

EDITORIALS:
 Expulsion
 Cynicism

The Daily Tar Heel

WEATHER:
 Aw, who cares?

THE ONLY COLLEGE DAILY IN THE SOUTHEAST

VOLUME XLVIII

Business: 9886; Circulation: 9881

CHAPEL HILL, N. C., SUNDAY, NOVEMBER 19, 1939

Editorial: 4356; News: 4351; Night: 6906

NUMBER 57

Harry Dunkle is kicking his second-quarter 46-yard field goal. Lalanne, 93, is holding the ball. Other men in the picture are: Al Piasecky, 57; Bob McDonough, 38; Bob Barnett, 16; and Tommy Prothro, 53, of Duke. Dunkle stood on the 36-yard line. The ball was on the 25. The kick traveled at least 46 yards in the air, since the goal is 10 yards behind the goal line in college football. The kick was a low one that just skimmed over the goal, falling into the high-jump pit at the north end of the field. Carolina held the 3-0 margin at the half, but Duke blocked a punt and intercepted a forward for two last-half touchdowns and won, 13-3. The field goal was Dunkle's third of the year. Both teams tried field goals in the first quarter. Neither attempt was good. Dunkle came through for the Tar Heels in the second and for awhile it seemed that the educated toe of this sophomore wonder boy from Lock Haven, Pa., would swing the tide of battle for Carolina. But Duke had the final answer in the last half.

TSK! TSK!

UNION PRESENTS CONCERT TODAY BY WALLENBORN

Pianist To Begin Program At 5 In Main Lounge

Robert Wallenborn, noted pianist and at present on tour as accompanist to Helen Jepson, will present a concert this afternoon at 5 o'clock in the main lounge of Graham Memorial. This afternoon's program will be a preview of his concert to be given at Town Hall in New York City next month.

During the course of his many years on the concert stage, Wallenborn has been the recipient of several awards. In 1923, he won the Kimball Gold medal for piano composition. He has been the conductor of numerous choral societies, including the Winnetka

(Continued on page 2, column 3)

Here They Are -- Vital Statistics Read 'Em, Weep

	Duke	UNC
First downs	13	7
Net yards gained from scrimmage	204	89
Net yards gained by rushing	141	76
Yards gained passing	82	31
Yards lost passing	19	18
Net yards gained passing	63	13
Passes attempted	11	21
Passes completed	5	7
Passes had intercepted	2	3
Yards intercepted passes returned	2	32
Number of punts	8	12
Average yardage of punts	35.1	37.5
Number of punt returns	8	5
Average yardage of punt returns	10	5.4
Number of fumbles	3	1
Number of penalties	4	4
Yardage lost by penalties	30	20

Clinton Vocalist Sang First Job With No Rehearsals

Mary Dugan Says She Was So Nervous That She Lost 18 Pounds In Two Weeks

By SANFORD STEIN

"I started vocalizing with the band last May at Temple university. And I was so nervous and frightened because I hadn't had a single rehearsal, I'd never worked with a band so large and I had Bea Wain's reputation to live up to, that I lost 17 pounds in two weeks. I haven't gained them all back yet, either."

Thus Mary Dugan, Larry Clinton's 18-year-old vocalist, who is much prettier than her picture and just as charming, described her debut with the famous Dipsy-Doodler, who played this weekend for the German club and Sigma Chi dances. But most of her career has given her far more pleasant sensations than the one above.

"I started to sing less than a week after I entered grammar school," said Mary. "My father worked for the Bell Telephone company and I used to sing at their banquets and conventions. Later on, I became a telephone operator in Asbury Park, New Jersey. I did information and local calls. It was very interesting work and I was anxious to learn, but after doing it for three summers, I decided it wasn't for me."

Mary Dugan was born in Neptune City, N. J., in 1921 and while she was

(Continued on page 2, column 3)

SUSPECT ADMITS ROBBERY SERIES IN CHAPEL HILL

Salisbury Police Hold Earl Wood On Burglary Charge

Seized while leaving a Catawba college dormitory, Earl Walker Wood, 20, of South Carolina, Thursday confessed to a series of robberies in fraternity houses and dormitories in Chapel Hill, Davidson, and Catawba, during the past two months. He was arraigned on a charge of first degree burglary by Salisbury police and will be tried next week.

