PUBLICATIONS BUDGETS PASSED BY PU BOARD

Annual Editor Given Chance At Salary Raise

Budgets for all 1939-40 campus publications were passed yesterday by the PU Board. The estimates had been given to the board last spring, but had been sent back for revision several times during the interim.

The board allocated present student fees on the DAILY TAR HEEL, the Yackety Yack, the Carolina Magazine, and the Buccaneer. The TAR HEEL charge, formerly $3.85 was reduced three cents, while the Yackety Yack fee was raised 10 cents, from $1.60 to $1.70. The magazine cost was reduced five cents and two cents was taken off the Buccaneer fee.

This change was made to up the Yackety Yack share 10 cents on each $6.90 and so allow it to operate out of the red with a larger student body.

OPPORTUNITY

The opportunity was offered to the editor of the Yackety Yack to increase his present salary of $160 by $33, if he can meet his deadlines on schedule. The union stands to make a profit of $300 if the deadlines are met, 10 per cent of which will be turned over to the editor.

An additional $210 was awarded to the Carolina Magazine for engraving expenses, in order to add illustration and color to that publication.

In collaboration with the Athletic association, the PU board granted $30 to the DAILY TAR HEEL sports department, for coverage of out-of-town games. A complete reporting of the VPI, Tulane, and Pennsylvania games will thereby be provided.

BREWER AWARDED WRITING PRIZE

Graduate Wins $50 For Short Story

Robert Brewer, who graduated from the University last spring, has been awarded the first prize of $50 in Harper's magazine writing contest for students, for his story, "Cockpit Trouble." A resident of Henderson, Brewer studied creative writing under Phillips Russell.

The contest was open to undergraduates in all American universities, colleges, normal schools, junior colleges, and high schools during the school year 1938-39.

Brewer received his A.B. degree in journalism. He was formerly on the staff of the DAILY TAR HEEL.

Other cash awards included $50 to Francon Jones, Northland college, Ashland, Wisconsin, for an essay, "The Second Tuesday in March," $35 to Virginia Mason, State Teachers college, West Chester, Penn., for her

YMCA Directors Accept Budget Of Finance Committee

At its first meeting of the year yesterday the YMCA board of directors accepted the budget issued by the finance committee which is headed by John Bonner, president of association. Bonner also told the board of YMCA activities during the year and of plans and policies for the future.

James Howard, YMCA secretary, was elected freshman advisor at the meeting and will serve in collaboration with the Freshman Friendship council.

Members of the board are: Dean F. F. Bradshaw, Dean R. B. House, Coach Bob Fetzer, Dean C. P. Spruill, Jr., Dr. G. W. McKie, Dr. Harold Meyer, Maryon Saunders, Tom Stanback, John Bonner, Dr. D. J. Woodhouse, and Dr. Frank Graham. Dean Bradshaw presided at the meeting.

Schnell To Speak At Chapel On Carolina Spirit

Director John E. Toms and the University glee club will lead the freshmen in singing Carolina fight songs this morning in chapel at 10:30, and Herman Schnell, director of intermural athletics, will speak.

A part of the University club's attempt to boost spirit among the student body, the program will include Head Cheerleader Vance Hobbs who will put on his song and dance.

Upperclassmen are invited to take part in the singing. The miniature rally is to be a preview of the big tara-ra-boom-tea scheduled for Friday night before the Wake Forest game.

Hobbs will introduce Toms who will act as master of ceremonies. The glee club will assist in the singing and will give one special number. Schnell will speak on the alumni's opinion of the University spirit today as compared with former years.

The fight that the University club and other organizations have been putting on during recent years for more Carolina spirit has been a hard one and this program is one of orientation for the few men of the class of 1943.

Miss Dorothy Robbins Hopes That She Will Soon Be Able To Return To Studies

By ZOE YOUNG

Behind the counter of a small magazine and candy stand in the Chapel Hill post office is a blind girl, Dorothy Robbins of Siler City, who is perhaps one of the most accomplished pianists, organists, and composers in this part of the state.

Miss Robbins, a native of North Carolina, has studied music and composition 12 years, attending the New York Institute for the Blind and later, Peabody Institute, where she won a scholarship but was unable to continue because of lack of funds. Today she operates her stand in hope that she will soon be able to continue her musical studies here at the University.

When asked yesterday about her compositions, Miss Robbins said, "I

FALL QUARTER REGISTRATION RISES TO 3,844

General College Has 1,677; 900 In Arts, Sciences

Latest figures on registration for the fall quarter show that a total of 3,844 students are enrolled in the University. The absolutely final figure will not be known until the quarter has ended for some graduate students may enroll during the next three months.

Division of students in the various schools of the University is as follows: the total enrollment in the general college is 1677. In the college of arts and sciences are 900, and in the commerce school 390 students are enrolled.

