University Health Service Sets New Attendance High

Total Of 3,335 Individual Students Make 23,664 Calls For Treatment This Year

A total of 3,335 individual students have made 23,664 calls for treatment from the University health service since September 15, Dr. W. R. Berryhill, chief infirmary physician, announced yesterday.

Dr. Berryhill said that this was probably the greatest number of visits the infirmary has ever received in a single year.

Over nine-tenths of the student body applied for service at one time or another during the past year, he said. During this period the infirmary averaged 118 student visits per day and sent 1501 people to beds in the wards.

The infirmary averaged seven student visits per day under personal treatment.

The 23,664 visits during the past year, if distributed equally among the student body, would give each student an average of six visits.

STUDENTS SET UP LEAGUE TO KEEP U.S. OUT OF WAR

Peace Propaganda Will Be Employed To Carry Out Aims

"America must save Democracy at home instead of abroad," is the firm belief of a group of students on this campus who have recently formed the League to Keep America Out of War.

They believe that no possible good could come from a foreign war, either for America or for the world. Instead, they believe that the United States should stick chiefly to the problems at home, bending her best efforts toward trying to raise the material and cultural level of the American people.

Disturbed by the growing war sentiment in America which would make it difficult for us to stay out of an overseas war, they are determined to combat this sentiment by cultivating an active will to peace.

"The great majority of the people of America do not want war. It is, however, possible that we be manoeuvred into war unless the true interests

Faculty Wives Club Meets To Pass Plans For Future Programs

The Newcomers' club, a group recently organized by the faculty wives of the University for the purpose of introducing the wives of new faculty members and University administrators, had its second meeting Tuesday at the home of Mrs. Harl R. Douglass on Gimghoul road.

The members passed on the constitution of the club and discussed the program for next year. Membership is extended to all University newcomers for a period of three years. Meetings are to be held on the third Tuesday of each month at the homes of the various club sponsors, wives of established faculty members.

Mrs. Frank P. Graham has invited the club to have its first meeting in October at her home. The membership committee, headed by Mrs. W. G. Morgan, expects to call on all newcomers before that time.

Although the purpose of the club is essentially social, the members agreed that a service committee could render invaluable aid to newcomers by preparing a list of housing information

New Group Reservation Plan Becomes Effective In Dorms

PU BOARD PASSES DAILY TAR HEEL, MAGAZINE BUDGETS

Yearbook Editor Gets Salary Put On Equal Basis

Accepting the DAILY TAR HEEL and Carolina Magazine budgets with a few minor changes, the Publications union board met yesterday for the last time during the present school year.

The changes in the DAILY TAR HEEL budget for 1939-40 were minor in nature, dealing with engraving, photography, editorial supplies, and telegram and telephone. The board deferred action on an investigation of all salaries until next fall. The present budget will remain intact until that time.

Allen Green's financial estimate was accepted by the board members with one exception. Last week action on the magazine's budget was tabled until this week. It was decided at that time that the matter of heavier paper would be investigated. After a week's lapse, the board found no reason why heavier paper is needed.

The increase in pay for the editor of the Yackety Yack put all campus publication editors except the DAILY TAR HEEL head on an equal salary basis. The new salary of $160 marks an addition of approximately $25 over the editor's former pay.

Yesterday's PU board meeting was the last of the current school year, and the second at which the recently elected members were in charge. The new officers are: Ed Rankin, president; Ed Megson, secretary; and Don Bishop, treasurer. The faculty members of the board are: Walter Spearman, and J. M. Lear, the latter of whom serves in an advisory capacity.

Keys Are Ready For These People

Miss Jane Hunter, Miss Gladys Best Tripp, Laffitte Howard, and Richard E. Morris are requested to report at the DAILY TAR HEEL office this afternoon at 1:30 to receive their keys.

Fraternity Houses: Get Dean's Okay

Fraternities wishing to operate their houses during the summer session must secure permission to do so from the Dean of Students' office before June 8. No fraternity house may be operated during the summer session unless the house is in responsible charge through one of its designated members.

