Madry Receives Record Vote In Race For Post As Alderman

Foushee Defeats Pickard In Close Voting For Mayor

"Colonel Bob" Madry, director of the University news bureau, polling the highest number of votes ever cast in a municipal election, was elected an alderman of the University village here today.

Colonel Bob polled 657 votes in an election in which 785 votes were cast. The race for mayor was close until the last few ballots. John M. Foushee, present incumbent, was re-elected mayor with 411 votes to Clarence Pickard's 369.

RECORDER'S COURT JUDGE

Andrew A. McIntosh, unopposed candidate for judge of recorder's court, received 693 votes, with W. E. Thompson, Boss Hill, C. P. Hinshaw and Moody W. Durham receiving write-in votes of one apiece. Judge L. J. Phipps was written in for three votes.

Aldermen re-elected were: R. W. Madry, 657; R. J. M. Hobbs, 604; and P. L. Burch, 583. Runners-up in the race were Judge L. J. Phipps, 274 votes, and R. W. Linker, 154 votes. State senator John Umstead and Dr. R. B. Lawson received one vote each for the board of aldermen.

GROUP ANNOUNCES FIVE ROSENWALD AWARD WINNERS

Three Men, Two Women Are Given Fellowships

John W. Kendrick, James E. Fleming, Robert M. Hodges, Miss Lillian E. Smith, and Miss Dorothy Hope Tisdale, all connected with the University in recent years, are among a number of southerners receiving Julius Rosenwald fund fellowships totaling $100,000, according to an announcement by Edwin R. Embree, president of the fund, at Chicago.

The fellowships, the announcement said, are awarded in line with the fund's policy "to foster distinguished leadership in the South in all fields in which it is needed." They were granted to southern whites and Negroes of "demonstrated original ability."

FELLOWSHIP RECEIVERS
Those who have been connected with the University receiving fellowships in connection with the following work are:

John Kendrick: for work in economics and sociology, particularly a study of the problem of financing industry in the south, at Chapel Hill. He is now assistant in the department of economics and commerce here.

James Fleming: for a sociological and historical study of southern opposition to industry, at Chapel Hill. He is now instructor of sociology at the University of Georgia.

Robert Hodges: for work in journalism and creative writing here on problems of white and Negro labor and industrial relations. He is at present

OSBORNE'S BAND MAY PLAY FOR SATURDAY PROM

Advance Sale Of Bids Will Begin Within Next Week

Jimmie Lunceford and his orchestra have been obtained to play for the Friday night dance of the finals, Louis Sutton, acting secretary-treasurer of the German club, announced yesterday. The dance set will be held June 1 through June 3.

Definite arrangements for other orchestras to play for Thursday and Saturday nights have not been made. However, the committee is trying to secure the orchestra of Will Osborne for the Saturday affairs.

Within the next week an advance sale of series invitations will be conducted. Sets will be offered for nine dollars to members of the German club. Seniors may become members of the club by paying a one-dollar initiation fee. Underclassmen fees will be five dollars.

SINGLE BIDS

Bids to single dances will not be sold to undergraduates at the door. Out-of-town guests and alumni will, however, be able to obtain door purchases of single bids.

After the advance sale of sets, the price will be raised to $10 for German club members. Other students may obtain sets by paying initiation and assessment fees.

Members of the German club official staff for next year are as follows: president, Studie Picklin, Sigma Nu; vice-president, Julian Coghill, Kappa Sigma; secretary-treasurer, Louis Sutton, Zeta Psi; and assistant secretary-treasurer, Tom Wright, Delta Kappa Epsilon. Sutton is assuming his duties this spring in the place of Billy Worth, present secretary-treasurer, who was forced to devote his time to his school work.

WOMAN'S COUNCIL TO BE HONORED

Members Will Be In Figure At Coed Ball

New and old members of the Woman's association council will be presented in a figure at the coed ball Saturday night, Miss Lillian Howell, chairman of the dance committee, announced yesterday.

Sophomore To See Mother After Lapse Of Six Years

German Frau To Be Honored At Reception In Grail Room Friday Evening

By LOUIS HARRIS

Frau Marie Boemanns of Mulheim-Ruhr, Germany, could probably receive no better Mother's Day gift a week from Sunday than the one she will have when she sees her son, Hermann, University sophomore, for the first time in six years. She will arrive this Friday, however, for a coffee party which Hermann plans to give in her honor at 8:30 in the Grail room of Graham memorial.

Possessing a strong desire to attend an American university, Boemanns came to North Carolina in 1933 to live with his grandmother in Wilmington, who was to send him to school. But after four months, the elderly woman died, leaving Hermann with the choice of either returning to Germany or entering the University and working his way through.

