TAR HEEL, and at present associate editor of the Norfolk Virginian Pilot. He will speak at 9 o'clock Saturday night in Hill hall.

The delegates will arrive here this be shown the campus by volunteer students from their home towns. David Stick, director of the institute, resee him in Graham Memorial this morning and receive instructions for serving as guide to the delegates. Stick also needs more rooms for the delegates and requests the cooperation of townspeople in accommodating them.

Three Class Honor Councils Selected By Undergraduates

Groups Will Have Limited Power In Code Violations

Debate Council

Debate Council

Three complete class honor councils were selected as a result of yesterday's voting. The class councils serve to try any honor code violations arising from their respective classes. Although the class councils do not have final jurisdiction in these cases, as sentences must be passed by the Student council, cases dismissed by it are not subject to reconsideration.

Rising seniors selected the following men for their council: Walter Clark 164, John Bonner 150, Jack Lynch 149, A. C. Hall 140, Tom Keys

RISING JUNIORS

In the rising junior class, Skipper Bowles, Bill Broadfoot, John French, Jim Gray, Charles Barrett, and Bill Joslin were elected to the class council with a vote of 237, 179, 140, 139, 133, and 131, respectively.

NEW CHEER LEADER

Students failed to reelect their 1938-39 head cheerleader, "Pat" Patterson, and gave Vance Hobbs (SP) 1,001 over the University party nominee's 772.

Probably the biggest surprise of the evening came in the tallies of the Senior class officers when the Student party candidates made a clean sweep of the ticket. Benny Hunter received 242 votes as compared to "Fish" Worley's 192 for the presidency of the class. Watts Carr took the vice-presidency with 227 ballots to Bill Blalock's 194. Miss Mickey Warren easily became the first coed to hold a University class office when she defeated George Ralston, 246 to 182 votes for secretary. George Zink, with 254 votes, beat Morris Rosenberg, who received 158 ballots, for treasurer. The 1939-40 senior student council member will be Mac Nisbet who totaled 253 votes over Gilly Nicholson's 169.
