

Dr. Charles S. Mangum, Retired Medical Dean, Dies

EDITORIALS:
Deceased
The Toms
High Stepping

The Daily Tar Heel

WEATHER:
Probable light showers

VOLUME XLVIII EDITORIAL PHONE 4351 CHAPEL HILL, N. C., SUNDAY, OCTOBER 1, 1939 BUSINESS PHONE 4356 NUMBER 15

Demon Deacons Bow To Tar Heels, 36-6

Veteran Professor Had Been In Ill Health For Two Years

Mourning

Dr. C. S. Mangum, former head of Carolina's Medical school, who died Friday night after 43 years of service to the University. Funeral services will be held this afternoon.

Funeral Services To Be Held This Afternoon At 4

Funeral services for Dr. Charles Staples Mangum, 69-year-old retired dean of the University medical school, which he served for 43 years, will be conducted by the Rev. A. S. Lawrence, rector of the Episcopal church, at Chapel Hill cemetery this afternoon at 4 o'clock.

The veteran medical professor had been in ill health for two years and his condition had been critical for the past several weeks. He died in Watts hospital at 10 o'clock Friday night following treatment there for several months.

Dr. Mangum had served as dean of the medical school four years when he asked to be relieved of administrative duties in 1937.

Pallbearers will be: W. D. Toy of Chapel Hill; Marvin Wilson of Edenton; Norfleet Webb of Hillsboro; Paul Eubanks, Arnold Breckenridge and John Umstead, Jr., all of Chapel Hill; Herbert McKay of Dunn and William Speight of Spring Hope, University students.

Surviving are his wife, the former Miss Laura Rollins Payne of Washington, D. C., whom he married in 1900; and a son, Charles S. Mangum, Jr., of Chapel Hill.

Born in Greensboro, July 14, 1870, he was the son of Adolphus Williamson Mangum and Laura Jane Overman Mangum. He was graduated with an A. B. degree from the University, where he was voted the best all-round athlete, in 1891. Track and football were chief sports in which he participated. During the two years he studied in the medical school here he was director of University physical education.

From Chapel Hill, Dr. Mangum went to Jefferson Medical college in Philadelphia, where he received his doctor's degree in 1894 and was awarded the prize in therapeutics. Later he did graduate work at the University of Chicago and Harvard.

For the year following receipt of his degree at Jefferson Medical college, Dr. Mangum was a member of the college faculty and was assistant demonstrator in anatomy. After serving as assistant surgeon of the Lehigh and Wilkesbarre Coal company, 1895-96, Dr. Mangum returned to the village and practiced here. He was known as an excellent obstetrician. Before the North Carolina

(Continued on page 4, column 5)

Reception Postponed

The reception for music majors, originally scheduled for 4 o'clock today, has been postponed indefinitely, Professor J. E. Toms of the music department announced yesterday. The new date will be announced later, he said.

Freshmen To Meet Advisers Tuesday

All freshmen are asked to see their advisers at the chapel period Tuesday in the following places:

Mr. Armstrong, 203 New East; Dr. Edmister, 305 Venable; Dr. Emory, 112 New East; Mr. Hill, 206 Phillips; Mr. Johnson, 314 Saunders; Dr. McKie, 111 Murphey; Dr. Perry, Gerrard hall; Mr. Phillips, 204 Peabody; Mr. Saunders, 103 Bingham; Dean Spruill, 208 Bingham; Dr. Wells, 101 New West; Dean Beard. All pharmacy freshmen are asked to meet in the auditorium of Howell hall.

As the business to be taken up will probably require all of the time allowed by the half-hour meeting, the first-year men were urged to be on time.

Still Looking At You

Here is Coach Ray Wolf again. Last week, when his boys marched to victory over The Citadel, the DAILY TAR HEEL presented him to its readers. This week, after Carolina's win over Wake Forest, the staff, twice as proud, presents him again. Next week, if his squad repeats, Wolf will be still looking at you.

Thief With Taste For Music Raids Lambda Chi Alpha

Disappearance of over 200 phonograph records early yesterday morning was reported to Chapel Hill police by members of the Lambda Chi Alpha fraternity, who were not sure whether it was "just a prank, or an honest-to-goodness robbery."

S. E. Hall, fraternity member, said that the records had disappeared around 2 o'clock yesterday morning from the house at 107 Fraternity Court. "We did not believe that it was anything more than a practical joke at the time," he said, "because nothing else was missing. When the records were not returned this morning we decided that it must have been the real

(Continued on page 4, column 5)

HAMLET READING IS POSTPONED

Koch Gives Way To Radio Group

Professor Frederick H. Koch's reading of Hamlet which was scheduled for tonight has been postponed until October 22. The postponement was necessary to make way for a meeting of a group interested in radio writing and production.

