Only 17 pictures of juniors and slightly more of seniors are needed to complete the class sections.

"Now is the time for all good fraternities to bring their number of pictures for the Yackety Yack up to 36," he said. All freshmen and sophomores whose pictures will appear in the fraternity section must pay $1.25 each when they have their pictures made.

Pictures may be taken any day this week between the hours of 8 o'clock in the morning and 6 o'clock in the afternoon at Wootten-Moulton studios.

Majority Also Will Not Volunteer If U. S. Enters Foreign Conflict

As the nation debates the way to stay out of a European war, what is American college youth thinking and saying about the situation? Scores of personal interviews last week completed the first of this year's polls for the Student Opinion Surveys of America on campuses from coast to coast—and found:

1. Students are opposed to changing the neutrality law, mainly because they believe this would involve the United States.

2. Even if the Allies were in danger of losing to Germany, the United States should not send troops to help them.

3. College men—almost six out of every 10—say they would not volunteer if England and France were losing and this country went to their aid.

With the cooperation of the DAILY TAR HEEL and over a hundred other member newspapers, ballots have been gathered for the surveys from typical

Sports Ed Emanates Gloom, Frustration After Unhappy Trip

By SANFORD STEIN

While everyone else is remembering with rapture and delight the events of the Carolina-Penn game gloom and frustration emanate from the bleary, one-third-of-the-way-open eyes of Shelley Rolfe, who spent a very unhappy weekend.

It all happened when Shelley prepared to go to Philadelphia in the performance of his duties as sports editor of the DAILY TAR HEEL. He had been anticipating a berth on the train and was all set to enjoy aristocratic slumber with the team. But unforeseen circumstances put him in an ordinary day coach and hence he slept not a wink Friday night.

WINKS AND PANCAKES

Arriving in Philadelphia, Shelley got a room at a hotel and was all ready to snatch a few needed winks, but within an hour five people were occupying all the beds in sight and three others were making merry in the shower. So Shelley went down to eat some breakfast. He bought pancakes and was given two small pitchers, one containing maple syrup and one containing coffee. Whereupon Shelley promptly poured the coffee over the pancakes, which gave them a rather unusual taste.

Before the game started, Shelley strolled down the main street of the City of Brotherly Love and bumped into a lady passing by. He turned around to apologize, when the female suddenly exclaimed, "Oh a masher, huh!" and smacked him vigorously with her pocketbook.

COFFEE AND TYPEWRITER

During the game Shelley sat in the pressbox of the stadium at Franklin Field and faithfully recorded every play and touchdown. In the midst of the massacre, he spilled the entire contents of a cup of coffee over his Carleton Smith, head of the National Broadcasting company bureau in the capital, told the CPU chairman that plans were being made to have the Bridges and Taft speeches carried over a national hook-up.

During his terms as junior senator from North Carolina, Reynolds has led an active career in both his role as a representative of the state and as the leader of the Vindicator's organization. Reynolds recently voted against the President's arms embargo repeal, stating that he was casting his lot with the opposition, though against the will of the people he represented, for the good of the state of North Carolina.