PROFESSIONAL SCHOOLS

Registration in the professional schools is in this order: 467 graduate students; 119 law students; 34 in the school of library science; medical school 82; pharmacy, 140; public health, 35; and social work, 73. The total number of students enrolled in the undergraduate schools totals 877.

North Carolina is represented by 2494 students while 1350 from other states and foreign countries are enrolled. There are 3,337 male students registered and 507 coeds.

OTHER STATES

Among states other than North Carolina, New York sends the most students, 319. New Jersey is second with 142 and others come in the following order: Virginia, 98; Pennsylvania, 97; South Carolina, 96; Georgia, 51; Florida, 75; and Connecticut, 57.

All except six states in the union are represented and 14 students from foreign countries are enrolled.

Bright Sayings Crop Out During Rushing Season

The usual number of unwise sayings have been exchanged between freshmen and fraternity men during this year's rushing season.

One of the freshmen introduced himself as "Sam Wright, sir." The fraternity men, misunderstanding the undue flare of courtesy, omitted the necessary comma. For the rest of the night, Sam Wright was known as Sam Wrightsir.

In another fraternity, one host offered to show a freshman the house scrap-book. Replied the freshman: "I've seen it, already." Then he counter-attacked: "Have you?"

In still another house, a fraternity man was introduced to a freshman. In the confusion, he was not paying attention. To his and all his brothers' embarrassment, he ambled over and shook the hand of a fraternity officer!

When questioned if he had run into any awkward situations during his visits to the fraternity houses, one freshman said: "The whole business is an extremely awkward situation."

1,000 Estimated To Have Voted In Poll; Appear To Want Him

Balloting On Kuhn Continues Until Friday

The hornet's nest that has been stirred up on the campus by the CPU's rejection of Bundster Kuhn and the action of the Phil assembly, who took up the cry of "let's hear the nazi," is buzzing fiercely tonight.

After the first day of Phi-sponsored balloting, workers at the poll estimated the number of students voting yesterday to be approximately 1,000, and theorized that the votes are going 3 to 1 to let the German-American bund leader have his say.

While comments flew thick and fast, assembly plans to continue the poll through Friday. Some early returns will be available tonight, some sources said. Hours for the poll are 9 until 5 in the YMCA.

"We want everyone to vote to make this poll at true expression of the Carolina student body," a Phi leader remarked.

"This is the most democratic way for expression of campus opinion," was the comment of another.

In charge of the voting are Leo Karpeles, chairman, Art Burton, Ed Stellings and Ed Sweeney.

Speaker

Lieutenant-Governor W. P. Horton who will tonight open the Carolina Political union's fall quarter program when he speaks in Hill Music hall at 8:30.

AVIATION COURSE AWAITS APPROVAL FROM WASHINGTON

Students May Get Applications In South Building

Further action on the aviation course which may be available to Carolina students is awaiting official approval from aeronautic authorities in Washington, it was announced yesterday by C. P. Spruill. New application blanks have arrived though, and may be obtained in 208 South.

The action under consideration would permit University students to enroll in the courses in aviation, including flight training, which are now being offered at State college in Raleigh. If approval is obtained from government authorities the plan will go into effect in the very near future.

REQUIREMENTS

It is possible that some ground courses may be taught here, but all flight training will be taught at the flying field in Raleigh. Requirements for enrollment include written permission from the parents of all students and a $40 fee to cover insurance and examinations.

Any student who takes the course will not be in any way connected with either the Army or Air Corps unless he desires to join these units. Any student who successfully completes the course will be awarded a private license.

Lonesome Editor

"It might be of interest to someone that the deadline for all Buccaneer copy is today," said Editor Bill Stauber, yesterday. "The office will be open from 3 to 5 o'clock. Gee, it's lonesome up here."

Council Says No Rushing During Dance Saturday

Enforcement of the period of silence between fraternity men and freshmen at this Saturday's Grail dance was stressed by the Interfraternity Council at a meeting held yesterday. It was pointed out that no communication other than a usual greeting could be made at the dance.

Rushing hours for tomorrow evening were changed from 7 to 12 to 8:30 to 11. The council considered these hours adequate time to speak to freshmen concerning their prospective pledgeship.

Band Marching Rehearsal Today

The band's final marching rehearsal before the Wake Forest game will be held this afternoon at 5 o'clock in Kenan stadium. All members are asked to bring their instruments, and attendance is required. There will be no rehearsal tonight.

