

Faculty To Consider Moving Student-Faculty Day To Fall

Ban On Quizzes Before Exam Week Will Be Proposed

Two motions, one to move the annual Student-Faculty day from either spring or winter quarter to the fall quarter, and another proposing that no written class tests of examinations shall be given in any quarter during the last two days preceding the period for regular quarterly examinations, will be brought before the next meeting of the Faculty committee, it was announced yesterday.

Dr. J. P. Dashiell will introduce the first motion concerning the date of Student-Faculty day. The reason for the proposed change is that during the fall quarter, much longer than either of the other two, an interruption in the work of the University and of the students will not be as serious as it would in one of the shorter quarters. Dr. Dashiell will also move that the annual day be held on a Saturday, preferably one on which a football game has been scheduled for Chapel Hill.

REASON

The reason for this motion is that when the occasion has been celebrated on other days of the week, serious dislocation of regular University work has resulted, as the various laboratory sections of a course meeting on different afternoons are kept equally paced week-by-week.

Dr. George R. Coffman will propose the following for faculty consideration: "Written class tests or examinations shall not be given any quarter during the last two days preceding the period for regular quarterly examinations."

Dean R. B. House, who calls meetings of the faculty committee, has not announced the date of the next meeting.

FIRST GRID CLINIC SLATED TONIGHT

Wolf Will Comment On Citadel Game

Coach Ray Wolf will inaugurate the second season of Graham Memorial football clinics tonight at 7:45 in Gerard hall. Charts and blackboard diagrams will be used to explain the fundamental plays of the various systems throughout the country.

After the gridiron analysis has been concluded, pictures of the Carolina-Citadel game will be shown. The football mentor will comment on the game as it is played on the screen.

Tonight's clinic will be held in Gerard hall, which seats approximately 450 persons. Should the crowd exceed that number, future gridiron analyses will be held in Memorial hall.

After Coach Wolf finishes his lecture, he will answer questions put to him from the floor. It is planned that the clinics will be held every Tuesday after each Carolina game.

Transfer Juniors To Take Exams

Examinations for transfer juniors will be held in Venable hall tomorrow at 7:30. All juniors who have received notices from Dean Hobbs and others are asked to attend, and bring two soft lead pencils.

Professor Groves Denounced When Marriage Course Begun

But University Sociologist Has Since Become Leader In Field

Thirteen years ago professor Ernest R. Groves of the University did something that shocked millions of people—he announced that he was going to open a credit course on "Preparation for Marriage." Dale Carnegie told about it in his column yesterday.

Immediately Women's clubs, preachers, and editors denounced the upstart professor. Parents took their children out of school to keep them from being contaminated. But Groves has become the most famous teacher in his field in the world.

A few students enrolled for the course the first year. Today it is

Neutrality Bill To Be Discussed By Di Tonight

"Resolved, That the United States repeal the present arms embargo and accept the present cash-and-carry plan advocated by President Roosevelt" is the first bill to be discussed at the weekly meeting of the Dialectic senate tonight at 7:15.

The second bill is Resolved, That the invitation now under consideration by the CPU be extended to Bund Leader Fritz Kuhn.

The Senate will meet in the senate hall on the third floor of New West. All interested students are invited to attend the meeting and receive application blanks. These blanks may be returned at the meeting or received and returned at the YMCA at any time.

Charles Putzel, president of the Di, requests that all old members be present for revision of the roll.

FRESHMEN HAVE OWN LIBRARIAN

Mrs. James Godfrey Holds Position

For the first time in the history of the University library, the freshmen have a librarian of their own. She is Mrs. James Godfrey, a native of Shelton, Nebraska, who has been recently appointed librarian of the general college library.

Mrs. Godfrey received her A.B. degree from Smith college and her A.B. in library science from the University this year. She received her M.A. degree from the University of Chicago where she has also met all the course requirements for a doctorate, lacking only the completion of her dissertation and her oral examination. For two years, she had the Cleo Hearn fellowship in history at the University of Chicago.

Last summer, Mrs. Godfrey and her husband studied abroad in England and France. In London, they photographed manuscripts in the House of Lords, and France, they worked in the National Archives building.

Attractive Coed Likes 'Pontoon'

An attractive coed in a downtown "coke" dispensary Sunday morning was glibly chatting about the weekend track meet, about Stirnweiss' run, the stubbornness of Rameses.

She breathed a deep sigh and uttered conclusively and brilliantly, "Gee, but I could go for that Citadel pontoon. It was MAGNIFICENT."

Tap Dancers

O. K. Cornwell of the physical education department asked yesterday that University and high school students interested in special tap dancing classes for beginners or advanced students meet in Room 301 Woollen gymnasium at 5 o'clock Thursday for the purpose of organizing classes. Children's classes may also be formed.