The reading of the plays will be a monthly Sunday night feature of the Playmakers. The first in the series of play reading programs will be notable in that it will present a combination of Shakespeare's greatest play and a man who has played the title role, "Proff" Koch.

"Proff" will be followed in the play reading by Paul Green, North Carolina's most famous playwright. He will read for the first time in public the drama that he is writing for the Fayetteville Historical celebration November 21 through 25.

Lyons Will Speak

Professor J. C. Lyons of the Department of Romance languages will be the speaker at the first Bull's head tea of the year Wednesday afternoon at 4:30. He will discuss his experiences in Europe this summer.

CHRISTIAN GROUP MEETS TOMORROW

Thomas Will Speak To YM-YW Members

"How Christians through the Centuries Have Reacted to War" will be the topic for discussion tomorrow night at 7:15 when Professor George F. Thomas of the philosophy department will speak to members of the YWCA and YMCA in Gerrard hall.

Professor Thomas is noted particularly in the east as an authority on Christian theology. He came here from Dartmouth college, and this is his third year at the University.

This is the third in a series of four meetings of the junior-senior YMCA cabinet on "How Christians Have and Should React to War and Conflict,"

(Continued on page 2, column 6)

Hitler To Respect BVP Neutrality, Says "Cablegram"

Germany will respect the neutrality of Battle-Vance-Pettigrew in the present European conflict according to a "cablegram" received from Adolph Hitler yesterday by George Nicholson, Jr., president of the dormitory. This message was in reply to the neutrality proclamation issued here by BVP September 12. Almost simultaneously a "telegram" of congratulations on their stand was received from President Roosevelt.

The proclamation, which was signed by the dormitory president two and one-half weeks ago, stated the position of the dormitory as being absolutely neutral and said that it will "insist on her rights as a neutral as guaranteed under international law." It also said that the dormitory "had or wishes to have no part in the causes of the conflict."

Hitler's message conveyed absolute assurance that the "German reich government has no designs on the territory of Battle-Vance-Pettigrew," and insisted that the dormitory "need not fear" violation of their neutrality.

President Roosevelt complimented the stand of the dormitory, saying, "If more people would consider your example and profit by it this would be a better place to live in x x x."

Baptists Held Without Score Until Late In Third Quarter

Stirnweiss Hurt On First Play; Lalanne Shines

By SHELLEY ROLFE

Sweeping aside every Wake Forest thrust with a methodical and efficient ruthlessness, Carolina crushed the Deacons, 36-6, at Kenan stadium yesterday afternoon before 18,000 customers, nipping before they had had a chance to develop, the fervent hopes of every Deacon man that this at last was to be the Wake Forest year to upset Carolina, Duke and State and march into the front ranks of the Southern conference.

Playing most of the way without the services of Li'l George Stirnweiss, who was hurt on the game's first play from scrimmage, the Tar Heels did not once relent the intense pounding they were giving the Old Gold and Black. Scoring two whirlwind touchdowns early in the opening quarter, Ray Wolf's legion, which last week crushed The Citadel, 50-0, in its opener, was ahead 24-0 at the half and did not even allow Wake Forest to get past mid-field until the closing minutes of the third quarter.

CAROLINA POWER

The Tar Heels, even without Stirnweiss, showed as much power as they flashed against the Light Brigade. Wake Forest was a much stronger team than Citadel; Wake Forest had been given a chance to win and had already beaten Elon and South Carolina this year. But once the Deacons marched onto the Kenan stadium green they were beaten as hopelessly as The Citadel and there was nothing to save them. Nothing, not even the fervent hopes of the Baptist faithfuls or the loud bangings of the experts who hailed the Old Gold and Black as a modern miracle team of juniors and sophomores.

Only Red Mayberry, the man whose educated toe gains further prominence from week to week, held up his end in the Deacon rout. Playing his hardest all the way, Mayberry kicked and ran valiantly but he was bottled up most of the time by a charging Carolina line and one of his kicks was blocked by Bill Faircloth and turned into the fourth Tar Heel touchdown.

John the Baptist Polanski, the leaning tower of line-plunging power, was so bottled up in the first half that he was rushed out of the game while some small vestige of his well varnished reputation could still be saved. Polanski came back in the second half to vindicate himself in a small way, but at no time except when he galloped 52 yards on the final play of the game was he the Polanski football followers had seen performing unbelievable deeds against Elon and South Carolina.