PROFESSORS SAY U. S. CAN STAY OUT OF CONFLICT

"But Do We Want To?" Is Question Asked At Forum

Four different attitudes concerning the question "How Can America Stay Out of War?" were taken by four University professors in a round table discussion of the subject last night. Led by Dean Francis F. Bradshaw, the speakers were Dr. E. M. Bernstein, of the economics department; Dr. James W. Fesler, of the political science department; Dr. James Godfrey, of the social science department; and Dr. L. O. Katsoff, of the philosophy department.

All four were of the opinion that if America desires to stay out of the present conflict she can do so, but doubt was raised as to whether or not she does want to stay out. When asked the direct question Dr. Fesler said "Perhaps she can stay out, but how, nobody knows. The best way to stay out is just to stay out." In reply to the same question Dr. Katsoff said "I think that we can definitely stay out if we want to, and that it would best be done by seeing that Great Britain and France win the war. This does not

Grail To Admit Frosh To Dance Saturday Night

The second Order of the Grail dance will be held in Woollen gymnasium Saturday night following the Carolina-Wake Forest football game. Freshmen and transfer students will be permitted to attend.

Jimmie Farr and his orchestra, who played for the recent freshman smoker, have been engaged for the evening.

The event, traditionally informal, will be from 9 to 12 o'clock Saturday night. Admission will be one dollar at the door.

Last week-end the first Order of the Grail dance of the year attracted several hundred dancers, among whom were many state high school seniors. Grail men will again act as hosts and will introduce men and women.

New Coeds Meet In Shack At 5

All new coeds meet at Spencer hall today at 5 o'clock for an explanation of Pan-Hellenic rushing rules. This meeting is compulsory for all new women students.

CPU Guest Will Hold Open Forum After Address

Lieutenant-Governor W. P. Horton will speak on democracy and the world crisis this evening at 8:30 in Hill hall, under the auspices of the Carolina Political union. The floor will be thrown open to discussion at the conclusion of Horton's talk.

The Lieutenant-Governor is the first of the five probable candidates in the gubernatorial race who will appear on the CPU platform this fall. In accordance with its non-partisan policy, the CPU plans to present A. J. Maxwell, state commissioner of revenue; J. M. Broughton, Raleigh attorney; Willis Smith, also a Raleigh attorney; and Tom Cooper, present mayor of Wilmington.

CLASS OF '14

A graduate of the University in 1914, Horton has been active in state politics since 1919 when he was elected state senator. His affiliation with the Democratic party dates back to 1924, when he was made chairman of the Chatham county executive committee. He held that position until 1930, when he was selected to be secretary of the state Democratic executive committee.

In 1931, he was elected to his third term as senator, and in 1937 was made chairman of the state school committee. Four years ago he was elected Lieutenant-Governor on the same ticket as present Governor Clyde R. Hoey.

KANSAN

Born in Kansas City, Kansas in 1889, Horton moved to North Carolina at an early age, and was educated in the public schools of Chatham county. After his graduation from the University, passed the bar exams and practiced law in Pittsboro.

SMITH TO GIVE GALLERY TALK

"Contrast" Exhibit To Be Explained

Russell T. Smith, head of the art department, will give a gallery talk this afternoon at 4 o'clock in Person hall art gallery on the current exhibition.

Mr. Smith will outline briefly the purposes of the "Contrast Show," which is now on exhibition in the large gallery, and explain how students may secure pictures from the rental collection in the small gallery. He will also discuss the processes by which paintings of great masters are reproduced. This will be the only gallery talk on the present exhibition.

The exhibition will be shown through October 2. The gallery is open from 10 to 1 o'clock and 2 to 5 o'clock on weekdays and 2 to 5 o'clock on Sundays.

Poll Shows Campus Agitated Over Question Of Kuhn Talk

American Student Union To Sponsor Essay Contest

The American Student union announced yesterday that it will sponsor a Freshman essay contest in cooperation with the Social Science department on the subject: "What Should Be the Position of the U. S. in Relation to the Present European War?" The purpose of the contest is to arouse and stimulate student interest in the problem.

Announcement of the contest rules will be made this week in the various social science sections by the instructors. All essays must contain not less than 300 or more than 1,000 words, and must be presented to Dr. C. H. Pegg, head of the department, not later than October 7.

The papers will be judged on the

Students Voice Opinions Concerning Appearance Here Of Nazi Bund Leader

By SHIRLEY HOBBS

The large number of people voting in the campus referendum which will decide whether or not Fritz Kuhn will appear at the University proves that the student body at least is interested in his appearance. Some people are brave enough to express themselves in print as well as on the ballots.

Bill Darden says, "Let him come! I want to see what a jackass looks like."

Robert Fisher analyzes the situation by saying, "If Carolina students are capable of receiving him in a spirit of tolerance and patience, I say to go ahead. We can always read what he will say in the newspapers, so there will be nothing new about his talk, but to hear him speak would be a good test of our democratic conviction."