On his person, when he was taken, Wood had several articles which were stolen from campus fraternity houses during the weekend of the State game. He was wearing a 17-jewel wrist watch taken from the room of Billy Gilliam in the Sigma Nu house, and a Zeta Psi fraternity pin, belonging to Logan Howell. A wallet and wristwatch taken from the Phi Beta Kappa key and gold chain also stolen from the Zeta Psi house were found in the bushes to the left of the front door.

STUDENT SPOTS HIM

Notices describing Wood were circulated throughout the colleges of the state two weeks ago, warning students to be on the lookout for the thief. An alert Catawba student spotted him as he left a dormitory last Thursday and reported him to the Rowan county authorities. He confessed immediately after being seized.

In his statement, Wood told police that he had hidden several of the stolen articles, waiting until the "heat" had died down before he disposed of them. The money he had taken, ranging from $5 to $8 at a time, he explained, had been spent.

In the event that Wood is convicted of the first degree burglary charge,

(Continued on page 2, column 6)

Blue Devil Attack Crushes Tar Heels

By SHELLEY ROLFE

DUKE STADIUM, Durham, Nov. 18 — Duke, beaten once this autumn, turned a blocked kick and an intercepted forward pass into two last half touchdowns, maintained its mastery over the Southern conference for a second straight year and tumbled the University of North Carolina from the ranks of the nation's major undefeated eleventh this afternoon, 13-3, before the largest crowd in Southern football history—50,800 cash customers.

Taking advantage of the breaks and displaying the same alertness and opportunism which carried them through to the Rose Bowl a season ago, the Blue Devils, with the count of 3-0 against them, blocked a kick and scored early in the third quarter and took a lead they never relinquished. A pass interception in the fourth period led up to another touchdown and broke the back of Tar Heel resistance and cut down in the next to last game of the fall any hopes that Ray Wolf's fourth Carolina eleven would be able to go through the season undefeated and accomplish what no other modern Carolina team has been able to do.

There is no telling what Wallace Wade told his Blue Devils between halves, but whatever it was, it transformed the Dukes from a badly-outplayed team into a fighting mad big league club that blocked, tackled and ran so hard that it pushed the Tar Heels out of the game and almost out of the ball park. Carolina manhandled Duke the first half, but in the second it was unable to put together any sustained rally worthy of the name.

The Tar Heels went ahead, 3-0, in the second quarter when Harry Dunkle place-kicked an almost miraculous 46-yard field goal. Standing on the 36 yard line, Dunkle gave Carolina three big points that for a while seemed to be enough to win the ball game. But Duke got and made its own breaks in the second half and Wade's sturdy band of Methodists rushed over the two scores that enabled it to retain the conference championship and knock the Tar Heels out of any consideration for national honors or a bowl bid.

The turning point of the battle came in the first few minutes of the third quarter. With the Tar Heels shoved back to their own 20 after a Steve Lach punt, General George Stirnweiss attempted to punt. Tony Ruffa blocked the kick and Bill Bailey fell on the ball after it had rolled over the goal line. True-Toe Tony booted the extra point.

Leading, 7-3, Duke turned a fourth quarter Carolina offensive play into a boomerang. Bob Barnett intercepted a pass on the Tar Heel 30 thrown by Dunkle from kick formation. Moving through the line on power alone, the Devils scored eight plays later when Winston Siegfried crashed over from the three yard line.

Stirnweiss, making one final bid for All-American honors, was the outstanding back on the field. The Flying Dutchman from the Bronx ran and passed and played his heart out, but he could never get the blocking Duke gave its biggie about the backfield, George McAfee. The Tar Heels needed George Radman, but Coach Ray Wolf thought his knee was too badly off to be risked on a football game. Bill Faircloth, Dick White, Jim Woodson

(Continued on page 3, cols. 5 and 6)