Council Plans To Train Campus Officers

FROSH TO VOTE ON NEW YEARBOOK APPROPRIATION

Proposal Made For Separate Pictures In Yackety-Yack

Early next week, Dudley Cocks, new freshman president, will call a class meeting to vote on the question of having individual pictures in next year's Yackety Yack. An investigation into the matter has been made by Ed Maner, Fred Rippey, and Jack Lynch.

The charge for having each picture made will be one dollar per person. An additional dollar and twenty-five cents is necessary to print the photo in the yearbook, running the total for including each individual's picture in next year's Yackety Yack, two dollars and twenty-five cents. This is an increase of two dollars over the present fee.

Under the existing system, separate group pictures are made of both the freshman and sophomore classes, often resulting in confusion in both photographing and identifying the students. If the new measure is passed, the additional fee will be included in the regular, compulsory class dues.

To pass the new ruling will require the vote of fifty percent of the entire class. If the first year men decide to have individual pictures in the Yackety Yack, it will set a new precedent, and serve as an example which the new freshman class will probably follow.

In commenting on the proposed measure, Jack Lynch, editor of the year book for next year, stated, "The members of the freshman class now have the opportunity to express themselves on having their individual pictures in the Yackety Yack for next year. The PU board and the staff of the publication have now left the final decision up to the members of the class."

Ed Rankin And Harold Cook Are Dorm Presidents

Ed Rankin was elected president of Old West in Wednesday's dormitory election and Lewis dormitory elected Harold Cook for president.

Old West is holding a runoff for vice-presidency between Charles Barrett and Tom Edwards. Lewis dormitory will hold a re-election for the office of vice-president due to the fact that John Williams, elected for that office Wednesday, is ineligible because he is a sophomore.

Polls will be open again to select the vice-president of Lewis the entire day Monday.

Get Commencement Bids in YMCA Lobby

Commencement invitations will continue to be sold in the YMCA lobby until 5 o'clock this afternoon. All seniors wishing to obtain the bids must make arrangements for them at once or go without them, Sam Southerland, chairman of the senior invitation committee announced yesterday.

Weekend Visitors

Pete Ivey and Joe Murnick are back on the campus this weekend. Ivey delivered a speech at the Interdormitory council banquet last night and Murnick is attending a Tau Epsilon Phi houseparty.

U. S. Geneticist Outlines X-Ray's Effect On Genes

Stadler, Speaking To Sigma Xi, Shows How Rays Produce Unlike Parents-Children

An offspring with very little resemblance to its parents can be produced by X-ray treatment of the reproduction mechanism of its parents, Dr. L. R. Stadler, principal geneticist for the United States Department of Agriculture, told members of the University chapter of Sigma Xi, national honorary scientific research fraternity, Thursday night.

In explanation of the genetic effects produced by X-ray treatment, Dr. Stadler reviewed the process of heredity. The cells of every living organism are constituted, for the major part, by a jelly-like substance known as plasma. The center of the plasma is the nucleus, containing rod-like structures, chromosomes. The number of chromosomes vary in every individual. In man there are 48, in corn 10.

The chromosomes carry the bearers of the characteristics of the individual—the shape of the liver, ears, mouth, emotion traits and sex, for example. The bearers are known as genes. Each gene bears a definite trait, which will be transmitted to the children, making it identical with the parent in that particular respect.

RECREATION MEET DRAWS TO CLOSE

Hendry And Meyer To Speak This Morning

The Conference on College Training of Recreation Leaders, sponsored jointly by the University and the Works Progress administration, will conclude a three day meet here when it convenes this morning in two general sessions at the Carolina inn.

From 9:30 till 11 this morning the group will hear reports on "Training Methods" by Charles E. Hendry and on "Graduate Curricula" by Harold D. Meyer. A general summary of the meet from 11:30 till 12:30 will bring the conference to a close.

Many universities and colleges of the nation are represented this weekend at the conference, the second of its kind to be held. The conference series got under way last year at the University of Minnesota.

Final Grail Hop Will Be Held Next Friday In Tin Can

Bud Hudson, exchequer of the Order of the Grail, announced yesterday that the final script dance of the year sponsored by the Grail will be held on Friday night, May 5, in the Tin Can from 9 till 1 o'clock. The orchestra has not been selected.

