Harry Gatton Elected Head Of Carolina Political Union

Moore, Gray, Joslin Chosen For Other Offices By Group

Harry Gatton, rising senior from Harmony, was elected chairman of the Carolina Political Union yesterday afternoon for the coming year. Other officers elected were: Townsend Moore, vice-chairman; James Gray, secretary; and Bill Joslin, treasurer.

In being selected to his new position, Gatton was opposed by Townie Moore and Don Ward. All three had been nominated in primaries held last week. Upon being defeated for the chairmanship, Moore was elected vice-chairman, succeeding Sam Hobbs.

PLANS

As the new chairman of the union, Gatton will continue where Voit Gilmore, this year's head, left off. Sev-

Conference Gets Underway With Luncheon, Speeches

Eighty students holding campus positions attended the opening luncheon of the first Campus Government conference yesterday afternoon in Graham Memorial where they heard Harry F. Comer, YMCA secretary, speak on "The Necessity of Freedom in Organization, and the Qualities of Leadership."

Bob Magill, chairman of the conference, was on hand to review briefly the conference set-up and announce the program for the remainder of the day. After hearing a discussion of the purposes of the conference, the special sub-groups met in various rooms of the memorial.

The publications group had a general session with Dr. R. S. Winslow of the University economics department leading the discussion and Tim Elliott, retiring president of the PU board, discussing the work of the board. Winslow talked on the possibilities of a student advisory board to confer with editors of the various campus publications.

Ed Lanier led the secretaries' group which met in the Horace Williams lounge. Lanier, from his own practical experience, reviewed the best methods of taking minutes and keeping files.

The finances group, not only for treasurers but also for presidents of the various campus organizations, met with Voit Gilmore in charge. Fred Weaver sketched the history and purpose of student fees and Gilmore summed up.

REFUGEE BILL PASSED BY PHI

Proponents Win 21-18 In Voting

The representatives of the Phi assembly staged one of the most hotly-contested debates of the year last night over the German Refugee question.

The bill for discussion was: Resolved, That the Phi assembly should express its approval of the proposed appropriations of funds to bring German refugee students to the University of North Carolina.

CLOSE VOTING

The voting was equal on both sides for several counts, but the proponents of the bill finally won 21-18.

Representative Dawson, at the close of the meeting, proposed a new bill: Resolved, That you can't "whip" a dead horse to life.

The final meeting of the Phi assembly will be held next Tuesday night. Election of officers for the fall quarter and the initiation of new members will take place at that time.

Rev. Stewart Talks On English Schools

"English schools have discipline and enforce it with emphasis and a cane," said Reverend Donald Stewart as he compared the English and American schools before the Sophomore YMCA cabinet Monday night. President Alex Bonner introduced the speaker and presided at the meetings.

Reverend Stewart's speech was planned chronologically from the time the English boy reaches the age of seven until the time he enters the private schools at the age of 13.

He stressed the emphasis placed in England upon honor and truth. "A man caught lying," he said, "is invariably beaten." He thought that the English system is superior in some respects to that in America.

Makes Charges

Rising senior class president Benny Hunter, who, in an open letter yesterday, accused the University dance committee with "playing politics." Hunter alleges that the group rejected his suggestions for senior class representative to the committee without adequate reasons.

KIMBALL NAMES RISING JUNIOR COMMITTEEMEN

Erickson, Burton Gaylord Selected For High Offices

Ed Erickson, Ott Burton, and Louis Gaylord were appointed as class representative to the University dance committee, chairman of the class dance committee, and head of the Junior executive committee, respectively, yesterday by Gates Kimball, newly-elected president of the junior class.

Thirty-seven students, from both political parties, were named on the committees released by Kimball.

Commenting upon his selections, Kimball said, "I have chosen Burton, Erickson, and Gaylord for their positions because I know that they are dependable and capable of handling the duties that such positions require."

REPRESENTATIVE

"I have tried to get a representative group of the class together, disregarding political affiliations. Next fall I intend to appoint several coeds representatives on the executive committee. Other committees, such as entertainment, will be appointed as the need for them arises."

"I ask for the cooperation of all the rising juniors in order that we may make this one of the best classes."

The members of the committees include:

University dance committee representative—Ed Erickson.