LYNCH ANNOUNCES ANNUAL PLANS FOR COMING YEAR

Business Manager Also Reveals Change In Staff Make-Up

Jack Lynch, editor of the 1940 Yackety Yack, announced yesterday a reorganization plan in the management of the annual. More juniors and seniors will be placed on the staff in an effort to promote better organization and increase efficiency. The plan has been approved by the PU board and will begin operation next fall.

The staff of the 1940 Yackety Yack will include Miss Eloise Brown, copy editor; Bill Broadfoot, photography editor; Bill Joslin, personnel manager; Byrd Merrill, engraving editor; Miss Mary Jane Yeatman, editorial writer; Wiley Smith, dance editor. Section heads will be Charlie Tillett, senior section; John Diffendal, junior section; Bill Alexander, sophomore-freshman section; John Thorpe and James Thorpe, co-heads of extra-curricula section; Gip Kimball, honorary section; Rowland Brown, fraternity section; Billy Peete, athletic section; Miss Terrell Everett, coed section.

Business Manager Bert Halperin of the Yackety Yack yesterday announced a reorganization plan for all rising juniors on the staff. The new system will replace the former set-up under which all of the juniors on the board were assistant business managers.

Noel Woodhouse is the new advertising manager; Harry Billica, the organization space manager; Hughes Roberts, fraternity manager; Norman Stockton, junior-senior photography manager; and Bob Cohen, freshman and sophomore photography manager. Under this plan, each rising junior has a specific position to fill.

SOPHOMORE PHOTOS

In accordance with the passage of the bill providing for individual pictures for the rising sophomore class, Halperin has worked out a uniform system for taking the photos. At the

Sets Of Students With Common Ties May Room Together

A new plan of group reservations in the dormitories, based on ties of "congeniality and common interests" was inaugurated by the University administration and will continue until June 1. The proposal was recommended by the Student Welfare board at a recent meeting.

Under the system used in the past, and as is specified in the catalogue, all students wishing to reserve rooms in which they have lived during the present year, may do so, providing reservation is made prior to May 25. Since that date has passed, all rooms not already reserved are now open and free to the University's discretion as to designating them to students.

PREFERENCE

As the result of a study by the Welfare board, attempting to provide an atmosphere of more congeniality among campus life, the new group plan was suggested. Under the group system, all sets of students with common ties wishing to live together may reserve rooms on a basis of preference over individual applications. This ruling will hold in effect until June 1, when the system of primority will be instituted.

The actual procedure which the groups must go through is one marked with careful consideration by administration officials. By "congeniality and common interests," the Welfare board means such groups as fraternity brothers, pre-medical students, pre-law students, students majoring in the same subjects, or any other common ties along these same lines. Such groups must be approved by Fred Weaver in 205 South building, before their applications may be considered.

OFFICIAL STATEMENT

Administration officials yesterday released the following data concerning the room reservations: "At the present time it is not practical for any individual student to be considered under this provision, inasmuch as it is an experimental plan devoted to groups. Perhaps if the group plan proves successful, it might later be extended to individuals who desire to select their own roommates."

The formation of the groups of students must, however, be valid. They must be formed on a basis as specified in the new ruling. Along these lines,

The summer school regulations as stated in the Summer school catalogue require registration, course fees, and laundry deposit to be paid at the time of registration. All students who are expected to attend Summer school are requested to observe this regulation.

Osborne Will Start And Finish Dance Set With Soothing Slide Show

Will Osborne, the old Rebel, is coming back to Carolina, to start and finish the Finals next week. He will open the series with a concert and formal dance Thursday and close with Saturday dances.

"Rebel" Osborne prefers to play "sweet," in this day of maddening hot rhythm. His slide style soothes. He creates a soft rhythm, similar to organ music. It is quite fitting that he should sandwich Luncheon.

Osborne's fame is relatively new. He was playing an engagement at the Blackhawk cafe in Chicago about four years ago when dialers began to tune in regularly on WGN. Public notice and interest increased, and he is now listed among the ten best dance bands in the country.

Some say swing is on the decline. Others swear it is as popular as ever. The presence of the controversy is evidence that there is difference in critics. If swing does go, Will will still hold a berth in the music world. His popularity is based on a patented product much more imperishable.

Osborne's band is 19 years old, has