Classes In Coed Tennis To Begin This Afternoon

Classes in coed tennis will begin this afternoon at 3 o'clock on the tennis courts and will continue thereafter each Monday, Tuesday, and Thursday afternoons. The classes will be coached by Bill Rawling, co-captain of the varsity tennis team, with Miss Ann Moore as student assistant. Miss Dorothy Coble will manage the sport.

A team of six coeds will be selected to represent Carolina in intercollegiate matches at other colleges and on home ground. Tennis letters will be awarded by the Woman's Athletic council to outstanding coed players.

PANEL TO DISCUSS AMERICA'S CHANCE TO STAY NEUTRAL

Three Professors Will Give Talks Tomorrow Night

Three University professors will hold a panel discussion tomorrow night in Gerard hall at 7:30 on the topic, "Can America Stay Out Of War?"

A committee of representatives from various campus organizations will sponsor by the 15-minute talks by Dr. E. M. Bernstein, economics; Dr. James Godfrey, social science; and Dr. James W. Fesler, political science. Dean F. F. Bradshaw will preside.

The meeting is called purely to discuss American neutrality and no action will be taken.

The committee sponsoring the discussion is composed of Allen Green, editor of the Carolina magazine; Melville Corbett, of the Woman's association; Louise Jordan, president of the YWCA; John Bonner, president of the IRC; Harry Garton, chairman of the CPU; Fred Weaver, assistant to Dean Bradshaw; and Martin Harmon, editor of the TAR HEEL.

Professor Godfrey will present a background for the discussion, professor Fesler will talk on the present embargo, and professor Bernstein will give an analysis of the cash and carry method.

All students are urged to attend.

Woman's Athletic Association Plans First Constitution

Miss Terrell Everett, president of the Woman's Athletic association, outlined plans for a constitution to be drawn up for the association at a meeting of the Woman's Athletic council yesterday in Graham Memorial. The constitution will be the first ever adopted by the association.

The constitution states that the purpose of the association will be the promotion of the Woman's Athletic association in the interest of women students on the campus. The association will be headed by the president, secretary, and treasurer, and a council, consisting of nine members who will manage various coed sports on the campus. Assisting the council members will be dormitory managers in each of the women's dormitories. Coaches and student assistants will be available for instruction in each sport.

The council will be in charge of arranging intercollegiate matches and awarding letters to members of the coed teams.

Sports offered this year will be golf, swimming, fencing, tennis, riding, archery, dancing, basketball, and bowling. Coeds who wish to take horseback riding must have written permission from their parents to engage in the sport.

Members of the Woman's Athletic council are Misses Dot Coble, Janet Messenger, Jean Breckenridge, Peggy Holmes, Georgianna Pentlarge, Emogene McGibony, Susan Klaber, B. J. Johnson, and Ann Williams. Mrs. J. G. Beard, director of physical education for women, is advisor.

New Sorority Adds Five New Members

The new Alpha Delta Pi sorority, started here this fall, has added five members to its original eight.

New members are Epsie Fuller, Mary Leona Ruffin, Sarah Hall, Joan Reynolds, and Frankie Brewer.

The local chapter entertained the Duke Alpha Delta Pi members Sunday afternoon at an informal gathering at Whitehall, official headquarters of the Carolina chapter.

Those from Duke were Nancy Brown, Peggy Glen, Gene Boyle, Martha Laird, Louise Worsham, Amelia Taylor, Edith Womble, Russ Gwynn, Lola Whisnant, Jeanette Johnson, Elizabeth Gregory, Marion Johnson, Frances Borland, Betty Smith, and Barbara Gaines.

White Will Speak

Dr. Carlton White, head of the University library, will speak at the meeting of freshman chapel today at 10:30.

Plans For Radio Studio Here Disclosed At Student Meeting

MINISTERS SPEAK TO JUNIOR-SENIOR, SOPH CABINETS

Stewart Asserts We Live In World Of Ambiguities

Speeches were the keynotes of the evening when Reverend Donald H. Stewart, Reverend J. M. Culbreth, and John Bonner, president of the YMCA, spoke to the junior and senior cabinet, the sophomore cabinet, and the Freshman Friendship council respectively at meetings held last night.

Taking for his subject, "What Christians Have Thought about War through the Ages," Stewart, a British citizen whose own country is at war, stated that "There is no other way but by fighting. We must finish it now." Stewart also said that we live in a world of ambiguities and can never tell anyone that he is utterly wrong.

