

Committee Planning Giant Celebration For Homecoming

Greater University Day To Be Observed Same Date, Nov. 4

Plans and arrangements were made yesterday by a special committee to make the second annual Greater University day, and Homecoming Day the largest and most successful celebration in the history of the University. The two celebrations will be held here on November 4, when alumni of all three units of the consolidated University are invited to attend the Carolina-State football game and the informal Grail dance that night.

The committee laid plans for a decoration contest on Homecoming Day and sub-committee, composed of Jack Vincent, Studie, Ficklen, and Melville Corbett, was appointed to draw up rules and regulations governing the contest.

ANOTHER CONTEST

In addition to the contests on the campus, between women's dormitories, men's dormitories, fraternities, and sororities, another contest will be held between the merchants in Chapel Hill. Mr. P. M. Thompson, president of the Merchants' association, will set up the regulations governing this contest and football tickets will be given as prizes to the merchants. Judges for all contests will be selected by the University Club.

A pep rally Friday night will precede Saturday's celebration. Leading off the Saturday program, monogram alumni will gather for a reunion, and all other alumni will meet to talk of "the good old days." Both gatherings will be at the Carolina Inn, headquarters for returning alumni. All officers and directors of the Alumni association will hold a special meeting at 10:30. The monogram alumni will be guests of the University at the game.

By LOUIS HARRIS

Lotte Lehman, for many years leading soprano in the Metropolitan Opera in New York, when in Austria in 1937, said of the choir, "I had the pleasure of hearing the Trapp family sing several times. I marveled at the originality, the musical rhythm, and the finely delivered ensemble work of these extraordinary artistic high-standing choral singers. In harmony with the traditions and high expectations as realized in this festival city, Salzburg, it may be anticipated that wherever they go they reveal, through their singing, the soul of the folk to whom they are so intimately related. May the Trapp family be destined to a successful future!"

Rooters Will Gather In Philadelphia For Pre-Game Pep Rally

RELIGIOUS MEET HEARS GRAHAM AT GREENSBORO

President Stresses Responsibility Of Religion, Education

Dr. Frank Porter Graham, president of the University, in the third series of platform addresses as a feature of religious emphasis week at Woman's college Tuesday placed the responsibility for the salvation and security of democracy upon religion and education in a world "in which men everywhere had lately come to aspire toward freedom and democracy, but now, in terrible disillusionment, insecurity and fear, have turned and are turning to dictators and totalitarian ways."

"In this critical hour for human freedom, now renounced or crushed in more than half the world, instead of a dictatorship away from democracy, and instead of a dictatorship toward democracy, this religious emphasis week sounds its timely challenge to religion, to education, to freedom, and democracy," Dr. Graham told his Aycock stadium audience.

NEW FAITH

"As the peoples of the world may, with new faith, turn to these, may we, as students and citizens' turn for guidance to the greatest Teacher and supreme Democrat, whose teachings and life became the foundations of freedom and democracy in the modern world."

Urging the youth of America to look toward democratic and spiritual faith, Dr. Graham declared, "In America we would seize the hour not for a dictator, and not for war, but to put our house in order according to the intended American way of a real freedom and a just democracy. We must realize that America is neither a static society nor detached from the currents of a dynamic world. As the dictator, with all promises, found it necessary to crush or subordinate to his purpose the church, parliament, labor unions, business enterprise, the press, radio, schools and universities, we, in America must resolutely protect and advance the decent freedom of all these for their own sake in the public interest, and to make impossible the dictatorship of a totalitarian state."

WARNING

Throwing out the warning that democracy cannot, without decay, stop in either the pride of historic achievement or in the despair of wide human miseries, Dr. Graham declared it to be in the American dream that "by a wide educational provision for the free development of individual differences and aptitudes, all should have a more equal opportunity to make the most of their whole and highest personalities and have a part, to the limit of their capacities, in the work and (Continued on page 4, column 5)

Coaches Criticized By Psychologist

MINNEAPOLIS, MINN.—(ACP)—Football coaches who like to play the role of "Gloomy Gus" before every gridiron battle are poor psychologists and invite defeat.

That is the opinion of a University of Minnesota psychologist, Prof. Charles Bird, and he thinks something ought to be done about it.

"After all, football players are like the rest of us," he says. "We do better when we get a little praise, or when we can look ahead to victory."

"Most football players are young and susceptible—about 19 or 20 years old on the average. They feel keenly. I don't believe it does them any good to have a coach point to nothing but defeat. Like the rest of us, they need the 'success motive'."