OFFENSIVE REPORT

The Deacon offense was as reported: slow moving, butter-fingered and extremely un-air-minded. More times than not, two or three Deacons collided with the ball carrier. The Wake Forest reverses were slow and the

(Continued on page 3, column 5)

Tourist

Russell M. Grumman, director of the University extension division, who leaves today on a tour of the country to study methods of adult education in other states.

GRUMMAN GIVEN LEAVE TO STUDY EXTENSION WORK

Division Head Will Cover 14 States During Fall Quarter

Russell M. Grumman, director of the extension division of the University, has been granted a leave of absence by the trustees for the fall quarter to enable him to make a national study of extension facilities and adult education, it was announced yesterday by Administrative Dean R. B. House.

Covering 14 states, he will visit other universities and confer with leaders in extension work, radio, and adult education and study their programs.

He will devote attention to conditions in North Carolina that may have a bearing upon the trend of university extension work in this state.

Accompanied by Mrs. Grumman, he will leave here this morning on his tour.

States to be visited include Virginia, Pennsylvania, New York, West Virginia, Ohio, Michigan, Illinois, Iowa, Indiana, Tennessee, Georgia, Florida, District of Columbia, and North Carolina.

Hillel Forum

There will be a meeting of the Hillel forum at 7:30 tonight in Gerrard hall. Rabbi Joseph Weiss of Goldsboro will speak. Bill Tennenblatt will preside.

GRAHAM, HOUSE ANNOUNCE STAFF PROMOTIONS

Ten Given Rank As Professors; Others Honored

By authority of the executive committee of the Board of Trustees, which met in Raleigh Friday, President Frank P. Graham and Administrative Dean R. B. House today announced the following promotions in rank as affecting the staff of the University.

To be professors: Richmond P. Bond, Department of English; H. D. Crookford, Department of Chemistry; E. E. Ericson, Department of English; M. S. Heath, Department of Economics; J. B. Linker, Department of Mathematics; R. W. Morrison, Department of Education; C. E. Preston, Department of Education; L. W. Pose, School of Pharmacy; S. C. Sanders, Department of Classics; M. D. Taylor, Department of Economics.

To be associate professors: Russell L. Holman, Pathology; Lucile Kelling, Library Science; G. H. Lawrence, Public Welfare and Social Work; A. E. King, Education; R. J. Wherry, Psychology; S. T. Emory, Geology; J. W. Huddle, Geology; R. T. Smith, Art; R. S. Winslow, Economics. To be assistant professors: L. O. Kattsoff, Department of Philosophy; Frank N. Low, Department of Anatomy; J. W. Parker, Department of Dramatic Art; J. C. Sitterson, Social Science and History; and P. E. Shearin, Department of Physics.

Faculty Members Pay Tribute To Beloved Dr. C. S. Mangum

"University, State, Medical Alumni Will Feel Loss Deeply," Says Dr. Graham

Dr. C. S. Mangum, who passed away Friday night, was truly one of the last village patriachs of Chapel Hill, according to comments made by members of the University staff yesterday. The loss of Dr. Mangum will be felt deeply in Chapel Hill.

President Frank Porter Graham said, "In the death of Dr. Charles S. Mangum the University of North Carolina sustains a loss which will be deeply felt in the University community, in the state, and among medical alumni all over the nation.

"A son of a professor of the post-reconstruction days of the University, his life spanned the old and new University in a fine and intimate way

(Continued on page 4, column 3)

Pan-Hellenic Opens Sorority Rushing Today At Spencer Tea

Jo Martin Issues Rules Governing Week's Activities

Pan Hellenic will officially open sorority rushing when it entertains the women students in the University, graduate and undergraduate, sorority or non-sorority, at a tea this afternoon from 4 to 6 o'clock in Spencer hall.

During the coming week the three sororities, Pi Beta Phi, Chi Omega, and Alpha Delta Pi, will entertain at parties every afternoon and night except tomorrow night.

Miss Josephine Martin, president of Pan Hellenic, has issued the following

(Continued on page 4, column 2)

Zimmerman To Open Fall Concert Series Wednesday In Hill Hall

A program, including selections from Mozart, Bach, Chopin, Debussy and Liszt will be played by Irvin Zimmerman, graduate assistant in piano in the University when he gives the first of a fall series of concerts to be sponsored by the music department on Wednesday evening in Hill Music hall at 8:30.

The public is invited and there will be no admission charge.

Mr. Zimmerman is a graduate of the College of Music of Cincinnati where he studied under Dr. Sidney Durst and Dr. Frederic Bach.