

Cheerleader Hobbs To Lead Campus Imitators, Dancers In Amateur Program Tonight

Farr's Orchestra To Play For Show Beginning At 7:30

Imitators, tap dancers, piano and accordian players will take the campus spotlight tonight at 7:30 as Vance Hobbs presents his first amateur hour of the year in the main lounge of Graham Memorial. Jimmy Farr and his newly-formed swing band will furnish the musical background for the show.

Head Cheerleader Hobbs will be master of ceremonies for tonight's program, the first of four to be presented during this quarter. Prizes of $3 to the winner, $2 to the runner-up, and $1 to third place, will be offered.

In explaining the nature of the show, Hobbs stated, "Many of the amateurs who have participated in previous shows sponsored by Graham Memorial have gone on to make professional debuts and earn some extra money and have a lot of fun. These programs are put on for student benefit with a two-fold purpose. The first is to allow students to accustom themselves to an audience while performing, while the other is to give those who are not gifted an entertaining program."

Hobbs pointed out that it is still not too late for any talented musician or artist, who is not a professional, to sign up for this evening's show either with the impresario himself, with Tempe Newsome in the YMCA office, or with Bob Magill in the Graham Memorial director's office. Farr and his orchestra will be featured in several numbers, both sweet and hot.

Three War Bills Will Be Debated By Di Tonight

Discussion at the Di Senate meeting tonight at 7:15 in New West will center about three war bills.

The first is, "Resolved, that the United States should take over the British West Indies, Newfoundland, and a Canadian Corridor as payment for Britain's war debt."

The other bills are, "Resolved, that 90-day non-renewable credits be allowed belligerents in the proposed cash-and-carry purchases," and, "Resolved, that the United States should require two years military training for all able-bodied men over 18."

The Senate will hear a report from the special committee on intercollegiate debates and a report from the ways and means committee.

Frosh Meet Advisers

All freshmen are asked to meet their advisers tomorrow morning at chapel period in the following places instead of Memorial hall: Armstrong, 203 New East; Edmister, 305 Venable; Elder, 208 Peabody; Emory, 112 New East; Hill, 206 Phillips; Johnson, 314 Saunders; McKie, 111 Murphy; Peary, Gerrard hall; Phillips, 204 Peabody; Saunders, 103 Bingham; Dean Spruill, 208 Bingham; Wells, 101 New West; Dean Beard (pharmacy frosh), Howell auditorium.

Senorita Journalist Amazed At Lack Of Chaperones Here

Argentinian Wonders At Participation Of Women In Politics

By RUTH CURTIS ROBESON

"You have no chaperones on this campus; I cannot understand it. Do you think that the idea of having girls come here to school with the boys is a good one?" asked Senorita Suzanna Perez Irigoyen, journalist of Buenos Aires.

The Spanish woman, is among the prominent Latin-Americans touring the nation under the auspices of the People's Mandate to End War. Instead of talking to a designated group as the other representatives did, Senorita Irigoyen preferred seeing the campus, library, and the journalism department.

Local Jitterbug Dislocates Knee At Grail Dance

Mike Flynt, senior from Winston-Salem, is lying in a Twin City hospital today dreaming of graceful minuets and waltzes, the only fare on his terpsichorean menu from now on.

Until Saturday night's Grail dance Flynt was a whirling-dervish jitterbug of the first degree, but he saw the writing on the wall. Or rather the writing was on the knee, because for the third time that joint was dislocated while indulging in some heavy fantastic.

This accident was the worst of them all, and now an operation will have to be performed on the injured limb. Flynt will be able to dance in due time, but no more jitterbugging.

UNIVERSITY CLUB INITIATES SEVEN

No Rally Planned For This Weekend

The University club at its weekly meeting last night in Graham Memorial initiated seven new members and passed a motion amending the club's constitution.

New members are: Sara McLean, Women's Dormitory 1; Jean McIndoe, Dorm 2; Alice Murdock, Dorm 3; James Schleifer, Pi Lambda Phi fraternity; Sis Clinard, Alpha Delta Pi sorority; Ott Burton, "K" dormitory; and Paul King, "H" dormitory. This addition brought the total membership of the club to 48.

