COUNCIL KILLS NOVEMBER BUC

Wildcats Seek To Stop Tar Heels Today

CAROLINA OUTFIT HEAVILY FAVORED TO TAKE DAVIDSON

Game Begins At 2 O'clock In Winston-Salem

By SHELLEY ROLFE

With the eyes of most of its supporters riveted ahead towards the Duke game, the undefeated University of North Carolina football team steps down from major competition to battle Davidson at Bowman Gray stadium Winston-Salem this afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Winners of six games and tied by Tulane in one of the most thrilling battles of a hectic gridiron autumn, the Tar Heels will rate almost prohibitive favorites to crush the Wildcats and march up to Duke still rated among the top ten teams in the nation. Davidson won its first game of the year last week against The Citadel after having dropped five in a row.

But if everyone is rushing around giving the game to the Tar Heels, Ray Wolf, who pulls the strings for the big boys in blue and silver, is not too sure of the final results. "We're expecting anything," he said yesterday. "Davidson has a good passing attack and it might bother us."

Jimmy Farr and his orchestra will play for the dance which begins at 8:30 in Graham Memorial.

Another Issue To Be Printed This Month

The Student council last night directed the Publications Union board to destroy all copies of the present November issue of Buccaneer magazine.

Meeting to make a study of the present issue of the Buccaneer to consider its possible effects on the student body, administration, alumni, and the prestige of the University at large, council members passed the above resolution and added that the material will be returned to the editor for revision and change for another November issue, to be printed as soon as possible.

Jimmy Davis, president of the student body, said last night, "This action was taken with a realization that the Buccaneer is read throughout the state by persons from all walks of life, and it was judged that such an issue would seriously and permanently damage the reputation and lessen the prestige of the University in general."

"The council also realized the great expense involved in the printing of another issue of the magazine," Davis continued, "but thought that this was justified by the circumstances surrounding the case. This step was not taken as a means of setting up a censorship of student publications or of student expression, but as a protective measure for the welfare of the student body. It was thought that such an issue did not represent the true humor of the campus and that the majority of students, and the parents of students, would not want the issue circulated over the campus and over the state as representative of the University of North Carolina," Davis concluded.

HIBBS TO SING WITH FARR BAND FOR PHI DANCE

Assemblyites Plan Elaborate Figure At Ball Tonight

Jimmy Farr and his orchestra, featuring the singing of Bud Hibbs, will perform in Graham Memorial tonight for the annual Phi assembly formal dance. The affair will last from 8:30 to 12 o'clock.

Before intermission a grand march, forming the Phi assembly symbol, will be presented by officers and members of the debating organization and their sponsors. Rehearsal for the figure will be held in the student union main ballroom at 5 o'clock this afternoon.

CAN GET BIDS TODAY

Extra time to obtain bids has been extended members of the Phi. They may secure invitations from Bob Farris at 201 "H" dormitory and Ott Burton at 209 "K" dormitory until 4 o'clock this afternoon. Dress for the dance will be formal.

Smoking will not be allowed on the ballroom floor. Refreshments may be purchased from the Grill in the basement at intermission.

Chaperones, who will attend the dance, are Mr. and Mrs. Roy Armstrong and Mr. and Mrs. D. R. McMillan.

Students To Observe Silence Period

The signal will be the bell which will ring on the hour of 11. Immediately after the bell ceases to ring, please observe the two-minute period of silence wherever you happen to be.

OXFORD DEBATERS MEET CAROLINA IN PANEL DISCUSSION

Teams To Speak In Gerrard Hall Tonight At 8

Representing Oxford university, Peter Street of London and Edward R. G. Heath of Broadstairs, Kent, will meet in a panel discussion tonight with Phil Ellis and Carroll McGaughey, Carolina debate representatives, on the position of the United States in the present World War. The panel will be held at 8 o'clock in Gerrard hall.

"Isolation, Neutrality, or Active Participation in the War—What Part Should the United States Play?" is the panel topic. The event, originally scheduled as a debate, was changed to a panel discussion because of the complexity of the question. Four different viewpoints were presented in the recent try-outs for the Carolina team.

OPEN FORUM

Professor W. A. Olsen, faculty member of the Carolina debate council said last night that the general public is invited to take part in the discussion which will follow the thirty-minute panel. Each speaker from the floor will be limited to three minutes.

On arrival here last night, the English debaters were entertained at a tea at Professor Olsen's home. They plan to attend the Carolina-Davidson game in Winston-Salem today.

The Oxford team appeared in a debate Thursday at West Virginia college in Institute. Leaving here tomorrow the team will go to Bristol, Virginia, where they will debate with a team from Virginia Intermont college.