LIKES IT HERE

As Hermann said yesterday, "I would much rather do the hardest sort of work to stay in school here than go back to Germany and become cannon fodder for the army." His brother is in the army and likes it, Hermann said, but he attributed it to

250 Witness Inauguration As New Officers Take Up Duties

We Throw The Torch . . .

Jim Joyner, left, officially ended his duties as president of the student body for the past year when he was succeeded by Jim Davis, right, at the inauguration ceremony last night.

Dean House Unable To Appear; Weaver Makes Brief Talk

Approximately 250 students turned out for the inauguration of the newly-elected major campus officers staged in Memorial hall last night. The entire program lasted only half an hour. Dean R. B. House, scheduled to deliver a short message to the students, was unable to attend the meeting.

The principal speaker of the evening was Fred Weaver, assistant to Dean Francis F. Bradshaw, who made a brief informal talk on "The Student Government in the Light of Present University Conditions." He congratulated the retiring officers, but said, "All we can do is to install our new officers and wish them right." Weaver brought out in his talk that "the new officers have abundant opportunities, with plenty of material to work with, and that there is nothing to put brakes on their amount of work."

TURN ABOUT

Weaver also said, "The new officers will have to be shown what the student body is like and they, in turn, will have to show the student body what they can do for the good of University students."

Miss Melville Corbett, new president of the Woman's association, was the next speaker. Miss Corbett said that she had no political promises to make, but that she did have a few plans for the coming year. She stated that she intends to encourage cooperation among the coeds. Her objective is "Integration of activities to the women on the campus."

Miss Corbett concluded by saying, "The Carolina coeds and Carolina gentlemen together make up the University. Hence we must live up to standards set in the past and leave something a little bit better than we found it."

Jim Joyner, retiring president of the student body, presided over the meeting and made a brief talk before introducing Jimmy Davis, the student body's new president. Joyner spoke of the work of the Student council, its secrecy, the recent political episode, and the year's work before the new council members. He stated, "In my

Pearson Extends Best Wishes To Officers

The editor of the DAILY TAR HEEL received the following telegram from Charlotte yesterday afternoon:

"On the occasion of the inauguration of the new Student council, I should like to extend to them through your paper my best wishes. I hope they will enjoy full support and cooperation from every member of the student body. I would like to take this opportunity to tell them and the student body that I realize that the decision of the faculty in upholding the Student council in my recent appeal was wise. I have learned one great lesson early. Stay out of politics. Thank you.

Bill Pearson."

ORDER OF GRAIL TO INITIATE 13 NEW MEN TODAY

Neophytes To Stage Political Satire In Front Of Old Well

The Order of the Grail will initiate 13 new members this afternoon at a public ceremony to be held at the Old Well at 5 o'clock, it was announced yesterday by Bud Hudson, exchequer of the organization.

The plebes, who have been selected from the rising junior and senior classes, will stage a comic satire dealing with political affairs and lasting approximately 40 minutes. The identity of the new men will be revealed for the first time immediately before the skit.

SECRECY

The secret part of the initiation ceremony will be held tonight, after which they will be full-fledged members of the Grail.

The new men will replace the seniors who will not be back next year, although those returning will still be entitled to membership.

Tomorrow, the Grail will fete the

TOMS TO PRESENT RECITAL TONIGHT

Program Will Be In Hill Hall At 8:30

Eighteen selections will make up the program of a voice recital by John E. Toms tonight at 8:30 in Hill Music hall. Since Toms came here three years ago he has sung several recitals at the University where he is in charge of vocal music.

During the month of April, Toms sang five oratorios at various places in the state and one in South Carolina. He sang "Stabat Mater" by Rossini at the Centenary Methodist church in

IRC Will Select Officers Tonight At Business Meet

Annual elections for the International Relations club will be held at the final business meeting of the year. The meeting will be held in the Grail room at Graham memorial at 8 o'clock.

President Henry Nigrelli has requested that all members be present to take part in the election and to discuss plans for a banquet to be held later on this month. Reports from the key committee and from the Raleigh and Durham broadcasts will be given.

To Hold It High"

Bill Hendrix, left, also stepped down from his position as vice-president of the student body last night when he was succeeded by Jack Fairley, newly-elected vice-president. The entire inauguration ceremony was completed within a half an hour.

Be It Yours . . .

Charlie Wood, right, who last night succeeded Fred Rippey, left, as secretary-treasurer of the student body. Wood is the second person to hold the office on this campus as the position was only created last spring.