The amendment stated that all dormitories with residents as members of the club, but no official representative, shall not be allowed another representative.

NO SEND OFF

It was decided at the meeting last night that the club definitely would not sponsor a send-off rally when the football team leaves for New Orleans Thursday night.

President Reddy Grubbs appointed Noel Woodhouse as chairman of a committee to make plans for a club social some time this quarter, probably the week-end of the Carolina-Duke game. Other members of the committee are Perrin Quarles, Bill Bruner, Bill Allen, and Sam Teague.

Buccaneer Staff Meeting Tonight

There will be an informal meeting of the Buccaneer editorial staff tonight from 7 to 8 o'clock. All those interested in working on the November issue are invited.

Now Is The Time . . .

All mugs and muggs-eds who haven't had their pictures taken for the Yackety Yack, please have them taken immediately, Editor Jack Lynch requested yesterday.

Group Will Conduct Old Clothes Roundup Tomorrow Afternoon

The health department of the Community club will conduct its annual "Old Clothes Roundup" tomorrow afternoon. All students who have old clothes to contribute should leave them at the information desk in the "Y" sometime tomorrow before 4 o'clock.

Toys and clothes will be welcomed alike. Cars will drive through the streets tomorrow afternoon and pick up the bundles of clothes, which are to be left on the front porch.

The arts and crafts classes, of the elementary school, will repair and renovate the toys which will be used in filling empty Christmas stockings.

If a bundle of clothes is overlooked, phone Mrs. H. D. Crockford, at 6931.

YDC APPLICATION BLANKS AVAILABLE IN YMCA OFFICE

Meeting Planned Thursday Night After Grid Clinic

Application blanks for membership to the recently organized campus unit of the North Carolina Young Democratic club are now available and may be secured from Miss Tempe Newsom at the YMCA or from any member of the membership committee, Tom Long and Ott Burton, co-chairman of the committee, announced yesterday.

The club, organized to promote the principles of the Democratic party, is endeavoring to interest "all good Democrats" in becoming members of the unit, President Joe Dawson said yesterday.

Members of the committee besides Long and Burton, are Buddy Nordan, Bill McKinnon, Fletcher Mann, Preston Nesbit, Herbert Hardy and Jimmy Pittman.

MEETING

Because no action on membership applications will be possible before the first regular meeting, President Dawson has invited all interested students and faculty members to attend this meeting in Gerrard hall Thursday night at 9 o'clock immediately following the weekly football clinic.

Topics under consideration will be (1) drafting constitution, (2) the report of the membership committee, and (3) report of the committee on arrangements.

Dawson also said he wished to add the name of Bob Farris to the list of charter members, which was unintentionally omitted when the story of the organization of the club was published last week.

STUDENTS TO HELP PLAN CELEBRATION

Group Appointed To Gather Data

Appointment of a student committee to work on plans for the sesqui-centennial celebration of the University was announced yesterday by Jim Davis, president of the student body.

Those named on the committee were: Jim Joyner, chairman, Mary Wood Winslow, Mitchell Britt, Louise Jordan, Don Bishop, Robert Carr, Joseph Huske, Chauncey Broome, and Alston Lewis.

This group, which will be recruited by new members as the present members graduate, will gather information and historical data relevant to the celebrations of the 150th anniversary of the laying of the corner stone and the actual beginning of the University.

The celebration of the laying of the corner stone will take place in 1943. The celebration of the beginning of classes will take place in 1945.

American Student Union Reaffirms Support Of Repeal

In a letter to the President, the American Student union has reaffirmed its support for proposals to revise the Neutrality act which would permit all belligerents to purchase war materials here on a cash and carry basis. "Just because we are intensely interested that our country remain at peace, we wish to express our endorsement toward that end," the letter declared.

The Student union stated the college generation now at school had a most vital personal interest that the country remain at peace: ". . . hiding is not a shell hole in no-man's land is not American youth's concept of a happy life."

The American Student union with national headquarters at 1860 Broadway in New York City is a nationwide organization of college and high school students. It originally sponsored the student strike against war, and it has consistently maintained that retreat before aggression would finally engulf the entire world in the war it was trying to avoid by appeasement. For that reason it has urged U. S. support by methods short of war to all forces resisting aggression.

The letter signed by the Union's Executive Secretary, Joseph P. Lash, assured the President of its "continued faith" in his leadership.

Frosh Nominations Today Bring Year's First Political Activity

Political Union To Present Four Aspirants For Governor

Maxwell, Cooper, Broughton, Smith Here Tomorrow

Unveiling the 1939-40 state political scene, the Carolina Political union will present four candidates for governor tomorrow evening in Memorial hall at 8 o'clock. The four speakers are J. M. Broughton, Raleigh attorney A. J. Maxwell, commissioner of revenue; Thomas Cooper, mayor of Wilmington; and Willis Smith, also a Raleigh attorney.

It is expected that the talks will throw light on the hitherto shrouded gubernatorial race. Lieutenant-Governor W. P. Horton, also a probable candidate, spoke on the union's platform three weeks ago, but avoided all mention of state problems.

Besides the four men who will speak tomorrow night and Horton, the only other possible candidate for governor at the present time appears to be Lee Gravely, former Rocky Mount legislator.

CAREER

Broughton has led an active life in state politics for many years. He served in the state legislature for several sessions, and for the past two decades has been one of the leaders in the State Bar association.

A member of the Duke university board of trustees, Smith has a record similar to Broughton's in many respects. He also served as a legislator from Raleigh and has been prominent in politics in his capacity as attorney in Raleigh.

Present mayor of Wilmington, Cooper has been active in politics in the eastern part of the state. He holds the position of Commissioner of Public Safety in the Port City.

At present the Commissioner of Internal Revenue, Maxwell ran for governor against J. C. B. Ehringhaus in 1932. Listed among his official duties has been membership on numerous state education boards, during his long period of prominence on the state political scene.

Feldstein Asks Chess Players To Meet Tonight

An organization meeting of the University chess club will be held tonight at 7:30 in room 212 of Graham Memorial. Harold Feldstein, in charge of the group, yesterday urged all students interested in the game to attend tonight's gathering.

Chess enthusiasm reached a new high on the campus last week, when Feldstein, former New York City school's champion, simultaneously defeated 14 players and drew one. A large crowd turned out to follow the red-headed expert as he won over his opponents in methodical fashion.

During the summer session the Graham Memorial student union bought several chess sets for the use of students and faculty. Interest in the game steadily increased, necessitating further purchase of sets.

Since last week's turnout for the exhibition was above expectation, Bob Magill, director of the student union, will organize a chess club. After organization plans have been completed, a tournament is planned for the near future.

Playmaker Tickets On Sale This Week

Reserved seat tickets for the Carolina Playmakers' production of "No More Peace" this week are on sale at Ledbetter-Pickard stationery store, in the village and at the office of John Parker, Playmaker business manager, 316 South building.

Tickets may be purchased for $1.00 or may be secured with stubs from the season book. They may also be obtained at the box-office the nights of production.

The play will be performed tomorrow, Thursday, Friday and Saturday nights at 8:30 in the Playmakers theater.

Season tickets are still available at Ledbetter-Pickard or at 316 South.

FIRST PLAYMAKER PRODUCTION OPENS TOMORROW NIGHT

Selden To Direct 'No More Peace' In Four-Day Run

Ernst Toller's anti-war comedy, "No More Peace," will launch the Playmaker 1939-40 season with performances at 8:30 tomorrow, Thursday, Friday, and Saturday nights in the Playmaker theater.

DIRECTOR

Directed by Sam Selden and staged by Elmer Hall, the play's action skips between Olumpus where Napoleon, bored with life, longs for excitement; and Dunklestein, an imaginary country on the Spanish-French border, where a bogus war breaks out during a peace celebration. A rapid shift from the two settings is accomplished with the use of two stage levels.

Napoleon spends his time arguing with St. Francis of Assisi who always hopes and sometimes believes that mankind has put aside hate and injustice.

Reserved seats will be one dollar and are on sale at Ledbetter-Pickard's and at 316 South building. Tickets will also be on sale at the box office.

BUDGET MEETING SET FOR FRIDAY

Swing Band To Help Sophs Get Quorum

The sophomore class will attempt to pass its budget at the first meeting of the school year scheduled next Friday morning at 10:30 in Hill hall, President Bill Alexander said yesterday.

A swing band will be on hand to lure the necessary quorum.

Alexander stressed that the presence of a quorum is particularly necessary, since among the specifications in the budget is the allotment of funds for the sophomore dance, to be held on November 3 and 4. If the two-thirds number does not turn out, he feared that the dance would have to be postponed indefinitely, due to the lack of available monetary resources.

ESTIMATE DRAWN

The budget was passed by the executive committee at a meeting held last week. Treasurer Truman Hobbs and his finance committee drew up the estimate in collaboration with Clyde Shaw, of the student auditor's office.

Although the name of the campus band to play at the meeting was not known last night, President Alexander promised that there would be plenty of swing music for all of the sophomores to enjoy.

Yeapanis Plus Maragos Plus Anthony Equals Restaurant

Arthur Gill Wins New Tennis Racket In Grid Contest

Arthur Gill, 5 Steele, won the Champion tennis racket given as first prize in the Book Exchange football predictions contest held last week, out of approximately 4000 entries.

Joe Elkins, 112 Aycock, won a pair of tennis shoes for second prize, and Charles Diffendal, ATO house, and Maylon S. Baker, Jr., of 204 Grimes, won Carolina sport shirts.

Next week prizes are ten Carolina sport shirts, one to each of the ten best predictions.

Each student is allowed to make one prediction per day, or a total of five per week, by dropping one in the box each day. The Book Exchange urges the students to take advantage of this possibility.

Poteat Reported To Be Candidate Of Non-Frat Men

Memorial hall this morning will be the scene of political activity for the first time this quarter as members of the first-year class, 900 strong, meet to nominate officers for the coming year.

Candidates for president, vice-president, secretary and treasurer will be nominated for elections Thursday. The number of candidates who may be nominated is unlimited. Later in the quarter members of the class honor council will be chosen.

It is probable that the Wednesday morning chapel period will be taken over by candidates desiring to make campaign speeches.

Although the student council set the nomination and election dates at its regular meeting Tuesday night, announcement was not made until Saturday. Student President Jim Davis, who made the announcement, stated that the dates were not made public sooner because it is the policy of the council to allow freshmen only one day of official campaigning in order to minimize upper-class influence on freshman elections.

Reliable sources reported that a group of non-fraternity men, dormitory residents, are backing Yates Poteat of Spindale for president.

The fraternity candidate for chief executive was not known last night.

ALL QUIET

Pre-nomination activity has not been so apparent as was that of last year, when the various tickets were common knowledge far in advance of the nomination date.

As yet the location for Thursday's voting has not been announced, although it is probable that the ballot boxes will be placed in the lobby of the YMCA.

Phi Will Discuss New Dance Club Tonight At 7:15

Two motions, "Resolved, that the activities of the German club be taken over by an organization composed of representatives from the interfraternity and interdormitory councils in equal proportions," and "Resolved, that President Roosevelt should accept proposals to arbitrate for a peaceful settlement of the present European war," will be discussed tonight by the Phi assembly at 7:15 in New East.

These motions were before the assembly last week but were tabled because of the initiation of new members.

Dancing Instruction

Mrs. J. G. Beard, director of physical education for women, announced yesterday that men or coeds who want private instruction in social dancing may obtain help from Mrs. Nancy Cooke, student assistant in dancing.

Mrs. Cooke will give private lessons on Tuesday and Thursday afternoons at 2:45 in 302 Woollen. Anyone interested in the class is asked to see Mrs. Cooke or leave his name in Mrs. Beard's office, 111 Woollen.

Reporter Tells The Story Of Three Boys From The Far-Away Island Of Cyprus

By VIVIAN GILLESPIE

When Greek meets Greek, they eat; when three congregate, they start a restaurant. That's how the University Cafe began.

Chris Yeapanis, Jack Maragos, and Sam Anthony, the owners of the cafe, live up to that tradition. They are all native Greeks from the Island of Cyprus, who came to the United States and by "irresistible" forces met and started the restaurant. Chris, the "out-front" man, was one of the original founders of the business, in 1934. His first partner dropped out, and Jack and Sam have since bought in.

Each man has his particular job. Sam is "sick," so he just comes and goes, and supervises things. Jack is (Continued on page 4, column 6)