Class dance committee—Ottway Burton, chairman; Harold Cook, Carroll McGaughey, Charlie Barker, Bob Faris, Jim Bryan, Herb Hardy, and Don Baker.

Executive committee—Louis Gaylord, chairman; Allan Grimes, Sid Sadoff, Jim Gray, Bobby Sloan, Harry Jones, Reddy Grubbs, Lester Branson, Billy Hand, Joe Joyner, Bill Dees, Bill Shuford, Paul Severin, Lester Tomlinson, Frank Reynolds, David Sessoms, Walter Sheffield, Kenan Williams, Coleman Finkel, Jim Mallory, Rufus Brown, Walter Hargrove, Charlie Idol, Walsh Turner, Skipper Bowles, George Frisby, Christian Siewers, and Ike Grainger.

Arts And Science Seniors Take Note

All seniors in the college of arts and sciences, who had intended to graduate but are now unable to do so, are asked to notify the college office in South building immediately.

Those graduating should pay their diploma fees to Harold Weaver in the cashier's office as soon as possible.

Sociology 62 Classes

Donald Klais requests that both classes of Sociology 62 meet in room 110 Murphey today.

GROUP REJECTS LIST SUGGESTED BY CLASS PREXY

Senior Class Officer Sends Open Letter To Daily Tar Heel

Charging the University dance committee with "playing politics," rising senior class President Benny Hunter yesterday, in an open letter to the committee and the DAILY TAR HEEL, challenged the right of the committee to reject, without adequate reason, the list of men submitted by him to the group, from which they were to select a senior-class representative.

The senior class president alleges that the only grounds upon which the three men he named—Buddy Nordan, Bert Premo, and Eric Laddey—were rejected was that they were not the "type." In his letter Hunter pointed out that, since the correct "type" has not been defined, and as the three men are different, the political party affiliations of the men seems to be the only plausible reason for the committee's action.

Inquiry revealed that the action of the committee is not unprecedented. Billy Robertson, former Interdormitory council president, stated that last year, under similar circumstances, he submitted a list of six names which was refused by the committee "because they were not the type." Robertson says that he asked the committee what "type" of man would be suitable, and that when he submitted one of the names suggested by the committee, the man was promptly accepted.

The text of Hunter's letter follows: University Dance Committee U.N.C., Chapel Hill

Gentlemen:

Three times you have turned down the list of three men I offered you of which one was to be selected as the Senior class representative on the University dance committee.

Your reason, gentlemen, is that none of these men is the type. You have not defined the type, and I feel that at least one of these, Nordan, Premo or Laddey, should fit.

So, until you do define for me and the Student body, since the dance committee appointments are of campus interest and effect, I charge the University dance committee with playing politics and challenge your right to turn down all of the men without adequate reasons.

This is an open letter, and I am sending a copy to the DAILY TAR HEEL.

Respectfully yours,

(signed) BENNY HUNTER.

PUTZEL CHOSEN NEW PRESIDENT OF DI SENATE

Complete New Slate Selected For Next Year

Charles Putzel, rising senior, was elected president of the Dialectic senate for the coming year at the quarterly election of the senate last night. Putzel defeated Senators Harry Gatton and John Bonner for the office.

Other officers elected were: Ed Kantrowitz, president pro tem, defeating Miss Mary Lewis; Arthur Link, treasurer, defeating Phil Carlton; and Perrin Quarles, sergeant-at-arms, defeating Louis Poisson.

UNANIMOUS

Three officers were unanimously elected: Carrington Gretter, critic; Elbert Hutton, clerk; and Walter Kleeman, member of the debate squad.

As is the custom, the senate selected as its two outstanding freshmen this year Bill Ward and Truman Hobbs from a list of nominees composed of Ward, Hobbs, Ralph Levy, Louis Poisson, Frank Williams, and Pete Wallenborn. It also voted that keys be presented to these two men.

Action on the proposal of the addition of a new officer, the whip, was deferred until next year. Reports from special committees were given at the session last night.

Rising Sophomores To Discuss Photos For Yearbook Today

Calls Meeting

Bill Alexander, president of the rising sophomores, who has called a special meeting of the class today at 10:30 in Memorial hall to vote on whether or not the group will have individual pictures in next year's Yackety-Yack.