Alex Bonner presided at the meeting of the sophomore YMCA cabinet at which a motion was discussed and passed to adopt a short litany prayer for closing the meetings. A committee headed by Pete Wallenborn was appointed to arrange a joint social with the YWCA cabinet. After the business session, the meeting was turned over to Reverend Culbreth who made a short talk then led a discussion on the topic, "The Christian Conception of God."

FRESHMEN

Speaking to the freshmen, Bonner discussed the "Y" organization internationally, nationally, regionally, and locally and spoke of the plans for the "Y" for the coming year. He also emphasized the need for interracial activities and told of his experiences in working with a group of Negro and white "Y" student executives. Previous to Bonner's talk, a business session was held. Henry Newsome and Earl Yates were appointed to help Mike Mangum, vice-president of the group, on the program and devotional committee, and Newsome was also elected representative to the freshman assembly program committee. Bucky Harwood, assisted by John Young, will supervise the writing of a paper about the council's activities which is to be sent to Hi-Y clubs throughout the state.

Student Christian Association Plans Religious Conference

In a meeting held Sunday afternoon, the executive committee of the Student Christian association laid the groundwork for a religion in Life conference to be held here in the early spring. The conference will extend over a period of about three days and will be conducted by prominent speakers from various sections of the country.

The following committee has been appointed to begin on plans for the conference: Miss Frances Sparks and Miss Dorothy Coble of the YWCA and Charles Putzel and W. T. Martin from the YMCA.

Epps Says Cause Of European Crisis Older Than Versailles

Carolina Calendar Puts Third Edition On Sale Today

The third edition of "Carolina in Portrait," a calendar for the year 1940, with 13 large pictures of buildings on the campus, on sale today by "Bob" Doty, editor. The first calendar of this type appeared in 1938, and the second last Christmas. Copies of previous issues have gone to every state in the union, 17 foreign countries, and on every continent, numbering a total of over 5,000 copies sold in two years.

The calendar for 1940 has dean Dudley Dewitt Carroll, of the commerce school as the frontispiece, with pictures of South building, the Library, Old West and others on the pages with the months. The time marker can either be hung on the wall, or stood on a table, and sells for one dollar.

Believe Studio Will Be Completed By Next Spring

Plans for a campus radio studio which would transmit programs to any stations in the nation desiring them were disclosed Sunday night before over 100 students meeting in the Playmaker theater.

Although no definite announcement was made as to when the studio would begin operation, the students were given definite indications that a studio would be completed by this spring.

According to tentative plans, the studio would not operate on a full-time basis, but would transmit previously prepared special programs. Outside radio stations not desiring to carry the programs at the time of transmission would be furnished transcripts which could be used at will.

Agreements have been completed with the three national networks to carry local programs when they desire, it was said.

Dr. Ralph McDonald and Russell Grumman of the University extension division are in charge of the plans.

The students at Sunday night's meeting decided to organize a course in radio script writing, newscasting and studio management to meet once a week during the fall quarter.

The second meeting of the group will be held Sunday evening, October 1, at 7:30 in the theater. Representatives from several North Carolina radio stations will be invited to attend and to tell students about their experiences in radio work.

Meanwhile the new radio class will be preparing scripts and other feature programs for the studio.

Earl Wynn of the department of dramatic art, who has previous experience in radio work, is scheduled to be in charge of production in the new studio, including announcing, sound effects, and acts.

Professors Walter Spearman and Phillips Russell of the department of journalism and Paul Green, playwright, will cooperate with the script writers.

The studio was heralded last night as a far-reaching step towards a more intimate relation between the University and the people of the state.

Dr. F. H. Koch, who presided at the opening meeting of the radio group, explained that after the studio is secured and regular programs worked out, other departments of the University will be invited to participate in the work and to utilize the radio in explaining the activities of their various departments.

From time to time in the past several years students have voiced a desire for such a studio on the campus. Plans have been formulated several times but in the past they always bogged down.

The proposed new studio would be operated by the extension division as part of its educational service.

Juniors, Seniors

All juniors and seniors whose last names starts with the initials A, B, C, or D please have your pictures taken today for the 1940 Yackety Yack.

Professor Believes Philosophy Of Force Is Root Of Troubles

By MARTHA LEFEVRE

"The causes of the present European situation lie far deeper and are far older than the Versailles Treaty," Dr. P. H. Epps, professor of Greek, stated yesterday.

"We are now witnessing throughout Europe, in different degrees in different states, the logical fruition of a definitely pursued way of life," Dr. Epps explained. He believes that our social, governmental and economic troubles are caused by the addition of the governments of the world to a philosophy of force rather than a philosophy of creative good will.

Dr. Epps cited parallel examples of the two types of philosophy:
