

HELLO WEEKEND GETS UNDER WAY THIS MORNING

Good-Will Promotion Program Will Last Through Sunday

Using as its theme "Hello State" and "Hello Alumni" and as its purpose the promotion of friendlier relations among the students, Hello Weekend officially begins today under the sponsorship of the Phi assembly and will continue until Sunday night as part of the Homecoming celebration. The committee, consisting of Bob Farris, chairman, Mickey Warren and Bill Singletary, has announced that blue and white "pennants" will be distributed to every member of the student body this evening. These pennants, which have "hello" printed on them and room for the student's name, may be pinned on one's lapel or sweater.

Theme song of "Hello Weekend" will be "At Least You Could Say Hello" and will be played once during each dance held tomorrow and Saturday. While the theme is being played, stags will be allowed to break without formal introduction.

Work is now being done on making blue and white placards for the Carolina cheering sections Saturday. The blue and white placards for the Carolina "Hello State" and "Hello Alumni." It had been hoped that the band would also form "Hello" on the football field, but due to the number of speeches scheduled for Homecoming, it will be unable to do so.

Organizations endorsing the Hello Week, in addition to the Administration, are: Student council, University club, Grail, Monogram club, Inter-dormitory council, Interfraternity council, Student legislature, Young Democrats club, Di senate, women's association and the Carolina Political union.

YOUNG DEMOCRATS HEAR E. H. TAFT

State Organizer Explains Aims

"It is important that the youth of America get a proper send-off into national government when they come of voting age and that is the purpose of the Young Democrats club," said E. Hoover Taft, state organizer for the Young Democrats club, to the local club last night in Phi hall.

"The clubs constitute a welcoming committee for the national Democratic party," he explained, "and not as a factor in a political machine."

Taft remarked that he thought the Young Democrats club one of the best ways possible to combat Fascism and Hitlerism, as it taught the proper methods of democratic government to the young people.

Seventy counties in North Carolina have active, dues-paying clubs and there are similar clubs in all states of the nation. He explained the scarcity of the organizations in eastern North Carolina by saying that the Democrats there have no competition.

"I don't know of anything that mixes with politics as well as pleasure," Taft said, in suggesting that the University club hold joint meetings with other collegiate Young Democratic clubs over the state.

Students Do Not Believe In Limiting Editorial Comment

Poll Shows Students In Favor Of Collegiate Publications Discussing World Problems

Nearly two-thirds of the vast army of students who read more than 850 college and university newspapers believe that their publications should not limit their editorial comment to campus problems, but should also take up matters of national and international importance.

This is the result of a national poll just taken by the Student Opinion Surveys of America, the college newspaper's public opinion news service that weekly reports surveys taken by means of mathematical samplings. The DAILY TAR HEEL is a cooperating member, aiding in conducting inter-

(Continued on page 4, column 2)

Sweet And Slightly Warm

Above is pictured Dan Gregory, who has been signed by the sophomore class to play for the first dance of the sophomore series tomorrow night in Woolen gymnasium. Gregory will arrive on the campus tomorrow afternoon direct from an engagement at the Tanti Gardens in Richmond. His band features numerous arrangements of popular selections for the accordion. The group is also noted for the "show" they put on throughout the dance.

Dan Gregory And Company Will Arrive Tomorrow For Sophomore Formal Dance

Orchestra Noted For Accordian Arrangements Of Popular Selections

By BILL RHODES WEAVER
Dan Gregory, whose orchestra is scheduled to play for the opening formal dance of the sophomore hop, will arrive tomorrow afternoon. Final plans for the series have been completed and sponsors and escorts will be announced tomorrow.

Gregory's ensemble is at present filling an engagement at the Tanti Gardens in Richmond. Unusual is the use of the accordian arrangements, which has found wide appeal with college dancers along the Atlantic coastline.

Anything may be expected to happen tomorrow night, for Gregory has with his band Clem "Fat" Gorty, a musician whose sense of humor plays tricks on audiences. Burlesque fun of the band is similar to the Kay Kysers type of entertainment.

One of the few all-male organizations, the band is composed of Pennsylvanians, whose specialty is rendition of soft, sweet tunes. However, the 12 men can make a request for a double dozen of double damask dinner napkins seem like tame material for jitters.

"Coach" Gregory and his team
(Continued on page 4, column 4)

Carolina Program To Be Broadcast Tonight At 8:30

A radio program, in connection with the homecoming and second annual Greater University Day celebrations to be held here tomorrow and Saturday, will be given over WPTF in Raleigh tonight at 8:30.

Roy Armstrong, director of Pre-College guidance and member of the homecoming committee, announced that the program will be given to acquaint the general public with homecoming and University Day.

Plans have been made by the radio program committee, composed of Roy Armstrong and Richard Worley, to have the co-captains of the football team, George Stirnweiss and Jim Woodson, interviewed on the program.

Ushers, Gatemmen

All boys who have worked as ushers, gatemmen or fence guards at football games this year, and who expect to work at the State game must see Herman Schnell at 307 Wollen Gym today between the hours of 9 and 11; 12 and 1; and 4 and 5. This does not include those that have already checked in this week. All students who have not worked this year and who desire to work at this game, are requested to report at the same time.

Renn-UNC Pictures To Be Shown Tonight

Pictures of the Penn-Carolina game will be shown at Coach Ray Wolf's football clinic to be held tonight in Memorial hall at 7:30. The head coach will review various systems of play employed throughout the country in an analysis before the films are flashed on the screen.

REV. R. B. DRANE, MRS. GRAHAM'S FATHER, DIES

Retired Minister Was Leader In Episcopal Church

The Rev. Robert Brent Drane, father of Mrs. Frank Porter Graham, and for 56 years rector of St. Paul's Episcopal church at Edenton, died at Watt's hospital late Tuesday night.

Funeral services will be conducted at St. Paul's church in Edenton this afternoon at 3 o'clock.

Born December 5, 1851, in Wellington, he was the son of the Rev. Robert Brent Drane, rector of St. James Episcopal church there, and Caroline Parker Drane. He was educated in the home of his uncles, Rev. Joseph B. Cheshire and ex-Governor Henry T. Clark in Tarboro; at St. Stephen's college, and the General Theological seminary in New York city.

He was married December 4, 1878 to Maria L. W. Skinner of Edenton. To this union were born seven children: Brent S. Drane of Washington, D. C.; Mrs. J. Cheshire Webb of Hillsboro; Frank Parker Drane, who died at Charlotte in 1917; Dr. Robert Drane of Savannah, Ga.; the Rev. Frederick B. Drane of Monroe; Mrs. Bennett H. Perry of Henderson; and Mrs. Frank P. Graham of Chapel Hill; eight grandchildren and three great-grandchildren.

Even The Spooks Are Howling Over The UNC-Duke Tilt

With pre-game anticipation already running a fever heat before the Duke-Carolina tilt November 18, even the spooks and hobgoblins seem stirred up according to a poem printed yesterday in the Durham Morning Herald.

Herewith, the poem:
A goblin with a wicked leer,
Said to a sheeted spook,
"The game of games will soon be here—
I'll bet you ten on Duke."

The spook he groaned a sickly groan,
His eyes wet and briny,
"My friend," he sighed, "The bet is on—
Give me Carolina."

"You'll lose that bet, I'll Sewanee,"
The spook croaked with glee,
"For the passes of Lalanne
Are wonderful to see."

"You're not so smart you durned banshee,
If you think passes fun.
You ought to see this McAfee,
When he is on the run."

"Well, I'll just show you black on white,"
The spook then replied,
"And if you don't believe I'm right,
Your head is wrong inside."

"For Tulane beat the Rams right well,
And the Rams conquered Pitt,
And Duke before the Panthers fell,
And Tulane—who tied it?"

—D. J.

Legislature Votes Down Buc Proposal

HUGE PEP RALLY PLANNED FOR TOMORROW NIGHT

Meeting To Feature Shirt-Tail Parade, Fireworks, Band

The pre-State game pep rally will start with a bang tomorrow night in Emerson stadium at 6:45 with a sizzling display of fireworks, according to plans released last night by Jick Garland, chairman of the University club committee in charge of arrangements for the affair.

After the fireworks, a huge shirt-tail parade will form at the Old Well and march through town, ending at Memorial hall where the rally proper will be staged.

OUT IN FRONT

The University band, Head Cheerleader Vance Hobbs, and his colleagues will lead the parade, which may march in the glare of torches.

Garland said last night that his committee hopes to secure one of the campus swing bands to play in Memorial hall prior to the rally.