The dance will be for the benefit of the 13 new members who will be taken into the organization next week. The new men will be feted at a banquet at the Carolina inn Wednesday night.

Names of the new members will be announced in next Thursday's DAILY TAR HEEL.

Pharmacy, Interdorm Groups Conclude Dance Sets Tonight

Druggists To Present Luncheon, Tea And Formal Affairs Today

Pharmacy school groups will continue the weekend of festivities with three affairs today with luncheon, tea and formal dances.

Freddie Johnson and his orchestra, which last night won much favorable comment with Kay Kyser antics, will perform for all three affairs today.

Kappa Psi pharmaceutical fraternity will honor the Kappa Epsilon society, pharmacy girls' group, at a luncheon dance, which will be held in the Graham Memorial ballroom this morning from 11 to 1 o'clock. The second event of the day will be a tea dance, to be held in the Tin Can from 4:30 to 6:30.

The final dance of the series will be given in the Tin Can tonight from 9 to 12 o'clock. The Tin Can is decorated in blue and white for the occasion.

At the formal dance last night officers, dance committeemen, class presidents and pharmacy fraternity heads with their dates presented a figure. Leading were: Jimmy Fox, Pharmacy school president, with Miss Mary Ames of Arlington, Va.; MacDonald Davis, vice-president, with Miss Emma Lee Fillyaw of Roseboro; Marion S. Hamer, secretary-treasurer, with Miss Sarah Cahoon of Chapel Hill; Grey Kornegay, student council representative.

SELF-GOVERNMENT TO BE STRESSED AT MAY 15-19 MEET

Session Planned As Forerunner To Frosh Orientation In Fall

By LOUIS HARRIS

The Student council yesterday set May 15-19 as the date for a Campus Government Conference, to serve as a training session for all campus officers and leaders in all student activities. The purpose of the general campus conference is to provide the students and leaders with a better understanding both of their own positions and the whole scheme of campus government, as applied to all student-activity life.

The council stated that a strong need exists for organization officers, above all other students, to have a better knowledge of (1) technical requirements related to their position; (2) the function of their organization and its relation to the general campus scheme; and (3) the theory and practice of student government here—the powers and functions of the various organs in our structure.

It was also pointed out by many that we are now in a new-height period of illiteracy in regard to general knowledge of and participation in self-government, and that intensive efforts are needed to raise the literacy level. A thorough study of activity life and the basic problems of student government by a large cross-section of students should do much to clarify the system we live under, the council explained.

Although the Student council is the initiating force in instituting the program, the Board of Directors of Graham Memorial is assisting by backing the conference financially. A planning committee has been set up, consisting of the following members: Bob Magill, chairman; Jim Davis, Miss Melville Corbett, Allen Merrill, Charles "Puddin'" Wales, John Clark, Brooks Patten, Jack Fairley, Tim Elliot, Bill Dees, Dewitt Barnett, and Fred Weaver.

The conference will include a general session and several sub-group gatherings. Leaders for the groups have not as yet been selected, but are expected to be chosen from the faculty and seniors who have received experience in student government this year.

The general session will include: a survey of history and status of student fees; explanation of the student government theory, under which will be the history and a defining of the responsibilities and principles of the honor system; and student government practice, with the functions and powers of the governing bodies, the administrative boards, and the legislature fully dealt with.

Several sub-group meetings will be held, taking up parliamentary procedure, secretarial duties, organization and leadership, audit board functions and Student Activities Fund procedure, publications, fraternity organization, and dormitory organization.

It was also suggested that the students receiving training in the Campus Government Conference would

Small Majority Favors Constitutional Change; Opposition Widespread

Many a college student of fighting age has been pondering the President's Warm Springs statement, "I'll be back in the fall—if we don't have a war." And well might these American young men apply the statement to themselves. Will they be back in college next fall—or will they be behind one of Uncle Sam's new guns?

A startling series of events have focused in the public mind the one important question, "Is there going to be a war, and if there is, how can we stay out of it?" College and university students, 54.3 per cent of them, join with the majority of the people of this country in favoring a national referendum before the United States drafts men to fight away from our shores. This is pointed out in the latest
