Here's How To Enter That Duke Stadium

Carolina students will be admitted to the Duke game Saturday upon presentation of their athletic passbooks and 50 cents, the athletic department announced last night.

The student gate will be located on the east side of the stadium and will be open at 10:30 in the morning. Everyone is urged to have 50 cents in change ready to pay for his ticket.

"Dipsy-Doodler" Returns For Germans

Larry Clinton, whose orchestra played for the May Frolics last year, will return to play for the German dances this weekend.

DUKE OFFICIALS URGE TEMPERANCE AT GRID CONTEST

Steps Are Taken To Halt Drinking, Traffic Hazards

DURHAM, Nov. 16 — Duke university officials appealed to those planning to attend the Duke-Carolina game in Duke Stadium Saturday to cooperate in every possible way toward eliminating traffic hazards, drinking and disorderly conduct at the contest.

Dr. W. P. Few, president of Duke university, said of this concerted drive to keep the "drunks" out of the stadium and off the campus, "as long as the students will stand by us, we will exert every possible effort to make this state occasion on our campus clean and respectable. If this drunkenness and debauchery on the part of outsiders continues, we will not have occasions of this kind."

200 POLICEMEN

Placards calling attention to the state law in regard to drinking in public will be displayed in Duke stadium and on the approaches to the stadium and rigid compliance to the law will be expected, it was stated.

Captain W. J. Croom director of public safety of Durham will be in charge of 200 state, county and city officers with instructions from City Manager H. A. Yancey of Durham to see that the law is enforced. Persons under the influence of liquor will not be permitted to enter the stadium.

Old West To House Clinton's Orchestra During Weekend

Old West dormitory will have its own private dippy-doodle this weekend when members of Larry Clinton's orchestra, who are playing for the German club dances today and tomorrow, move in on the first floor of the center section during their stay in Chapel Hill.

Due to minor technical difficulties, Miss Mary Dugan, Clinton's attractive vocalist, will be unable to join them but instead will reside in one of the girl's dormitories.

Full credit for Old West's coup d'etat goes to J. V. Morgan, the dorm manager, who said he felt that Battle-Vance-Pettigrew, the Phi assembly and the Buccaneer had more than their share of free publicity and that it was time for his boys to get a little journalistic gravy.

PROCESS

After reading Louis Sutton's classified ad in the DAILY TAR HEEL asking for rooms for Clinton's band and the editorial comments in the paper the next day, J. V. asked the secretary-treasurer of the German club if Old West couldn't do the honors. Sutton gave his relieved consent, whereupon J. V. secured permission to move his guests in, obtained a monopoly on almost all the stray beds on the cam-

"Speaking for the entire squad and the coaches, we want to thank the student body for the fine spirit and cooperation given us this season. It has helped us more than you think. That telegram before the Tulane game made everyone of us do the best we could, and the pep rallies and welcomes have done a lot in keeping the team in a good mental condition.

TOMORROW

"Tomorrow we play our biggest and hardest game of the year. For a long time our rivalry with Duke has been friendly and on a high level of good sportsmanship. Please, for us, help keep things that way. Stay away from the Duke campus until game time, and don't start the pranks which caused criticism to be heaped on the Uni-

Graham Dorm Fire Sets New Record Of $300 Damages

A fire of unknown origin on the third floor of Graham dormitory early yesterday morning caused a loss of dormitory equipment and clothing valued at $300, the greatest damage done by fire in the history of the University. A lower quadrangle bucket brigade extinguished the blaze.

Ed York, who ran from Aycock as soon as he heard the first shouts of "fire" at about one o'clock, became the hero of the fire when he was overcome by smoke and carried unconscious from the blazing third-floor room. Although given artificial respiration, he remained unconscious during a trip to the infirmary and was revived there by more artificial respiration. He lay in the infirmary yesterday with only slight effects.

WASTE CAN BRIGADE

The fire was noticed by several residents of the third floor of Graham who noticed the odor of smoke at the east end of the hall. The bucket brigade started immediately, using waste cans for buckets, and students from the entire lower quadrangle were soon battling the blaze.

The cause of the fire is not definite.