Arrangements for the program have not yet been completed, but the committee is planning to have the entire football squad on the stage, with possibly some of the players saying a few words.

Garland said that it is possible that Charles Tillett, of Charlotte, president of the Alumni association, will make an informal address. If Tillett is unable to come, the committee plans to have Judge Rives of Greensboro.

Members of the committee are Garland, chairman, Archie McIntosh, Frostie Snow, Lewis Gaylord, Tom Hackney, and Sam Teague.

CPU WILL ACCEPT APPLICATIONS

Three Places Open For Upperclassmen

The Carolina Political union will accept all applications for membership from the three upper classes beginning today and extending through noon, November 13, in an effort to fill the vacancies left through two resignations and one failure to return to school. Application blanks may be obtained in the office of the YMCA.

In requiring only application blanks as material for consideration, the union is departing from the former system of including letters with the printed forms. The purpose is to compile all of the necessary information into one compact blank.

NO FROSH

Only sophomores, juniors, and seniors are eligible for membership in the CPU at the present time. The customary time for admitting first year men is in the spring. Chairman Harry Gatton pointed out that the usual number of places were being held open for the freshmen in the spring elections.

Gatton also stated that everyone who applies will receive consideration.
(Continued on page 2, column 6)

Move To Make Fee Non-Compulsory Fails To Pass

By CAMPBELL IRVING

The bill presented to the student legislature, recommending that the Buccaneer be made independent of the University, was defeated last night in the most active and spirited session of the legislature since its organization here.

A committee to investigate the Buccaneer was appointed last year by Jim Joyner, who was president of the student body at that time. This committee did not take any action until this year when it drew up a bill recommending that the Buccaneer be made independent of the University. The bill suggested this because a sizeable group of students was forced to take the magazine due to compulsory fees, and because the publication had afforded embarrassment to the University.

It was pointed out in the discussion, however, that anyone who did not desire the magazine, could ask for the return of the fee paid to the administration and that no one has ever asked for this money to be returned.

It was also stated that the publication does not offer much embarrassment to the school and that no severe complaints have been received from anyone outside of Chapel Hill. The bill was almost unanimously defeated, and no further action will be taken by the legislature.

SAFETY COUNCIL

A committee presented a bill at the first meeting of the legislature recommending that a safety council be organized on the campus to enforce certain standards of safe-driving and, with the cooperation of the American Automobile association, to advance safety education on the campus. This bill was tabled until the next meeting because, even though a majority was in favor of the council's organization, it was not in favor of it on its present form.

At the first meeting of the year five members-at-large were elected to the legislature who were supposed to represent the town students. It was reported at the meeting last night that
(Continued on page 4, column 3)

Press Association Membership Given To Daily Tar Heel

The DAILY TAR HEEL yesterday was given $10 for membership in the North Carolina Collegiate Press association, Ed Rankin, president of the PU Board announced following a meeting of the board. The association will hold its semi-annual meeting this week-end in Raleigh.

The board also passed a bill at yesterday's session, providing padded covers for the Yackety Yack with the purchaser's name in gold for a nominal additional fee. The addition to the cover will be optional and the extra charge will be announced at a later date.

The request that the DAILY TAR HEEL print additional copies for Homecoming was turned down, because of the "ineffective use of last year's extra issue."

Beale Says America Can Save Democracy By Not Fighting

Victorious Hitler Would Not Harm U. S., Professor Believes

By MARTHA LEFEVRE

"It is more important to keep democracy functioning in our own country than to enter the war in an attempt to make the world safe for democracy," Dr. H. K. Beale, professor of history, claimed in an interview yesterday.

"If the war drags on Hitler may be defeated, for England and France can hold out for a long time. But a victorious Hitler could not harm us for the chaos which would result in Europe should prevent him from attempting further conquests. Any attempts he would make would fail if democratic principles are strongly felt."
(Continued on page 4, column 6)

Phi Beta Kappa Meet Tonight

Active members of the local chapter of Phi Beta Kappa will meet tonight at 7:15 in room 211 of Graham Memorial, Marty Kalkstein, president, announced yesterday.

A discussion of the new by-laws of the fraternity is scheduled, and Kalkstein asked that the members be prepared with suggestions on prospective changes.

Two new members, Virginia Bower and Adele Austin, will be initiated Saturday morning.

Kalkstein stressed the necessity for all members to be present and on time for the important meeting.