GREEN WILL TAKE PITCHER'S BOX AGAINST SENIORS

Union Troubles Solved; Game Goes On At 4 Tomorrow

Paul Green, Chapel Hill playwright, will toe the mound for the slugging ten of the faculty squad in a softball game between the faculty and the senior sadists on Emerson field tomorrow afternoon at 4 o'clock. Due to union difficulties in Kalamazoo, Mich., last week, the long-awaited-for game scheduled for last Thursday afternoon had to be postponed.

Felix Markham announced last night that he had secured another Orange county band—the Chapel Hill high school lads and lassies—to be on hand in addition to the bands held over from last week. The other well known bands which will furnish music before the game and between the innings include Boss Hill and his Schniklefriez band, Satchelpuss Hargraves and his Hungry Five, Effie O'Day and her E flat (and is it flat!) Foot Floggies and Earl A. Slocum and his Musikers.

As previously scheduled, Major Hoople will be the dark-horse umpire and the Chapel Hill star-toters will furnish protection of the Major and his crew. Additional bleachers have been erected to take care of the record-breaking crowd attending the game.

Committee Will Begin Drive For German Refugees Today

Tea Postponed

There will be no Spencer hall tea this afternoon. The tea, which is usually held on Wednesday afternoon, has been postponed so that those desiring to attend the May Day ceremony may do so.

Yackety-Yacks

All Yackety-Yacks received from the printers to date were distributed yesterday afternoon, Editor Rutherford Yeates announced last night. Further distribution will not be made until later in the week when another shipment of the yearbooks is received. Yeates said that the date for distribution will be announced in the DAILY TAR HEEL.

Class Votes At 10:30 On Individual Shots For Annual Next Year

Whether or not the rising sophomore class will have individual pictures in next year's Yackety-Yack will be decided, when the second year men meet for the first time this morning at 10:30 in Memorial hall. President Bill Alexander yesterday urged that a large number of present freshmen come to the meeting, since he wishes to hear their sentiments on the bill, and it is necessary to have a 50 per cent vote to pass the measure. Charley Wood and his band will play several numbers, while Alonzo Squires, blind freshman, will give several imitations.

In past years, it has been the policy of the Yackety-Yack to take separate group pictures of members of both the freshman and sophomore classes. Rutherford Yeates and Jack Lynch, editors of the yearbook this year and next, respectively, have supported the proposed plan. A committee investigating the matter recently favored individual pictures over group photos, pointing to the make-shift, non-representative group pictures in the Yackety-Yack, released yesterday, as being a weakness in the publication.

STATEMENT

Bill Alexander, in a recent statement, said that both the sophomore and freshman classes at Wake Forest, Davidson, State College, and Duke have individual photos in their yearbooks. He also pointed out yesterday that the Yackety-Yack is an advertisement for the University, and that individual pictures would add greatly to the neatness of the publication. At the present time the junior and senior classes both take individual pictures. But it has been predicted that a passage of this morning's question would set a precedent for future freshman and sophomore classes.

The cost of the new pictures would be included in the class dues. They would be paid in the following installments: $1.45 in the first quarter, and $1.50 in the second quarter.

UNC Symphony To Present Final Concert Monday

The University Symphony orchestra will hold its last concert of the year Monday at 8 o'clock in Hill Music hall. This appearance will climax the yearly series of three concerts on the campus and a number of radio broadcasts and programs given at other colleges in the state.

Dr. Benjamin Swalin, well-known violinist, author, and conductor, will wield the baton Monday night.

Of special interest on the program is the first movement of Beethoven's Fifth Symphony. This classic is being performed at the request of audiences.

Group Sets $1400 As Goal In Canvas Of Entire Campus

With $1400 as the goal, the local German Refugee committee launches today its campaign to raise funds for putting six refugee students through school here next year.

During the day, an attempt will be made to contact every University student and faculty member through representatives in all the dormitories and fraternities as well as through faculty members who will canvass the faculty. No plans have been made for approaching the students who live in town, but they are asked to leave any contributions they may wish to make at the YMCA. Townspeople may contribute by sending their checks to Dr. F. H.
